DECLARATION OF INDEPENDENCE.

IN CONGRESS, JULY 4, 1776.

THE UNANIMOUS DECLARATION OF THE THIRTEEN UNITED STATES OF AMERICA.

When, in the course of human events, it becomes necessary for one people to dissolve the political bands which have connected them with another, and to assume among the powers of the earth the separate and equal station to which the laws of nature and nature's God entitle them, a decent respect to the opinions of mankind requires that they should declare the causes which impel them to the separation.

We hold these truths to be self-evident—that all men are created equal; that they are endowed by their Creator with certain unalienable rights; that among these are life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness; that, to secure these rights, governments are instituted among men, deriving their just powers from the consent of the governed; that whenever any form of government becomes destructive of these ends, it is the right of the people to alter or to abolish it, and to institute new government, laying its foundation on such principles, and organizing its powers in such form, as to them shall seem most likely to effect their safety and happiness. Prudence, indeed, will dictate, that governments long established should not be changed for light and transient causes; and accordingly all experience hath shown, that mankind are more disposed to suffer, while evils are sufferable, than to right themselves by abolishing the forms to which they are accustomed. But when a long train of abuses and usurpations, pursuing invariably the same object, evinces a design to reduce them under absolute despotism, it is their right, it is their duty, to throw off such government and to provide new guards for their future security. Such has been the patient sufferance of these colonies; and such is now the necessity which constrains them to alter their former systems of government. The history of the present king of Great Britain is a history of repeated injuries and usurpations, all having in direct object the establishment of an absolute tyranny over these states. To prove this let facts be submitted to a candid world.

He has refused his assent to laws the most wholesome and necessary for the public good.

He has forbidden his governors to pass laws of immediate and pressing importance, unless suspended in their operation till his assent should be obtained, and, when so suspended he has utterly neglected to attend to them.

He has refused to pass other laws for the accommodation of and independent states, they have full power to levy war, conclude peace, contract alliances, establish commerce, and to do all other acts and things which independent states may of right do. And for the support of this declaration, with a firm reliance on the protection of Divine Providence, we mutually pledge to each other our lives, our fortunes, and our sacred honor.

CONSTITUTION

PREAMBLE.

We, the people of the United States, in order to form a more perfect union, establish justice, insure domestic tranquility, provide for the common defence, promote the general welfare, and secure the blessings of liberty to ourselves and our posterity, do ordain and establish this constitution for the United States of America.

ARTICLE I.

§ 1. All legislative powers herein granted shall be vested in a congress of the United States, which shall consist of a senate and house of representatives.

§ 2. The house of representatives shall be composed of members chosen every second year by the people of the several states, and the electors in each state shall have the qualifications requisite for electors of the most numerous branch of the state legislature.

No person shall be a representative who shall not have attained to the age of twenty-five years, and been seven years a citizen of the United States, and who shall not, when elected, be an inhabitant of that state in which he shall be chosen.

Representatives and direct taxes shall be apportioned among the several states which may be included within this union, according to their respective numbers, which shall be determined by adding to the whole number of free persons, including those bound to service for a term of years, and excluding Indians not taxed, three-fifths of all other persons. The actual enumeration shall be made within three years after the first meeting of the congress of the United States, and within every subsequent term of ten years, in such manner as they shall by law direct. The number of representatives shall not exceed one for every thirty thousand but each state shall have at least one representative; and until such enumeration shall be made, the state of New Hampshire shall be entitled to choose three, Massachusetts eight,

Rhode Island and Providence plantations one, Connecticut five, New York six, New Jersey four, Pennsylvania eight, Delaware one, Maryland six, Virginia ten, North Carolina five, South Carolina five, and Georgia three.

When vacancies happen in the representation from any state, the executive authority thereof shall issue writs of election to fill such vacancies.

The house of representatives shall choose their speaker and other officers; and shall have the sole power of impeachment.

§ 3. The senate of the United States shall be composed of two senators from each state, chosen by the legislature thereof, for six years; and each senator shall have one vote.

Immediately after they shall be assembled in consequence of the first election, they shall be divided as equally as may be into the three classes. The seats of the senators of the first class shall be vacated at the expiration of the second year, of the second class at the expiration of the fourth year, and of the third class at the expiration of the sixth year, so that one-third may be chosen every second year; and if vacancies happen by resignation, or otherwise, during the recess of the legislature of any state, the executive thereof may make temporary appointments until the next meeting of the legislature, which shall then fill such vacancies.

No person shall be a senator who shall not have attained to the age of thirty years, and been nine years a citizen of the United States, and who shall not, when elected, be an inhabitant of that state for which he shall be chosen.

The vice president of the United States shall be president of the senate, but shall have no vote, unless they be equally divided.

The senate shall choose their other officers, and also a president pro tempore, in the absence of the vice president, or when he shall exercise the office of president of the United States.

The senate shall have the sole power to try all impeachments. When sitting for that purpose, they shall be on oath or affirmation. When the president of the United States is tried, the chief justice shall preside; and no person shall be convicted without the concurrence of two-thirds of the members present.

Judgment in cases of impeachment shall not extend further than to removal from office, and disqualification to hold and enjoy any office of honor, trust, or profit under the United States; but the party convicted shall nevertheless be liable and subject to indictment, trial, judgment, and punishment, according to law.

§ 4. The times, places and manner of holding elections for senators and representatives, shall be prescribed in each state by the legislature thereof; but the congress may at any time by law make or alter such regulations, except as to the places of choosing senators.

The congress shall assemble at least once in every year, and such meeting shall be on the first Monday in December, unless they shall by law appoint a different day.

§ 5. Each house shall be the judge of the elections, returns, and qualifications of its own members, and a majority of each shall constitute a quorum to do business; but a smaller number may adjourn from day to day, and may be authorized to compel the attendance of absent members, in such manner and under such penalties as each house may provide.

Each house may determine the rules of its proceedings, punish its members for disorderly behavior, and, with the concurrence of two-thirds, expel a member.

Each house shall keep a journal of its proceedings, and from time to time publish the same, excepting such parts as may in their judgment require secrecy; and the yeas and nays of the members of either house on any question shall, at the desire of one-fifth of those present, be entered on the journal.

Neither house, during the session of congress, shall, without the consent of the other, adjourn for more than three days, nor to any other place than that in which the two houses shall be sitting.

§ 6. The senators and representatives shall receive a compensation for their services, to be ascertained by law, and paid out of the treasury of the United States. They shall in all cases, except treason, felony, and breach of the peace, be privileged from arrest during their attendance at the session of their respective houses, and in going to and returning from the same; and for any speech or debate in either house they shall not be questioned in any other place.

No senator or representative shall, during the time for which he was elected, be appointed to any civil office under the authority of the United States, which shall have been created, or the emoluments whereof shall have been increased during such time; and no person holding any office under the United States, shall be a member of either house during his continuance in office.

§ 7. All bills for raising revenue shall originate in the house of representatives; but the senate may propose or concur with amendments as on other bills.

Every bill which shall have passed the house of representatives and the senate, shall, before it becomes a law, be presented to the president of the United States; if he approve, he shall sign it, but if not he shall return it, with his objections, to that house in which it shall have originated, who shall enter the objections at large on their journal, and proceed to reconsider it. If after such reconsideration two-thirds of that house shall agree to pass the bill, it shall be sent, together with the objections, to the other house, by which it shall likewise be reconsidered, and if approved by two-thirds of that house, it shall become a law. But in all such cases the votes of both houses shall be determined by yeas and nays, and the names of the persons voting for and against the bill shall be entered on the journal of each house respectively. If any bill shall not be returned by the president within ten days (Sundays excepted) after it shall have been presented to him, the same shall be a law, in like manner as if he had signed it, unless the congress by their adjournment prevent its return, in which case it shall not be a law.

Every order, resolution, or vote, to which the concurrence of the senate and house of representatives may be necessary (except on a question of adjournment), shall be presented to the president of the United States; and before the same shall take effect, shall be approved by him, or being disapproved by him, shall be repassed by two-thirds of the senate and house of representatives, according to the rules and limitations prescribed in the case of a bill.

§ 8. The congress shall have power—

To lay and collect taxes, duties, imposts, and excises, to pay the debts and provide for the common defence and general welfare of the United States; but all duties, imposts, and excises shall be uniform throughout the United States;

To borrow money on the credit of the United States;

To regulate commerce with foreign nations, and among the several states, and with the Indian tribes;

To establish an uniform rule of naturalization, and uniform laws on the subject of bankruptcies throughout the United States;

To coin money, regulate the value thereof, and of foreign coin, and fix the standard of weights and measures;

To provide for the punishment of counterfeiting the securities and current coin of the United States;

To establish post offices and post roads;

To promote the progress of science and useful arts, by securing for limited times to authors and inventors the exclusive right to their respective writings and discoveries;

To constitute tribunals inferior to the supreme court.

To define and punish piracies and felonies committed on the high seas, and offenses against the law of nations;

To declare war, grant letters of marque and reprisal, and make rules concerning captures on land and water;

To raise and support armies, but no appropriation of money to that use shall be for a longer term than two years;

To provide and maintain a navy;

To make rules for the government and regulation of the land and naval forces;

To provide for calling forth the militia to execute the laws of the Union, suppress insurrections, and repel invasion;

To provide for organizing, arming, and disciplining the militia, and for governing such part of them as may be employed in the service of the United States, reserving to the states respectively the appointment of the officers, and the authority of training the militia according to the discipline prescribed by congress;

To exercise exclusive legislation in all cases whatsoever, over such district (not exceeding ten miles square) as may, by cession of particular states, and the acceptance of congress, become the seat of the government of the United States, and to exercise like authority over all places purchased by the consent of the legislature of the state in which the same shall be, for the erection of forts, magazines, arsenals, dock-yards, and other needful buildings; and

To make all laws which shall be necessary and proper for carrying into execution the foregoing powers, and all other powers vested by this constitution in the government of the United States, or in any department or officer thereof.

§ 9. The migration or importation of such persons as any of the states now existing shall think proper to admit shall not be prohibited by the congress prior to the year one thousand eight hundred and eight, but a tax or duty may be imposed on such importation, not exceeding ten dollars for each person.

The privilege of the writ of habeas corpus shall not be suspended, unless when in cases of rebellion or invasion, the public safety may require it.

No bill of attainder or ex post facto law shall be passed.

No capitation or other direct tax shall be laid, unless in proportion to the census or enumeration herein before directed to be taken.

No tax or duty shall be laid on articles exported from any state.

No preference shall be given by any regulation of commerce or revenue to the ports of one state over those of another; nor shall vessels bound to, or from, one state, be obliged to enter, clear, or pay duties in another.

No money shall be drawn from the treasury but in consequence of appropriations made by law; and a regular statement and account of the receipts and expenditures of all public money shall be published from time to time.

No title of nobility shall be granted by the United States; and no person holding any office of profit or trust under them, shall, without the consent of the congress, accept of any present, emolument, office or title, of any kind whatever, from any king, prince, or foreign state.

§ 10. No state shall enter into any treaty, alliance, or confederation; grant letters of marque and reprisal; coin money; emit bills of credit; make anything but gold and silver coin a tender in payment of debts; pass any bill of attainder, ex post facto law, or law impairing the obligation of contracts, or grant any title of nobility.

No state shall, without the consent of congress, lay any imposts or duties on imports or exports, except what may be absolutely necessary for executing its inspection laws; and the net produce of all duties and imposts laid by any state on imports or exports shall be for the use of the treasury of the United States; and all such laws shall be subject to the revision and control of the congress.

No state shall, without the consent of congress, lay any duty of tonnage, keep troops, or ships of war in time of peace, enter into any agreement or compact with another state, or with a foreign power, or engage in war, unless actually invaded, or in such imminent danger as will not admit of delay.

ARTICLE II.

§ 1. The executive power shall be vested in a president of the United States of America. He shall hold his office during the term of four years, and, together with the vice president, chosen for the same term, be elected as follows:—

Each state shall appoint, in such manner as the legislature thereof may direct, a number of electors, equal to the whole number of senators and representatives to which the state may be entitled in the congress; but no senator or representative, or person holding an office of trust or profit under the United States, shall be appointed an elector.

[*The electors shall meet in their respective states, and vote by ballot for two persons, of whom one at least shall not be an inhabitant of the same state with themselves. And they shall make a list of all the persons voted for, and of the number of votes for each; which list they shall sign and certify, and transmit sealed to the seat of the government of the United States, directed to the president of the senate. The president of the senate, shall, in the presence of the senate and house of representatives, open all the certificates, and the votes shall then be counted. The person having the greatest number of votes shall be the president, if such number be a majority of the whole number of electors appointed; and if there be more than one who have such majority, and have an equal number of votes, then the house of representatives shall immediately choose by ballot one of them for president. And if no person have a majority, then from the five highest on the list the said house shall in like manner choose the president. But in choosing the president the vote shall be taken by states, the representation from each state having one vote; a quorum for this purpose shall consist of a member or members from two-thirds of the states, and a majority of all the states shall be necessary to a choice. In every case after the choice of the president, the person having the greatest number of votes of the electors shall be the vice president. But if there should remain two or more who have equal votes, the senate shall choose from them by ballot the vice president.]

The congress may determine the time of choosing the electors, and the day on which they shall give their votes; which day shall be the same throughout the United States.

No person except a natural born citizen, or a citizen of the United States at the time of the adoption of this constitution shall be eligible to the office of president; neither shall any person be eligible to that office who shall not have attained to the age of thirty-five years, and been fourteen years a resident within the United States.

In case of the removal of the president from office, or of his death, resignation, or inability to discharge the powers and duties of the said office, the same shall devolve on the vice president, and the congress may by law provide for the case of removal, death, resignation, or inability both of the president and vice president, declaring what officer shall then act as president, and such officer shall act accordingly, until the disability be removed or a president shall be elected.

The president shall, at stated times, receive for his services a compensation, which shall neither be increased nor diminished during the period for which he shall have been elected, and he shall not receive within that period any other emolument from the United States, or any of them.

Before he enters on the execution of his office, he shall take the following oath or affirmation:—

“I do solemnly swear (or affirm), that I will faithfully execute the office of president of the United States, and will, to the best of my ability, preserve, protect, and defend the constitution of the United States.”

§ 2. The president shall be commander-in-chief of the army and navy of the United States, and of the militia of the several states when called into the actual service of the United States; he may require the opinion in writing of the principal officer in each of the executive departments, upon any subject relating to the duties of their respective offices, and he shall have power to grant reprieves and pardons for offenses against the United States, except in cases of impeachment.

He shall have power, by and with the advice and consent of the senate, to make treaties, provided two-thirds of the senators present concur; and he shall nominate, and by and with the advice and consent of the senate shall appoint ambassadors, other public ministers and consuls, judges of the supreme court, and all other officers of the United States whose appointments are not herein otherwise provided for, and which shall be established by law; but the congress may by law vest the appointment of such inferior officers as they think proper in the president alone, in the courts of law, or in the heads of departments.

The president shall have power to fill up all vacancies that may happen during the recess of the senate, by granting commissions, which shall expire at the end of their next session.

§ 3. He shall from time to time give to the congress information of the state of the union, and recommend to their consideration such measures as he shall judge necessary and expedient; he may, on extraordinary occasions, convene both houses, or either of them, and in case of disagreement between them with respect to the time of adjournment, he may adjourn them to such time as he shall think proper; he shall receive ambassadors and other public ministers; he shall take care that the laws be faithfully executed, and shall commission all the officers of the United States.

§ 4. The president, vice president, and all civil officers of the United States, shall be removed from office on impeachment for and conviction of treason, bribery, or other high crimes and misdemeanors.

ARTICLE III.

§ 1. The judicial power of the United States shall be vested in one supreme court, and such inferior courts as the congress may from time to time ordain and establish. The judges, both of the supreme and inferior courts, shall hold their offices during good behavior, and shall, at stated times, receive for their services a compensation which shall not be diminished during their continuance in office.

§ 2. The judicial power shall extend to all cases, in law and equity, arising under this constitution, the laws of the United States, and treaties made, or which shall be made, under their authority; to all cases affecting ambassadors, other public ministers and consuls; to all cases of admiralty and maritime jurisdiction; to controversies to which the United States shall be a party; to controversies between two or more states [*between a state and citizens of another state]; between citizens of different states; between citizens of the same state claiming lands under grants of different states, and between a state or the citizens thereof, and foreign states, citizens, or subjects.

In all cases affecting ambassadors, other public ministers and consuls, and those in which a state shall be a party, the supreme court shall have original jurisdiction. In all the other cases before mentioned, the supreme court shall have appellate jurisdiction both as to law and fact, with such exceptions and under such regulations as the congress shall make.

The trial of all crimes, except in cases of impeachment, shall be by jury; and such trials shall be held in the state where the said crimes shall have been committed; but when not committed within any state, the trial shall be at such place or places as the congress may by law have directed.

§ 3. Treason against the United States shall consist only in levying war against them, or in adhering to their enemies, giving them aid and comfort. No person shall be convicted of treason unless on the testimony of two witnesses to the same overt act, or on confession in open court.

The congress shall have power to declare the punishment of treason, but no attainder of treason shall work corruption of blood, or forfeiture, except during the life of the person attainted.

ARTICLE IV.

§ 1. Full faith and credit shall be given in each state to the public acts, records and judicial proceedings, of every other state. And the congress may by general laws prescribe the manner in which such acts, records, and proceedings shall be proved, and the effect thereof.

§ 2. The citizens of each state shall be entitled to all privileges and immunities of citizens in the several states.

A person charged in any state with treason, felony, or other crime, who shall flee from justice, and be found in another state, shall, on demand of the executive authority of the state from which he fled, be delivered up, to be removed to the state having jurisdiction of the crime.

No person held to service or labor in one state, under the laws thereof, escaping into another, shall, in consequence of any law or regulation therein, be discharged from such service or labor, but shall be delivered up on claim of the party to whom such service or labor may be due.

§ 3. New states may be admitted by the congress into this union; but no new states shall be formed or erected within the jurisdiction of any other state; nor any other state be formed by the junction of two or more states, or parts of states, without the consent of the legislatures of the states concerned, as well as of the congress.

The congress shall have power to dispose of and make all needful rules and regulations respecting the territory or other property belonging to the United States; and nothing in this constitution shall be so construed as to prejudice any claims of the United States, or of any particular state.

§ 4. The United States shall guarantee to every state in this union a republican form of government, and shall protect each of them against invasion; and on application of the legislature, or of the executive (when the legislature cannot be convened), against domestic violence.

ARTICLE V.

The congress, whenever two-thirds of both houses shall deem it necessary, shall propose amendments to this constitution, or, on the application of the legislatures of two-thirds of the several states, shall call a convention for proposing amendments, which, in either case, shall be valid to all intents and purposes, as part of this constitution, when ratified by the legislatures of three-fourths of the several states, or by conventions in three-fourths thereof, as the one or the other mode of ratification may be proposed by the congress; provided that no amendment which may be made prior to the year one thousand eight hundred and eight shall in any manner affect the first and fourth clauses in the ninth section of the first article; and that no state, without its consent, shall be deprived of its equal suffrage in the senate.

ARTICLE VI.

All debts contracted and engagements entered into, before the adoption of this constitution, shall be as valid against the United States under this constitution, as under the confederation.

This constitution and the laws of the United States which shall be made in pursuance thereof, and all treaties made, or which shall be made, under the authority of the United States, shall be the supreme law of the land; and the judges in every state shall be bound thereby, anything in the constitution or laws of any state to the contrary notwithstanding.

The senators and representatives before mentioned, and the members of the several state legislatures, and all executive and judicial officers, both of the United States and of the several states, shall be bound by oath or affirmation to support this constitution; but no religious test shall ever be required as a qualification to any office or public trust under the United States.

ARTICLE VII.

The ratification of the conventions of nine states shall be sufficient for the establishment of this constitution between the states so ratifying the same.

Done in convention by the unanimous consent of the states present, the seventeenth day of September, in the year of our Lord one thousand seven hundred and eighty-seven, and of the Independence of the United States of America the twelfth. In witness whereof we have hereunto subscribed our names.

GEORGE WASHINGTON,

tained shall be construed to impair the rights of person or property now pertaining to the Indians in said territory so long as such rights remain unextinguished by treaty between the United States and such Indians, or to include any territory which, by treaty with any Indian tribes, is not, without the consent of said tribe, to be included within the territorial limits or jurisdiction of any state or territory; but all such territory shall be excepted out of the boundaries, and constitute no part of the territory of Montana, until said tribe shall signify their assent to the president of the United States to be included within said territory, or to affect the authority of the government of the United States to make any regulations respecting such Indians, their lands, property, or other rights, by treaty, law, or otherwise, which it would have been competent for the government to make if this act had never passed.

§ 2. And be it further enacted, That the executive power and authority in and over said territory of Montana, shall be vested in a governor, who shall hold his office for four years, and until his successor shall be appointed and qualified, unless sooner removed by the president of the United States. The governor shall reside within said territory and shall be commander-in-chief of the militia and superintendent of Indian affairs thereof. He may grant pardons and respites for offenses against the laws of said territory, and reprieve for offenses against the laws of the United States, until the decision of the president of the United States can be made known thereon; he shall commission all officers who shall be appointed to office under the laws of said territory, and shall take care that the laws be faithfully executed.

§ 3. And be it further enacted, That there shall be a secretary of said territory, who shall reside therein and hold his office for four years, unless sooner removed by the president of the United States; he shall record and preserve all laws and proceedings of the legislative assembly hereinafter constituted, and all the acts and proceedings of the governor in his executive department; he shall transmit one copy of the laws and journals of the legislative assembly, within thirty days after the end of each session, and one copy of the executive proceedings and official correspondence, semi-annually, on the first days of January and July in each year, to the president of the United States, and two copies of the laws to the president of the senate and to the speaker of the house of representatives, for the use of congress. And in case of the death, removal, resignation, or absence of the governor from the territory, the secretary shall be, and he is hereby, authorized and required to execute and perform all the powers and duties of the governor, during such vacancy or absence, or until another governor shall be duly appointed and qualified to fill such vacancy.

§ 4. And be it further enacted, That the legislative power and authority of the said territory shall be vested in the governor and a legislative assembly. The legislative assembly shall consist of a council and house of representatives. The council shall consist of seven members having the qualifications of voters, as hereinafter prescribed, whose term of office shall continue two years. The house of representatives shall, at its first session, consist of thirteen members, possessing the same qualifications as prescribed for the members of the council, and whose term of service shall continue one year. The number of representatives may be increased by the legislative assembly, from time to time, to twenty-six, in proportion to the increase of qualified voters; and the council, in like manner, to thirteen. An apportionment shall be made, as nearly equal as practicable, among the several counties or districts for the election of the council and representatives, giving to each section of the territory representation in the ratio of its qualified voters as nearly as may be. And the members of the council and of the house of representatives shall reside in, and be inhabitants of, the district, or county, or counties for which they may be elected, respectively. Previous to the first election, the governor shall cause a census or enumeration of the inhabitants and qualified voters of the several counties and districts of the territory to be taken by such persons and in such mode as the governor shall designate and appoint, and the person so appointed shall receive a reasonable compensation therefor. And the first election shall be held at such time and places, and be conducted in such manner, both as to the persons who shall superintend such election and the returns thereof, as the governor shall appoint and direct; and he shall at the same time declare the number of members of the council and house of representatives to which each of the counties or districts shall be entitled under this act. The persons having the highest number of legal votes in each of said council districts, respectively, for members of the council, shall be declared by the governor to be duly elected to the council; and the persons having the highest number of legal votes for the house of representatives in each of said representative districts, respectively, shall be declared by the governor to be duly elected members of said house: Provided, That in case two or more persons voted for shall have an equal number of votes, and in case a vacancy shall otherwise occur in either branch of the legislative assembly, the governor shall order a new election. And the persons thus elected to the legislative assembly shall meet at such place and on such day as the governor shall appoint; but thereafter the time, place and manner of holding and conducting all elections by the people, and the apportioning the representation in the several counties or districts to the council and house of representatives, according to the number of qualified voters, shall be prescribed by law, as well as the day of commencement of the regular sessions of the legislative assembly: Provided, That no session in any one year shall exceed the term of forty days, except the first session, which may continue sixty days.

§ 5. And be it further enacted, That all citizens of the United States, and those who have declared their intentions to become such, and who are otherwise described and qualified under the fifth section of the act of congress providing for a temporary government for the territory of Idaho, approved March third, eighteen hundred and sixty-three, shall be entitled to vote at said first election, and shall be eligible to any office within the said territory; but the qualifications of voters, and of holding office, at all subsequent elections, shall be such as shall be prescribed by the legislative assembly.

§ 6. And be it further enacted, That the legislative power of the territory shall extend to all rightful subjects of legislation consistent with the constitution of the United States and the provisions of this act; but no law shall be passed interfering with the primary disposal of the soil; no tax shall be imposed upon the property of the United States, nor shall the lands or other property of non-residents be taxed higher than the lands or other property of residents. Every bill which shall have passed the council and house of representatives of the said territory shall, before it becomes a law, be presented to the governor of the territory. If he approve, he shall sign it; but if not he shall return it, with his objections, to the house in which it originated, who shall enter the objections at large upon their journal, and proceed to reconsider it. If, after such reconsideration, two-thirds of that house shall agree to pass the bill, it shall be sent, together with the objections, to the other house, by which it shall likewise be reconsidered; and if approved by two-thirds of that house, it shall become a law. But in all such cases the votes of such houses shall be determined by yeas and nays, to be entered on the journals of each house, respectively. If any bill shall not be returned by the governor within three days (Sundays excepted) after it shall have been presented to him, the same shall be a law, in like manner as if he had signed it, unless the assembly by adjournment, prevent its return, in which case it shall not be a law: Provided, That whereas slavery is prohibited in said territory by act of congress of June nineteenth, eighteen hundred and sixty-two, nothing herein contained shall be construed to authorize or permit its existence therein.

§ 7. And be it further enacted, That all township, district and county officers, not herein otherwise provided for, shall be appointed or elected as the case may be, in such manner as shall be provided by the governor and legislative assembly of the territory of Montana. The governor shall nominate, and, by and with the advice and consent of the legislative council, appoint all officers not herein otherwise provided for, and in the first instance the governor alone may appoint all said officers, who shall hold their offices until the end of the first session of the legislative assembly, and shall lay off the necessary districts for the members of the council and house of representatives and all other officers.

§ 8. And be it further enacted, That no member of the legislative assembly shall hold or be appointed to any office which shall have been created, or the salary or emoluments of which shall have been increased while he was a member, during the term for which he was elected, and for one year after the expiration of such term; but this restriction shall not be applicable to members of the first legislative assembly. And no person holding a commission or appointment under the United States, except postmasters, shall be a member of the legislative assembly; or shall hold any office under the government of said territory.

§ 9. And be it further enacted, That the judicial power of said territory shall be vested in a supreme court, district courts, probate courts, and in justices of the peace. The supreme court shall consist of a chief justice and two associate justices, any two of whom shall constitute a quorum, and who shall hold a term at the seat of government of said territory annually; and they shall hold their offices during the period of four years, and until their successors shall be appointed and qualified. The said territory shall be divided into three judicial districts, and a district court shall be held in each of said districts by one of the justices of the supreme court, at such times and places as may be prescribed by law; and the said judges shall, after their appointments, respectively reside in the districts which shall be assigned them. The jurisdiction of the several courts herein provided for, both appellate and original, and that of probate courts and of justices of the peace shall be limited by law: Provided, That justices of the peace shall not have jurisdiction of any matter in controversy when the title of land may be in dispute, or where the debt or sum claimed shall exceed one hundred dollars; and the said supreme and district courts respectively shall possess chancery as well as common law jurisdiction. Each district court, or the judge thereof, shall appoint its clerk, who shall also be the register in chancery, and shall keep his office at the place where the court may be held. Writs of error, bills of exceptions, and appeals shall be allowed in all cases from the final decisions of said district courts to the supreme court, under such regulations as may be prescribed by law. The supreme court, or the justices thereof, shall appoint its own clerk; and every clerk shall hold his office at the pleasure of the court for which he shall have been appointed. Writs of error and appeals from the final decisions of said supreme court shall be allowed, and may be taken to the supreme court of the United States, in the same manner and under the same regulations as from the circuit courts of the United States, where the value of the property or the amount in controversy, to be ascertained by the oath or affirmation of either party, or other competent witnesses, shall exceed one thousand dollars, except that a writ of error or appeal shall be allowed to the supreme court of the United States from the decision of the said supreme court created by this act, or any judge thereof, or of the district courts created by this act, or of any judge thereof, upon any writs of habeas corpus involving the question of personal freedom. And each of the said district courts shall have and exercise the same jurisdiction, in all cases arising under the constitution and laws of the United States, as is vested in the district and circuit courts of the United States; and the first six days of every term of said courts, or so much thereof as shall be necessary, shall be appropriated to the trial of causes arising under the said constitution and laws; and writs of error and appeal in all such cases, shall be made to the supreme court of said territory the same as in other cases. The said clerks shall receive, in all such cases, the same fees which the clerks of the district courts of Washington territory now receive for similar services.

§ 10. And be it further enacted, That there shall be appointed an attorney for said territory, who shall continue in office four years, and until his successor shall be appointed and qualified, unless sooner removed by the president of the United States, and who shall receive the same fees and salary as the attorney of the United States for the present territory of Washington. There shall also be a marshal for the territory appointed, who shall hold his office for four years, and until his successor shall be appointed and qualified, unless sooner removed by the president of the United States, and who shall execute all processes issuing from the said courts when exercising their jurisdiction as circuit and district courts of the United States. He shall perform the duties, be subject to the same regulations and penalties, and be entitled to the same fees, as the marshal of the district court of the United States for the present territory of Washington, and shall, in addition, be paid two hundred dollars annually as a compensation for extra services. There shall also be appointed by the president of the United States, by and with the advice and consent of the senate, a surveyor general of said territory, who shall locate his office at such place as the secretary of the interior shall from time to time direct, and whose duties, powers, obligations, responsibilities, compensation, and allowances for clerk hire, office rent, fuel, and incidental expenses, shall be the same as those of the surveyor general of New Mexico, under the direction of the secretary of the interior, and such instructions as he may from time to time deem it advisable to give.

§ 11. And be it further enacted, That the governor, secretary, chief justice, and associate justices, attorney, and marshal, shall be appointed by the president of the United States, by and with the advice and consent of the senate. The governor and secretary to be appointed as aforesaid, shall, before they act as such, respectively take an oath or affirmation before the district judge or some justice of the peace in the limits of said territory, duly authorized to administer oaths and affirmations by the laws now in force therein, or before the chief justice or some associate justice of the supreme court of the United States, to support the constitution of the United States, and faithfully to discharge the duties of their respective offices; which said oaths, when so taken, shall be certified by the person by whom the same shall have been taken; and such certificates shall be received and recorded by the said secretary among the executive proceedings; and the chief justice and associate justices, and all civil officers in said territory, before they act as such, shall take a like oath or affirmation before the said governor or secretary, or some judge or justice of the peace of the territory who may be duly commissioned and qualified, or before the chief justice or some associate justice of the supreme court of the United States, which said oath or affirmation shall be certified and transmitted by the person taking the same to the secretary, to be by him recorded as aforesaid; and afterwards the like oath or affirmation shall be taken, certified, and recorded in such manner and form as may be prescribed by law. And any person who has heretofore been appointed chief justice or associate justice of the territory of Idaho, who has not yet taken the oath of office, as prescribed by the act organizing said territory, may take said oath or affirmation before the chief justice or some associate justice of the supreme court of the United States. The governor shall receive an annual salary of two thousand five hundred dollars; the chief justice and associate justices shall receive an annual salary of two thousand five hundred dollars; the secretary shall receive an annual salary of two thousand dollars. The said salaries shall be paid quarter-yearly from the dates of the respective appointments at the treasury of the United States; but no payment shall be made until said officers shall have entered upon the duties of their respective appointments. The members of the legislative assembly shall be entitled to receive four dollars each, per day, during their attendance at the sessions thereof, and four dollars each for every twenty miles travel in going to and returning from said sessions.

estimated according to the nearest usually travelled routes; an additional allowance of four dollars per day shall be paid to the presiding officer of each house for each day he shall so preside. And a chief clerk, one assistant clerk, one engrossing and one enrolling clerk, a sergeant-at-arms, and door-keeper may be chosen for each house; and the chief clerk shall receive four dollars per day, and the said other officers three dollars per day during the session of the legislative assembly; but no other officers shall be paid by the United States; Provided, That there shall be but one session of the legislative assembly annually, unless on an extraordinary occasion the governor shall think proper to call the legislative assembly together. There shall be appropriated annually the usual sum, to be expended by the governor, to defray the contingent expenses of the territory, including the salary of the clerk of the executive department. And there shall also be appropriated annually a sufficient sum, to be expended by the secretary of the territory, and upon an estimate to be made by the secretary of the treasury of the United States, to defray the expenses of the legislative assembly, the printing of the laws, and other incidental expenses. And the governor and secretary of the territory shall, in the disbursement of all moneys entrusted to them, be governed solely by the instructions of the secretary of the treasury of the United States, and shall semi-annually account to the said secretary for the manner in which the aforesaid moneys shall have been expended; and no expenditure shall be made by said legislative assembly for objects not specially authorized by the acts of congress making the appropriations, nor beyond the sums thus appropriated for such objects.

§ 12. And be it further enacted, That the legislative assembly of the territory of Montana shall hold its first session at such time and place in said territory as the governor thereof shall appoint and direct; and at said first session, or as soon thereafter as they shall deem expedient, the governor and legislative assembly shall proceed to locate and establish the seat of government for said territory at such place as they may deem eligible; Provided, That the seat of government fixed by the governor and legislative assembly shall not be at any time changed except by an act of the said assembly duly passed, and which shall be approved after due notice, at the first general election thereafter, by a majority of the legal votes cast on that question.

§ 13. And be it further enacted, That a delegate to the house of representatives of the United States, to serve for the term of two years, who shall be a citizen of the United States, may be elected by the voters qualified to elect members of the legislative assembly, who shall be entitled to the same rights and privileges as are exercised and enjoyed by the delegates from the several other territories of the United States to the said house of representatives; but the delegate first elected shall hold his seat only during the term of the congress to which he shall be elected. The first election shall be held at such time and places, and be conducted in such manner, as the governor shall appoint and direct; and at all subsequent elections, the time and places, and manner of holding elections, shall be prescribed by law. The person having the greatest number of legal votes shall be declared by the governor to be duly elected, and a certificate thereof shall be given accordingly. That the constitution and all the laws of the United States which are not locally inapplicable, shall have the same force and effect within the said Montana territory as elsewhere within the United States.

§ 14. And be it further enacted, That when the lands in said territory shall be surveyed under the direction of the government of the United States, preparatory to bringing the same into market, sections numbered sixteen and thirty-six in each township in said territory shall be, and the same are hereby, reserved for the purpose of being applied to schools in said territory, and in the states and territories hereafter to be erected out of the same.

§ 15. And be it further enacted, That, until otherwise provided by law, the governor of said territory may define the judicial districts of said territory, and assign the judges who may be appointed for said territory to the several districts, and also appoint the times and places for holding courts in the several counties or sub-divisions in each of said judicial districts, by proclamation to be issued by him; but the legislative assembly, at their first or any subsequent session, may organize, alter, or modify such judicial districts, and assign the judges, and alter the times and places of holding the courts, as to them shall seem proper and convenient.

§ 16. And be it further enacted, That all officers to be appointed by the president of the United States, by and with the advice and consent of the senate, for the territory of Montana, who, by virtue of the provisions of any law now existing, or which may be enacted by congress, are required to give security for moneys that may be entrusted to them for disbursement, shall give such security at such time and in such manner as the secretary of the treasury may prescribe.

§ 17. And be it further enacted, That all treaties, laws, and other engagements made by the government of the United States with the Indian tribes inhabiting the territory embraced within the provisions of this act, shall be faithfully and rigidly observed, anything contained in this act to the contrary notwithstanding; and that the existing agencies and superintendencies of said Indians be continued, with the same power and duties which are now prescribed by law, except that the president of the United States may, at his discretion, change the location of the office of said agencies or superintendents.

§ 18. And be it further enacted, That until congress shall otherwise direct, all that part of the territory of Idaho included within the following boundaries, to-wit: Commencing at a point formed by the intersection of the thirty-third degree of longitude west from Washington with the forty-first degree of north latitude; thence along said thirty-third degree of longitude to the crest of the Rocky Mountains; thence northward along the said crest of the Rocky Mountains to its intersection with the forty-fourth degree and thirty minutes of north latitude; thence eastward along said forty-fourth degree thirty minutes north latitude to the thirty-fourth degree of longitude west from Washington; thence northward along said thirty-fourth degree of longitude to its intersection with the forty-fifth degree north latitude; thence eastward along said forty-fifth degree of north latitude to its intersection with the twenty-seventh degree of longitude west from Washington; thence south along said twenty-seventh degree of longitude west from Washington to the forty-first degree north latitude; thence west along said forty-first degree north latitude to the place of beginning, shall be, and is hereby, incorporated temporarily into, and made part of, the territory of Dakota. Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That the legislative assemblies of the several territories of the United States shall not, after the passage of this act, grant private charters or special privileges, but they may, by general incorporation acts, permit persons to associate themselves together as bodies corporate for mining, manufacturing, and other industrial pursuits.

§ 2. And be it further enacted, That the probate courts of the territory of Montana, in their respective counties, in addition to their probate jurisdiction, are hereby authorized to hear and determine civil causes wherein the damage or debt claimed does not exceed five hundred dollars, and such criminal cases arising under the laws of the territory as do not require the intervention of a grand jury; Provided, That they shall not have jurisdiction in any matter in controversy when the title or right to the peaceable possession of land may be in dispute, or chancery, or divorce causes; And provided further, That in all cases an appeal may be taken from any order, judgment, or decree of said probate court to the district court.

§ 3. And be it further enacted, That the chief justice and associate justices of said territory and the territory of Idaho shall each receive an annual salary of thirty-five hundred dollars.

The apportionment provided for in this section shall be based upon such an enumeration of the qualified electors of the said several legislative districts as shall appear from the election returns in the office of the secretary of said territory, and from such other sources of information as will enable the governor, without taking a new census, to make an apportionment which shall fairly represent the people of the several districts in both houses of the legislative assembly, but the legislature may at any time change the legislative districts of the territory as fixed by the governor.

§ 6. And be it further enacted, That all acts passed at the two sessions of the so-called legislative assembly of the territory of Montana, held in eighteen hundred and sixty-six, are hereby disapproved and declared null and void, except such acts as the legislative assembly herein authorized to be elected, shall by

The number of delegates to said conventions respectively shall be seventy-five; and all persons resident in said proposed states, who are qualified voters of said territories as herein provided, shall be entitled to vote upon the election of delegates, and under such rules and regulations as said conventions may prescribe, not in conflict with this act, upon the ratification or rejection of the constitutions.

§ 4. That the delegates to the conventions elected as provided for in this act shall meet at the seat of government of each of said Territories, except the delegates elected in South Dakota, who shall meet at the city of Sioux Falls, on the Fourth day of July, eighteen hundred and eighty-nine, and, after organization, shall declare, on behalf of the people of said proposed states, that they adopt the constitution of the United States; whereupon the said conventions shall be, and are hereby, authorized to form constitutions and state governments for said proposed states, respectively. The constitutions shall be republican in form, and make no distinction in civil or political rights on account of race or color, except as to Indians not taxed, and not be repugnant to the constitution of the United States and the principles of the Declaration of Independence. And said conventions shall provide, by ordinances irrevocable without the consent of the United States and the people of said states:

First. That perfect toleration of religious sentiment shall be secured and that no inhabitant of said states shall ever be molested in person or property on account of his or her mode of religious worship.

Second. That the people inhabiting said proposed states do agree and declare that they forever disclaim all right and title to the unappropriated public lands lying within the boundaries thereof, and to all lands lying within said limits owned or held by any Indian or Indian tribes; and that until the title thereto shall have been extinguished by the United States, the same shall be and remain subject to the disposition of the United States, and said Indian lands shall remain under the absolute jurisdiction and control of the congress of the United States; that the lands belonging to citizens of the United States residing without the said states shall never be taxed at a higher rate than the lands belonging to residents thereof; that no taxes shall be imposed by the states on lands or property therein belonging to or which may hereafter be purchased by the United States or reserved for its use. But nothing herein, or in the ordinances herein provided for, shall preclude the said states from taxing as other lands are taxed any lands owned or held by any Indian who has severed his tribal relations, and has obtained from the United States or from any person a title thereto by patent or other grant, save and except such lands as have been or may be granted to any Indian or Indians under any act of congress containing a provision exempting the lands thus granted from taxation; but said ordinances shall provide that all such lands shall be exempt from taxation by said states so long and to such extent as such acts of congress may prescribe.

Third. That the debts and liabilities of said territories shall be assumed and paid by said states, respectively.

Fourth. That provision shall be made for the establishment and maintenance of systems of public schools, which shall be open to all the children of said states, and free from sectarian control.

§ 5. That the convention which shall assemble at Bismarck shall form a constitution and state government for a state to be known as North Dakota, and the convention which shall assemble at Sioux Falls shall form a constitution and state government for a state to be known as South Dakota: Provided, That at the election for delegates to the constitutional convention in South Dakota, as hereinbefore provided, each elector may have written or printed on his ballot the words, "For the Sioux Falls constitution," or the words, "Against the Sioux Falls constitution," and the votes on this question shall be returned and canvassed in the same manner as for the election provided for in section three of this act; and if a majority of all votes cast on this question shall be "for the Sioux Falls constitution," it shall be the duty of the convention which may assemble at Sioux Falls, as herein provided, to resubmit to the people of South Dakota, for ratification or rejection, at the election hereinafter provided for in this act, the constitution framed at Sioux Falls and adopted November third, eighteen hundred and eighty-five, and also the articles and propositions separately submitted at that election, including the question of locating the temporary seat of government, with such changes only as relate to the name and boundary of the proposed State, to the reapportionment of the judicial and legislative districts, and such amendments as may be necessary in order to comply with the provisions of this act; and if a majority of the votes cast on the ratification or rejection of the constitution shall be for the constitution irrespective of the articles separately submitted, the state of South Dakota shall be admitted as a State in the Union under said constitution as hereinafter provided; but the archives, records and books of the Territory of Dakota shall remain at Bismarck, the capital of North Dakota, until an agreement in reference thereto is reached by said states. But if at the election for delegates to the constitutional convention in South Dakota a majority of all the votes cast at that election shall be "against the Sioux Falls constitution," then and in that event it shall be the duty of the convention which will assemble at the city of Sioux Falls on the fourth day of July, eighteen hundred and eighty-nine, to proceed to form a constitution and state government as provided in this act the same as if that question had not been submitted to a vote of the people of South Dakota.

§ 6. It shall be the duty of the constitutional convention of North Dakota and South Dakota to appoint a joint commission, to be composed of not less than three members of each convention, whose duty it shall be to assemble at Bismarck, the present seat of government of said territory, and agree upon an equitable division of all property belonging to the territory of Dakota, the disposition of all public records, and also adjust and agree upon the amount of the debts and liabilities of the territory, which shall be assumed and paid by each of the proposed states of North Dakota and South Dakota; and the agreement reached respecting the territorial debts and liabilities shall be incorporated in the respective constitutions, and each of such states shall obligate itself to pay its proportion of said debts and liabilities the same as if they had been created by such states respectively.

§ 7. If the constitutions formed for both North Dakota and South Dakota shall be rejected by the people at the elections for the ratification or rejection of their respective constitutions as provided for in this act, the Territorial government of Dakota shall continue in existence the same as if this act had not been passed. But if the constitution formed for either North Dakota or South Dakota shall be rejected by the people, that part of the Territory so rejecting its proposed constitution shall continue under the territorial government of the present territory of Dakota, but shall, after the state adopting its constitution is admitted into the Union, be called by the name of the Territory of North Dakota or South Dakota, as the case may be: Provided, That if either of the proposed States provided for in this act shall reject the constitution which may be submitted for ratification or rejection at the election provided therefor, the Governor of the Territory in which such proposed constitution was rejected shall issue his proclamation reconvening the delegates elected to the convention which formed such rejected constitution, fixing the time and place at which said delegates shall assemble; and when so assembled they shall proceed to form another constitution or to amend the rejected constitution, and shall submit such new constitution or amended constitution to the people of the proposed State for ratification or rejection, at such time as said convention may determine; and all the provisions of this act, so far as applicable, shall apply to such convention so reassembled and to the constitution which may be formed, its ratification or rejection, and to the admission of the proposed State.

§ 8. That the constitutional convention which may assemble in South Dakota shall provide by ordinance for resubmitting the Sioux Falls constitution of eighteen hundred and eighty-five, after having amended the same as provided in section five of this act, to the people of South Dakota for ratification or rejection at an election to be held therein on the first Tuesday in October eighteen hundred and eighty-nine; but if said constitutional convention is authorized and required to form a new constitution for South Dakota it shall provide for submitting the same in like manner to the people of South Dakota for ratification or rejection at an election to be held in said proposed state on the said first Tuesday in October. And the constitutional conventions which may assemble in North Dakota, Montana and Washington, shall provide in like manner for submitting the constitutions formed by them to the people of said proposed States, respectively, for ratification or rejection at elections to be held in said proposed states on the said first Tuesday in October. At the elections provided for in this section the qualified voters of said proposed states shall vote directly for or against the proposed constitutions, and for or against any articles or propositions separately submitted. The returns of said elections shall be made to the secretary of each of said territories, who, with the governor and chief-justice thereof, or any two of them, shall canvass the same; and if a majority of the legal votes cast shall be for the constitution the governor shall certify the result to the president of the United States, together with a statement of the votes cast thereon and upon separate articles or propositions, and a copy of said constitution, articles, propositions, and ordinances. And if the constitutions and governments of said proposed states are republican in form, and if all the provisions of this act have been complied with in the formation thereof, it shall be the duty of the president of the United States to issue his proclamation announcing the result of the election in each, and thereupon the proposed states which have adopted constitutions and formed state governments as herein provided shall be deemed admitted by congress into the union under and by virtue of this act on an equal footing with the original states from and after the date of said proclamation.

§ 9. That until the next general census, or until otherwise provided by law, said states shall be entitled to one representative in the house of representatives of the United States, except South Dakota, which shall be entitled to two, and the representatives to the fifty-first congress, together with the governors and other officers provided for in said constitutions, may be elected on the same day of the election for the ratification or rejection of the constitutions; and until said state officers are elected and qualified under the provisions of each constitution and the states, respectively, are admitted into the union, the territorial officers shall continue to discharge the duties of their respective offices in each of said territories.

§ 10. That upon the admission of each of said states into the union sections numbered sixteen and thirty-six in every township of said proposed states, and where such section, or any parts thereof, have been sold or otherwise disposed of by or under the authority of any act of congress, other lands equivalent thereto, in legal subdivisions of not less than one-quarter section, and as contiguous as may be to the section in lieu of which the same is taken, are hereby granted to said states for the support of common schools, such indemnity lands to be selected within said states in such manner as the legislature may provide, with the approval of the secretary of the interior; Provided, That the sixteenth and thirty-sixth sections embraced in permanent reservations for national purposes shall not, at any time, be subject to the grants nor to the indemnity provisions of this act, nor shall any lands embraced in Indian, military or other reservations of any character be subject to the grants or to the indemnity provisions of this act until the reservation shall have been extinguished and such lands be restored to and become a part of the public domain.

§ 11. That all lands herein granted for educational purposes shall be disposed of only at public sale, and at a price not less than ten dollars per acre, the proceeds to constitute a permanent school fund, the interest of which only shall be expended in the support of said schools. But said lands may, under such regulations as the legislatures shall prescribe, be leased for periods of not more than five years, in quantities not exceeding one section to any one person or company; and such lands shall not be subject to pre-emption, homestead entry or any other entry under the land laws of the United States, whether surveyed or unsurveyed, but shall be reserved for school purposes only.

§ 12. And such quantity of the lands authorized by the fourth section of the act of July seventeenth, eighteen hundred and fifty-four, to be reserved for university purposes in the territory of Washington, as, together with the lands confirmed to the vendees of the territory by the act of March fourteenth, eighteen hundred and sixty-four, will make the full quantity of seventy-two entire sections, are hereby granted in the like manner to the state of Washington for the purpose of a university in said state. None of the lands granted in this section shall be sold at less than ten dollars per acre; but said lands may be leased in the same manner as provided in section eleven of this act. § 6. That petitions for naturalization may be made and filed during term time or vacation of the court and shall be docketed the same day as filed, but final action thereon shall be had only on stated days, to be fixed by rule of the court, and in no case shall final action be had upon a petition until at least ninety days have elapsed after filing and posting the notice of such petition: Provided, That no person shall be naturalized nor shall any certificate of naturalization be issued by any court within thirty days preceding the holding of any general election within its territorial jurisdiction. It shall be lawful, at the same time and as part of the naturalization of any alien, for the court, in its discretion, upon the petition of such alien, to make a decree changing the name of said alien, and his certificate of naturalization shall be issued to him in accordance therewith.

§ 7. That no person who disbelieves in or who is opposed to organized government, or who is a member of or affiliated with any organization entertaining and teaching such disbelief in or opposition to organized government, or who advocates or teaches the duty, necessity, or propriety of the unlawful assaulting or killing of any officer or officers, either of specific individuals or of officers generally, of the Government of the United States, or of any other organized government, because of his or their official character, or who is a polygamist, shall be naturalized or be made a citizen of the United States.

§ 8. That no alien shall hereafter be naturalized or admitted as a citizen of the United States who can not speak the English language: Provided, That this requirement shall not apply to aliens who are physically unable to comply therewith, if they are otherwise qualified to become citizens of the United States: And provided further, That the requirements of this section shall not apply to any alien who has prior to the passage of this Act declared his intention to become a citizen of the United States in conformity with the law in force at the date of making such declaration: Provided further, That the requirements of section eight shall not apply to aliens who shall hereafter declare their intention to become citizens and who shall make homestead entries upon the public lands of the United States and comply in all respects with the laws providing for homestead entries on such lands.

§ 9. That every final hearing upon such petition shall be had in open court before a judge or judges thereof, and every final order which may be made upon such petition shall be under the hand of the court and entered in full upon a record kept for that purpose, and upon such final hearing of such petition the applicant and witnesses shall be examined under oath before the court and in the presence of the court.

§ 10. That in case the petitioner has not resided in the State, Territory, or district for a period of five years continuously and immediately preceding the filing of his petition he may establish by two witnesses, both in his petition and at the hearing, the time of his residence within the State, provided that it has been for more than one year, and the remaining portion of his five years' residence within the United States required by law to be established may be proved by the depositions of two or more witnesses who are citizens of the United States, upon notice to the Bureau of Immigration and Naturalization and the United States attorney for the district in which said witnesses may reside.

§ 11. That the United States shall have the right to appear before any court or courts exercising jurisdiction in naturalization proceedings for the purpose of cross-examining the petitioner and the witnesses produced in support of his petition concerning any matter touching or in any way affecting his right to admission to citizenship, and shall have the right to call witnesses, produce evidence, and be heard in opposition to the granting of any petition in naturalization proceedings.

§ 12. That it is hereby made the duty of the clerk of each and every court exercising jurisdiction in naturalization matters under the provisions of this Act to keep and file a duplicate of each declaration of intention made before him and to send to the Bureau of Immigration and Naturalization at Washington, within thirty days after the issuance of a certificate of citizenship, a duplicate of such certificate, and to make and keep on file in his office a stub for each certificate so issued by him, whereon shall be entered a memorandum of all the essential facts set forth in such certificate. It shall also be the duty of the clerk of each of said courts to report to the said Bureau, within thirty days after the final hearing and decision of the court, the name of each and every alien who shall be denied naturalization, and to furnish to said Bureau duplicates of all petitions within thirty days after the filing of the same, and certified copies of such other proceedings and orders instituted in or issued out of said court affecting or relating to the naturalization of aliens as may be required from time to time by the said Bureau.

In case any such clerk or officer acting under his direction shall refuse or neglect to comply with any of the foregoing provisions he shall forfeit and pay to the United States the sum of twenty-five dollars in each and every case in which such violation or omission occurs, and the amount of such forfeiture may be recovered by the United States in an action of debt against such clerk.

Clerks of courts having and exercising jurisdiction in naturalization matters shall be responsible for all blank certificates of citizenship received by them from time to time from the Bureau of Immigration and Naturalization, and shall account for the same to the said Bureau whenever required so to do by such Bureau. No certificate of citizenship received by any such clerk which may be defaced or injured in such manner as to prevent its use as herein provided shall in any case be destroyed, but such certificate shall be returned to the said Bureau; and in case any such clerk shall fail to return or properly account for any certificate furnished by the said Bureau, as herein provided, he shall be liable to the United States in the sum of fifty dollars, to be recovered in an action of debt, for each and every certificate not properly accounted for or returned.

§ 13. That the clerk of each and every court exercising jurisdiction in naturalization cases shall charge, collect, and account for the following fees in each proceeding:

For receiving and filing a declaration of intention and issuing a duplicate thereof, one dollar.

For making, filing, and docketing the petition of an alien for admission as a citizen of the United States and for the final hearing thereon, two dollars; and for entering the final order and the issuance of the certificate of citizenship thereunder, if granted, two dollars.

The clerk of any court collecting such fees is hereby authorized to retain one-half of the fees collected by him in such naturalization proceeding; the remaining one-half of the naturalization fees in each case collected by such clerks, respectively, shall be accounted for in their quarterly accounts, which they are hereby required to render the Bureau of Immigration and Naturalization, and paid over to such Bureau within thirty days from the close of each quarter in each and every fiscal year, and the moneys so received shall be paid over to the disbursing clerk of the Department of Commerce and Labor, who shall thereupon deposit them in the Treasury of the United States, rendering an account therefor quarterly to the Auditor for the State and other Departments, and the said disbursing clerk shall be held responsible under his bond for said fees so received.

In addition to the fees herein required, the petitioner shall, upon the filing of his petition to become a citizen of the United States, deposit with and pay to the clerk of the court a sum of money sufficient to cover the expenses of subpœnaing and paying the legal fees of any witnesses for whom he may request a subpœna, and upon the final discharge of such witnesses they shall receive, if they demand the same from the clerk, the customary and usual witness fees from the moneys which the petitioner shall have paid to such clerk for such purpose, and the residue, if any, shall be returned by the clerk to the petitioner: Provided, That the clerks of courts exercising jurisdiction in naturalization proceedings shall be permitted to retain one-half of the fees in any fiscal year up to the sum of three thousand dollars, and that all fees received by such clerks in naturalization proceedings in excess of such amount shall be accounted for and paid over to said Bureau as in case of other fees to which the United States may be entitled, under the provisions of this Act. The clerks of the various courts exercising jurisdiction in naturalization proceedings shall pay all additional clerical force that may be required in performing the duties imposed by this Act upon the clerks of courts from fees received by such clerks in naturalization proceedings. And in case the clerk of any court collects fees in excess of the sum of six thousand dollars in any one year, the Secretary of Commerce and Labor may allow to such clerk from the money which the United States shall receive additional compensation for the employment of additional clerical assistance, but for no other purpose, if in the opinion of the said Secretary the business of such clerk warrants such allowance.

§ 14. That the declarations of intention and the petitions for naturalization shall be bound in chronological order in separate volumes, indexed, consecutively numbered, and made part of the records of the court. Each certificate of naturalization issued shall bear upon its face, in a place prepared therefor, the volume number and page number of the petition whereon such certificate was issued, and the volume number and page number of the stub of such certificate.

§ 15. That it shall be the duty of the United States district attorneys for the respective districts, upon affidavit showing good cause therefor, to institute proceedings in any court having jurisdiction to naturalize aliens in the judicial district in which the naturalized citizen may reside at the time of bringing the suit, for the purpose of setting aside and canceling the certificate of citizenship on the ground of fraud or on the ground that such certificate of citizenship was illegally procured. In any such proceedings the party holding the certificate of citizenship alleged to have been fraudulently or illegally procured shall have sixty days personal notice in which to make answer to the petition of the United States; and if the holder of such certificate be absent from the United States or from the district in which he last had his residence, such notice shall be given by publication in the manner provided for the service of summons by publication or upon absentees by the laws of the State or the place where such suit is brought.

If any alien who shall have secured a certificate of citizenship under the provisions of this Act shall, within five years after the issuance of such certificate, return to the country of his nativity, or go to any other foreign country, and take permanent residence therein, it shall be considered prima facie evidence of a lack of intention on the part of such alien to become a permanent citizen of the United States at the time of filing his application for citizenship, and, in the absence of countervailing evidence, it shall be sufficient in the proper proceeding to authorize the cancellation of his certificate of citizenship as fraudulent, and the diplomatic and consular officers of the United States in foreign countries shall from time to time, through the Department of State, furnish the Department of Justice with the names of those within their respective jurisdictions who have such certificates of citizenship and who have taken permanent residence in the country of their nativity, or in any other foreign country, and such statements, duly certified, shall be admissible in evidence in all courts in proceedings to cancel certificates of citizenship.

Whenever any certificate of citizenship shall be set aside or canceled, as herein provided, the court in which such judgment or decree is rendered shall make an order canceling such certificate of citizenship and shall send a certified copy of such order to the Bureau of Immigration and Naturalization; and in case such certificate was not originally issued by the court making such order it shall direct the clerk of the court to transmit a copy of such order and judgment to the court out of which such certificate of citizenship shall have been originally issued. And it shall thereupon be the duty of the clerk of the court receiving such certified copy of the order and judgment of the court to enter the same of record and to cancel such original certificate of citizenship upon the records and to notify the Bureau of Immigration and Naturalization of such cancellation.

The provisions of this section shall apply not only to certificates of citizenship issued under the provisions of this Act, but to all certificates of citizenship which may have been issued heretofore by any court exercising jurisdiction in naturalization proceedings under prior laws.

§ 16. That every person who falsely makes, forges, counterfeits, or causes or procures to be falsely made, forged, or counterfeited, or knowingly aids or assists in falsely making, forging, or counterfeiting any certificate of citizenship, with intent to use the same, or with the intent that the same may be used by some other person or persons, shall be guilty of a felony, and a person convicted of such offense shall be punished by imprisonment for not more than ten years, or by a fine of not more than ten thousand dollars, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

§ 17. That every person who engraves or causes or procures to be engraved, or assists in engraving, any plate in the likeness of any plate designed for the printing of a certificate of citizenship, or who sells any such plate, or who brings into the United States from any foreign place any such plate, except under the direction of the Secretary of Commerce and Labor, or other proper officer, and any person who has in his control, custody, or possession any metallic plate engraved after the similitude of any plate from which any such certificate has been printed, with intent to use such plate or suffer the same to be used in forging or counterfeiting any such certificate or any part thereof; and every person who prints, photographs, or in any other manner causes to be printed, photographed, made, or executed, any print or impression in the likeness of any such certificate, or any part thereof, or who sells any such certificate, or brings the same into the United States from any foreign place, except by direction of some proper officer of the United States, or who has in his possession a distinctive paper which has been adopted by the proper officer of the United States for the printing of such certificate, with intent to unlawfully use the same, shall be punished by a fine of not more than ten thousand dollars, or by imprisonment at hard labor for not more than ten years, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

§ 18. That it is hereby made a felony for any clerk or other person to issue or be a party to the issuance of a certificate of citizenship contrary to the provisions of this Act, except upon a final order under the hand of a court having jurisdiction to make such order, and upon conviction thereof such clerk or other person shall be punished by imprisonment for not more than five years and by a fine of not more than five thousand dollars, in the discretion of the court.

§ 19. That every person who without lawful excuse is possessed of any blank certificate of citizenship provided by the Bureau of Immigration and Naturalization, with intent unlawfully to use the same, shall be imprisoned at hard labor not more than five years or be fined not more than one thousand dollars.

§ 20. That any clerk or other officer of a court having power under this Act to naturalize aliens, who wilfully neglects to render true accounts of moneys received by him for naturalization proceedings or who wilfully neglects to pay over any balance of such moneys due to the United States within thirty days after said payment shall become due and demand therefor has been made and refused, shall be deemed guilty of embezzlement of the public moneys, and shall be punishable by imprisonment for not more than five years, or by a fine of not more than five thousand dollars, or both.

§ 21. That it shall be unlawful for any clerk of any court or his authorized deputy or assistant exercising jurisdiction in naturalization proceedings to demand, charge, collect, or receive any other or additional fees or moneys in naturalization proceedings save the fees and moneys herein specified; and a violation of any of the provisions of this section or any part thereof is hereby declared to be a misdemeanor and shall be punished by imprisonment for not more than two years, or by a fine of not more than one thousand dollars, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

§ 22. That the clerk of any court exercising jurisdiction in naturalization proceedings, or any person acting under authority of this Act, who shall knowingly certify that a petitioner, affiant, or witness named in an affidavit, petition, or certificate of citizenship, or other paper or writing required to be executed under the provisions of this Act, personally appeared before him and was sworn thereto, or acknowledged the execution thereof or signed the same, when in fact such petitioner, affiant, or witness did not personally appear before him, or was not sworn thereto, or did not execute the same, or did not acknowledge the execution thereof, shall be punished by a fine not exceeding five thousand dollars, or by imprisonment not to exceed five years.

§ 23. That any person who knowingly procures naturalization in violation of the provisions of this Act shall be fined not more than five thousand dollars, or shall be imprisoned not more than five years, or both, and upon conviction the court in which such conviction is had shall thereupon adjudge and declare the final order admitting such person to citizenship void. Jurisdiction is hereby conferred on the courts having jurisdiction of the trial of such offense to make such adjudication. Any person who knowingly aids, advises, or encourages any person not entitled thereto to apply for or to secure naturalization, or to file the preliminary papers declaring an intent to become a citizen of the United States, or who in any naturalization proceeding knowingly procures or gives false testimony as to any material fact, or who knowingly makes an affidavit false as to any material fact required to be proved in such proceeding, shall be fined not more than five thousand dollars, or imprisoned not more than five years, or both.

§ 24. That no person shall be prosecuted, tried, or punished for any crime arising under the provisions of this Act unless the indictment is found or the information is filed within five years next after the commission of such crime.

§ 25. That for the purpose of the prosecution of all crimes and offenses against the naturalization laws of the United States which may have been committed prior to the date when this Act shall go into effect, the existing naturalization laws shall remain in full force and effect.

NATURALIZATION REGULATIONS.

These Regulations supersede Regulations of October 2, 1906.

DEPARTMENT OF COMMERCE AND LABOR,

OFFICE OF THE SECRETARY,

Washington, September 23, 1907.

1. On and after September 27, 1906, declarations of intention to become citizens of the United States shall be filed with the clerks of such State courts only as have "a seal, a clerk, and jurisdiction in actions at law or equity, or law and equity, in which the amount in controversy is unlimited."

2. Declarations of intention made prior to September 27, 1906, before clerks of courts having jurisdiction to naturalize aliens under the provisions of the law existing at the time such declarations were made, may be used in lieu of the declarations required by the act of June 29, 1906, at any time after the expiration of two years from the date when made.

3. Aliens who made declarations of intention prior to September 27, 1906, under the provisions of law in force at the time of making such declarations, can not be required to file new declarations of intention under the Act of June 29, 1906, as a preliminary to filing their petitions for naturalization.

Aliens who have made the declaration of intention required by law prior to September 27, 1906, must comply with all requirements of the Act of June 29, 1906, in regard to the filing of petitions for naturalization and furnishing proof, except that they will not be required to speak the English language or to sign petitions in their own handwriting.

4. Any alien who declares his intention on and after September 27, 1906, and files his petition thereon, must sign said petition in his own handwriting and must be able to speak the English language, unless excepted by the provisos in section 8 of the naturalization act. If an alien is physically unable to speak, that fact should be stated in his petition in lieu of the statement, "I am able to speak the English language." Aliens who arrive in the United States before reaching 18 years of age can not obtain citizenship without making declaration of intention, which may be made at the place of their established residence after reaching that age.

5. Blank forms "Facts for declaration of intention" (Form 2213) and "Facts for petition for naturalization" (Form 2214) are provided clerks of courts for the preliminary use of persons making declaration of intention or petition for naturalization, and may be taken away from the office of the clerk in order that the information called for may be obtained in full. When either of said forms is returned to the clerk he shall examine it to see that all the information required is furnished before proceeding to make out a declaration or petition.

6. Declarations of intention will be furnished in bound volumes (Form 2202, 2202A, or 2202B) as a court record, varied in number of pages according to the requirements of the court. In addition to the bound records, the duplicate and triplicate declarations of intention (Form 2203) will be furnished as loose sheets attached together and perforated, so that they can be readily torn apart, the triplicate to be given to the declarant and the duplicate to be forwarded to the Bureau of Immigration and Naturalization (Division of Naturalization). Each bound record will contain an index in addition to the original declarations of intention, and will be paged in consecutive order. At the time the original declarations of intention in the bound volumes are filled out and signed the names of the declarants must be entered in the index. The declarations shall be numbered consecutively beginning with No. 1 in volume 1 and continuing the sequence from volume to volume.

7. The originals of the petitions for naturalization will also be furnished in bound volumes (Form 2204, 2204A, or 2204B) of varied size, paged in consecutive order and provided with an index. The duplicate petitions (Form 2205) will be furnished as loose sheets and when executed must be forwarded to the Bureau of Immigration and Naturalization (Division of Naturalization) by registered mail, as provided in Rule 22 of these regulations. The original petitions for naturalization in the bound volumes must be filled out and signed, the names of the petitioners entered in the index, and retained as part of the permanent records of the office in which filed. Petitions shall be numbered consecutively, beginning with No. 1 in volume 1 and continuing in order in the following volumes. The first petition in volume 2 must not be numbered "1," but shall receive the number following that given the last petition in volume 1.

8. Certificates of naturalization (Form 2207) will be supplied in bound volumes consisting of original and duplicate certificates and stubs. Each original and duplicate certificate and the stub will be given the same serial number, the stub to the original certificate bearing a page number in addition to its serial number. Each book will bear a volume number, and the volume number and page of the stub must be given on the face of the certificate. The original certificate will be given to the petitioner in accordance with the final order of the court, and the duplicate shall be forwarded to the Bureau of Immigration and Naturalization (Division of Naturalization) by registered mail, as provided in Rule 22 of these regulations, the stub to the original constituting a part of the permanent records of the court. The bound volumes, containing the declarations, petitions, and certificates, constitute the "records" and dockets required by sections 6 and 14 of the naturalization act. The Department requires no other dockets to be kept.

9. No certificate of naturalization shall be issued to a petitioner until after the judge of the court granting naturalization has signed the order to that effect.

10. Clerks of courts will be furnished with requisition blanks (Form 2201) on which are listed, by number and title, all blank forms, including record and order books, to be used in the naturalization of aliens, and these forms must be obtained exclusively from the Department of Commerce and Labor (Division of Naturalization), none other being official. Manila envelopes or jackets (Form 2211) will be furnished to clerks in which to place the triplicate declaration of intention or the original certificate of naturalization before delivering it to the person making the declaration or to the person naturalized.

11. The first supply of blank forms will be furnished upon the written application of the clerks of courts having jurisdiction to naturalize aliens, accompanied, in the case of clerks of State courts, by authoritative evidence (preferably the certificate of the attorney general of the State) that the courts of which such clerks are officers have "a seal, a clerk, and jurisdiction in actions at law or equity, or law and equity, in which the amount in controversy is unlimited." Subsequent supplies of such blank forms will be furnished the clerks of courts having jurisdiction to naturalize aliens upon the receipt by the Bureau of Immigration and Naturalization (Division of Naturalization) of requisitions made on Form 2201.

12. Clerks of courts when first making applications to the Bureau of Immigration and Naturalization (Division of Naturalization) for the supplies of the blank forms required in the naturalization of aliens shall state, as to the two years next preceding the date of such application, the number of declarations of intention filed with them and the number of orders of naturalization made by their courts, respectively.

All applications for supplies of certificates of naturalization (Form 2207) should be accompanied by a statement of the number, if any, of certificates of naturalization issued by the clerks of courts making such applications since June 1, 1903, if such certificates failed to comply with the requirements of the immigration act of March 3, 1903.

13. Where the same court holds sessions at different places, whether a clerk is appointed at each of said places or the one clerk is required to transact the business of the court wherever it may sit, separate supplies shall be kept, in order to comply with the requirements of section 14 of the naturalization act, which provides that the bound declarations of intention and of petitions for naturalization shall be in chronological order.

14. In every case in which the name of a naturalized alien is changed by order of court, as provided in section 6, the clerk of the court is required to report both the original and the new name of the said person to the Bureau of Immigration and Naturalization (Division of Naturalization) when transmitting to it the duplicate of the certificate of naturalization of the alien whose name is changed.

15. On the first working day of each month the clerk shall inform the Bureau of Immigration and Naturalization (Division of Naturalization) on Form 2209 of the date of posting notice on Form 2206, as required by section 5, and of the day, month, and year, as near as may be, for the final hearing of each and every petition for naturalization filed and posted during the preceding month. These reports on Form 2209 must specify only the petitions filed in the month to which the report relates and no others. The specific dates of postponed hearings shall also be reported promptly on Form 2209, using a separate sheet, and in such continued cases notice on Form 2206 must be amended to show the postponed date and remain posted until final action is had.

16. On the first working day of each month following the sitting of a court in naturalization cases the clerk of such court shall forward to the Bureau of Immigration and Naturalization (Division of Naturalization) on Form 2210 a list containing the name of each and every alien who, during such sitting of court, has been denied naturalization and shall state the reason or reasons for such denial.

17. Applications for the issuance of declarations of intention (Form 2203) or certificates of naturalization (Form 2207), in lieu of declarations of intention or certificates of naturalization claimed to have been lost or destroyed, shall be made under oath to the clerk of the court by which any such declarations of intention or certificates of naturalization were originally issued, and shall contain full information in regard to the lost or destroyed papers, and as to the time, place, and circumstances of such alleged loss or destruction. The clerk shall forward to the Bureau of Immigration and Naturalization (Division of Naturalization) the above-mentioned applications, together with such information as he may have bearing upon the merits thereof, for investigation, and no such paper so applied for shall be issued until the Bureau of Immigration and Naturalization (Division of Naturalization) reports the results of its investigation as to the merits of the application.

In every case in which the clerk of the court issues, in accordance with the foregoing, a declaration of intention (Form 2203) or a certificate of naturalization (Form 2207), upon proof of the loss or destruction of the original, he shall make an entry on the original declaration or on the stub of the original certificate of naturalization, as the case may require, showing the issuance of a new paper and the number thereof, and shall immediately thereafter forward to the Bureau of Immigration and Naturalization (Division of Naturalization) the duplicate of any such paper so issued.

Certified copies of declarations of intention (Form 2215) and certificates of naturalization (Form 2216) may be provided by clerks of courts under their hand and the seal of the court out of which the papers originally issued, only for the use of persons who make entry upon public lands of the United States, and who are required to submit proof that they have declared their intention to become citizens, or have become naturalized. When issued these forms must be made in duplicate, one to be given to the person applying therefor and the duplicate forwarded with other naturalization papers on the first working day of the succeeding month to the Bureau of Immigration and Naturalization (Division of Naturalization). Unless the applicant presents to the clerk his original declaration or certificate for comparison, these forms can under no conditions be issued.

A charge of $1 may be made for the issuance of each of the copies of declarations of intention and $2 for each of the copies of certificates of naturalization described in this regulation, the full amount to be retained by the clerks of courts for the work connected with issuing such duplicates. Clerks are, however, required to make quarterly reports, on Form 2217, on the first working day of January, April, July, and October, of the number of such papers issued during the preceding quarter.

This rule applies exclusively to naturalization papers issued since September 26, 1906.

18. Original declarations of intention or certificates of naturalization issued subsequently to September 26, 1906, and surrendered to the General Land Office in support of entries on public land may be returned upon proper application. The clerk will forward the application, accompanied by a certified copy on Form 2215 or 2216, as the case may be, to the Bureau of Immigration and Naturalization (Division of Naturalization). The originals will then be procured from the General Land Office and returned to the clerk of the court.

19. For recording the affidavits of additional witnesses under section 10, or substituted witnesses under section 5, of the act of June 29, 1906, blank forms (Form 2218) have been prepared as pasters to be affixed to the backs of petitions in the bound volume, following the "Order of court admitting petitioner." Copies of this form may be procured by the usual requisition (Form 2201).

20. Aliens making declaration of intention, or filing petitions for naturalization, must sign their names in full and without abbreviation in the appropriate places on the various blank forms, and the entries of their names by the clerk must correspond in every particular. Where a name contains an initial which is used only to distinguish one individual from another with the same surname that fact should be noted on the paper.

21. Clerks of courts shall not receive declarations of intention (Form 2202) or file petitions for naturalization (Form 2204) from other aliens than white persons and persons of African nativity or of African descent, nor from persons not residing in the judicial district within which the court is held.

22. On the first working day of each and every month, and not otherwise, clerks of courts shall forward to the Bureau of Immigration and Naturalization (Division of Naturalization) duplicates of all declarations of intention, petitions for naturalization, and certificates of naturalization filed or issued during the preceding month. Duplicate petitions for naturalization and duplicate certificates of naturalization shall be forwarded by registered mail; and duplicate declarations of intention as well as other papers may be inclosed therewith provided the combined weight of the documents does not exceed 4 pounds, otherwise they shall be forwarded separately by unregistered mail. The same course should be followed in forwarding naturalization papers to the Bureau which have been returned for correction. Each clerk making a shipment of naturalization papers other than papers returned for correction is required to forward therewith a report on Form 2208 showing the number of such papers filed or issued during the month reported. Where petitions for naturalization have been filed the report on Form 2209 showing the approximate dates of final hearings shall also be inclosed with such shipment. When no naturalization business has been transacted during any month it is unnecessary to render monthly reports to that effect, but report should be made as prescribed in Rule 23.

23. All fees provided for in section 13 of the act of June 29, 1906, shall be accounted for on the "Abstract of collections" (Form 2212) within thirty days after the close of each quarter of a fiscal year. These quarters end September 30, December 31, March 31, and June 30, respectively. One-half of all moneys so collected, up to $6,000, and all in excess thereof, shall be remitted to the Chief of the Division of Naturalization, Bureau of Immigration and Naturalization, with said quarterly account, such remittance to be made payable to the order of the "Secretary of Commerce and Labor," preferably by draft. The Comptroller of the Treasury has decided that section 13 requires the collection of the final fee of $2 whether the certificate of naturalization be issued or denied.

In cases where no naturalization business is transacted during any quarter Form 2212 shall be forwarded as aforesaid with the words "No transactions" noted thereon.

24. An alien of the age of 21 years and upward may be admitted to become a citizen without making declaration of his intention if he has been honorably discharged from the armies of the United States, or after a service of five consecutive years in the United States Navy, or after one enlistment of four years in the United States Marine Corps. Clerks of courts should appropriately insert in lieu of the sixth assertion on petition (Form 2204) ; "Petitioner is an honorably discharged (soldier, member of the Navy, or member of the Marine Corps) and makes application for citizenship under (section 2166 R. S., or act of July 26, 1894). He enlisted in the (name of organization) on the (day, month, and year)." The first sentence of the last paragraph preceding the signature of the petitioner should be struck through. In lieu of the statement following the jurat there should be substituted "Honorably discharge certificate of petitioner was exhibited to me this day of" An appropriate note should also be entered upon the stub of the certificate issued to said applicant.

25. So far as practicable the clerks of courts having jurisdiction under the provisions of the naturalization laws will be furnished, upon requisition therefor on Form 2201, with appropriately addressed envelopes for communicating with the Bureau. When not using such envelopes, however, all communications, in addition to the other necessary address, should be plainly marked "Division of Naturalization."

26. Clerks of courts having jurisdiction to naturalize under the provisions of the act of June 29, 1906, are requested, in case the foregoing rules and regulations fail to remove from their minds doubt as to the proper course of action in any case, to write to the Chief of the Division of Naturalization, Bureau of Immigration and Naturalization, for instructions before taking such action.

OSCAR S. STRAUSS,
Secretary.

CONSTITUTION

OF THE

STATE OF MONTANA.

AS ADOPTED BY THE CONSTITUTIONAL CONVENTION AUGUST 17TH, 1889; RATIFIED BY THE PEOPLE, OCTOBER 1ST, 1889; STATE
ADMITTED, NOVEMBER 8TH, 1889.

PREAMBLE.

We, the people of Montana, grateful to Almighty God for the blessings of liberty, in order to secure the advantages of a state government, do, in accordance with the provisions of the enabling act of congress, approved the twenty-second of February, A. D. 1889, ordain and establish this constitution.

ARTICLE I.

BOUNDARIES.

§ 1. The boundaries of the state of Montana shall be as follows, to-wit: Beginning at a point formed by the intersection of the twenty-seventh degree of longitude west from Washington with the forty-fifth degree of north latitude, thence due west on the forty-fifth degree of latitude to a point formed by its intersection with the thirty-fourth degree of longitude west from Washington, thence due south along the thirty-fourth degree of longitude, to a point formed by its intersection with the crest of the Rocky mountains, thence following the crest of the Rocky mountains northward to its intersection with the Bitter Root mountains; thence northward along the crest of the Bitter Root mountains, to its intersection with the thirty-ninth degree of longitude west from Washington; thence along the thirty-ninth degree of longitude northward to the boundary line of the British Possessions; thence eastward along that boundary line to the twenty-seventh degree of longitude west from Washington; thence southward along the twenty-seventh degree of longitude to the place of beginning.

ARTICLE II.

MILITARY RESERVATIONS.

§ 1. Authority is hereby granted to and acknowledged in the United States to exercise exclusive legislation as provided by the constitution of the United States, over the military reservations of Fort Assinaboine, Fort Custer, Fort Keogh, Fort Maginnis, Fort Missoula and Fort Shaw, as now established by law, so long as said places remain military reservations, to the same extent and with the same effect as if said reservations had been purchased by the United States by consent of the legislative assembly of the state of Montana; and the legislative assembly is authorized and directed to enact any law necessary or proper to give effect to this article.

Provided, That there be and is hereby reserved to the state the right to serve all legal process of the state, both civil and criminal, upon persons and property found within any of said reservations in all cases where the United States has not exclusive jurisdiction.

State v. Tully, 31 Mont. 375; 78 Pac. 763. This section acknowledges absolute sovereignty in the United States over the places named therein.

ARTICLE III.

A DECLARATION OF RIGHTS OF THE PEOPLE OF THE STATE OF MONTANA.

§ 1. All political power is vested in and derived from the people; all government of right originates with the people; is founded upon their will only and is instituted solely for the good of the whole.

State v. Hogan, 24 Mont. 391; 62 Pac. 585. This guaranty refers to the right of naming candidates for public office and the right of the electors to vote for the candidates at the polls.

§ 2. The people of the state have the sole and exclusive right of governing themselves, as a free, sovereign and independent state, and to alter and abolish their constitution and form of government, whenever they may deem it necessary to their safety and happiness, provided such change be not repugnant to the constitution of the United States.

§ 3. All persons are born equally free, and have certain natural, essential and inalienable rights, among which may be reckoned the right of enjoying and defending their lives and liberties, of acquiring, possessing and protecting property, and of seeking and obtaining their safety and happiness in all lawful ways.

Hinds v. Wilcox, 22 Mont. 11; 55 Pac. 358. Sections 3 and 27 of this Article imply, if they do not express, a prohibition against the power of the legislature to enact a law whose effect would be the impairment of a vested right.
B. & B. Co. v. M. O. P. Co., 25 Mont. 68; 63 Pac. 826. The amendment approved February 28, 1899, to section 592 of the Code of Civil Procedure, relating to property held in tenancy in common, impairs the vested rights of co-tenants whose estates were in existence at the time the amendment became operative, and is repugnant to sections 3 and 27 of this article.

§ 4. The free exercise and enjoyment of religious profession and worship, without discrimination, shall forever hereafter be guaranteed, and no person shall be denied any civil or political right or privilege on account of his opinions concerning religion, but the liberty of conscience hereby secured shall not be construed to dispense with oaths or affirmations, excuse acts of licentiousness, by bigamous or polygamous marriage, or otherwise, or justify practices inconsistent with the good order, peace or safety of the state, or opposed to the civil authority thereof, or of the United States. No person shall be required to attend any place of worship or support any ministry, religious sect or denomination, against his consent; nor shall any preference be given by law to any religious denomination or mode of worship.

§ 5. All elections shall be free and open, and no power civil or military, shall at any time interfere to prevent the free exercise of the right of suffrage.

State v. Long, 21 Mont. 34; 52 Pac. 647. The law approved March 6, 1897, providing for the election of school trustees, does not prevent the free exercise of the right of suffrage. A school election was held in Butte, and when the polls closed, some persons who had stood in line awaiting their turns to vote were not able to cast their ballots. There were five voting places and the facilities were inadequate to accommodate electors who wished to vote, and did not attempt to vote until the latter part of the day. The law cannot be declared unconstitutional for these reasons.

§ 6. Courts of justice shall be open to every person, and a speedy remedy afforded for every injury of person, property or character; and that right and justice shall be administered without sale, denial or delay.

Edgerton v. Edgerton, 12 Mont. 145; 29 Pac. 973. A decree of divorce, obtained by a husband against his wife, which bears no infirmity on its face, cannot be collaterally assailed, in an action brought by the wife to enforce maintenance. Maintenance of a wife may be enforced by the district courts of this state, in the exercise of their equity jurisdiction, by decreeing proper relief in an action by the wife against her husband, independently of an action for divorce.

Wortman v. Kleinschmidt, 12 Mont.

331; 30 Pac. 284. The act approved March 14, 1889, providing that in actions for the foreclosure of mechanics' liens, the owner of the property subject to the lien shall pay as costs a reasonable attorney fee, is constitutional.

Sackett v. Thomas, 25 Mont. 238; 64 Pac. 505.

State v. Clancy, 30 Mont. 543; 77 Pac. 317. The act approved December 10, 1903, authorizing each party to disqualify five district judges by filing an affidavit of prejudice does not violate this section.

§ 7. The people shall be secure in their persons, papers, homes and effects, from unreasonable searches and seizures, and no warrant to search any place or seize any person or thing, shall issue without describing the place to be searched, or the person or thing to be seized, nor without probable cause, supported by oath or affirmation, reduced to writing.

State v. McCaffery, 16 Mont. 38; 40 Pac. 61. The proper construction of the words "probable cause" may be facts embodied in a complaint which charges the offense on information and belief.

State v. Brantly, 20 Mont. 176; 50 Pac. 411. An information charging a person with the commission of an offense was not verified, but the defendant entered a plea of not guilty and was convicted of murder in the second degree, and thereby waived the protection afforded by this section.

State v. Clancy, 20 Mont. 501; 52 Pac. 268. The requirement of this section is, prima facie, complied with when an information charging a public offense is filed by the county attorney; and such an information is, prima facie, the statement of probable cause under oath, equally with an indictment presented on the oath of grand jurors.

State v. Shafer, 26 Mont. 15; 66 Pac. 464. The defendant was convicted of the crime of murder in the first degree. The information was verified by the county attorney upon his information and belief, and filed by leave of court upon a motion in writing not verified. The written motion made by the county attorney for leave to file the information need not be supported by oath, and the facts constituting a formal charge need not be set forth with technical accuracy.

State v. Court, 27 Mont. 444; 71 Pac. 603. The legislature in section 1810 of the Code of Civil Procedure has given a construction to this section defining the circumstances under which the inspection of the private papers and documents of one party in an action by another party will not be deemed an unreasonable search.

State v. Court, 29 Mont. 368; 74 Pac. 1079. The constitutional guaranty contained in this section cannot be disregarded to satisfy litigants.

State v. Fuller, 34 Mont. 18; 85 Pac. 371. The defendant was charged with murder, and his shoes were taken against his consent and compared with the footprints leading from the place of the crime. The evidence thereof was admissible and defendant was not deprived of constitutional guaranties prohibiting unreasonable searches and seizures.

§ 8. Criminal offenses of which justice courts and municipal and other courts, inferior to the district courts, have jurisdiction, shall, in all courts inferior to the district court, be prosecuted by complaint. All criminal actions in the district court, except those on appeal, shall be prosecuted by information, after examination and commitment, by a magistrate, or after leave granted by the court, or shall be prosecuted by indictment without such examination or commitment, or without such leave of the court. A grand jury shall consist of seven persons, of whom five must concur to find an indictment.

A grand jury shall only be drawn and summoned when the district judge shall in his discretion consider it necessary, and shall so order.

State v. Ah Jim, 9 Mont. 167; 23 Pac. 76. An information charging defendant with the offense of murder committed before the admission of Montana as a state, and prior to any legislation under this section, was quashed. The clause of this section relating to the information did not execute itself and the legislative department must act before it could be carried into effect. The clause relating to the grand jury executes itself.

State v. King, 9 Mont. 450; 24 Pac. 266. Defendant was indicted by a grand jury of seven persons, drawn and summoned by order of the district judge. The order need not show the necessity therefor and it will be presumed that the judge considered his action necessary.

State v. Kingsly, 10 Mont. 537; 26 Pac. 1066. A party was convicted of a felony committed in the territory prior to the adoption of the constitution, and prosecuted by information. The accused should have been prosecuted through the intervention of a grand jury.

State v. Brett, 16 Mont. 360; 40 Pac. 873. Under this section, an information may be filed after leave has been granted by the court without an examination and commitment by a magistrate. There must be an examination and commitment, or leave of court, but both steps are not required.

State v. Bowser, 21 Mont. 134; 53 Pac. 179.

State v. Morris, 22 Mont. 3; 55 Pac. 361.

State v. Spotted Hawk, 22 Mont. 43; 55 Pac. 1027. A defendant is not entitled to be committed by a magistrate before he is informed against, and the information need not show on its face that it was filed by leave of court.

State v. Little Whirlwind, 22 Mont. 426; 56 Pac. 820. This section is not an abridgment of the privileges and immunities of citizens.

State v. Court, 24 Mont. 35; 60 Pac. 494. A contempt of court is not a criminal offense to be prosecuted as laid down in this section.

State v. Judges, 30 Mont. 198; 76 Pac. 11.

§ 9. Treason against the state shall consist only in levying war against it, or in adhering to its enemies, giving them aid and comfort; no person shall be convicted of treason except on the testimony of two witnesses to the same overt act, or on his confession in open court; no person shall be attainted of treason or felony by the legislative assembly; no conviction shall work corruption of blood or forfeiture of estate; the estates of persons who may destroy their own lives shall descend or vest as in cases of natural death.

§ 10. No law shall be passed impairing the freedom of speech; every person shall be free to speak, write or publish whatever he will on any subject, being responsible for all abuse of that liberty; and that in all suits and prosecutions for libel, the truth thereof may be given in evidence; and the jury, under the direction of the court, shall determine the law and the facts.

In re Shannon, 11 Mont. 72; 27 Pac. 354. The constitutional freedom of speech mentioned in this section includes the right to discuss matters pertaining to courts, or the practice therein, which have no tendency to affect the merits or result of cases pending.

In re MacKnight, 11 Mont. 138; 27 Pac. 337.

State v. Faulds, 17 Mont. 145; 42 Pac. 287. This section secures the largest liberty to the press and imposes responsibilities and is not violated by section 293 of the Penal Code, making the publication of a false and grossly inaccurate report of the proceedings of any court punishable both as a contempt and a misdemeanor.

Murray v. Heinze, 17 Mont. 365; 42 Pac. 1061. The jury have no right to determine the law in any other case.

"Expressio unius est exclusio alterius." King v. Lincoln, 26 Mont. 161; 66 Pac. 838. In prosecutions for libel the jury are judges of the law as well as the facts.

Paxton v. Woodward, 31 Mont. 216; 78 Pac. 219. While the jury have the power to determine the law and facts, it is the duty of the court to give to the jury correct instructions, and an erroneous declaration of the legal principles involved to the prejudice of a party is cause for reversal.

State v. Koch, 33 Mont. 501; 85 Pac. 275.

§ 11. No ex post facto law nor law impairing the obligation of contracts or making any irrevocable grant of special privileges, franchises or immunities shall be passed by the legislative assembly.

State v. Kingsly, 10 Mont. 544; 26 Pac. 1067.

State Bank v. Barret, 25 Mont. 119; 63 Pac. 1032. An agreement was entered into by the state and a party for the construction of a building for the school of mines under a statute allowing interest on registered warrants. The legislature by an act approved March 8, 1897, repealed the law concerning the interest, and thereby impaired the obligation of a contract, and the holder of a warrant issued under the agreement is entitled to interest thereon.

Stanford v. Coram, 28 Mont. 292; 72 Pac. 655. A judgment is in the nature of a contract, but it is not a contract within the meaning of this section, and a statute changing the rate of interest which a judgment shall bear after entry is not unconstitutional.

Bullard v. Smith, 28 Mont. 396; 72 Pac. 762. This section contains the prohibitions in the constitution against retrospective legislation, and the legislature is free to pass any retrospective laws which do not violate the obligations of contracts or interfere with vested rights.

Allen v. Ajax M. Co., 30 Mont. 490; 77 Pac. 47. The act passed in 1899, page 113, authorizing the directors of a mining corporation to sell its property does not impair the obligation of contracts and is valid.

§ 12. No person shall be imprisoned for debt except in the manner prescribed by law, upon refusal to deliver up his estate for the benefit of his creditors, or in cases of tort, where there is strong presumption of fraud.

§ 13. The right of any person to keep or bear arms in defense of his own home, person and property, or in aid of the civil power when thereto legally summoned, shall not be called in question, but nothing herein contained shall be held to permit the carrying of concealed weapons.

§ 14. Private property shall not be taken or damaged for public use without just compensation having been first made to or paid into court for the owner.

State v. McHatton, 15 Mont. 159; 38 Pac. 711. Where a railroad company pays a sum into court, on the award of damages by commissioners as compensation for a right of way for railroad purposes, this sum is to be regarded as a "just compensation," though the owner has appealed from the award.

State v. Deer Lodge, 19 Mont. 582; 49 Pac. 147. The county commissioners of Deer Lodge County vacated a public road and did not pay any damages to the owners of land through which the road passes. There was no taking of private property for public use.

Less v. Butte, 28 Mont. 31; 72 Pac. 141. This section is mandatory, prohibitory and self executing. An owner of land in an incorporated city is entitled to compensation for damages caused by changing the grade of a street on which his property abuts. This section is drafted in broad language to prevent an unjust exercise of the power of eminent domain.

State v. Court, 28 Mont. 544; 73 Pac. 236. An examination of a lode mining claim under section 1314, Code of Civil Procedure, is not in contravention of this section prohibiting the damaging of private property without just compensation to the owner.

State v. Court, 30 Mont. 219; 76 Pac. 210. The district court has the power to compel a defendant, upon the payment of the reasonable cost, to lower and hoist the agents of the plaintiff into and from the underground workings of a lode mining claim, while engaged in the inspection thereof.

§ 15. The use of all water now appropriated, or that may hereafter be appropriated for sale, rental, distribution or other beneficial use and the right of way over the lands of others, for all ditches, drains, flumes, canals and aqueducts, necessarily used in connection therewith, as well as the sites for reservoirs necessary for collecting and storing the same, shall be held to be a public use. Private roads may be opened in the manner to be prescribed by law, but in every case the necessity of the road, and the amount of all damage to be sustained by the opening thereof, shall be first determined by a jury, and such amount together with the expenses of the proceeding shall be paid by the person to be benefited.

State v. Court, 14 Mont. 476; 37 Pac. 7. This section does not abrogate the provisions of general laws, granting to the owners of a mining claim a right of way across the claim of others, and providing for the assessment of damages of commissioners, but modifies the laws by eliminating the commissioners and substituting a jury.

B. A. & P. Railway v. Montana U. Railway, 16 Mont. 529; 41 Pac. 240.

Ellinghouse v. Taylor, 19 Mont. 462; 48 Pac. 757. The phrase "other beneficial use" includes in the term "public use," the use of water to irrigate a particular tract of agricultural land, or work a particular mine, as well as the use of water to irrigate a number of tracts of land, or work a number of mines owned by different persons.

Smith v. Denniff, 24 Mont. 22; 60 Pac. 399. The use of appropriated water is made a public use.

Helena v. Rogan, 26 Mont. 475; 68 Pac. 802. The use of water to irrigate a farm under the water right law is a public use.

Helena P. Co. v. Spratt, 35 Mont. 125; 88 Pac. 775. The taking of land to flood it, rendered necessary by the construction of a dam for generating electric power to be sold to industrial enterprises and the public, is a public use.

§ 16. In all criminal prosecutions the accused shall have the right to appear and defend in person and by counsel; to demand the nature and cause of the accusation; to meet the witnesses against him face to face; to have process to compel the attendance of witnesses in his behalf, and a speedy public trial by an impartial jury of the county or district in which the offense is alleged to have been committed, subject to the right of the state to have a change of venue for any of the causes for which the defendant may obtain the same.

State v. Lee, 13 Mont. 249; 33 Pac. 690. Material evidence was produced against defendant from a witness who related his recollection of what the prosecuting witness had testified on the preliminary hearing. The defendant is entitled to meet the witnesses against him face to face, and the admission of the testimony was illegal.

State v. Conrow, 13 Mont. 553; 35 Pac. 241. Where defendant has been tried twice before the expiration of the second term after the filing of the information, and the state prosecutes an appeal from an order granting him a new trial after a conviction on the second trial, and during the pendency of this appeal, two terms elapsed without another trial, defendant is not denied the speedy trial guaranteed him.

State v. Geddes, 22 Mont. 87; 55 Pac. 925. The constitutional rights guaranteed to the accused to demand the nature and cause of the accusation, are not violated by the statute permitting an accusation against one as principal who is in fact an agent, for the reason that the old distinction between principal and accessory before the fact was arbitrary.

In re Wellcome, 23 Mont. 259; 58 Pac. 711. A disbarment proceeding is not a criminal prosecution, and this section declaring the right of the accused to meet the witnesses against him face to face is inapplicable, and depositions can be taken on the application of the attorney general.

State v. Mott, 29 Mont. 297; 74 Pac. 729. "An impartial jury" must be composed of twelve impartial men. One juror, who is incompetent because of actual bias entertained by him against the accused, and conceals such incompetency on his voir dire, vitiates the jury* as a whole.

State v. Tully, 31 Mont. 369; 78 Pac. 761. Criminal actions must be tried in the county where the offense was committed.

State v. Koch, 33 Mont. 490; 85 Pac. 272. Defendant was convicted of voluntary manslaughter. He pleaded "not guilty" to an information charging the crime of murder. An instruction that the jury "cannot find him not guilty" is in contravention of the right of defendant to have the question of his guilt or innocence determined by a jury.

The word "trial" embraces all proceedings in a criminal prosecution after the issues are made up, down to and including the rendition of the verdict.

The guaranty that the accused in all criminal prosecutions shall have the right to a trial by jury includes misdemeanors as well as felonies.

State v. Beesskove, 34 Mont. 50; 85 Pac. 377. The local jurisdiction of a crime is in the county where it is committed, and the charge must show that fact. The defendant is entitled to know the cause of the accusation so that he may prepare his defense.

§ 17. No person shall be imprisoned for the purpose of securing his testimony in any criminal proceeding longer than may be necessary in order to take his deposition. If he can give security for his appearance at the time of trial he shall be discharged upon giving the same; if he cannot give security, his deposition shall be taken in the manner prescribed by law, and in the presence of the accused and his counsel, or without their presence, if they shall fail to attend the examination after reasonable notice of the time and place thereof. Any deposition authorized by this section may be received as evidence on the trial, if the witness shall be dead or absent from the state.

§ 18. No person shall be compelled to testify against himself, in a criminal proceeding, nor shall any person be twice put in jeopardy for the same offense.

State v. Keerl, 33 Mont. 509; 85 Pac. 863. Defendant was charged with murder, tried three times and found guilty of manslaughter at the third trial. On the second trial the jury disagreed and were discharged. At the third trial, the plea of once in jeopardy was interposed on the ground that the jury had been discharged at the second trial when no necessity existed therefor. The disagreement of a jury and their consequent discharge do not bring defendant within the provision that no person shall be twice put in jeopardy for the same offense.

State v. Fuller, 34 Mont. 18; 85 Pac. 371. The clause declaring that no person shall be compelled to testify against himself does not prohibit the use of evidence obtained by taking the shoes of defendant, charged with murder, with or without his consent, and comparing them with footprints leading from the place of the crime.

§ 19. All persons shall be bailable by sufficient sureties, except for capital offenses, when the proof is evident or the presumption great.

State v. Lagoni, 30 Mont. 479; 76 Pac. 1046.

§ 20. Excessive bail shall not be required, or excessive fines imposed, or cruel and unusual punishments inflicted.

State v. Lagoni, 30 Mont. 479; 76 Pac. 1046.

§ 21. The privilege of the writ of habeas corpus shall never be suspended, unless in case of rebellion, or invasion, the public safety require it.

§ 22. The military shall always be in strict subordination to the civil power; no soldier shall in time of peace be quartered in any house without the consent of the owner, nor in time of war, except in the manner prescribed by law.

§ 23. The right of trial by jury shall be secured to all, and remain inviolate, but in all civil cases and in all criminal cases not amounting to felony, upon default of appearance or by consent of the parties expressed in such manner as the law may prescribe, a trial by jury may be waived, or a trial had by any less number of jurors than the number provided by law. A jury in a justice's court both in civil cases and in cases of criminal misdemeanor shall consist of not more than six persons. In all civil actions and in all criminal cases not amounting to felony, two-thirds in number of the jury may render a verdict, and such verdict so rendered shall have the same force and effect as if all of such jury concurred therein.

State v. Kennie, 24 Mont. 56; 60 Pac. 593. Under this section declaring the right of trial by jury shall be secured to all, the party complained of in a proceeding before a justice of the peace, to compel him to give security to keep the peace, is not entitled to a jury trial. No such right existed when the constitution was adopted and the right has not been extended to any case in which it did not then exist.

Finch v. Kent, 24 Mont. 279; 61 Pac. 658. This section does not enlarge the right to a jury trial and does not extend this right to suits within the exclusive jurisdiction of chancery when the constitution was adopted.

M. O. P. Co. v. B. & M. Co., 27 Mont. 306; 70 Pac. 1119. The parties in an action to determine an adverse claim to an interest in real property were not entitled to a jury trial prior to the adoption of the constitution; and a defendant in an action to try an adverse claim to a lode mining claim under the same statute, re-enacted subsequent to the constitution, is not entitled to have the issues submitted to a jury.

Chessman v. Hale, 31 Mont. 535; 79 Pac. 256. The right of trial by jury, as it existed at the time of the adoption of the constitution, still exists and cannot be taken away by legislative enactment.

Id. 590; 79 Pac. 258. This section, in effect, commands that a jury trial, if waived, shall be waived in a certain manner, and prohibits its being waived in any other manner.

Id. 591; 79 Pac. 258. A party to an action is not under any obligation to demand a trial by jury when that right is given him by the constitution.

Spencer v. Spencer, 31 Mont. 639; 79 Pac. 322.

State v. Koch, 33 Mont. 496; 85 Pac. 274.

§ 24. Laws for the punishment of crime shall be founded on the principles of reformation and prevention, but this shall not affect the power of the legislative assembly to provide for punishing offenses by death.

§ 25. Aliens and denizens shall have the same right as citizens to acquire, purchase, possess, enjoy, convey, transmit and inherit mines and mining property, and milling, reduction, concentrating and other works, and real property necessary for or connected with the business of mining and treating ores and minerals: Provided, that nothing herein contained shall be construed to infringe upon the authority of the United States to provide for the sale or disposition of its mineral and other public lands.

§ 26. The people shall have the right peaceably to assemble for the common good, and to apply to those invested with the powers of government for redress of grievances by petition or remonstrance.

§ 27. No person shall be deprived of life, liberty or property without due process of law.

State v. Ah Jim, 9 Mont. 171; 23 Pac. 77.

State v. Kingsly, 10 Mont. 544; 26 Pac. 1067.

B. & B. Co. v. M. O. P. Co., 25 Mont. 68; 63 Pac. 826.

See note to section 3 of this article.

State v. Clancy, 30 Mont. 541; 77 Pac. 316. A party to an action is not deprived of life, liberty or property by the fact that he cannot have his cause tried before a particular judge; and a statute, providing for the disqualification of district judges on the filing of an affidavit of prejudice, without requiring notice of the filing thereof to be given, is not in violation of this section, and a litigant is not deprived of his property without due process of law.

State v. Court, 33 Mont. 532; 85 Pac. 368. The phrase "due process of law" includes notice and a hearing before judgment; and a notice of the filing of a memorandum of costs must be given to the person liable therefor.

§ 28. There shall never be in this state either slavery or involuntary servitude, except as a punishment for crime, whereof the party shall have been duly convicted.

§ 29. The provisions of this constitution are mandatory and prohibitory, unless by express words they are declared to be otherwise.

State v. Ah Jim, 9 Mont. 172; 23 Pac. 77.

State v. Hickman, 9 Mont. 379; 23 Pac. 741.

State v. Tooker, 15 Mont. 14; 37 Pac. 842. Section 9 of Article XIX, of this constitution, requiring the secretary of state to publish a proposed constitutional amendment for three months prior to the next general election is mandatory, and a non-compliance therewith renders the adoption of the proposed amendment nugatory.

Palmer v. Helena, 19 Mont. 68; 47 Pac. 212.

Mutual L. I. Co. v. Martien, 27 Mont. 439; 71 Pac. 471.

In re Weston, 28 Mont. 212; 72 Pac. 514. The declarations of the constitution with reference to the subjects upon which it assumes to speak, shall be conclusive upon the legislature, and shall prevent the enactment of any law, which has for its purpose the extension or limitation of the powers which are conferred by constitutional provisions.

N. W. I. Co. v. L. & C. Co., 28 Mont. 497; 72 Pac. 985. The provisions of the constitution providing for the assessment and taxation of all the property of corporations situated within this state are mandatory.

State v. Weston, 29 Mont. 129; 74 Pac. 417. The rule prescribed in this section applies to all parts of the constitution.

State v. McKinney, 29 Mont. 381; 74 Pac. 1096. The courts, holding that the legislature is a co-ordinate branch of the government, and its action, if fair, should be sustained, give this section a liberal construction, so as to not interfere with or impede proper legislative functions.

State v. Koch, 33 Mont. 496; 85 Pac. 273.

State v. Court, 35 Mont. 53; 88 Pac. 564.

§ 30. The enumeration in this constitution of certain rights, shall not be construed to deny, impair or disparage others retained by the people.

§ 31. No armed person or persons or armed body of men shall be brought into this state for the preservation of the peace or the suppression of domestic violence, except upon the application of the legislative assembly or of the governor when the legislative assembly cannot be convened.

ARTICLE IV.

DISTRIBUTION OF POWERS.

§ 1. The powers of the government of this state are divided into three distinct departments: The legislative, executive and judicial, and no person or collection of persons charged with the exercise of powers properly belonging to one of these departments shall exercise any powers properly belonging to either of the others, except as in this constitution expressly directed or permitted.

State v. Jackson, 9 Mont. 519; 24 Pac. 215. A county attorney may hold the office of notary public, and an affidavit taken before a notary public, who is the county attorney, can be used by the state on a motion for a new trial.

State v. Smith, 23 Mont. 44; 57 Pac. 449. This article does not prevent the courts from controlling by mandamus the exercise by the governor of the state of a ministerial duty.

Jordan v. Andrus, 26 Mont. 39; 66

Pac. 502. It is not lawful for any department, or officer thereof, to interfere with the power of any other department.

In re Weston, 28 Mont. 219; 72 Pac. 517. The orderly disposition of the business of the state requires the faithful observance of this article; and the legislature cannot impose upon the Supreme Court, or its justices, the performance of an act not judicial in its character, but purely ministerial or executive.

ARTICLE V.

LEGISLATIVE DEPARTMENT.

§ 1. The legislative authority of the state shall be vested in a legislative assembly, consisting of a senate and house of representatives; but the people reserve to themselves power to propose laws, and to enact or reject the same at the polls except as to laws relating to appropriations of money, and except as to laws for the submission of constitutional amendments, and except as to local or special laws, as enumerated in Article V, Section 26, of this constitution, independent of the legislative assembly; and also reserve power at their own option, to approve or reject at the polls, any act of the legislative assembly, except as to laws necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health or safety, and except as to laws relating to appropriations of money, and except as to laws for the submission of constitutional amendments, and except as to local or special laws, as enumerated in Art. V; Sec. 26, of this constitution. The first power reserved by the people is the initiative and eight per cent of the legal voters of the state shall be required to propose any measure by petition; provided, that two-fifths of the whole number of the counties of the state must each furnish as signers of said petition eight per cent of the legal voters in such county, and every such petition shall include the full text of the measure so proposed. Initiative petitions shall be filed with the secretary of state, not less than four months before the election at which they are to be voted upon.

The second power is the referendum, and it may be ordered either by petition signed by five per cent of the legal voters of the state; provided, that two-fifths of the whole number of the counties of the state must each furnish as signers of said petition five per cent of the legal voters in such county, or, by the legislative assembly as other bills are enacted.

Referendum petitions shall be filed with the secretary of state, not later than six months after the final adjournment of the session of the legislative assembly which passed the bill on which the referendum is demanded. The veto power of the governor shall not extend to measures referred to the people by the legislative assembly or by initiative referendum petitions.

All elections on measures referred to the people of the state shall be had at the biennial regular general election, except when the legislative assembly, by a majority vote, shall order a special election. Any measure referred to the people shall still be in full force and effect unless such petition be signed by fifteen per cent of the legal voters of a majority of the whole number of the counties of the state, in which case the law shall be inoperative until such time as it shall be passed upon at an election, and the result has been determined and declared as provided by law. The whole number of votes cast for governor at the regular election last preceding the filing of any petition for the initiative or referendum shall be the basis on which the number of legal petitions and orders for the initiative and for the referendum shall be filed with the secretary of state; and in submitting the same to the people, he, and all other officers, shall be guided by the general laws and the act submitting this amendment, until legislation shall be especially provided therefor. The enacting clause of every law originated by the initiative shall be as follows:

"Be it enacted by the people of Montana."

This section shall not be construed to deprive any member of the legislature of the right to introduce any measure.

Section 1 is given as amended by act approved March 2, 1905 (Acts 1905, Ch. 61), which was declared to be in force by proclamation by the Governor December 7, 1906.

§ 2. Senators shall be elected for the term of four years, and representatives for the term of two years, except as otherwise provided in this constitution.

§ 3. No person shall be a representative who shall not have attained the age of twenty-one years, or a senator who shall not have attained the age of twenty-four years, and who shall not be a citizen of the United States, and who shall not (for at least twelve months next preceding his election) have resided within the county or district in which he shall be elected.

§ 4. The legislative assembly of this state, until otherwise provided by law, shall consist of sixteen members of the senate, and fifty-five members of the house of representatives.

State v. Kenney, 10 Mont. 413; 25 Pac. 1023.

It shall be the duty of the first legislative assembly to divide the state into senatorial and representative districts, but there shall be no more than one senator from each county. The senators shall be divided into two classes. Those elected from odd numbered districts shall constitute one class, and those elected from even numbered districts shall constitute the other class; and when any additional senator shall be provided for by law his class shall be determined by lot.

One-half of the senators elected to the first legislative assembly shall hold office for one year, and the other half for three years; and it shall be determined by lot immediately after the organization of the senate, whether the senators from the odd or even numbered districts shall hold for one or three years.

§ 5. Each member of the first legislative assembly, as a compensation for his services shall receive six dollars for each day's attendance, and twenty cents for each mile necessarily traveled in going to and returning from the seat of government to his residence by the usually traveled route, and shall receive no other compensation, perquisite or allowance whatsoever.

No session of the legislative assembly, after the first, which may be ninety days, shall exceed sixty days.

After the first session, the compensation of the members of the legislative assembly shall be as provided by law; provided, that no legislative assembly shall fix its own compensation.

State v. Kenney, 9 Mont. 232; 23 Pac. 736. Sections 5 and 15 of this article guarantee certain rights, privileges and emoluments to persons occupying the office of legislator.

State v. Kenney, 10 Mont. 412; 25 Pac. 1023. Under sections 5 and 8 of this article the constitution fixed the compensation of members of the first legislative assembly and conferred upon that body the power to enact laws for the payment of its successors. These laws can be amended, but no legislative assembly can fix its compensation or increase the salary or mileage of the members. The constitution contemplated that the first legislative assembly would enact a law providing for this exigency, but there was a failure in this regard. The second legislative assembly made an appropriation for the payment of its members at the rate fixed by the constitution as the compensation for members of the first legislative assembly. The second legislative assembly did not fix its compensation within the scope of these sections and the appropriation was valid.

§ 6. The legislative assembly, (except the first) shall meet at the seat of government at twelve o'clock, noon, on the first Monday of January, next succeeding the general election provided by law, and at twelve o'clock, noon, on the first Monday of January, of each alternate year thereafter, and at other times when convened by the governor.

The term of service of the members thereof shall begin the next day after their election, until otherwise provided by law; provided, that the first legislative assembly shall meet at the seat of government upon the proclamation of the governor after the admission of the state into the union, upon a day to be named in said proclamation, and which shall not be more than fifteen nor less than ten days after the admission of the state into the union.

§ 7. No senator or representative shall, during the term for which he shall have been elected, be appointed to any civil office under the state; and no member of congress, or other person holding an office (except notary public, or in the militia) under the United States or this state, shall be a member of either house during his continuance in office.

§ 8. No member of either house, shall, during the term for which he shall have been elected, receive any increase of salary or mileage under any law passed during such term.

See note to section 5 of this article. express restriction upon the powers of Lloyd v. Silver Bow County, 11 Mont. the legislative assembly.

§ 9. The senate shall, at the beginning and close of each regular session, and at such other times as may be necessary, elect one of its members president, pro tempore. The house of representatives shall elect one of its members speaker. Each house shall choose its other officers, and shall judge of the elections, returns, and qualifications of its members.

State v. Kenney, 9 Mont. 232; 23 Pac. 736. The power to try the ultimate right of a person claiming to be a member of the legislative assembly is in the house where he claims a seat.

§ 10. A majority of each house shall constitute a quorum to do business, but a smaller number may adjourn from day to day, and compel the attendance of absent members in such manner and under such penalties as each house may prescribe.

§ 11. Each house shall have power to determine the rules of its proceedings, and punish its members or other persons for contempt or disorderly behavior in its presence; to protect its members against violence or offers of bribe or private solicitation, and with the concurrence of two-thirds, to expel a member, and shall have all other powers necessary for the legislative assembly of a free state.

A member expelled for corruption shall not thereafter be eligible to either house of the legislative assembly; and punishment for contempt or disorderly behavior shall not bar a criminal prosecution for the same offense.

§ 12. Each house shall keep a journal of its proceedings and may, in its discretion, from time to time, publish the same, except such parts as require secrecy, and the ayes and noes on any question, shall, at the request of any two members, be entered on the journal.

§ 13. The sessions of each house and of the committees of the whole shall be open unless the business is such as requires secrecy.

§ 14. Neither house shall, without the consent of the other, adjourn for more than three days, nor to any other place than that in which the two houses shall be sitting.

§ 15. The members of the legislative assembly, shall, in all cases, except treason, felony, violation of their oath of office and breach of the peace, be privileged from arrest during their attendance at the sessions of their respective houses, and in going to and returning from the same; and for any speech or debate in either house they shall not be questioned in any other place.

State v. Kenney, 9 Mont. 232; 23 See note to section 5 of this article. Pac. 736.

§ 16. The sole power of impeachment shall vest in the house of representatives; the concurrence of a majority of all the members being necessary to the exercise thereof. Impeachment shall be tried by the senate sitting for that purpose and the senators shall be upon oath or affirmation to do justice according to law and evidence. When the governor or lieutenant-governor is on trial the chief justice of the supreme court shall preside. No person shall be convicted without a concurrence of two-thirds of the senators elected.

§ 17. The governor, and other state and judicial officers, except justices of the peace, shall be liable to impeachment for high crimes and misdemeanors, or malfeasance in office, but judgment in such cases shall only extend to removal from office and disqualification to hold any office of honor, trust or profit under the laws of the state. The party whether convicted or acquitted shall, nevertheless, be liable to prosecution, trial, judgment and punishment according to law.

§ 18. All officers not liable to impeachment shall be subject to removal for misconduct or malfeasance in office, in such manner as may be provided by law.

State v. Acton, 31 Mont. 42; 77 Pac. 301.

§ 19. No law shall be passed except by bill, and no bill shall be so altered or amended on its passage through either house as to change its original purpose.

§ 20. The enacting clause of every law shall be as follows: "Be it enacted by the Legislative Assembly, of the State of Montana."

§ 21. No bill for the appropriation of money, except for the expenses of the government, shall be introduced within ten days of the close of the session, except by unanimous consent of the house in which it is sought to be introduced.

§ 22. No bill shall be considered or become a law unless referred to a committee, returned therefrom and printed for the use of the members.

§ 23. No bill, except general appropriation bills, and bills for the codification and general revision of the laws, shall be passed containing more than one subject which shall be clearly expressed in its title; but if any subject shall be embraced in any act which shall not be expressed in the title, such act shall be void only as to so much thereof as shall not be so expressed.

Hotchkiss v. Marion, 12 Mont. 225; 29 Pac. 823. The Act of March 4, 1891, entitled, "An Act to amend Sections 790, 795, 796 and 808 of the fifth division of the Compiled Statutes of Montana," relates to one general subject and is not obnoxious to this section, prohibiting the passage of a law containing more than one subject, which shall be expressed in its title.

State v. Mitchell, 17 Mont. 75; 42 Pac. 102. Chapter IX of the proposed Penal Code of 1895, entitled "Gaming," and prohibiting the same, was stricken out and the legislature re-enacted prior laws authorizing certain gambling games in lieu thereof, which were annexed to Chapter VIII of the Penal Code, entitled "Lotteries," as sections 357-369a; the Act of February 28, 1895, entitled "An Act to amend Chapter IX of the Penal Code of the State of Montana," contained provisions striking out said sections 357-369a and substituted a section prohibiting all gambling. The act of February 28, 1895, is in conflict with this section. There was no chapter IX of the Penal Code concerning gambling to be amended and there were other chapters, numbered IX in said code pertaining to different subjects; and there was nothing in the title of this act to indicate to which one, if any, of the three chapters it was an amendment.

State v. Bernheim, 19 Mont. 518; 49 Pac. 443. The act entitled "An act to regulate the sale and redemption of transportation tickets of common carriers" provides for the appointment of agents to sell tickets and the issuance of a license, and prescribes penalties for the violation of parts of the act. The penalties need not be included in the title and the subject of the act is clearly expressed.

Snook v. Clark, 20 Mont. 233; 50 Pac. 719. The act, approved March 2, 1891, entitled "An Act requiring railroad companies to pay for damages to stock" provides that railroad companies must fence their track or respond in damages. The title does not refer to fences or penalties. The title complies with this section.

State v. Page, 20 Mont. 242; 50 Pac. 721. An act approved March 4, 1897, was entitled "An Act repealing Sections 470 and 472, Article IX, Chapter III, Title I, Part III, of the Political Code, relating to the appointment of the State Land Agent and his annual salary." These sections were amended and not repealed. The misuse of the word "repealing" in the title does not overthrow the act as the other words of the title point out the sections, chapter, title, code and subject to be affected by the provisions of the Act.

State v. Long, 21 Mont. 29; 52 Pac. 646. The title of an act is, "An act to amend sections 1770 and 1782, inclusive, * * * of the Political Code. * * *" The omission to specifically enumerate the sections between sections 1770 and 1782, covered by the word "inclusive," is not fatal. The title fairly apprised one of the subject of the legislation and that the entire number of sections of the Code from 1770 to 1782, inclusive, were to be amended.

Home B. A. v. Nolan, 21 Mont. 214; 53 Pac. 741. The Act of March 4, 1897, entitled, "An Act to provide for the organization * * * of building and loan associations * * *" is a general revision of the laws relating to one subject embraced therein and provides that corporations then existing should not be affected by the law unless they elected to come within its provisions. The omission in the title of this proviso did not nullify the act.

Dowty v. Pittwood, 23 Mont. 117; 57

Pac. 728. The title of the act of March 7, 1895, entitled "An act to amend sections 364 and 365 of the Fifth Division of the Compiled Statutes of Montana and the amendments thereto, approved September 14, 1887," relating to the qualifications of mayors and aldermen and declaring the same, does not conflict with this section.

State v. Anaconda M. Co., 23 Mont. 500; 59 Pac. 855. It is not necessary that a title shall embody the exact limitations or qualifications in the bill, germane to the intent of the legislature, if the general subject of the measure is clearly expressed in the title. The Act of March 1, 1897, entitled "An Act to amend Section 705 of Title X of the Penal Code of the State of Montana, to have the cages in all mines cased in," makes it unlawful for any corporation to sink or work through any vertical shaft where mining cages are used to a greater depth than 300 feet, unless such shaft shall be provided with an iron-bonneted safety cage. The subject matter of the act is sufficiently expressed in the title.

State v. Courtney, 27 Mont. 384; 71 Pac. 309. The act, approved March 6, 1897, entitled "An Act to amend Sections 4063, 4064, 4065, 4068 and 4083 of the Political Code of Montana, and to add to Article II, Chapter XII, Title X, Part III, of the Political Code, a section to be numbered 4084 regarding licenses," contains provisions relating to licenses of wholesale and retail liquor dealers. The subject of the act is clearly expressed in its title. If any subject is embraced in an act, which is not expressed in its title, such act is void only as to so much as is not so expressed; and this section should receive a liberal construction.

Western Ranches v. Custer Co., 28 Mont. 284; 72 Pac. 661. The title of the act approved March 18, 1895, entitled "An Act providing for unlawful levy and collection of public revenue" comes within the purview of this section.

State v. Brown, 29 Mont. 179; 74 Pac. 366. Chapter LVIII of the Laws of 1903, approved March 4, 1903, amending the game laws is in conflict with this section. The subject thereof is not clearly expressed in the title and the intent of the legislature cannot be inferred therefrom.

State v. McKinney, 29 Mont. 380; 74 Pac. 1096. The purpose of this section is to advise members of the legislature of the character of proposed legislation, and prevent the enactment of laws surreptitiously. The title is generally sufficient if the body of the act treats only, directly or indirectly, of the subjects mentioned in the title, and of other subjects germane thereto, but details need not be mentioned. The act approved March 7, 1903, entitled "An act to create the office of meat and milk inspector for the State of Montana, and prescribing his powers and duties and compensation," imposes a license fee on persons selling milk and authorizes the collection thereof by the inspector. The subject of the act is clearly expressed in its title.

Yegen v. Commissioners, 34 Mont. 83;

85 Pac. 741. Sections 11, 25 and 26 of the act approved March 15, 1901, entitled "An act creating a state board of health, defining its powers and duties and providing for the compensation of its officers, and providing for the enforcement of the rules and regulations of said board," are unconstitutional. The body of the act confers upon county boards of health power to declare quarantine against contagious diseases, and confine persons affected with such diseases in detention hospitals, and erect hospitals, and these subjects are not clearly expressed in the title.

In re Terrett, 34 Mont. 331; 86 Pac. 267. A penalty clause may be incorporated in an act without being designated in the title.

§ 24. No bill shall become a law except by a vote of a majority of all the members present in each house, nor unless on its final passage the vote be taken by ayes and noes, and the names of those voting be entered on the journal.

Palatine Co. v. N. P. R. Co., 34 Mont. 278; 85 Pac. 1033. An act relating to the limitation of time within which actions may be brought was approved March 11, 1901. It appeared from the journal that there is not any record of "the names of those voting" in the Senate on the bill. The bill did not become a law.

§ 25. No law shall be revised or amended, or the provisions thereof extended by reference to its title only, but so much thereof as is revised, amended or extended shall be re-enacted and published at length.

State v. Mitchell, 17 Mont. 75; 42 Pac. 102.

Dowty v. Pittwood, 23 Mont. 117; 57 Pac. 728.

King v. Elling, 24 Mont. 478; 62 Pac. 786. This section does not apply to an act which does not purport to be an amendment to or a revision of a prior act. Many statutes were amended by merely striking out or adding words or phrases, the amendatory statute giving no intimation of the language of the statute so amended. To obviate the confusion consequent upon that mode of amendment, this section requires that the statute as amended shall be re-enacted and published at length.

Palatine I. Co. v. N. P. R. Co., 34 Mont. 275; 85 Pac. 1033. The laws of the third legislative assembly, 1893, are not amendments to the code, but the laws of the land at the time of the passage of the codes, and continued in force. This section providing that no bill shall be amended by title only does not apply to the act approved March 9, 1893, relating to the limitation of time within which actions may be brought.

§ 26. The legislative assembly shall not pass local or special laws in any of the following enumerated cases, that is to say: For granting divorces; laying out, opening, altering or working roads or highways; vacating roads, town plats, streets, alleys or public grounds; locating or changing county seats; regulating county or township affairs; regulating the practice in courts of justice; regulating the jurisdiction and duties of justices of the peace, police magistrates or constables; changing the rules of evidence in any trial or inquiry; providing for changes of venue in civil or criminal cases; declaring any person of age; for limitation of civil actions, or giving effect to informal or invalid deeds; summoning or impaneling grand or petit juries; providing for the management of common schools; regulating the rate of interest on money; the opening or conducting of any election or designating the place of voting; the sale or mortgage of real estate belonging to minors or others under disability; chartering or licensing ferries or bridges or toll roads; chartering banks, insurance companies and loan and trust companies; remitting fines, penalties or forfeitures; creating, increasing or decreasing fees, per centages or allowances of public officers; changing the law of descent; granting to any corporation, association or individual the right to lay down railroad tracks, or any special or exclusive privilege, immunity or franchise whatever; for the punishment of crimes; changing the names of persons or places; for the assessment or collection of taxes; affecting estates of deceased persons, minors or others under legal disabilities; extending the time for the collection of taxes; refunding money paid into the state treasury; relinquishing or extinguishing in whole or in part the indebtedness, liability or obligation of any corporation or person to this state, or to any municipal corporation therein; exempting property from taxation; restoring to citizenship persons convicted of infamous crimes; authorizing the creation, extension or impairing of liens; creating offices, or prescribing the powers or duties of officers in counties, cities, township or school districts; or authorizing the adoption or legitimation of children. In all other cases where a general law can be made applicable, no special law shall be enacted.

Lloyd v. Silver Bow County, 11 Mont. 412; 28 Pac. 454. This section is an express restriction upon the powers of the legislative assembly.

Hotchkiss v. Marion, 12 Mont. 224; 29 Pac. 823. The proviso to Section 794, fifth division of the Compiled Statutes, enacted by the legislative assembly of the territory, which excepts the county of Missoula from the provisions of the law fixing the rate of interest on county warrants, is in conflict with this section of the constitution prohibiting local or special laws "regulating county * * * affairs," and "the rate of interest on money."

Holliday v. Sweet Grass County, 19 Mont. 364; 48 Pac. 553. The act of the legislature creating the county of Sweet Grass took effect March 5, 1895. The new county was formed of territory previously included in three counties. The creation of a new county by a special act is not forbidden by this section, providing that "The legislative assembly shall not pass local or special laws * * * regulating county * * * affairs."

State v. Long, 21 Mont. 30; 52 Pac. 646. The act approved March 6, 1897, divides school districts into classes according to population and provides a system for the election of trustees. A particular method of supervision of an election, common to all districts of a certain class, does not make the act defining such supervision a special law.

Home B. & L. A. v. Nolan, 21 Mont. 215; 53 Pac. 742. A proviso that an act, approved March 4, 1897, shall not affect any building and loan association heretofore organized under the laws of Montana, unless such association elects to come under its provisions, operates alike on all corporations and is valid. The proviso is neither local nor special and does not purport to charter an association.

State v. Coad, 23 Mont. 139; 57 Pac. 1095.

King v. Elling, 24 Mont. 475; 62 Pac. 785. The act authorizing any corporation, incorporated in the state for guarantying or becoming a surety on bonds to become a sole surety, without an affidavit showing qualifications, is not a special law regulating the practice in courts of justice, or granting to a corporation a special or exclusive privilege.

Sackett v. Thomas, 25 Mont. 235; 64 Pac. 504. The word "persons" in this section embraces all persons, whether natural or artificial. An act approved March 8, 1901, changed the name of the existing county of Deer Lodge to that of the county of Daly. This act was a local or special law "changing the name of * * * places," and was void.

In re O'Brien, 29 Mont. 537; 75 Pac. 197. The local option liquor law in the Political Code authorizes each county to hold elections to determine whether the sale of intoxicating liquors shall be licensed or prohibited therein. This law is not in conflict with this section prohibiting local or special legislation.

§ 27. The presiding officer of each house shall, in the presence of the house over which he presides, sign all the bills and joint resolutions passed by the legislative assembly immediately after their titles have been publicly read, and the fact of signing shall be at once entered upon the journal.

State v. Long, 21 Mont. 34; 52 Pac. 648. The enrolled bill approved March 6, 1897, bears the signatures of the presiding officer of each house, but the journal omitted to show this fact. The presumption is that the bill was regularly passed.

§ 28. The legislative assembly shall prescribe by law, the number, duties and compensation of the officers and employes of each house; and no payment shall be made from the state treasury, or be in any way authorized to any such person, except to an acting officer or employe elected or appointed in pursuance of law.

§ 29. No bill shall be passed giving any extra compensation to any public officer, servant or employe, agent or contractor, after services shall have been rendered or contract made, nor providing for the payment of any claim made against the state without previous authority of law, except as may be otherwise provided herein.

Lloyd v. Silver Bow Co., 11 Mont. 412; 28 Pac. 454. This section is an express restriction upon the powers of the legislative assembly.

§ 30. All stationery, printing, paper, fuel and lights used in the legislative and other departments of government, shall be furnished, and the printing, and binding and distribution of the laws, journals, and department reports and other printing and binding, and the repairing and furnishing the halls and rooms used for the meeting of the legislative assembly, and its committees shall be performed under contract, to be given to the lowest responsible bidder below such maximum price and under such regulations as may be prescribed by law. No member or officer of any department of the government shall be in any way interested in any such contract; and all such contracts shall be subject to the approval of the governor and state treasurer.

State v. Rickards, 16 Mont. 145; 40 Pac. 210. The state furnishing board let a contract to the Inter Mountain Publishing Company for printing the codes. The business manager of the Company, who received a fixed salary for his services and had no interest in the profits, was a member of the legislature when the law authorizing this contract was passed. This section providing that no member of any department of the government shall be interested in such contract was not violated.

State v. Hogan, 22 Mont. 389; 56 Pac. 819. There cannot be a valid contract for state printing specified in this section without the approval of the governor and state treasurer.

State v. Smith, 23 Mont. 48; 57 Pac. 450. The duty of the governor and state treasurer to approve a contract for state printing let by the board of examiners involves judicial discretion and cannot be controlled by mandamus.

State v. Toole, 26 Mont. 29; 66 Pac. 499. Advertisements for proposals to furnish supplies are not public printing within the language or spirit of this section.

§ 31. Except as otherwise provided in this constitution, no law shall extend the term of any public officer, or increase or diminish his salary or emolument after his election or appointment: Provided, That this shall not be construed to forbid the legislative assembly from fixing the salaries or emoluments of those officers first elected or appointed under this constitution, where such salaries or emoluments are not fixed by this constitution.

State v. Hickman, 9 Mont. 374; 23 Pac. 741.

In re Dewar's Estate, 10 Mont. 442; 25 Pac. 1027.

Lloyd v. Silver Bow County, 11 Mont. 411; 28 Pac. 453. The legislature had the power to diminish the salary or emoluments of a sheriff elected in October, 1889, and statutes enacted in 1891, reducing his compensation for the board of prisoners and mileage are valid.

Clark v. Silver Bow County, 17 Mont. 81; 42 Pac. 103.

State v. Long, 21 Mont. 33; 52 Pac. 647. If a section of the act, approved March 6, 1897, attempts to increase the salary of school trustees, elected prior to 1897, and who hold over, no other parts of the law can be held invalid.

State v. Granite County, 23 Mont. 252; 58 Pac. 439. The legislative assembly is not prohibited by this section from adding duties to the office of county surveyor and providing compensation therefor, and thereafter taking away such duties and emoluments from a surveyor elected subsequently and before the last act was passed. The emoluments of a county surveyor, paid by fees or a per diem compensation, are not diminished by a statute, taking effect after his election, which relieves him of the obligation to perform certain duties and destroys the compensation therefor.

§ 32. All bills for raising revenue shall originate in the house of representatives; but the senate may propose amendments, as in the case of other bills.

State v. Bernheim, 19 Mont. 514; 49 Pac. 442. The act regulating the sale and redemption of transportation tickets of common carriers, passed in 1893, and requiring every agent to pay to the secretary of state a license fee of one dollar, is in the nature of a Scharrenbroich v. Lewis & Clark Co., 33 Mont. 256; 83 Pac. 483. A sheriff, elected in November, 1904, was allowed mileage for the transportation of persons to the state prison, reform school and insane asylum. An act, approved March 3, 1905, allowed sheriffs for such transportation actual traveling expenses. This section is not violated and applies to a sheriff elected prior to its passage.

State v. Board, 34 Mont. 430; 87 Pac. 451. The term "law," in this section does not refer to amendments to the constitution, but relates to laws enacted by the legislative assembly.

police regulation and is not for revenue purposes. The bill originated in the senate and does not violate this section, providing that all bills for raising revenue shall originate in the house of representatives.

§ 33. The general appropriation bills shall embrace nothing but appropriations for the ordinary expenses of the legislative, executive and judicial departments of the state, interest on the public debt and for public schools. All other appropriations shall be made by separate bills, each embracing but one subject.

State v. Hickman, 11 Mont. 546; 29 Pac. 94. The term "public debt" in this section includes warrants as well as bonds.

§ 34. No money shall be paid out of the treasury except upon appropriations made by law, and on warrant drawn by the proper officer in pursuance thereof, except interest on the public debt.

State v. Hickman, 9 Montana 374; 23 Pac. 741. The constitution provides that the salary of the secretary of state shall be fixed at three thousand dollars per annum. The state treasurer refused to pay a warrant drawn on him by the state auditor in favor of the secretary of state for his quarterly salary on the ground that no appropriation had been made by law for the payment thereof. The provision of the constitution that the secretary of state shall receive said salary is an appropriation made by law and no act of the legislative assembly is necessary.

State v. Kenney, 9 Mont. 394; 24 Pac. 97.

State v. Hickman, 11 Mont. 546; 29

Pac. 94. Interest is payable upon a state warrant without an express appropriation by the legislative assembly for that purpose.

State v. Wright, 17 Mont. 571; 44 Pac. 92. This section does not prohibit the state treasurer from registering a warrant drawn for the per diem of a commissioner on a trust fund, over which the state exercises only such control as is consistent with the act of Congress of August 18, 1894, prescribing the conditions under which the United States issued a patent to the state of certain desert lands.

State v. Barret, 30 Mont. 205; 81 Pac. 351.

§ 35. No appropriation shall be made for charitable, industrial, educational or benevolent purposes to any person, corporation or community not under the absolute control of the state, nor to any denominational or sectarian institution or association.

§ 36. The legislative assembly shall not delegate to any special commission, private corporation or association, any power to make, supervise or interfere with any municipal improvement, money, property or effects, whether held in trust or otherwise, or to levy taxes, or to perform any municipal functions whatever.

§ 37. No act of the legislative assembly shall authorize the investment of trust funds by executors, administrators, guardians or trustees in the bonds or stock of any private corporation.

§ 38. The legislative assembly shall have no power to pass any law authorizing the state, or any county in the state, to contract any debt or obligation in the construction of any railroad, nor give or loan its credit to or in aid of the construction of the same.

§ 39. No obligation or liability of any person, association or corporation, held or owned by the state, or any municipal corporation therein, shall ever be exchanged, transferred, remitted, released or postponed, or in any way diminished by the legislative assembly; nor shall such liability or obligation be extinguished, except by the payment thereof into the proper treasury.

Board v. Story, 26 Mont. 520; 69 Pac.
58. A demand for taxes is a liability created by statute; and the statute of limitations operates against an action to recover taxes by the state, or for the use and benefit of the state, and is not in conflict with this section.

§ 40. Every order, resolution or vote, in which the concurrence of both houses may be necessary, except on the question of adjournment, or relating solely to the transaction of the business of the two houses, shall be presented to the governor, and before it shall take effect be approved by him, or, being disapproved, be repassed by two-thirds of both houses, as prescribed in the case of a bill.

§ 41. If any person elected to either house of the legislative assembly shall offer or promise to give his vote or influence in favor of or against any measure or proposition, pending or proposed to be introduced into the legislative assembly, in consideration or upon condition that any other person elected to the same legislative assembly will give, or will promise or assent to give, his vote or influence, in favor of or against any other measure or proposition pending or proposed to be introduced into such legislative assembly, the person making such offer or promise shall be deemed guilty of solicitation of bribery. If any member of the legislative assembly shall give his vote or influence for or against any measure or proposition pending or proposed to be introduced in such legislative assembly, or offer, promise or assent so to do, upon condition that any other member will give, or will promise or assent to give his vote or influence in favor of or against any other measure or proposition pending or proposed to be introduced in such legislative assembly, or in consideration that any other member hath given his vote or influence for or against any other measure or proposition in such legislative assembly, he shall be deemed guilty of bribery; and any member of the legislative assembly, or person elected thereto, who shall be guilty of either such offenses, shall be expelled and shall not thereafter be eligible to the legislative assembly, and on the conviction thereof in the civil courts, shall be liable to such further penalty as may be prescribed by law.

§ 42. Any person who shall directly or indirectly offer, give or promise any money or thing of value, testimonial, privilege or personal advantage, to any executive or judicial officer or member of the legislative assembly, to influence him in the performance of any of his official or public duties, shall be deemed guilty of bribery, and be punished in such manner as shall be provided by law.

§ 43. The offense of corrupt solicitation of members of the legislative assembly, or of public officers of the state, or of any municipal division thereof, and the occupation or practice of solicitation of such members or officers, to influence their official action, shall be defined by law, and shall be punishable by fine and imprisonment.

§ 44. A member who has a personal or private interest in any measure or bill proposed or pending before the legislative assembly, shall disclose the fact to the house of which he is a member, and shall not vote thereon.

§ 45. When vacancies occur in either house the governor or the person exercising the functions of the governor shall issue writs of election to fill the same.

ARTICLE VI.

APPORTIONMENT AND REPRESENTATION.

§ 1. One representative in the congress of the United States shall be elected from the state at large, the first Tuesday in October, 1889, and thereafter at such times and places, and in such manner as may be prescribed by law. When a new apportionment shall be made by congress the legislative assembly shall divide the state into congressional districts accordingly.

§ 2. The legislative assembly shall provide by law for an enumeration of the inhabitants of the state in the year 1895, and every tenth year thereafter; and at the session next following such enumeration, and also at the session next following an enumeration made by the authority of the United States, shall revise and adjust the apportionment for representatives on the basis of such enumeration according to ratios to be fixed by law.

§ 3. Representative districts may be altered from time to time as public convenience may require. When a representative district shall be composed of two or more counties, they shall be contiguous, and the districts as compact as may be. No county shall be divided in the formation of representative districts.

§ 4. Whenever new counties are created, each of said counties shall be entitled to one senator, but in no case shall a senatorial district consist of more than one county.

Sackett v. Thomas, 25 Mont. 240; 64 Pac. 506.

§ 5. The senatorial districts of the state shall be constituted and numbered as follows:

The county of Beaverhead shall constitute the First district, and be entitled to one senator.

The county of Madison shall constitute the Second district, and be entitled to one senator.

The county of Gallatin shall constitute the Third district, and be entitled to one senator.

The county of Jefferson shall constitute the Fourth district, and be entitled to one senator.

The county of Deer Lodge shall constitute the Fifth district, district, and be entitled to one senator.

The county of Missoula shall constitute the Sixth district, and be entitled to one senator.

The county of Lewis and Clarke shall constitute the Seventh district, and be entitled to one senator.

The county of Choteau shall constitute the Eighth district, and be entitled to one senator.

The county of Meagher shall constitute the Ninth district, and be entitled to one senator.

The county of Silver Bow shall constitute the Tenth district, and be entitled to one senator.

The county of Custer shall constitute the Eleventh district, and be entitled to one senator.

The county of Yellowstone shall constitute the Twelfth district, and be entitled to one senator.

The county of Dawson shall constitute the Thirteenth district, and be entitled to one senator.

The county of Fergus shall constitute the Fourteenth district, and be entitled to one senator.

The county of Park shall constitute the Fifteenth district, and be entitled to one senator.

The county of Cascade shall constitute the Sixteenth district, and be entitled to one senator.

§ 6. Until an apportionment of representatives be made in accordance with the provisions of this article, they shall be divided among the several counties of the state in the following manner:

The county of Beaverhead shall have two (2).

The county of Madison shall have two (2).

The county of Gallatin shall have two (2).

The county of Jefferson shall have three (3).

The county of Deer Lodge shall have seven (7).

The county of Missoula shall have five (5).
 The county of Lewis and Clarke shall have eight (8).
 The county of Choteau shall have two (2).
 The county of Meagher shall have two (2).
 The county of Silver Bow shall have ten (10).
 The county of Custer shall have two (2).
 The county of Yellowstone shall have one (1).
 The county of Fergus shall have two (2).
 The county of Park shall have two (2).
 The county of Cascade shall have two (2).
 The counties of Dawson and Cascade shall have one (1) jointly.
 The counties of Deer Lodge and Beaverhead shall have one (1) jointly.
 The counties of Jefferson and Gallatin shall have one (1) jointly.

EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT.

§ 1. The executive department shall consist of a governor, lieutenant governor, secretary of state, attorney general, state treasurer, state auditor and superintendent of public instruction, each of whom shall hold his office for four years, or until his successor is elected and qualified, beginning on the first Monday of January next succeeding his election, except that the terms of office of those who are elected at the first election, shall begin when the state shall be admitted into the union, and shall end on the first Monday of January A. D. 1893. The officers of the executive department, excepting the lieutenant governor, shall during their terms of office reside at the seat of government, where they shall keep the public records, books and papers. They shall perform such duties as are prescribed in this constitution and by the laws of the state. The state treasurer shall not be eligible to his office for the succeeding term.

State v. Hickman, 9 Mont. 374; 23 Pac. 741.

State v. Court, 22 Mont. 27; 55 Pac. 916. The attorney general is required by this section to perform such duties as are prescribed in the constitution and laws of the state.

State v. Acton, 31 Mont. 42; 77 Pac. 301.

§ 2. The officers provided for in section 1 of this article, shall be elected by the qualified electors of the state at the time and place of voting for members of the legislative assembly, and the persons respectively, having the highest number of votes for the office voted for shall be elected; but if two or more shall have an equal and the highest number of votes for any one of said offices, the two houses of the legislative assembly, at its next regular session, shall forthwith by joint ballot, elect one of such persons for said office. The returns of election for the officers named in section 1 shall be made in such manner as may be prescribed by law, and all contested elections of the same, other than provided for in this section, shall be determined as may be prescribed by law.

State v. Acton, 31 Mont. 42; 77 Pac. 301.

§ 3. No person shall be eligible to the office of governor, lieutenant governor, or superintendent of public instruction, unless he shall have attained the age of thirty years at the time of his election, nor to the office of secretary of state, state auditor, or state treasurer, unless he shall have attained the age of twenty-five years, nor to the office of attorney general unless he shall have attained the age of thirty years, and have been admitted to practice in the supreme court of the state, or territory of Montana, and be in good standing at the time of his election. In addition to the qualifications above prescribed, each of the officers named shall be a citizen of the United States, and have resided within the state or territory two years next preceding his election.

§ 4. Until otherwise provided by law, the governor, secretary of state, state auditor, treasurer, attorney general and superintendent of public instruction, shall quarterly, as due, during their continuance in office, receive for their services compensation, which is fixed as follows:

Governor, five thousand dollars per annum;

Secretary of state, three thousand dollars per annum;

Attorney general, three thousand dollars per annum;

State treasurer, three thousand dollars per annum;

State auditor, three thousand dollars per annum;

Superintendent of public instruction, two thousand five hundred dollars per annum.

The lieutenant-governor shall receive the same per diem as may be prescribed by law for the speaker of the legislative assembly, to be allowed only during the sessions of the legislative assembly.

The compensation enumerated shall be in full for all services by said officers respectively rendered in any official capacity or employment whatever during their respective terms of office, and the salary of no official shall be increased during his term of office. No officer named in this section shall receive, for the performance of any official duty, any fee for his own use, but all fees fixed by law for the performance by any officer of any official duty, shall be collected in advance, and deposited with the state treasurer quarterly to the credit of the state. No officer mentioned in this section shall be eligible to, or hold any other public office, except member of the state board of education during his term of office.

State v. Hickman, 9 Mont. 373; 23 Pac. 741.

Lloyd v. Silver Bow County, 11 Mont. 413, 415; 28 Pac. 454.

§ 5. The supreme executive power of the state shall be vested in the governor, who shall see that the laws are faithfully executed.

The governor shall be commander-in-chief of the militia forces of the state, except when these forces are in the actual service of the United States, and shall have power to call out any part or the whole of said forces to aid in the execution of the laws, to suppress insurrection or to repel invasion.

§ 7. The governor shall nominate, and by and with the consent of the senate, appoint all officers whose offices are established by this constitution, or which may be created by law, and whose appointment or election is not otherwise provided for. If during a recess of the senate a vacancy occur in any such office, the governor shall appoint some fit person to discharge the duties thereof until the next meeting of the senate, when he shall nominate some person to fill such office. If the office of secretary of state, state auditor, state treasurer, attorney general or superintendent of public instruction shall be vacated by death, resignation or otherwise, it shall be the duty of the governor to fill the same by appointment, and the appointee shall hold his office until his successor shall be elected and qualified.

In re Terrett, 34 Mont. 333; 86 Pac. 268. The power to appoint or delegate the appointing power is reserved to the people, acting through the legislature, in every instance, excepting those enumerated in the constitution. Bounty inspectors are not officers, whose appointment is "otherwise provided for" in this section, and the legislature had the power by the act of March 6, 1903, to delegate the selection of three stockgrowers in each county to appoint bounty inspectors to the district judges.

§ 8. The legislative assembly shall provide for a state examiner, who shall be appointed by the governor and confirmed by the senate. His duty shall be to examine the accounts of state treasurer, supreme court clerks, district court clerks and all county treasurers and treasurers of such other public institutions as may be prescribed by law, and he shall perform such other duties as the legislative assembly may prescribe. He shall report at least once a year and oftener if required to such officers as may be designated by the legislative assembly. His compensation shall be fixed by law.

Lloyd v. Silver Bow County, 11 Mont. 415; 28 Pac. 455.

§ 9. The governor shall have the power to grant pardons, absolute or conditional, and to remit fines and forfeitures, and to grant commutation of punishments and respites after conviction and judgment for any offenses committed against the criminal laws of this state: Provided, however, That before granting pardons, remitting fines and forfeitures, or commuting punishments, the action of the governor concerning the same shall be approved by a board, or a majority thereof, composed of the secretary of state, attorney general and state auditor, who shall be known as the board of pardons. The legislative assembly shall by law prescribe the sessions of said board, and regulate the proceedings thereof. But no fine or forfeitures shall be remitted, and no commutation or pardon granted, except upon the approval of a majority of said board after a full hearing in open session and until notice of the time and place of such hearing, and of the relief sought shall, have been given by publication in some newspaper of general circulation in the county where the crime was committed, at least once a week for two weeks. The proceedings and decisions of the board shall be reduced to writing, and with their reasons for their action in each case, and the dissent of any member who may disagree, signed by them and filed, with all papers used upon the hearing, in the office of the secretary of state. The governor shall communicate to the legislative assembly, at each regular session, each case of remission of fine or forfeiture, reprieve, commutation or pardon granted since the last previous report, stating the name of the convict, the crime of which he was convicted, the sentence and its date, and the date of remission, commutation, pardon or reprieve, with the reasons for granting the same and the objections, if any, of any member of the board made thereto.

§ 10. The governor may require information in writing from the officers of the executive department upon any subject relating to the duties of their respective offices, which information shall be given upon oath whenever so required; he may also require information in writing, at any time, under oath, from all officers and managers of state institutions, upon any subject relating to the condition, management and expenses of their respective offices and institutions, and may, at any time he deems it necessary, appoint a committee to investigate and report to him upon the condition of any executive office or state institution. The governor shall at the beginning of each session, and from time to time, by message, give to the legislative assembly information of the condition of the state, and shall recommend such measures as he shall deem expedient. He shall also send to the legislative assembly a statement with vouchers of the expenditures of all moneys belonging to the state and paid out by him. He shall also at the beginning of each session present estimates of the amount of money required to be raised by taxation for all purposes of the state.

State v. Clancy, 30 Mont. 535; 77 Pac. 315. The utmost extent of the authority of the governor, so far as constructive legislative work is concerned, is to recommend such measures as he shall deem expedient.

§ 11. He may on extraordinary occasions convene the legislative assembly by proclamation, stating the purposes for which it is convened, but when so convened, it shall have no power to legislate on any subjects other than those specified in the proclamation, or which may be recommended by the governor, but may provide for the expenses of the session and other matters incidental thereto. He may also by proclamation convene the senate in extraordinary session for the transaction of executive business.

State v. Judges, 30 Mont. 201; 76 Pac. 13. The proclamation of the governor, convening the eighth legislative assembly in a second extraordinary session, was to accomplish general legislation, whereby bias and prejudice of district judges shall constitute a disqualification of such judges, and making suitable provision for the trial of cases in such event. No recommendations were made by the governor differing in any degree from the matters embraced in the proclamation, and the legislation was in accordance therewith.

State v. Clancy, 30 Mont. 534; 77 Pac. 315. The power of the legislature convened in extraordinary session is limited to the enactment of laws affecting those subjects only that are enumerated in the proclamation of the governor, or his message. The court must examine the proclamation to determine whether the legislation passed at such extraordinary session is germane to the subjects specified therein. The legislation referred to in the case of State v. Judges, supra, was germane to said proclamation as required by this section.

§ 12. Every bill passed by the legislative assembly shall, before it becomes a law, be presented to the governor. If he approve, he shall sign it, and thereupon it shall become a law; but if he do not approve, he shall return it with his objections to the house in which it originated, which house shall enter the objections at large upon its journal and proceed to reconsider the bill. If then two-thirds of the members present agree to pass the same, it shall be sent, together with the objections, to the other house, by which it shall likewise be reconsidered, and if approved by two-thirds of the members present in that house it shall become a law notwithstanding the objections of the governor. In all such cases the vote of each house shall be determined by yeas and nays, to be entered on the journal. If any bill shall not be returned by the governor within five days (Sunday excepted) after it shall have been presented to him, the same shall be a law, in like manner as if he had signed it, unless the legislative assembly shall by their adjournment prevent its return, in which case it shall not become a law without the approval of the governor. No bill shall become a law after the final adjournment of the legislative assembly, unless approved by the governor within fifteen days after such adjournment. In case the governor shall fail to approve of any bill after the final adjournment of the legislative assembly it shall be filed, with his objections, in the office of the secretary of state.

§ 13. The governor shall have power to disapprove of any item or items of any bill making appropriations of money, embracing distinct items, and the part or parts approved shall become a law, and the item or items disapproved shall be void, unless enacted in the manner following: If the legislative assembly be in session he shall within five days transmit to the house in which the bill originated, a copy of the item or items thereof disapproved, together with his objections thereto, and the items objected to shall be separately reconsidered, and each item shall then take the same course as is prescribed for the passage of bills over the executive veto.

§ 14. In case of the failure to qualify, the impeachment or conviction of felony or infamous crime of the governor, or his death, removal from office, resignation, absence from the state, or inability to discharge the powers and duties of his office, the powers, duties and emoluments of the office, for the residue of the term, or until the disability shall cease, shall devolve upon the lieutenant-governor.

§ 15. The lieutenant-governor shall be president of the senate, but shall vote only when the senate is equally divided. In case of the absence or disqualification of the lieutenant-governor, from any cause which applies to the governor, or when he shall hold the office of governor, then the president pro tempore of the senate shall perform the duties of the lieutenant-governor until the vacancy is filled or the disability removed.

§ 16. In case of the failure to qualify in his office, death, resignation, absence from the state, impeachment, conviction of felony or infamous crime, or disqualification from any cause, of both the governor and the lieutenant-governor, the duties of the governor shall devolve upon the president pro tempore of the senate until such disqualification of either the governor or lieutenant-governor be removed, or the vacancy filled, and if the president pro tempore of the senate, for any of the above named causes, shall become incapable of performing the duties of governor, the same shall devolve upon the speaker of the house.

§ 17. The first legislative assembly shall provide a seal for the state, which shall be kept by the secretary of state and used by him officially, and known as the great seal of the state of Montana.

§ 18. All grants and commissions shall be in the name and by the authority of the state of Montana, sealed with the great seal of the state, signed by the governor, and countersigned by the secretary of state.

State v. Page, 20 Mont. 248; 50 Pac. 723. The commission of the state land agent was signed by the governor, but was not countersigned by the secretary of state and sealed with the great seal of the state. The refusal of the secretary of state to do the acts enjoined upon him cannot affect the validity of the appointment, or destroy the efficacy of the acts of the governor.

§ 19. An account shall be kept by the officers of the executive department, and of all public institutions of the state of all moneys received by them, severally from all sources, and for every service performed, and of all moneys disbursed by them severally, and a semi-annual report hereof shall be made to the governor, under oath; they shall also, at least twenty days preceding each regular session of the legislative assembly, make full and complete reports of their official transactions to the governor, who shall transmit the same to the legislative assembly.

§ 20. The governor, secretary of state and attorney general shall constitute a board of state prison commissioners, which board shall have such supervision of all matters connected with the state prisons as may be prescribed by law. They shall constitute a board of examiners, with power to examine all claims against the state, except salaries or compensation of officers fixed by law, and perform such other duties as may be prescribed by law. And no claims against the state except for salaries and compensation of officers fixed by law, shall be passed upon by the legislative assembly without first having been considered and acted upon by said board. The legislative assembly may provide for the temporary suspension of the state treasurer by the governor, when the board of examiners deem such action necessary for the protection of the moneys of the state.

State v. Kenney, 9 Mont. 242; 23 Pac. 740. The compensation of a member of the house of representatives of the first legislative assembly of the state is fixed by the constitution, and is not a claim against the state to be examined by the board of examiners.

State v. Kenney, 10 Mont. 495; 26 Pac. 197.

State v. Hickman, 11 Mont. 553; 29 Pac. 93. When a claim against the state has been approved by the board of examiners and a warrant drawn therefor, the jurisdiction of the board ceases. The obligation of the state to pay interest thereon arises by operation of law and cannot be controlled by the board of examiners.

State v. Cook, 17 Mont. 534; 43 Pac. 929. The compensation of a member of the state capitol commission is fixed by law, and his claim for services and mileage cannot be passed upon by the state board of examiners.

State v. Collins, 21 Mont. 453; 53 Pac. 1116. The act approved March 4, 1897, provides for the issuance of bonds for the erection of state university buildings, and creates a building commission with authority to draw warrants on the state treasurer for sums due any contractor. This is a trust fund established by law in pursuance of an act of congress, which the board of examiners cannot control.

State v. Barret, 26 Mont. 68; 66 Pac. 506. The funds and income derived from the grant by act of congress of certain lands for the state agricultural college are trust funds, disbursed through the agency of the state, and are not subject to the board of examiners.

ARTICLE VIII.

JUDICIAL DEPARTMENTS.

§ 1. The judicial power of the state shall be vested in the senate sitting as a court of impeachment, in a supreme court, district courts, justices of the peace, and such other inferior courts as the legislative assembly may establish in any incorporated city or town.

In re Kane's Estate, 12 Mont. 203; 29 Pac. 425. The act, approved March 6, 1891, conferring on clerks of the district courts the power in vacation to grant letters of guardianship and do other acts in probate matters, does not clothe these officers with authority to hear evidence and adjudicate a person mentally incompetent to care for himself, or manage his property. Such authority involves the exercise of judicial power and is vested in such cases in the judge of the district court.

State v. Judges, 30 Mont. 199; 40 Pac. 13. The district courts of this state are distinct entities, and the transfer of a cause from one district to another amounts to a change of venue.

State v. Justice Court, 31 Mont. 261; 78 Pac. 499. The authority of the justice of the peace and of the justice of the peace court, are identical, so far as judicial matters are concerned, but there is a distinction between a particular district court and the judge of that court.

§ 2. The supreme court, except as otherwise provided in this constitution, shall have appellate jurisdiction only, which shall be co-extensive with the state, and shall have a general supervisory control over all inferior courts, under such regulations and limitations as may be prescribed by law.

State v. District Court, 22 Mont. 240; 56 Pac. 226. The constitution giving the supreme court supervisory control over inferior courts does not authorize the granting of a writ of prohibition, prohibiting a district court from appointing a receiver of a corporation merely to avert probable injury to the applicants for the writ.

Raleigh v. District Court, 24 Mont. 310; 61 Pac. 992.

State v. Hogan, 24 Mont. 381; 62 Pac. 494. Except as otherwise provided in the constitution, the supreme court has appellate jurisdiction only.

State v. District Court, 24 Mont. 556; 63 Pac. 397. The grant of appellate jurisdiction to the supreme court implies all the instrumentalities necessary to make it effective. The provision of this section that the supreme court "shall have a general supervisory control" is a distinct grant of jurisdiction, independent of any other power granted. The supreme court has power, in the absence of legislation, to establish rules for the exercise of its appellate and supervisory jurisdiction. The proper instrument by which the supreme court exercises its power of supervisory control is the "supervisory writ," which must be framed when the case arises.

M. O. P. Co. v. Lindsay, 25 Mont. 28; 63 Pac. 716.

Moore v. District Court, 25 Mont. 32; 63 Pac. 686. A writ of supervisory control will not be granted to command a district court to sustain a motion for judgment on the pleadings.

A. C. M. Co. v. District Court, 25 Mont. 521; 65 Pac. 1026. Defendant sued relators and alleged they were removing ore from his lode mining claim, but the evidence showed the prima facie right was in relators. The district court granted an order for defendant and his employees to enter and inspect the surrounding mines of the relators for forty days for the purpose of obtaining evidence. This order was not appealable, nor subject to control by any of the specified writs within the jurisdiction of the supreme court, and it was a proper case for the supreme court to exercise the power of supervisory control over the inferior court.

Jordan v. Andrus, 26 Mont. 39; 66 Pac. 502. The words "limitations" and "regulations" in this section mean restrictions of power and rules of conduct or proceeding. The legislature has no power to regulate the physical form of the pleadings and instruments to be filed with the supreme court, and the act, approved March 9, 1901, providing that transcripts on appeal may be printed or type written, at the election of appellant, is invalid.

Bordeaux v. Bordeaux, 26 Mont. 535; 69 Pac. 104. The supreme court is without power to allow temporary alimony or suit money pending an appeal in a divorce case. After an appeal is taken, the action is still in the district court. The allowance of temporary alimony or suit money is not within the original jurisdiction of the supreme court and is not necessary to the complete exercise of its appellate jurisdiction.

Finlen v. Heinze, 27 Mont. 112; 69 Pac. 831. The supreme court has inherent power to preserve the subject of litigation and the status of the parties pending an appeal. The power of limitation given the legislature does not extend to the right of appeal from final judgments, or the power of the supreme court on such appeals, but merely to the time when and within which appeals may be taken, to matters of procedure, and the extent of relief to be granted on appeals from interlocutory orders. In the absence of legislation, the supreme court may adopt rules to provide the necessary appellate procedure.

State v. District Court, 27 Mont. 130; 69 Pac. 989. Contempt proceedings are not cases which, in the absence of legislation, may be reviewed on appeal. A writ of supervisory control is the only means by which the supreme court can determine whether there is evidence to support a judgment of contempt.

In re Weston, 28 Mont. 212; 72 Pac. 514. The ordinary appellate power of the supreme court is limited to a review of the decision of the lower court, and a judgment affirming, modifying or reversing such decision, with the strictly ancillary power to issue, hear and determine such original and remedial writs as may be necessary or proper to the complete exercise of this appellate jurisdiction. The power of supervisory control is lodged in the supreme court sitting as an organized judicial body and cannot extend to or affect any other body or individual.

Featherman v. Granite County, 28 Mont. 463; 72 Pac. 972. The supreme court has jurisdiction to entertain appeals or writs of error only when the statutory requirements have been complied with. An appeal from a final judgment will be dismissed if the record does not contain a copy of the judgment roll in the case.

Emerson v. McNair, 28 Mont. 579; 73 Pac. 122. On appeal from an order setting aside a judgment taken against defendants by default, the only method by which the papers used by the court below on the hearing may be certified to the supreme court is by incorporating them in a bill of exceptions.

§ 3. The appellate jurisdiction of the supreme court shall extend to all cases at law and in equity, subject, however, to such limitations and regulations as may be prescribed by law. Said court shall have power in its discretion to issue and to hear and determine writs of habeas corpus, mandamus, quo-warranto, certiorari, prohibition and injunction, and such other original and remedial writs as may be necessary or proper to the complete exercise of its appellate jurisdiction. When a jury is required in the supreme court to determine an issue of fact, said court shall have power to summon such jury in such manner as may be provided by law. Each of the justices of the supreme court shall have power to issue writs of habeas corpus to any part of the state, upon petition by or on behalf of any person held in actual custody, and may make such writs returnable before himself, or the supreme court, or before any district court of the state, or any judge thereof; and such writs may be heard and determined by the justice or court, or judge, before whom they are made returnable. Each of the justices of the supreme court may also issue and hear and determine writs of certiorari in proceedings for contempt in the district court, and such other writs as he may be authorized by law to issue.

See notes to sections 1 and 2 of this article.

Lloyd v. Sullivan, 9 Mont. 587; 24 Pac. 219. The word "cases" in this section includes an appeal from an order refusing a motion for a new trial in an election contest concerning the office of sheriff.

In re MacKnight, 11 Mont. 132; 27 Pac. 337. This section does not restrict the supreme court to a use of the writ of certiorari in the exercise of its appellate jurisdiction only.

State v. Canvassers, 13 Mont. 51; 31 Pac. 890.

In re Finkelstein, 13 Mont. 427; 34 Pac. 848. The scope of the writ of certiorari is not enlarged by this section so as to permit a review by the supreme court of an order of the district court for the payment of alimony where imprisonment for contempt is involved.

State v. Hogan, 24 Mont. 381; 62 Pac. 494. The supreme court has power in its discretion to issue, hear and determine writs of prohibition.

State v. Moran, 24 Mont. 437; 63 Pac. 391. The supreme court in the exercise of its original jurisdiction can issue the writ of injunction, and restrain the clerk of Silver Bow county from printing upon the official ballot a ticket.

State v. District Court, 24 Mont. 556; 63 Pac. 397. This section is a grant of power without limitation or qualification, authorizing the supreme court to issue the writs therein specified, in its discretion; but the supreme court has no authority by virtue of its supervisory control to vacate under a writ of certiorari an order of the district court discharging a prisoner in habeas corpus proceedings.

Jordan v. Andrus, 26 Mont. 39; 66 Pac. 502.

See note to section 2 of this article.

Malonev v. King, 26 Mont. 491; 68 Pac. 1013. The supreme court is not authorized to suspend the operation of, vacate, or set aside a prohibitory injunction order restraining parties from entering or mining in a lode claim, during the pending of an appeal therefrom.

Bordeaux v. Bordeaux, 26 Mont. 535; 69 Pac. 104.

See note to section 2 of this article.

State v. Broadbent, 27 Mont. 64; 69 Pac. 104. No appeal lies from a refusal of a district judge to grant a certificate of probable cause in a criminal case, but a justice of the supreme court can issue such certificate upon such refusal.

Finlen v. Heinze, 27 Mont. 112; 69 Pac. 831. The writ of injunction is a jurisdictional, prerogative writ, correlative with the writ of mandamus. Under this section, the supreme court may enjoin the operation of a mine and require it to be preserved in statu quo pending the appeal; and the trial court has no power to issue an injunction in aid of the appeal. A decree of a trial court, designed to protect the rights of the parties pending an appeal to the supreme court from a final judgment, being void, does not estop the party at whose instance it is entered, from applying to the supreme court for an injunction to preserve the subject of litigation.

State v. District Court, 27 Mont. 130; 69 Pac. 989.

See note to section 2 of this article.

Featherman v. Granite County, 28 Mont. 463; 72 Pac. 973. The limitations, which "may be prescribed by law," mentioned in this section, refer to statutes in existence at the time of the adoption of the constitution, and adopted by the schedule which is a part thereof, or statutes thereafter to be passed, specifying under what limitations appeals may be taken. The regulations, which "may be prescribed by law," refer to statutes adopted or to be enacted providing the methods by which appeals and proceedings upon writs of error may be perfected.

Emerson v. McNair, 28 Mont. 579; 73 Pac. 122.

See note to section 2 of this article.

Glavin v. Lane, 29 Mont. 229; 74 Pac. 407. When a notice of appeal has been filed and served, and a bond has been filed with the clerk of the district court, jurisdiction over the appeal is in the supreme court, but the appeal cannot be heard and determined where the record is defective.

In re O'Brien, 29 Mont. 548; 75 Pac. 201. An application for a writ of habeas corpus will be dismissed if it appears that the petitioner is not "held in actual custody."

Pirrie v. Moule, 33 Mont. 5; 81 Pac.

392. An undertaking on appeal is "insufficient" when it has some efficiency, but not enough to meet the necessary requirements. State v. Court, 35 Mont. 54; 88 Pac. 565.

§ 4. At least three terms of the supreme court shall be held each year at the seat of government.

§ 5. The supreme court shall consist of three justices, a majority of whom shall be necessary to form a quorum or pronounce a decision, but one or more of said justices may adjourn the court from day to day, or to a day certain and the legislative assembly shall have the power to increase the number of said justices to not less nor more than five. In case any justice or justices of the supreme court shall be in any way disqualified to sit in a cause brought before such court, the remaining justice or justices shall have power to call on one or more of the district judges of this state as in the particular case may be necessary to constitute the full number of justices of which the said court shall then be composed, to sit with them in the hearing of said cause. In all cases where a district judge is invited to sit and does sit as by this section provided, the decision and opinion of such district judge shall have the same force and effect in any cause heard before the court as if regularly participated in by a justice of the supreme court.

Section 5 is given as amended by act approved March 7, 1899 (6th Sess., p. 152), which was declared to be in force by proclamation by the Governor December 18, 1900.

State v. Canvassers, 13 Mont. 52; 31 Pac. 890. judge when a judge of the supreme court is disqualified (Session Laws, Fifth Session, page 57) is void.
Durfee v. Harper, 22 Mont. 361; 56 Pac. 584. An amendment to this section, providing for calling in a district See note to section 9, Article XIX.

§ 6. The justices of the supreme court shall be elected by the electors of the state at large, as hereinafter provided.

§ 7. The term of office of the justices of the supreme court, except as in this constitution otherwise provided, shall be six years.

§ 8. There shall be elected at the first general election, provided for by this constitution, one chief justice and two associate justices of the supreme court. At said first election the chief justice shall be elected to hold his office until the general election in the year one thousand eight hundred ninety-two (1892), and one of the associate justices to hold office until the general election in the year one thousand eight hundred ninety-four (1894), and the other associate justice to hold his office until the general election in the year one thousand eight hundred ninety-six (1896), and each shall hold until his successor is elected and qualified. The terms of office of said justices, and which one shall be chief justice, shall at the first and all subsequent elections be designated by ballot. After said first election one chief justice or one associate justice shall be elected at the general election every two years, commencing in the year one thousand eight hundred ninety-two (1892), and if the legislative assembly shall increase the number of justices to five, the first terms of office of such additional justices shall be fixed by law in such manner that at least one of the five justices shall be elected every two years. The chief justice shall preside at all sessions of the supreme court, and in case of his absence, the associate justice having the shortest term to serve shall preside in his stead.

§ 9. There shall be a clerk of the supreme court, who shall hold his office for the term of six years, except that the clerk first elected shall hold his office only until the general election in the year one thousand eight hundred ninety-two (1892), and until his successor is elected and qualified. He shall be elected by the electors at large of the state, and his compensation shall be fixed by law, and his duties prescribed by law, and by the rules of the supreme court.

Lloyd v. Silver Bow County, 11 Mont. 415; 28 Pac. 455. State v. Acton, 31 Mont. 42; 77 Pac. 301.

§ 10. No person shall be eligible to the office of justice of the supreme court, unless he shall have been admitted to practice law in the supreme court of the territory or state of Montana, be at least thirty years of age, and a citizen of the United States, nor unless he shall have resided in said territory or state at least two years next preceding his election.

DISTRICT COURTS.

§ 11. The district courts shall have original jurisdiction in all cases at law and in equity, including all cases which involve the title or right of possession of real property, or the legality of any tax, impost, assessment, toll or municipal fine, and in all cases in which the debt, damage, claim or demand, exclusive of interest, or the value of the property in controversy exceeds fifty dollars; and in all criminal cases amounting to felony, and in all cases of misdemeanor not otherwise provided for; of actions of forcible entry and unlawful detainer; of proceedings in insolvency; of actions to prevent or abate a nuisance; of all matters of probate; of actions of divorce and for annulment of marriage, and for all such special actions and proceedings as are not otherwise provided for. And said courts shall have the power of naturalization, and to issue papers therefor, in all cases where they are authorized so to do by the laws of the United States. They shall have appellate jurisdiction in such cases arising in justices and other inferior courts in their respective districts as may be prescribed by law and consistent with this constitution. Their process shall extend to all parts of the state, provided that all actions for the recovery of, the possession of, quieting title to, or for the enforcement of liens upon real property, shall be commenced in the county in which the real property, or any part thereof, af-fectured by such action or actions, is situated. Said courts and the judges thereof shall have power also to issue, hear and determine writs of mandamus, quo warranto, certiorari, prohibition, injunction and other original and remedial writs, and also all writs of habeas corpus on petition by, or on behalf of, any person held in actual custody in their respective districts. Injunctions, writs of prohibition and habeas corpus, may be issued and served on legal holidays and non-judicial days.

Blue B. M. Co. v. Murray, 9 Mont. 476; 23 Pac. 1024. The district court, by virtue of its equity powers, and independent of the statute, can authorize the inspection and survey of a lode mining claim and the levels, shafts, winzes and cross-cuts therein, and the prosecution of work to procure evidence, upon the motion of any party to the action.

Lloyd v. Sullivan, 9 Mont. 588; 24 Pac. 219. The appellate jurisdiction of the supreme court extends to all cases, actions and proceedings which have been finally decided in the district courts.

Wallace v. Helena R. Co., 10 Mont. 28; 24 Pac. 627.

In re McFarland's Estate, 10 Mont. 450; 26 Pac. 186. "All matters of probate" and the administration of laws relating thereto are under the original jurisdiction of the district courts.

State v. Myers, 11 Mont. 367; 28 Pac. 651. Under this section, providing that the district court shall have original jurisdiction in all cases of misdemeanor not otherwise provided for, the district court does not have original, but appellate jurisdiction to try the misdemeanor of assault and battery, as jurisdiction to try such misdemeanor is conferred by law upon the justices' court. The first paragraph of section 6 of the criminal practice act, conferring concurrent jurisdiction in all misdemeanors upon the district and justices courts is in conflict with this section.

Edgerton v. Edgerton, 12 Mont. 145; 29 Pac. 973.

In re Kane's Estate, 12 Mont. 203; 29 Pac. 425.

See note to section 1 of this article.

State v. Canvassers, 13 Mont. 43; 31 Pac. 886.

State v. Court, 13 Mont. 372; 34 Pac.

299. An act to regulate the practice of medicine, approved February 28, 1889, allowed an appeal to the district court by the aggrieved party in case of the revocation or refusal by the board of medical examiners of a license to practice medicine, but did not prescribe any procedure by which a hearing on appeal could be had. The district court had jurisdiction to hear the appeal.

Bookwalter v. Conrad, 15 Mont. 468; 39 Pac. 574. An action concerning real estate in Missoula County was commenced in the district court thereof February 4, 1893. Afterwards, the county of Flathead was created and this real estate became a part thereof. The defendants appeared and filed a motion for a change of venue to Flathead county. Section 56 of the Code of Civil Procedure, providing that actions concerning land shall be "tried" in the county where the same is situated, is not in conflict with this section, providing that such actions shall be "commenced" in the county where the land is situated, and the motion should be granted.

State v. Brantly, 20 Mont. 177; 50 Pac. 410.

Burns v. Smith, 21 Mont. 265; 53 Pac. 744. The district court, sitting as a court of equity, has jurisdiction to try and determine an action brought against an estate of a decedent to enforce an agreement made by deceased to devise a certain share in his property; and jurisdiction in such cases is not confined to the district court sitting as a court of probate.

Estate of Tuohy, 23 Mont. 308; 58 Pac. 723. An order of the district court, directing an executor to execute a lease of mining ground belonging to an estate, is not appealable.

State v. Hogan, 24 Mont. 383; 62 Pac. 583. The supreme court has jurisdiction of the writ of prohibition defined in the Code of Civil Procedure, and judgments and orders of district courts in proceedings under section 1980 thereof.

State v. Moran, 24 Mont. 438; 63 Pac. 391.

State v. District Court, 24 Mont. 553; 63 Pac. 396.

Bordeaux v. Bordeaux, 26 Mont. 534; 69 Pac. 104.

See note to section 3 of this article. McGlauffin v. Wormser, 28 Mont. 182; 72 Pac. 429.

State v. Judges, 30 Mont. 199; 76 Pac. 13.

There is a misprint in the printed copies of the constitution, and in the first line the word "court" should be "courts."

See note to section 1 of this article.

Clark v. Great N. R. Co., 30 Mont. 464; 76 Pac. 1005. The district court, sitting as an appellate court, is of limited jurisdiction and may only proceed as provided by law.

State v. Clancy, 30 Mont. 539; 77 Pac. 315. The act approved December 10, 1903, providing for the disqualification of district judges on the filing of an affidavit of prejudice, does not violate this section. The filing of the affidavit, without a determination of the question of prejudice, deprives the court of jurisdiction. It is the imputation of prejudice, which constitutes the disqualification, and this imputation is not the subject of judicial investigation.

State v. Justice Court, 31 Mont. 262; 78 Pac. 499. An appeal from a judgment of the district court by A, the justice of the peace, is an appeal by the justice of the peace court and is sufficient to give the supreme court jurisdiction.

State v. Court, 35 Mont. 53; 88 Pac. 564. The jurisdiction granted to district courts and their judges to issue the writ of habeas corpus is exclusive; and the power of a district judge to inquire into the legality of the detention of persons in custody is confined to cases where the complainant, who seeks his release, is so detained within the boundaries of the district court over which the judge presides. If such judge is absent and no judge temporarily presides over such court, the application should be made to the supreme court, or a justice thereof, and not to a district judge in another district.

§ 12. The state shall be divided into judicial districts, in each of which there shall be elected by the electors thereof one judge of the district court, whose term of office shall be four years, except that the district judges first elected shall hold their offices only until the general election in the year one thousand eight hundred and ninety-two (1892), and until their successors are elected and qualified. Any judge of the district court may hold court for any other district judge, and shall do so when required by law.

Wallace v. Helena R. Co., 10 Mont. 29; 24 Pac. 626. This provision that "any judge of the district court may hold court for any other district judge," does not in the absence of constitutional or statutory provision giving district judges concurrent jurisdiction, empower a judge of one district, who is trying an action for a judge in another district, to exercise out of court the judicial power of the judge whose court he is holding; and an order of injunction issued by such judge in chambers, when the judge of the district court was present in his district and discharging his duties, is void.

Granite M. Co. v. Durfee, 11 Mont. 225; 27 Pac. 920.

Parrott v. McDewitt, 14 Mont. 205; 36 Pac. 193.

Farleigh v. Kelly, 24 Mont. 372; 62 Pac. 496. Section 36 of the Code of Civil Procedure, giving the judge of one district, when holding court for the judge of another district, the same power, in court or chambers, as a judge thereof, does not enlarge the authority given by this section.

State v. Hogan, 24 Mont. 395; 62

Pac. 587. The right to nominate and elect district judges belongs to the electors of the district, and a state convention cannot validate a nomination for the office of district judge, where the convention making it does not properly represent the electors of the district.

In re Weston, 28 Mont. 217; 72 Pac. 516. This section makes provision for the substitution of one judge for another, and must be held to be exclusive, at least until the authority vested has been exhausted. The act of the eighth legislative assembly, chapter 42, providing for the designation and appointment of a district judge to temporarily hold court in another district and perform the official duties of the judge of such district, where such judge is biased or prejudiced, is in violation of this section.

State v. Clancy, 30 Mont. 538; 77 Pac. 315. The act approved December 10, 1903, providing for the disqualification of district judges on the filing of an affidavit of prejudice, thereupon disqualifying him to further act in the case, is constitutional.

State v. District Court, 33 Mont. 155; 82 Pac. 794.

§ 13. Until otherwise provided by law the judicial districts of the state shall be constituted as follows: First district, Lewis and Clarke county; Second district, Silver Bow county; Third district, Deer Lodge county; Fourth district, Missoula county; Fifth district, Beaverhead, Jefferson and Madison counties; Sixth district, Gallatin, Park and Meagher counties; Seventh district, Yellowstone, Custer and Dawson counties; Eighth district, Choteau, Cascade and Fergus counties.

Wallace v. Helena R. Co., 10 Mont. 29; 24 Pac. 626.

§ 14. The legislative assembly may increase or decrease the number of judges in any judicial district; provided, that there shall be at least one judge in any district established by law; and may divide the state, or any part thereof, into new districts; provided, that each be formed of compact territory and be bounded by county lines, but no changes in the number or boundaries of districts shall work a removal of any judge from office during the term for which he has been elected or appointed.

Wallace v. Helena R. Co., 10 Mont. 38; 24 Pac. 626. State v. Hickman, 10 Mont. 498; 26 Pac. 386.

§ 15. Writs of error and appeals shall be allowed from the decisions of the said district courts to the supreme court under such regulations as may be prescribed by law.

Lloyd v. Sullivan, 9 Mont. 587; 24 Pac. 219.

In re McFarland's Estate, 10 Mont. 455; 26 Pac. 187.

Jordan v. Andrus, 26 Mont. 39; 66 Pac. 502.

See note to section 3 of this article. Finlen v. Heinze, 27 Mont. 124; 70 Pac. 517. The expression in this section "the decisions," means all the decisions of whatever character. Parties litigant have the right to appeal from all the decisions made in the progress of the case, and the supreme court has jurisdiction to hear and determine them, subject only to such reasonable limitations and regulations as the legislature may enact. Judgments in contempt and orders in some summary proceedings, in which appeals were not allowed under the organic act of the territory, may be deemed exceptions to this broad statement of the rule.

Featherman v. Granite County, 28 Mont. 463; 72 Pac. 975.

See note to sections 2 and 3 of this article.

§ 16. No person shall be eligible to the office of judge of the district court unless he be at least twenty-five years of age and a citizen of the United States, and shall have been admitted to practice law in the supreme court of the territory or state of Montana, nor unless he shall have resided in this state or territory at least one year next preceding his election. He need not be a resident of the district for which he is elected at the time of his election, but after his election he shall reside in the district for which he is elected during his term of office.

State v. Clancy, 30 Mont. 537; 77 Pac. 315. The legislature cannot impose any additional conditions to those enumerated in this section as a prerequisite to the holding of the office of district judge by a man who might be elected or appointed. The act approved December 10, 1903, providing for the disqualification of a district judge by filing an affidavit of prejudice does not violate this section.

§ 17. The district court in each county which is a judicial district by itself shall be always open for the transaction of business, except on legal holidays and non-judicial days. In each district where two or more counties are united, until otherwise provided by law, the judges of such district shall fix the term of court, provided that there shall be at least four terms a year held in each county.

Wallace v. Helena R. Co., 10 Mont. 40; 24 Pac. 626.

State v. McHatton, 10 Mont. 376; 25 Pac. 1048. The operation of the act, approved March 14, 1889, providing for the appointment of jury commissioners at each regular term of the district court, is not suspended by this section in the county of Silver Bow, which comprises a judicial district and where the court is in perpetual session; and it is the duty of a district judge in such county to designate the times when the terms of his court shall begin.

Whitbeck v. Railway Co., 21 Mont.

104; 52 Pac. 1098. The rule declared in State v. McHatton, supra, has been changed by section 38 of the Code of Civil Procedure, which provides, that there is no term of court in any judicial district of the state where a county is a district.

State v. Bristol, 21 Mont. 580; 55 Pac. 107. An order fixing the terms of court in a judicial district composed of more than one county was made by the judge thereof. His successor did not have the power to revoke the order and change the terms.

§ 18. There shall be a clerk of the district court in each county, who shall be elected by the electors of his county. The clerk shall be elected at the same time and for the same term as the district judge. The duties and compensation of the said clerk shall be as provided by law.

Lloyd v. Silver Bow Co., 11 Mont. 415; 28 Pac. 455.

In re Kane's Estate, 12 Mont. 203; 29 Pac. 425.

See note to section 1 of this article.

COUNTY ATTORNEYS.

§ 19. There shall be elected at the general election in each county of the state one county attorney, whose qualifications shall be the same as are required for a judge of the district court, except that he must be over twenty-one years of age, but need not be twenty-five years of age, and whose term of office shall be two years, except that the county attorneys first elected shall hold their offices until the general election in the year one thousand eight hundred and ninety-two, (1892) and until their successors are elected and qualified. He shall have a salary to be fixed by law, one-half of which shall be paid by the state, and the other half by the county for which he is elected, and he shall perform such duties as may be required by law.

State v. Jackson, 9 Mont. 518; 24 Pac. 215.

Lloyd v. Silver Bow Co., 11 Mont. 415; 28 Pac. 455.

See note to section 1, article IV.

JUSTICES OF THE PEACE.

§ 20. There shall be elected in each organized township of each county by the electors of such township at least two justices of the peace, who shall hold their offices, except as otherwise provided in this constitution, for the term of two years. Justices courts shall have such original jurisdiction within their respective counties as may be prescribed by law, except as in this constitution otherwise provided; Provided, That they shall not have jurisdiction in any case where the debt, damage, claim or value of the property involved exceeds the sum of three hundred dollars.

State v. Kennie, 24 Mont. 56; 60 Pac. 593.

State v. Taylor, 33 Mont. 215; 83 Pac. 484.

Oppenheimer v. Regan, 32 Mont. 115; 79 Pac. 696.

See notes to section 21 of this article.

§ 21. Justices courts shall not have jurisdiction in any case involving the title or right of possession of real property, nor in cases of divorce, nor for annulment of marriage, nor of cases in equity; nor shall they have power to issue writs of habeas corpus, mandamus, certiorari, quo warranto, injunction, or prohibition, nor the power of naturalization; nor shall they have jurisdiction in cases of felony, except as examining courts; nor shall criminal cases in said courts be prosecuted by indictment; but said courts shall have such jurisdiction in criminal matters, not of the grade of felony, as may be provided by law; and shall also have concurrent jurisdiction with the district courts in cases of forcible entry and unlawful detainer.

State v. Myers, 11 Mont. 366; 28 Pac. 651. The jurisdiction of the misdemeanor of assault and battery is in the justice's court and "provided by law."

State v. Votaw, 13 Mont. 404; 34 Pac. 315. A justice of the peace has jurisdiction of an action by a landlord against a tenant holding after default in payment of rent under the forcible entry and unlawful detainer act, and this section clothing justices courts with concurrent jurisdiction with the district courts in cases of forcible entry and unlawful detainer.

State v. Kennie, 24 Mont. 56; 60 Pac. 593.

Shea v. Reagan, 29 Mont. 316; 74 Pac. 740. Justices courts have no equity jurisdiction and cannot entertain actions involving matters of equitable cognizance; and an action by a claimant to establish his claim for services, in so far as it seeks to establish and foreclose a lien on the attached property of the debtor, is an equitable proceeding and not within the jurisdiction of a justice of the peace. The district court did not acquire jurisdiction of this action by an appeal because the Justice's court did not have original jurisdiction.

State v. Lagoni, 30 Mont. 475; 76 Pac. 1045. This section provides that a justice's court shall have jurisdiction as an examining court in cases of felony, and the statute provides the method of procedure, which must be followed.

Oppenheimer v. Regan, 32 Mont. 115; 79 Pac. 696. Section 66 of the Code of Civil Procedure, enacted in pursuance of sections 20 and 21 of this article, does not clothe a justice of the peace with jurisdiction to entertain an action against a sheriff for damages for nonperformance of an official duty and a penalty imposed by law for such nonperformance; and where a justice of the peace did not have jurisdiction of the subject matter of an action, the district court could acquire none by appeal.

State v. Taylor, 33 Mont. 215; 83 Pac. 484. Section 66 of the Code of Civil Procedure enacted in pursuance of sections 21 and 22 of this article does not clothe justices of the peace with power to try and determine actions for deceit.

§ 22. Justices courts shall always be open for the transaction of business, except on legal holidays and non-judicial days.

§ 23. Appeal shall be allowed from justices courts, in all cases, to the district courts, in such manner and under such regulations as may be prescribed by law.

State v. Lindsay, 22 Mont. 400; 56 Pac. 828. A right of appeal is granted from the justice's court to the district court in all cases; and an appeal lies where a justice refuses to set aside a judgment by default, and the district court should entertain the appeal for a trial de novo as it was tried, or should have been tried, in the justice's court.

State v. District Court, 30 Mont. 95; 75 Pac. 863. The right of appeal guaranteed by this section may be exercised only in obedience to the statutory regulations. The only appeal from a justice's court provided for is from the judgment, and there is no appeal from an order in such court made before or after judgment.

Clark v. Great N. R. Co., 30 Mont. 464; 76 Pac. 1004. Only such questions as were raised in the justice's court can be tried on appeal in the district court, and where there was no showing that a motion was made in the justice's court to set aside the judgment and dismiss the cause, it was proper for the district court to overrule a motion to dismiss the cause.

POLICE AND MUNICIPAL COURTS.

§ 24. The legislative assembly shall have power to provide for creating such police and municipal courts and magistrates for cities and towns as may be deemed necessary from time to time, who shall have jurisdiction in all cases arising under the ordinances of such cities and towns, respectively; such police magistrates may also be constituted ex-officio justices of the peace for their respective counties.

MISCELLANEOUS PROVISIONS.

§ 25. The supreme and district courts shall be courts of record.

§ 26. All laws relating to courts shall be general and of uniform operation throughout the state; and the organization, jurisdiction, powers, proceedings and practice of all courts of the same class or grade, so far as regulated by law, shall be uniform.

State v. McHatton, 10 Mont. 378; 25 Pac. 1048. There must be one statute for the impaneling of a petit jury by each district court of the state, and the rights of parties which are dependent upon the commencement, duration or adjournment of its terms, must be the same in every county.

State v. Landry, 29 Mont. 224; 74 Pac. 420.

State v. Clancy, 30 Mont. 543; 77 Pac. 316. The act approved December 10, 1903, providing for the disqualification of district judges on the filing of an affidavit of prejudice is general in its terms and operation throughout the state and sufficiently complies with this section.

§ 27. The style of all process shall be "The State of Montana," and all prosecutions shall be conducted in the name and by the authority of the same.

State v. Kingsly, 10 Mont. 544; 26 Pac. 1067.

Ind. P. Co. v. Lewis & Clark Co., 30 Mont. 85; 75 Pac. 861.

§ 28. There shall be but one form of civil action, and law and equity may be administered in the same action.

Lloyd v. Sullivan, 9 Mont. 587; 24 Pac. 219.

Edgerton v. Edgerton, 12 Mont. 145; 29 Pac. 978.

Bank v. Onera House, 23 Mont. 40;

57 Pac. 447. The old distinctions between actions at law and in equity have been abolished, and the court, having jurisdiction of the parties, can afford such relief as the facts of the case may justify § 29. The justices of the supreme court and the judges of the district courts shall each be paid quarterly by the state, a salary, which shall not be increased or diminished during the terms for which they shall have been respectively elected. Until otherwise provided by law, the salary of the justices of the supreme court shall be four thousand dollars per annum each, and the salary of the judges of the district courts shall be three thousand five hundred dollars per annum each.

State v. Hickman, 10 Mont. 499; 26 Pac. 387.

Lloyd v. Silver Bow Co., 11 Mont. 413; 28 Pac. 455.

§ 30. No justice of the supreme court nor judge of the district court shall accept or receive any compensation, fee, allowance, mileage, perquisite or emolument for or on account of his office, in any form whatever, except the salary provided by law.

Lloyd v. Silver Bow Co., 11 Mont. 413; 28 Pac. 455.

§ 31. No justice or clerk of the supreme court, nor judge or clerk of any district court shall act or practice as an attorney or counsellor at law in any court of this state during his continuance in office.

State v. Jackson, 9 Mont. 519; 24 Pac. 215. This section is a prohibition directed against the district judge § 32. The legislative assembly may provide for the publication of decisions and opinions of the supreme court.

§ 33. All officers provided for in this article, excepting justices of the supreme court, who shall reside within the state, shall respectively reside during their term of office in the district, county, township, precinct, city or town for which they may be elected or appointed.

§ 34. Vacancies in the office of justice of the supreme court, or judge of the district court, or clerk of the supreme court, shall be filled by appointment, by the governor of the state, and vacancies in the offices of county attorneys, clerk of the district court, and justices of the peace, shall be filled by appointment, by the board of county commissioners of the county where such vacancy occurs. A person appointed to fill any such vacancy shall hold his office until the next general election and until his successor is elected and qualified. A person elected to fill a vacancy shall hold office until the expiration of the term for which the person he succeeds was elected.

State v. Hickman, 10 Mont. 499; 26 Pac. 387. All judges of the district courts, who have been elected or appointed, are governed by the same provisions of the constitution. In the absence of any statute, they are entitled to receive from the state the salary which has been defined in the constitution.

§ 35. No justice of the supreme court or district judge shall hold any other public office while he remains in the office to which he has been elected or appointed.

State v. Jackson, 9 Mont. 519; 24 Pac. 215.

§ 36. A civil action in the district court may be tried by a judge pro tempore, who must be a member of the bar of the state, agreed upon in writing by the parties litigant, or their attorneys of record, approved by the court, and sworn to try the cause; and in such case any order, judgment or decree, made or rendered therein by such judge pro tempore, shall have the same force and effect as if made or rendered by the court with the regular judge presiding.

Littrell v. Wilcox, 11 Mont. 77; 27 Pac. 394. The authority given to a special judge to try a case carries with it authority to do any act incidental or necessary to the exercise thereof. The disqualification of a judge to act as such, where he has been an attorney for either party to a case, does not extend to a formal act like an order for the issuance of an open venire for a jury to try such case, where the regular panel has been discharged.

§ 37. Any judicial officer who shall absent himself from the state for more than sixty consecutive days shall be deemed to have forfeited his office.

Wallace v. Helena R. Co., 10 Mont. 24; 24 Pac. 626.

ARTICLE IX.

RIGHTS OF SUFFRAGE AND QUALIFICATIONS TO HOLD OFFICE.

§ 1. All elections by the people shall be by ballot.

State v. Benton, 13 Mont. 330; 34 Pac. 307.

State v. Acton, 31 Mont. 41; 77 Pac. 301.

§ 2. Every male person of the age of twenty-one years or over, possessing the following qualifications, shall be entitled to vote at all general elections and for all officers that now are, or hereafter may be, elective by the people and upon all questions which may be submitted to the vote of the people: First, he shall be a citizen of the United States; second, he shall have resided in this state one year immediately preceding the election at which he offers to vote, and in the town, county or precinct such time as may be prescribed by law; Provided, first, that no person convicted of felony shall have the right to vote unless he has been pardoned; Provided, second, that nothing herein contained shall be construed to deprive any person of the right to vote who has such right at the time of the adoption of this constitution; Provided, that after the expiration of five years from the time of the adoption of this constitution no person except citizens of the United States shall have the right to vote.

State v. Long, 21 Mont. 27; 52 Pac. 645. The act, approved March 6, 1897, relating to the election of school trustees, which provides that a resident of the school district, who is not a citizen of the United States, may register upon taking an oath that he is entitled to become a citizen of the United States, and that it is his honest intention to become such before the school election day of that year, does not violate this section providing that no person except citizens of the United States shall have the right to vote.

State v. Acton, 31 Mont. 43; 77 Pac. 301.

§ 3. For the purpose of voting no person shall be deemed to have gained or lost a residence by reason of his presence or absence while employed in the service of the state, or of the United States, nor while engaged in the navigation of the waters of the state, or of the United States, nor while a student at any institution of learning, nor while kept at any alms-house or other asylum at the public expense, nor while confined in any public prison.

§ 4. Electors shall in all cases, except treason, felony or breach of peace, be privileged from arrest during their attendance at elections and in going to and returning therefrom.

§ 5. No elector shall be obliged to perform military duty on the days of election, except in time of war or public danger.

§ 6. No soldier, seaman or marine in the army or navy of the United States shall be deemed a resident of this state in consequence of being stationed at any military or naval place within the same.

§ 7. No person shall be elected or appointed to any office in this state, civil or military, who is not a citizen of the United States, and who shall not have resided in this state at least one year next before his election or appointment.

§ 8. No idiot or insane person shall be entitled to vote at any election in this state.

State v. Martin, 24 Mont. 408; 62 Pac. 590.

§ 9. The legislative assembly shall have the power to pass a registration and such other laws as may be necessary to secure the purity of elections and guard against abuses of the elective franchise.

§ 10. Women shall be eligible to hold the office of county superintendent of schools or any school district office, and shall have the right to vote at any school district election.

State v. Acton, 31 Mont. 43; 77 Pac. 302. A county superintendent of schools must be either a woman, or a person qualified to vote at general elections and for state officers in this state.

§ 11. Any person qualified to vote at general elections and for state officers in this state, shall be eligible to any office therein except as otherwise provided in this constitution, and subject to such additional qualifications as may be prescribed by the legislative assembly for city offices and offices hereafter created.

State v. Martin, 24 Mont. 408; 62 Pac. 590. State v. Acton, 31 Mont. 43; 77 Pac. 302.

§ 12. Upon all questions submitted to the vote of the tax-payers of the state, or any political division thereof, women who are tax-payers and possessed of the qualifications for the right of suffrage required of men by this constitution, shall equally with men have the right to vote.

§ 13. In all elections held by the people under this constitution, the person or persons who shall receive the highest number of legal votes shall be declared elected.

Stackpole v. Hallahan, 16 Mont. 58; 40 Pac. 86.

ARTICLE X.

STATE INSTITUTIONS AND PUBLIC BUILDINGS.

§ 1. Educational, reformatory and penal institutions, and those for the benefit of the insane, blind, deaf and mute, soldiers' home, and such other institutions as the public good may require, shall be established and supported by the state in such a manner as may be prescribed by law.

§ 2. At the general election in the year one thousand eight hundred and ninety-two, the question of permanent location of the seat of government is hereby provided to be submitted to the qualified electors of the state, and the majority of all the votes upon said question shall determine the location thereof. In case there shall be no choice of location at said election, the question of choice between the two places for which the highest number of votes shall have been cast shall be, and is hereby, submitted in like manner to the qualified electors at the next general election thereafter: Provided. That until the seat of government shall have been permanently located the temporary seat of government shall be and remain at the city of Helena.

State v. Rotwitt, 15 Mont. 30; 37 Pac. 845.

§ 3. When the seat of government shall have been located as herein provided the location thereof shall not thereafter be changed, except by a vote of two-thirds of all the qualified electors of the state voting on that question at a general election at which the question of the location of the seat of government shall have been submitted by the legislative assembly.

§ 4. The legislative assembly shall make no appropriations or expenditures for capital buildings or grounds until the seat of government shall have been permanently located, as herein provided.

§ 5. The several counties of the state shall provide as may be prescribed by law for those inhabitants, who, by reason of age, infirmity or misfortune, may have claims upon the sympathy and aid of society.

ARTICLE XI.

EDUCATION.

§ 1. It shall be the duty of the legislative assembly of Montana to establish and maintain a general, uniform and thorough system of public, free common schools.

State v. Yellowstone Co., 12 Mont. 506; 31 Pac. 79.

Campana v. Calderhead, 17 Mont. 550; 44 Pac. 84. The legislative assembly has the power to establish a series of text books for use in the public schools of the state, but this section does not require that a uniform series of text books shall be established and maintained.

State v. Long, 21 Mont. 30; 52 Pac. 646. This section does not prohibit the enactment of a law classifying school districts for the election of trustees according to population, but the classification must be reasonable and uniform in its operation and effect on all districts.

§ 2. The public school fund of the state shall consist of the proceeds of such lands as have heretofore been granted, or may hereafter be granted, to the state by the general government, known as school lands; and those granted in lieu of such; lands acquired by gift or grant from any person or corporation under any law or grant of the general government; and of all other grants of land or money made to the state from the general government for general educational purposes, or where no other special purpose is indicated in such grant; all estates, or distributive shares of estates that may escheat to the state; all unclaimed shares and dividends of any corporation incorporated under the laws of the state, and all other grants, gifts, devises or bequests made to the state for general educational purposes.

§ 3. Such public school fund shall forever remain inviolate, guaranteed by the state against loss or diversion, to be invested, so far as possible, in public securities within the state, including school district bonds, issued for the erection of school buildings, under the restrictions to be provided by law.

Butte v. School District, 29 Mont. 340; 74 Pac. 870. Money raised by taxation for school purposes becomes a part of the school fund of the district within which it is raised, and the school district of an incorporated city cannot be compelled by a special assessment of the city to pay the cost of sprinkling streets in front of the property of the district used for educational purposes.

§ 4. The governor, superintendent of public instruction, secretary of state and attorney general shall constitute the state board of land commissioners, which shall have the direction, control, leasing and sale of the school lands of the state, and the lands granted or which may hereafter be granted for the support and benefit of the various state educational institutions, under such regulations and restrictions as may be prescribed by law.

State v. Barret, 26 Mont. 65; 66 Pac. 506.

§ 5. The interest on all invested school funds of the state, and all rents accruing from the leasing of any school lands, shall be apportioned to the several school districts of the state in proportion to the number of children and youths between the ages of six and twenty-one years, residing therein respectively, but no district shall be entitled to such distributive share that does not maintain a public free school for at least three months during the year for which distributions shall be made.

§ 6. It shall be the duty of the legislative assembly to provide by taxation, or otherwise, sufficient means, in connection with the amount received from the general school fund, to maintain a public, free common school in each organized district in the state, for at least three months in each year.

State v. Yellowstone Co., 12 Mont. 506; 31 Pac. 79.

§ 7. The public free schools of the state shall be open to all children and youth between the ages of six and twenty-one years.

§ 8. Neither the legislative assembly, nor any county, city, town, or school district, or other public corporations, shall ever make directly or indirectly, any appropriation, or pay from any public fund or moneys whatever, or make any grant of lands or other property in aid of any church, or for any sectarian purpose, or to aid in the support of any school, academy, seminary, college, university, or other literary, scientific institution, controlled in whole or in part by any church, sect or denomination whatever.

§ 9. No religious or partisan test or qualification shall ever be required of any person as a condition of admission into any public educational institution of the state, either as teacher or student; nor shall attendance be required at any religious service whatever, nor shall any sectarian tenets be taught in any public educational institution of the state; nor shall any person be debarred admission to any of the collegiate departments of the university on account of sex.

§ 10. The legislative assembly shall provide that all elections for school district officers shall be separate from those elections at which state or county officers are voted for.

§ 11. The general control and supervision of the state university and the various other state educational institutions shall be vested in a state board of education, whose powers and duties shall be prescribed and regulated by law. The said board shall consist of eleven members, the governor, state superintendent of public instruction, and attorney general, being members ex officio; the other eight members thereof shall be appointed by the governor, subject to the confirmation of the senate, under the regulations and restrictions to be provided by law.

State v. Barret, 26 Mont. 66; 66 Pac. created by the legislature under the 506. The state board of education was authority of this section.

§ 12. The funds of the state university and of all other state institutions of learning, from whatever source accruing, shall forever remain inviolate and sacred to the purpose for which they were dedicated. The various funds shall be respectively invested under such regulations as may be prescribed by law, and shall be guaranteed by the state against loss or diversion. The interest of said invested funds, together with the rents from leased lands or properties shall be devoted to the maintenance and perpetuation of these respective institutions.

State v. Barret, 26 Mont. 65; 66 Pac. 506. Pursuant to the constitution the legislature has enacted regulations under which in default of sale, all agricultural and grazing lands belonging to the state may be leased under the direction of the state land commission for terms not exceeding five years, and the revenues therefrom must be paid to the state treasurer. The lands selected for the use of the state agricultural college under the grant by congress are subject to these regulations.

State v. Rice, 33 Mont. 385; 83 Pac. 875. The funds referred to in this section mean all funds, which shall be invested to draw interest and used for no other purpose. The state normal school is one of the institutions of learning to which reference is made. Chapter 3 of the Session Laws of 1905, authorizing the state board of land commissioners to sell bonds and apply the proceeds to the erection, furnishing and equipment of an addition to the state normal school building, and pledging as security for the payment of the principal and interest on such bonds the lands granted by the act of congress violates this section and is void. The interest from these funds and rents from said lands, and not the principal sum derived from the sale of said lands or timber, shall be used for the maintenance and perpetuation of the normal school.

ARTICLE XII.

REVENUE AND TAXATION.

§ 1. The necessary revenue for the support and maintenance of the state shall be provided by the legislative assembly, which shall levy a uniform rate of assessment and taxation, and shall prescribe such regulations as shall secure a just valuation for taxation of all property, except that specially provided for in this article. The legislative assembly may also impose a license tax, both upon persons and upon corporations doing business in the state.

State v. French, 17 Mont. 56; 41 Pac. 1079. The constitution does not require that licenses shall be uniform, and the first sentence of this section and section 11 of this article should be read together. The laundry license fee provided in the Political Code imposing a license per quarter of $15 on steam laundries; of $10 on one male laundryman; and of $25 on a male laundryman employing one or more persons is valid.

State v. Camp Sing, 18 Mont. 140; 44 Pac. 516. This article treats the limitations upon the power of taxation with great care and in almost every section can be found prohibitions on the legislative power concerning taxation.

State v. Camp Sing, 18 Mont. 129; 44 Pac. 516. The word "also" in the last sentence of this section was not used to mean that the legislature may impose license taxes for the support of the state, but to connect the two systems of revenue; and the imposing of license taxes is not restricted to the purposes of state revenue alone. The words of this section "levy," "assessment" and "rate" refer to taxation proper, and the word "impose" refers to licenses.

Gelsthorpe v. Furnell, 20 Mont. 299; 51 Pac. 267. The act, approved March 4, 1897, providing that all property of a decedent shall be subject to a tax at a fixed rate on every $100, but that an estate valued at less than $7,500 shall not be subject to any such "tax or duty," is not in conflict with this section, although the act does not impose uniform rate of taxation upon all heirs, devisees, legatees and distributees.

Danforth v. Livingston, 23 Mont. 562; 59 Pac. 917. It was the intention of the legislature, acting under the authority vested in it by sections 1, 16 and 18 of this article, to make the action of the assessor and board of county commissioners, sitting as a board of equalization, final, and deny to the courts power to review their judgment, or assume supervisory control over their proceedings. The county treasurer will not be restrained from the collection by sale of taxes on real estate, when the valuation fixed by the assessor is $14,250, and the actual value is $9,700.

N. W. I. Co. v. Lewis & Clark Co., 28 Mont. 490; 72 Pac. 983. This section applies to corporations as well as natural persons, and the legislature can prescribe reasonable terms upon which foreign corporations may do business in the state. The Civil Code, declaring that every insurance company in the state must be taxed upon the excess of premiums received over losses and ordinary expenses during the year, is constitutional; and the clause that insurance companies are not subject to any other taxation, except taxes on real estate and fees imposed by law, is unconstitutional.

Beck v. Holland, 29 Mont. 239; 74 Pac. 411.

Daly Bank v. Board, 33 Mont. 105; 81 Pac. 952. This section provides that the legislative assembly shall prescribe such regulations as shall secure a just valuation for taxation of all property, except that particularly exempted.

In re Tuohy's Estate, 35 Mont. 437; 90 Pac. 172.

§ 2. The property of the United States, the state, counties, cities, towns, school districts, municipal corporations and public libraries shall be exempt from taxation; and such other property as may be used exclusively for agricultural and horticultural societies, for educational purposes, places for actual religious worship, hospitals and places of burial not used or held for private or corporate profit, and institutions of purely public charity may be exempt from taxation.

Montana C. M. v. County, 13 Mont. 563; 35 Pac. 3. This section and the law enacted in pursuance thereof do not exempt from taxation land on which buildings for charitable purposes are to be erected.

State v. Camp Sing, 18 Mont. 139; 44 Pac. 516. Liberal exemptions are provided for in this section.

Courtney v. Missoula Co., 21 Mont. 592; 55 Pac. 359. State lands, after sale, but before the price is fully paid, are subject to taxation as the property of the purchaser, notwithstanding this section exempts the property of the state from taxation, and the state retains the legal title as security for the deferred payments.

Daly Bank v. Board, 33 Mont. 106; 81 Pac. 952.

See note to section 1 of this article.

§ 3. All mines and mining claims, both placer and rock in place, containing or bearing gold, silver, copper, lead, coal or other valuable mineral deposits, after purchase thereof from the United States, shall be taxed at the price paid the United States therefor, unless the surface ground, or some part thereof, of such mine or claim, is used for other than mining purposes, and has a separate and independent value for such other purposes, in which case said surface ground, or any part thereof, so used for other than mining purposes, shall be taxed at its value for such other purposes, as provided by law; and all machinery used in mining, and all property and surface improvements upon or appurtenant to mines and mining claims which have a value separate and independent of such mines or mining claims, and the annual net proceeds of all mines and mining claims shall be taxed as provided by law.

State v. Camp Sing, 18 Mont. 139; 44 Pac. 517. Mines and mining claims in the state are liberally protected from what might be deemed excessive taxation.

M. C. Co. v. Livingston, 21 Mont. 66; 52 Pac. 780. The annual net proceeds of coal mines acquired under the laws of the United States are subject to taxation.

Murray v. Hinds, 30 Mont. 469; 76 Pac. 1039. A lode mining claim was within the exterior limits of Butte, and the owners sold lots from the claim for townsite purposes, but it had not been made an addition to the city. A shaft had been sunk on the part reserved for mining purposes, but it had been abandoned and the lot on which the shaft was sunk had been sold. The so-called reserve was not mining property for the purposes of taxation.

In re Tuohy's Estate, 35 Mont. 435; 90 Pac. 171. This section limiting the measure of value of mines for taxation purposes does not apply to a tax imposed on the privilege of taking by will, succession or testamentary grant.

§ 4. The legislative assembly shall not levy taxes upon the inhabitants or property in any county, city, town, or municipal corporation for county, town, or municipal purposes, but it may by law vest in the corporate authorities thereof powers to assess and collect taxes for such purposes.

Lockey v. Walker, 12 Mont. 582; 31 Pac. 640.

State v. Camp Sing, 18 Mont. 129; 44 Pac. 517. A license tax is not within the inhibition of this article; and the laundry license tax law, allowing seventy per cent of the licenses to be retained by the county, does not levy a tax upon the inhabitants or property in a county for county purposes.

Helena W. Co. vs. Steele, 20 Mont. 8; 49 Pac. 384. Subdivision 64 of section 4800 of the Political Code, providing that no municipality having a water supply furnished by private persons shall erect any water plant to be operated by itself, but if it desires to acquire such a plant, shall purchase or condemn such supply, is in conflict with this section.

Mutual L. I. Co. v. Martien, 27 Mont. 440; 71 Pac. 471.

Butte v. Weston, 29 Mont. 127; 74

§ 5. Taxes for city, town and school purposes may be levied on all subjects and objects of taxation, but the assessed valuation of any property shall not exceed the valuation of the same property for state and county purposes.

State v. Yellowstone Co., 12 Mont. 506; 31 Pac. 79.

Lockey v. Walker, 12 Mont. 582; 31 Pac. 640. The action of the city authorities of Helena, in taking the assessment made by the county and state assessing authorities, as the assessment

Pac. 416. The county clerk of Silver Bow county was required to make and deliver to the city treasurer of Butte a duplicate assessment book as required by the Political Code. The Political Code, authorizing the collection of city taxes by the city treasurer is not in violation of section 5, article XVI of the Constitution when construed together with this section.

for the levy of municipal taxes on property within Helena, constituted a legal assessment; and the levy of taxes thereon by the city was legal.

State v. Camp Sing, 18 Mont. 140; 44 Pac. 517.

§ 6. No county, city, town or other municipal corporation, the inhabitants thereof nor the property therein, shall be released or discharged from their or its proportionate share of state taxes.

§ 7. The power to tax corporations or corporate property shall never be relinquished or suspended, and all corporations in this state, or doing business therein, shall be subject to taxation for state, county, school, municipal and other purposes, on real and personal property owned or used by them and not by this constitution exempted from taxation.

N. W. I. Co. v. L. & C. Co., 28 Mont. 495; 72 Pac. 985. The property of corporations shall bear its equal share of the burdens of taxation.

Daly Bank v. Board, 33 Mont. 105; 81 Pac. 952. The Civil Code, providing that the property of trust deposit and security corporations shall be assessed for the purposes of taxation in the same manner as national banks, exempts the personal property of such companies from taxation and is, therefore, repugnant to sections 1 and 7 of this article.

§ 8. Private property shall not be taken or sold for the corporate debts of public corporations, but the legislative assembly may provide by law for the funding thereof, and shall provide by law for the payment thereof, including all funded debts and obligations, by assessment and taxation of all private property not exempt from taxation within the limits of the territory over which such corporations respectively have authority.

State v. Camp Sing, 18 Mont. 140; 44 Pac. 517.

Jay v. School District, 24 Mont. 230;

61 Pac. 254. An execution cannot issue against a school district to collect a judgment recovered by a teacher for services, and the judgment cannot be enforced until the fund provided for this purpose by law is available.

§ 9. The rate of taxation of real and personal property for state purposes in any one year shall never exceed three (3) mills on each dollar of valuation; and whenever the taxable property in the state shall amount to one hundred million dollars ($100,000,000), the rate shall not exceed two and one-half (2½) mills on each dollar of valuation; and whenever the taxable property in the state shall amount to three hundred million dollars

(\$300,000,000), the rate shall never thereafter exceed one and one-half ($1\frac{1}{2}$) mills on each dollar of valuation; unless a proposition to increase such rate specifying the rate proposed and the time during which the same shall be levied, shall have been submitted to the people at a general election, and shall have received a majority of all the votes cast for and against it at such election.

State v. Fortune, 24 Mont. 156; 60

Pac. 1086. Section 11, of article X, of the constitution of Colorado is the same as this section in respect to the powers of the state board of equalization.

In re Tuohy's Estate, 35 Mont. 437; 90 Pac. 171.

§ 10. All taxes levied for state purposes shall be paid into the state treasury, and no money shall be drawn from the treasury but in pursuance of specific appropriations made by law.

State v. Kenney, 9 Mont. 394; 24 Pac. 97.

State v. Hickman, 11 Mont. 546; 29 Pac. 94.

State v. Camp Sing, 18 Mont. 140; 44 Pac. 517.

Mutual L. I. Co. v. Martien, 27 Mont.

440; 71 Pac. 471. The only reasonable construction of this section, in connection with a provision that the county treasurer shall be the collector, is that the collector shall collect, and then pay into the state treasury, all taxes levied for state purposes.

§ 11. Taxes shall be levied and collected by general laws and for public purposes only. They shall be uniform upon the same class of subjects within the territorial limits of the authority levying the tax.

N. W. L. Co. v. L. & C. Co., 28 Mont. 497; 72 Pac. 985.

Clark v. Maher, 34 Mont. 400; 87 Pac. 274. The part of subdivision 8 of section 3695 of the Political Code granting to private bankers the right to deduct their deposits (debts) from moneys on hand, for purposes of assessment, violates sections 11 and 16 of this article.

§ 12. No appropriation shall be made or any expenditures authorized by the legislative assembly whereby the expenditures of the state during any fiscal year shall exceed the total tax then provided for by law, and applicable to such appropriation or expenditure, unless the legislative assembly making such appropriation shall provide for levying a sufficient tax, not exceeding the rate allowed in section nine (9) of this article, to pay such appropriations or expenditures within such fiscal year. This provision shall not apply to appropriations or expenditures to suppress insurrection, defend the state, or assist in defending the United States in time of war. No appropriation of public moneys shall be made for a longer term than two years.

State v. Kenney, 10 Mont. 413; 25 Pac. 1024.

State v. Kenney, 10 Mont. 491; 26 Pac. 384.

State v. Kenney, 11 Mont. 555; 29 Pac. 89. This section, providing that no appropriation of public moneys shall be made for a longer term than two years, is prospective only, and does not affect an appropriation made by the act of the legislature relating to the publication of the supreme court reports, approved March 8, 1889, before the adoption of the constitution.

State v. Cook, 17 Mont. 535; 43 Pac. 930.

State v. Helena, 24 Mont. 532; 63 Pac. 103.

§ 13. The state treasurer shall keep a separate account of each fund in his hands, and shall at the end of each quarter of the fiscal year report to the governor in writing, under oath, the amount of all moneys in his hands to the credit of every such fund, and the place or places where the same is kept or deposited, and the number and amount of every warrant paid or redeemed by him during the quarter. The governor, or other person or persons authorized by law, shall verify said report and cause the same to be immediately published in at least one newspaper printed at the seat of government, and otherwise as the legislative assembly may require. The legislative assembly may provide by law further regulations for the safe keeping and management of the public funds in the hands of the treasurer; but notwithstanding any such regulations, the treasurer and his sureties shall in all cases be held responsible therefor.

§ 14. The making of profit out of public moneys, or using the same for any purpose not authorized by law, by any public officer, shall be deemed a felony, and shall be punished as provided by law, but part of such punishment shall be disqualification to hold public office.

§ 15. The governor, secretary of state, state treasurer, state auditor and attorney general shall constitute a state board of equalization and the board of county commissioners of each county shall constitute a county board of equalization. The duty of the state board of equalization shall be to adjust and equalize the valuation of the taxable property among the several counties of the state. The duty of the county boards of equalization shall be to adjust and equalize the valuation of taxable property within their respective counties. Each board shall also perform such other duties as may be prescribed by law.

State v. Equalization Board, 18 Mont. 475; 46 Pac. 266. The state board of equalization has no power to increase the total valuation of the property of the state as disclosed and fixed by the abstracts and statements transmitted to it by the assessors and county boards of equalization.

State v. Fortune, 24 Mont. 156; 60 Pac. 1086.

See note to section 9 of this article.

§ 16. All property shall be assessed in the manner prescribed by law except as is otherwise provided in this constitution. The franchise, roadway, roadbed, rails and rolling stock of all railroads operated in more than one county in this state shall be assessed by the state board of equalization and the same shall be apportioned to the counties, cities, towns, townships and school districts in which such railroads are located, in proportion to the number of miles of railway laid in such counties, cities, towns, townships and school districts.

Danforth v. Livingston, 23 Mont. 562; 59 Pac. 917.

See note to section 1 of this article.

Clark v. Maher, 34 Mont. 400; 87 Pac. 274.

See note to section 11 of this article.

§ 17. The word property as used in this article is hereby declared to include moneys, credits, bonds, stocks, franchises and all matters and things (real, personal and mixed) capable of private ownership, but this shall not be construed so as to authorize the taxation of the stocks of any company or corporation when the property of such company or corporation represented by such stocks is within the state and has been taxed.

Gelsthorpe v. Furnell, 20 Mont. 303; 51 Pac. 267. A collateral inheritance or succession tax is not a tax on property. It is a tax or duty imposed by the state on the right to receive property by inheritance, succession or any deed or instrument to take effect after the death of the grantor.

N. W. L. Co. v. L. & C. Co., 28 Mont. 491; 72 Pac. 983. This section, in its definition of what may be subject to taxation, includes all matters and things capable of private ownership.

Daly Bank v. Board, 33 Mont. 106; 81 Pac. 952. Stocks of a state bank or trust company fall within the definition of property given in this section and must be assessed to the owners at their full cash value, except to the extent that that value is represented in property, assessed to the bank or trust company.

§ 18. The legislative assembly shall pass all laws necessary to carry out the provisions of this article.

Danforth v. Livingston, 23 Mont. 562; 59 Pac. 917.

See note to section 1 of this article.

Mutual L. I. Co. v. Martien, 27 Mont. 440; 71 Pac. 471.

See note to section 4 of this article.

ARTICLE XIII.

PUBLIC INDEBTEDNESS.

§ 1. Neither the state, nor any county, city, town, municipality, nor other subdivision of the state shall ever give or loan its credit in aid of, or make any donation or grant, by subsidy or otherwise, to any individual, association or corporation, or become a subscriber to, or a shareholder in, any company or corporation, or a joint owner with any person, company or corporation, except as to such ownership as may accrue to the state by operation or provision of law.

State v. Hickman, 11 Mont. 549; 29 Pac. 93.

§ 2. The legislative assembly shall not in any manner create any debt except by law which shall be irrevocable until the indebtedness therein provided for shall have been fully paid or discharged; such law shall specify the purpose to which the funds so raised shall be applied and provide for the levy of a tax sufficient to pay the interest on, and extinguish the principal of such debt within the time limited by such law for the payment thereof; but no debt or liability shall be created which shall singly, or in the aggregate with any existing debt or liability, exceed the sum of one hundred thousand dollars ($100,000) except in case of war, to repel invasion or suppress insurrection, unless the law authorizing the same shall have been submitted to the people at a general election and shall have received a majority of the votes cast for and against it at such election.

State v. Hickman, 11 Mont. 549; 29 Pac. 93.

State v. Helena, 24 Mont. 532; 63 Pac. 103.

§ 3. All moneys borrowed by or on behalf of the state or any county, city, town, municipality or other subdivision of the state, shall be used only for the purpose specified in the law authorizing the loan.

State v. Dickerman, 16 Mont. 292; 40 Pac. 701. The act, approved February 18, 1895, providing that money loaned or advanced for school purposes on bonds of the district, which are afterwards declared to be void by the supreme court of the state, may be repaid from the proceeds of the sale of subsequent bonds issued for school purposes, does not violate this section.

§ 4. The state shall not assume the debt, or any part thereof, of any county, city, town or municipal corporation.

§ 5. No county shall be allowed to become indebted in any manner, or for any purpose, to an amount, including existing indebtedness, in the aggregate, exceeding five (5) per centum of the (value of the) taxable property therein, to be ascertained by the last assessment for state and county taxes previous to the incurring of such indebtedness, and all bonds or obligations in excess of such amount given by or on behalf of such county shall be void. No county shall incur any indebtedness or liability for any single purpose to an amount exceeding ten thousand dollars ($10,000) without the approval of a majority of the electors thereof, voting at an election to be provided by law.

State v. Hickman, 11 Mont. 550; 29 Pac. 93.

Hotchkiss v. Marion, 12 Mont. 222; 29 Pac. 823. The legislative assembly has the power to provide by law for the funding of all funded debts and obligations of a county.

Tinkel v. Griffin, 26 Mont. 429; 68 Pac. 860. A favorable majority of all the votes cast on the question of incurring indebtedness to build and furnish a county court house, at a general election at which the question is submitted, is sufficient, though such majority is not a majority of all the electors voting at such election. The words "For the loan" and "Against the loan," printed on the ballots, specify the nature of the loan.

§ 6. No city, town, township or school district shall be allowed to become indebted in any manner or for any purpose to an amount, including existing indebtedness, in the aggregate exceeding three per centum of the value of the taxable property therein, to be ascertained by the last assessment for the state and county taxes previous to the incurring of such indebtedness, and all bonds or obligations in excess of such amount given by or on behalf of such city, town, township or school district shall be void; Provided, however, that the legislative assembly may extend the limit mentioned in this section, by authorizing municipal corporations to submit the question to a vote of the tax-payers affected thereby, when such increase is necessary to construct a sewerage system or to procure a supply of water for such municipality which shall own and control said water supply and devote the revenues derived therefrom to the payment of the debt.

Dunn v. Great Falls, 13 Mont. 59; 31 Pac. 1018. The city of Great Falls, under the act approved February 28, 1889, authorizing certain incorporated cities to incur indebtedness by the issuance of bonds to an amount not exceeding four per cent of their assessed valuation, issued bonds for the purposes therein specified. The act is not wholly in conflict with this section, but only to the excess above three per cent therein limited.

Atkinson v. Great Falls, 16 Mont. 372; 40 Pac. 877.

Palmer v. Helena, 19 Mont. 65; 47 Pac. 211. The funding by a city of an existing indebtedness by the issuance of bonds does not create a new or additional indebtedness, but changes the form of the liability. This section forbidding the creation by a city of an indebtedness greater than three per cent of the assessed value of property within its limits, unless the creation thereof is necessary and authorized by a vote of the tax payers for the purpose of constructing a sewer or water system, prohibits the creation of an indebtedness beyond the three per cent limit for such purposes by a city, which had its sewerage system at the time of the adoption of the constitution.

State v. Helena, 24 Mont. 525; 63 Pac. 103. The city of Helena exceeded the constitutional limit of indebtedness. A water company furnished it water for municipal purposes under an ordinance providing for the obtaining of water for a certain period at a certain price, payable monthly, appropriating out of the yearly revenues sufficient money to pay for it, and ordering the city council for such term to levy annual taxes to meet the appropriation. The company could not recover for water so furnished; and the contract to furnish such water constitutes an indebtedness within the prohibition of this section.

Helena v. Rogan, 26 Mont. 472; 68 Pac. 801. A complaint by a city for the condemnation for a water supply of certain water rights is not defective for failing to allege that the water supply can be procured without incurring an indebtedness which, with the existing indebtedness, will exceed three per cent of the assessed valuation, or that the limit was extended by a majority of the taxpayers voting for the proposition.

Jordan v. Andrus, 27 Mont. 25; 69 Pac. 118. "Indebtedness" means what a city owes, irrespective of the demands it may hold against others. The amount of cash on hand may be deducted from the "indebtedness," but claims against a county for road taxes collected for the city and the amount due from land owners for sidewalks cannot be so deducted.

Helena W. Co. v. Helena, 27 Mont. 206; 70 Pac. 514. A city which has exceeded its debt limit prescribed by this section, cannot incur an indebtedness not payable from a specially authorized tax, but payable from funds previously appropriated, under an agreement that the claimants should accept warrants in payment of their claims, and that if the warrant should not be paid, the city should not be liable therefor. The payment of such claims on the theory that the appropriation by ordinance was an assignment of the funds so appropriated for the payment of the claims was unauthorized.

ARTICLE XIV.

MILITARY AFFAIRS.

§ 1. The militia of the state of Montana shall consist of all able-bodied male citizens of the state between the ages of eighteen (18) and forty-five (45) years inclusive, except such persons as may be exempted by the laws of the state or of the United States.

§ 2. The legislative assembly shall provide by law for the organization, equipment, and discipline of the militia, and shall make rules and regulations for the government of the same. The organization shall conform as nearly as practicable to the regulations for the government of the armies of the United States.

§ 3. The legislative assembly shall provide by law for maintaining the militia, by appropriations from the treasury of the state.

§ 4. The legislative assembly shall provide by law for the safe keeping of the public arms, military records, relics and banners of the state.

§ 5. When the governor shall, with the consent of the legislative assembly, be out of the state in time of war, at the head of any military force thereof, he shall continue commander-in-chief of all the military forces of the state.

ARTICLE XV.

CORPORATIONS OTHER THAN MUNICIPAL.

§ 1. All existing charters, or grants of special or exclusive privileges, under which the corporations or grantees shall not have organized or commenced business in good faith at the time of the adoption of this constitution, shall thereafter have no validity."

Morrison v. Clark, 24 Mont. 518; 63 Pac. 98. A mining company incorporated under general laws, though it had omitted to commence business prior to the adoption of the constitution, is not affected by this section. The word "organized" used in this section is not appropriate.

§ 2. No charter of incorporations shall be granted, extended, changed or amended by special law, except for such municipal, charitable, educational, penal or reformatory corporations as are or may be under the control of the state; but the legislative assembly shall provide by general law for the organization of corporations hereafter to be created; Provided, That any such laws shall be subject to future repeal or alterations by the legislative assembly.

Morrison v. Clark, 24 Mont. 520; 63 Pac. 99.

Allen v. Ajax M. Co., 30 Mont. 504; 77 Pac. 49.

§ 3. The legislative assembly shall have the power to alter, revoke or annul any charter of incorporation existing at the time of the adoption of this constitution, or which may be hereafter incorporated, whenever in its opinion it may be injurious to the citizens of the state.

§ 4. The legislative assembly shall provide by law that in all elections for directors or trustees of incorporated companies, every stockholder shall have the right to vote in person or by proxy the number of shares of stock owned by him for as many persons as there are directors or trustees to be elected, or to cumulate said shares, and give one candidate as many votes as the number of directors multiplied by the number of his shares of stock shall equal, or to distribute them, on the same principle, among as many candidates as he shall think fit, and such directors or trustees shall not be elected in any other manner.

§ 5. All railroads shall be public highways, and all railroad, transportation and express companies shall be common carriers and subject to legislative control, and the legislative assembly shall have the power to regulate and control by law the rates of charges for the transportation of passengers and freight by such companies as common carriers from one point to another in the state. Any association or corporation, organized for the purpose, shall have the right to construct and operate a railroad between any designated points within this state and to connect at the state line with railroads of other states and territories. Every railroad company shall have the right with its road to intersect, connect with, or cross any other railroad.

B. A. P. Co. v. M. M. R., 16 Mont. 525; 41 Pac. 239. Under sections 5 and 7 of this article, a railroad, built by a private corporation and with its main line and spurs running to private mines and ore houses, is a public use and may exercise the right of eminent domain. The right of one railroad to cross another is expressly given.

§ 6. No railroad corporation, express or other transportation company, or the lessees or managers thereof, shall consolidate its stock, property or franchise, with any other railroad corporation, express or other transportation company, owning or having under its control a parallel or competing line; neither shall it in any manner unite its business or earnings with the business or earnings of any other railroad corporation; nor shall any officer of such railroad, express or other transportation company act as an officer of any other railroad, express, or other transportation company owning or having control of a parallel or competing line.

State v. Railway Companies, 21 Mont. 228; 53 Pac. 625. One railroad company can lease its road to a parallel and competing road for a term of ten years, and such a lease is not a consolidation of the two roads. When two railroad companies have but one common terminus, and are brought into competition between common terminal points by traffic arrangements with other roads, they are competing roads.

MacGinniss v. B. M. Co., 29 Mont. 453; 75 Pac. 94.

§ 7. All individuals, associations, and corporations shall have equal rights to have persons or property transported on and over any railroad, transportation or express route in this state. No discrimination in charges or facilities for transportation of freight or passengers of the same class shall be made by any railroad, or transportation, or express company, between persons or places within this state; but excursion or commutation tickets may be issued and sold at special rates, provided such rates are the same to all persons. No railroad or transportation, or express company shall be allowed to charge, collect, or receive, under penalties which the legislative assembly shall prescribe, any greater charge or toll for the transportation of freight or passengers to any place or station upon its route or line, than it charges for the transportation of the same class of freight or passengers to any more distant place or station upon its route or line within this state. No railroad, express, or transportation company, nor any lessee, manager, or other employe thereof, shall give any preference to any individual, association or corporation, in furnishing cars or motive power, or for the transportation of money or other express matter.

Montana U. Co. v. Langlois, 9 Mont. 432; 24 Pac. 212. A railroad company cannot grant to one person the exclusive right to the use of a portion of its depot platform to deliver passengers departing, and to receive and solicit the patronage of incoming passengers, to the exclusion of all other persons from the exercise of such rights.

B. A. & P. Co. v. M. U. Railway, 16 Mont. 525; 41 Pac. 239.

See note to section 5 of this article.

§ 8. No railroad, express, or other transportation company, in existence at the time of the adoption of this constitution, shall have the benefit of any future legislation, without first filing in the office of the secretary of state an acceptance of the provisions of this constitution in binding form.

§ 9. The right of eminent domain shall never be abridged, nor so construed as to prevent the legislative assembly from taking the property and franchises of incorporated companies, and subjecting them to public use the same as the property of individuals; and the police powers of the state shall never be abridged, or so construed, as to permit corporations to conduct their business in such manner as to infringe the equal rights of individuals, or the general well being of the state.

B. A. & P. Co. v. M. U. Railway, 16 Mont. 536; 41 Pac. 243.

§ 10. No corporation shall issue stocks or bonds, except for labor done, services performed, or money and property actually received; and all fictitious increase of stock or indebtedness shall be void. The stock of corporations shall not be increased except in pursuance of general law, nor without the consent of the persons holding a majority of the stock first obtained at a meeting held after at least thirty days' notice given in pursuance of law.

Kelly v. Clark, 21 Mont. 336; 53 Pac. 970. The purchase of a mine which the stockholders knew was not worth over $125,000 and payment therefor in stock whose par value is $7,500,000, and which is repurchased by the stockholders with full knowledge of the transaction at 2½ per cent of its par value, is fraudulent as to a creditor, and the stock will be treated as unpaid to the extent of the difference between the actual value of the mine and the nominal value of the stock.

§ 11. No foreign corporation shall do any business in this state without having one or more known places of business, and an authorized agent or agents in the same, upon whom process may be served. And no company or corporation formed under the laws of any other country, state or territory, shall have, or be allowed to exercise, or enjoy within this state any greater rights or privileges than those possessed or enjoyed by corporations of the same or similar character created under the laws of the state.

Criswell v. M. C. R. Co., 18 Mont. 168; 44 Pac. 525. This section is self executing as a prohibition upon foreign corporations from enjoying within the state any greater privileges than are enjoyed by like corporations created under the laws of the state; and section 697, fifth division of the Compiled Statutes, declaring the liability of the corporation to an employee injured through the negligence of his superior to be the same as if the employee were a passenger, imposes on domestic railroad corporations a burden not imposed on foreign railroad companies operating within the state, and was annulled by the adoption of the constitution.

M. B. L. Co. v. Winne, 20 Mont. 35; 49 Pac. 451. The purpose of section 1034 of the Civil Code was to make valid contracts made by foreign corporations which were voidable by reason of a failure to file certain statements and certificates required by law, and does not refer to, or make valid contracts of such corporations void for other reasons.

§ 12. No street or other railroad shall be constructed within any city or town without the consent of the local authorities having control of the street or highway proposed to be occupied by such street or other railroad.

State v. Mayor, 30 Mont. 343; 76 Pac. 760.

§ 13. The legislative assembly shall pass no law for the

Such legislation does not violate this constitutional provision.

State v. Bank, 21 Mont. 51; 52 Pac. 733. The Political Code, imposing a license upon banks and banking institutions in this state, does not conflict with the constitution, although national banks are not subject to the license.

Wastl v. M. U. R. Co., 24 Mont. 168; 61 Pac. 12.

MacGinniss v. B. & M. Co., 29 Mont. 458; 75 Pac. 96. It is not against the public policy of the state for one mining corporation to hold and vote stock in another of like character.

State v. Aetna B. Co., 34 Mont. 388; 87 Pac. 271.

Helena P. Co. v. Spratt, 35 Mont. 131; 88 Pac. 775. A foreign corporation authorized by the laws of the state where it is organized to build a dam across the Missouri river in Montana and maintain an electric power plant in connection therewith, is not clothed by the constitution or laws of this state with the right of eminent domain.

benefit of a railroad or other corporation, or any individual or association of individuals, retrospective in its operation, or which imposes on the people of any county or municipal subdivision of the state, a new liability in respect to transactions or considerations already passed.

State v. Dickerman, 16 Mont. 292; 40 Pac. 701. The act approved February 18, 1895, providing that money advanced for school purposes on bonds of the district, afterwards declared to be void by the supreme court, may be repaid from the proceeds of bonds subsequently issued, is not retrospective in its operation and within the inhibition of this section.

M. B. Co. v. Winne, 20 Mont. 36; 49 Pac. 451. The purpose of section 1034 of the Civil Code was to make valid contracts made by foreign corporations, voidable by reason of a failure to file certain statements and certificates required by law. This is a curative law and not retrospective.

§ 14. Any association or corporation, or the lessees or managers thereof, organized for the purpose, or any individual, shall have the right to construct or maintain lines of telegraph or telephone within this state, and connect the same with other lines; and the legislative assembly shall by general law of uniform operation provide reasonable regulations to give full effect to this section. No telegraph or telephone company shall consolidate with, or hold a controlling interest in, the stock or bonds of any other telegraph or telephone company owning or having the control of a competing line, or acquired by purchase or otherwise, any other competing line of telegraph or telephone.

MacGinniss v. B. & M. Co., 29 Mont. 453; 75 Pac. 94.

State v. Mayor, 30 Mont. 340; 76 Pac. 760. Where a city council refuses to designate the location of poles for a telephone line, and requires the wires to be laid in conduits under the streets, mandamus can compel the council to designate the location of the poles. A general law relating to telephone corporations is not modified by the statutes concerning the government of cities.

State v. Helena, 34 Mont. 71; 85 Pac.

744. Chapter LV of the Session Laws of 1905, authorized any person or corporation, engaging in the telegraph, telephone, electric light or power business to construct necessary poles and appliances on any of the public highways, but added a proviso that the provisions of this act shall not apply to public roads and highways within the limits of incorporated cities or towns. The proviso is contrary to this section and invalid and must be eliminated from the act.

§ 15. If any railroad, telegraph, telephone, express or other corporation or company organized under any of the laws of this state, shall consolidate, by sale or otherwise, with any railroad, telegraph, telephone, express, or other corporation, organized under any of the laws of any other state or territory of the United States, the same shall not thereby become a foreign corporation, but the courts of this state shall retain jurisdiction over that part of the corporate property within the limits of the state, in all matters that may arise as if said consolidation had not taken place.

§ 16. It shall be unlawful for any person, company or corporation to require of its servants or employes, as a condition of their employment or otherwise, any contract or agreement whereby such persons, company or corporation, shall be released or discharged from liability or responsibility on account of personal injuries received by such servants or employes while in the service of such person, company or corporation, by reason of negligence of such person, company or corporation, or the agents or employes thereof; and such contracts shall be absolutely null and void.

Schmidt v. Montana R. Co., 15 Mont. 114; 38 Pac. 227.

Criswell v. M. C. R. Co., 18 Mont. 171; 44 Pac. 526.

§ 17. The legislative assembly shall not pass any law permitting the leasing or alienation of any franchise so as to release or relieve the franchise or property held thereunder from any of the liabilities of the lessor or grantor, or lessee or grantee, contracted or incurred in the operation, use or enjoyment of such franchise, or any of its privileges.

§ 18. The term "corporation," as used in this article, shall be held and construed to include all associations and joint stock companies, having or exercising any of the powers or privileges of corporations not possessed by individuals or partnerships; and all corporations shall have the right to sue, and shall be subject to be sued in all courts in like cases as natural persons, subject to such regulations and conditions as may be prescribed by law.

§ 19. Dues from private corporations shall be secured by such means as may be prescribed by law.

§ 20. No incorporation, stock company, person or association of persons in the state of Montana, shall directly, or indirectly, combine or form what is known as a trust, or make any contract with any person, or persons, corporations, or stock company, foreign or domestic, through their stockholders, trustees, or in any manner whatever, for the purpose of fixing the price, or regulating the production of any article of commerce, or of the product of the soil, for consumption by the people. The legislative assembly shall pass laws for the enforcement thereof by adequate penalties to the extent, if necessary for that purpose, of the forfeiture of their property and franchises, and in case of foreign corporations prohibiting them from carrying on business in the state.

MacGinniss v. B. & M. Co., 29 Mont. 452; 75 Pac. 94. To subject offenders to penalties which the legislature might impose, there must be shown a specific intent to do the prohibited act, or that the association or combination tends to accomplish the same result. The evidence does not show an intent or necessary tendency of combining corporations to fix the price or regulate the production of copper, such as is prohibited by this section.

hold and vote stock in other corporations of like character.

State v. Cudaby P. Co., 33 Mont. 183; 82 Pac. 834. Section 321 of the Penal Code, prohibiting the formation of combinations or trusts for the purpose of fixing the price or regulating the production of articles of commerce, and section 325 of the same code, to the effect that such prohibition shall not apply to persons engaged in agricultural and horticulture, are dependent upon each other and void.

Mining corporations are permitted to

MUNICIPAL CORPORATIONS AND OFFICERS.

§ 1. The several counties of the territory of Montana, as they shall exist at the time of the admission of the state into the union, are hereby declared to be the counties of the state until otherwise established or changed by law.

Sackett v. Thomas, 25 Mont. 240; 64 Pac. 506.

§ 2. The legislative assembly shall have no power to remove the county seat of any county, but the same shall be provided for by general law; and no county seat shall be removed unless a majority of the qualified electors of the county, at a general election on a proposition to remove the county seat, shall vote therefor; but no such proposition shall be submitted oftener than once in four years.

§ 3. In all cases of the establishment of a new county it shall be held to pay its ratable proportion of all then existing liabilities of the county or counties from which it is formed, less the ratable proportion of the value of the county buildings and property of the county or counties from which it is formed; Provided, That nothing in this section shall prevent the re-adjustment of county lines between existing counties.

Holliday v. Sweet Grass Co., 19 Mont. 367; 48 Pac. 553. The county of Sweet Grass was formed of territory previously included in the counties of Park, Yellowstone and Meagher, and was liable to pay interest upon its portion of the debt of each county until its warrant was issued in payment thereof.

Sackett v. Thomas, 25 Mont. 240; 64 Pac. 506. The constitution recognizes the power of the legislature to create new counties, or change those already established, or alter their boundaries.

§ 4. In each county there shall be elected three county commissioners, whose term of office shall be six years; provided, that the term of office of those elected November 6th, 1900, shall expire on the first Monday in January, 1907, provided further, that at the general election to be held in November, 1902, (in counties where commissioners are to be elected that year), three commissioners shall be elected whose term expire on the first Monday in January, 1907; provided further, that at the general election to be held in November, 1906, one commissioner shall be elected for a term of two years, one commissioner shall be elected for a term of four years, and one commissioner shall be elected for a term of six years, whose term of office shall commence on the said first Monday in January, 1907; and provided further, that at each general election thereafter commencing with the general election to be held in November, 1908, one commissioner shall be elected for a term of six years. A vacancy in the board of county commissioners shall be filled by appointment by the judge of the judicial district in which the vacancy occurs.

Section 4 is given as amended by act approved February 26, 1901 (7th Sess., p. 208), which was declared to be in force by proclamation by the Governor December 5, 1902.

State v. Commissioners, 34 Mont. 426; 87 Pac. 450. This amendment does not violate section 31, article V, or section 9, article XIX of the constitution.

State v. Tooker, 15 Mont. 9; 37 Pac. 840. The amendment to this section proposed by the legislative assembly by the act approved February 23, 1891, was not advertised as required by the constitution and was not adopted.

State v. Mayhew, 21 Mont. 96; 52 Pac. 983. The legislative assembly may appoint provisionally, in the act creating a new county, the officers including commissioners. The commissioners elected under the act creating Ravalli county at the general election in 1894 were entitled to serve for the full constitutional term. State v. Acton, 31 Mont. 42; 77 Pac. 301.

§ 5. There shall be elected in each county the following officers: One county clerk, who shall be clerk of the board of the county commissioners and ex-officio recorder; one sheriff; one treasurer, who shall be collector of taxes; Provided, That no person shall hold the office of county treasurer for more than two consecutive terms; one county superintendent of schools; one county surveyor; one assessor; one coroner; one public administrator. Persons elected to the different offices named in this section shall hold their respective offices for the term of two years, and until their successors are elected and qualified. Vacancies in all county, township and precinct offices, except that of county commissioners, shall be filled by appointment by the board of county commissioners, and the appointee shall hold his office until the next general election.

Lloyd v. Silver Bow Co., 11 Mont. 413; 28 Pac. 453.

Meagher Co. v. Gardner, 18 Mont. 115; 44 Pac. 408. Sureties on the official bond of a county assessor, on whom was imposed the duty of collecting poor taxes and whose bond was conditioned that he would pay over the money so collected, are estopped from contending that the statute imposing such duty is in conflict with this section.

State v. Mayhew, 21 Mont. 96; 52 Pac. 983.

State v. Granite Co., 23 Mont. 252; 58 Pac. 439.

State v. Dickinson, 26 Mont. 392; 68 Pac. 469. The office of county auditor is not expressly provided for in the constitution.

Mutual L. I. Co. v. Martien, 27 Mont. 439; 71 Pac. 471. Section 3940 of the Political Code providing that the assessor must collect the taxes on all personal property, when, in his opinion, such taxes are not a lien on sufficient real property to secure payment thereof, is void. The legislature has no power to vest any person other than the treasurer with power to collect taxes on property.

Butte v. Weston, 29 Mont. 127; 74 Pac. 416. Article XVI of the constitution deals with municipal corporations and has special references to counties.

See note to section 4, Article XII.

State v. Acton, 31 Mont. 39; 77 Pac. 301. This section provides that there shall be elected in each county one county superintendent of schools. Section 1171 of the Political Code providing that in case of a tie vote for a county officer, the county commissioners shall appoint some eligible person to fill the office, is invalid as to county superintendent of schools and officers named in the constitution.

§ 6. The legislative assembly may provide for the election or appointment of such other county, township, precinct and municipal officers as public convenience may require and their terms of office shall be as prescribed by law, not in any case to exceed two years, except as in this constitution otherwise provided.

State v. Long, 21 Mont. 33; 52 Pac. 647.

State v. Dickinson, 26 Mont. 392; 68

Pac. 469. Authority for the creation of the office of county auditor may be found in this section.

PUBLIC LANDS.

§ 1. All lands of the state that have been, or that may hereafter be granted to the state by congress, and all lands acquired by gift or grant or devise, from any person or corporation, shall be public lands of the state, and shall be held in trust for the people, to be disposed of as hereafter provided, for the respective purposes for which they have been or may be granted, donated or devised; and none of such land, nor any estate or interest therein, shall ever be disposed of except in pursuance of general laws providing for such disposition, nor unless the full market value of the estate or interest disposed of, to be ascertained in such manner as may be provided by law, be paid or safely secured to the state; nor shall any lands which the state holds by grant from the United States (in any case in which the manner of disposal and minimum price are so prescribed) be disposed of, except in the manner and for at least the price prescribed in the grant thereof, without the consent of the United States. Said lands shall be classified by the board of land commissioners, as follows: First, lands which are valuable only for grazing purposes. Second, those which are principally valuable for the timber that is on them. Third, agricultural lands. Fourth, lands within the limits of any town or city or within three miles of such limits; Provided, That any of said lands may be re-classified whenever, by reason of increased facilities for irrigation or otherwise, they shall be subject to different classification.

State v. Cook, 17 Mont. 536: 43 Pac. 930.

State v. Wright, 17 Mont. 573: 44 Pac. 92. The provisions of this article relate to such lands as the state has acquired or may acquire after the same are selected under the laws provided for that purpose, and are not applicable to lands granted to the state under the act of congress, approved August 18, 1894.

§ 2. The lands of the first of said classes may be sold or leased, under such rules and regulations as may be prescribed by law. The lands of the second class may be sold, or the timber thereon may be sold, under such rules and regulations as may be prescribed by law. The agricultural lands may be either sold or leased, under such rules and regulations as may be prescribed by law. The land of the fourth class shall be sold in alternate lots of not more than five acres each, and not more than one-half of any one tract of such lands shall be sold prior to the year one thousand nine hundred and ten (1910).

State v. Barret, 26 Mont. 65; 66 Pac. 502.

§ 3. All other public lands may be disposed of in such manner as may be provided by law.

ARTICLE XVIII.

LABOR.

§ 1. The legislative assembly may provide for a bureau of agriculture, labor and industry, to be located at the capital and be under the control of a commissioner appointed by the governor subject to the confirmation of the senate. The commissioner shall hold his office for four years, and until his successor is appointed and qualified; his compensation shall be as provided by law.

Lloyd v. Silver Bow Co., 11 Mont. 415; 28 Pac. 455.

§ 2. It shall be unlawful for the warden or other officer of any state penitentiary or reformatory institution in the state of Montana, or for any state officer to let by contract to any person or persons or corporation the labor of any convict confined within said institution.

§ 3. It shall be unlawful to employ children under the age of sixteen (16) years of age in underground mines.

§ 4. A period of eight hours shall constitute a day's work on all works or undertakings carried on or aided by any municipal, county or state government, and on all contracts let by them, and in mills and smelters for the treatment of ores, and in underground mines.

§ 5. The legislature by appropriate legislation shall provide for the enforcement of the provisions of this Article.

Sections three (3), four (4) and five (5), of this article, are given as added by act approved March 3, 1903 (Acts 1903, ch. 49), which was declared to be in force by proclamation by the Governor December 8, 1904.

ARTICLE XIX.

MISCELLANEOUS SUBJECTS AND FUTURE AMENDMENTS.

§ 1. Members of the legislative assembly and all officers, executive, ministerial or judicial, shall, before they enter upon the duties of their respective offices, take and subscribe the following oath or affirmation, to-wit: "I do solemnly swear (or affirm) that I will support, protect and defend the constitution of the United States, and the constitution of the state of Montana, and that I will discharge the duties of my office with fidelity; and that I have not paid, or contributed, or promised to pay or contribute, either directly or indirectly, any money or other valuable thing to procure my nomination or election (or appointment) except for necessary and proper expenses expressly authorized by law; that I have not knowingly violated any election law of this state, or procured it to be done by others in my behalf; that I will not knowingly receive, directly, or indirectly, any money or other valuable thing for the performance or non-performance of any act or duty pertaining to my office other than the compensation allowed by law, so help me God." And no other oath, declaration or test shall be required as a qualification for any office or trust.

§ 2. The legislative assembly shall have no power to authorize lotteries, or gift enterprises for any purpose, and shall pass laws to prohibit the sale of lottery or gift enterprise tickets in this state.

§ 3. The legislative assembly shall enact suitable laws to prevent the destruction by fire from any cause of the grasses and forests upon lands of the state or upon lands of the public domain the control of which may be conferred by congress upon this state, and to otherwise protect the same.

§ 4. The legislative assembly shall enact liberal homestead and exemption laws.

Ferguson v. Speith, 13 Mont. 496; 34 Pac. 1022. The laws enacted under this section must receive a liberal construction in favor of the debtor. A partner is entitled as against the creditors of the firm to claim and hold a homestead in partnership estate, to be selected by the owner, from forced sale or other final process.

Mitchell v. McCormick, 22 Mont. 252; 56 Pac. 218.

Yerrick v. Higgins, 22 Mont. 509; 57 Pac. 98. The mode of obtaining the exemption and the amount and character thereof are left to the legislature to provide.

Dayton v. Ewart, 28 Mont. 155; 72 Pac. 421.

§ 5. No perpetuities shall be allowed, except for charitable purposes.

§ 6. All county officers shall keep their offices at the county seats of their respective counties.

§ 7. In the disposition of the public lands granted by the United States to this state, preference shall always be given to actual settlers thereon, and the legislative assembly shall provide by law for carrying this section into effect.

§ 8. The legislative assembly may at any time, by a vote of two-thirds of the members elected to each house, submit to the electors of the state the question whether there shall be a convention to revise, alter, or amend this constitution; and if a majority of those voting on the question shall declare in favor of such convention, the legislative assembly shall at its next session provide for the calling thereof. The number of members of the convention shall be the same as that of the house of representatives, and they shall be elected in the same manner, at the same places, and in the same districts. The legislative assembly shall in the act calling the convention designate the day, hour and place of its meeting, fix the pay of its members and officers, and provide for the payment of the same, together with the necessary expenses of the convention. Before proceeding, the members shall take an oath to support the constitution of the United States and of the state of Montana, and to faithfully discharge their duties as members of the convention. The qualifications of members shall be the same as of the members of the senate, and vacancies occurring shall be filled in the manner provided for filling vacancies in the legislative assembly. Said convention shall meet within three months after such election and prepare such revisions, alteration or amendments to the constitution as may be deemed necessary, which shall be submitted to the electors for their ratification or rejection at an election appointed by the convention for that purpose, not less than two or more than six months after the adjournment thereof; and unless so submitted and approved by a majority of the electors voting at the election, no such revision, alteration or amendment shall take effect.

§ 9. Amendments to this constitution may be proposed in either house of the legislative assembly, and if the same shall be voted for by two-thirds of the members elected to each house, such proposed amendments, together with the ayes and nays of each house thereon, shall be entered in full on their respective journals; and the secretary of state shall cause the said amendment or amendments to be published in full in at least one newspaper in each county (if such there be) for three months previous to the next general election for members to the legislative assembly; and at said election the said amendment or amendments shall be submitted to the qualified electors of the state for their approval or rejection and such as are approved by a majority of those voting thereon shall become part of the constitution. Should more amendments than one be submitted at the same election, they shall be so prepared and distinguished by numbers or otherwise that each can be voted upon separately; Provided, however, that not more than three amendments to this constitution shall be submitted at the same election.

State v. Tooker, 15 Mont. 10; 37 Pac. 841. This section is mandatory. A constitutional amendment, approved February 23, 1891, relating to county commissioners, was published by the secretary of state in the newspapers for two weeks before the election in 1892, and for no longer period. The noncompliance with the requirement for publication renders the adoption of the proposed amendment nugatory.

Durfee v. Harper, 22 Mont. 361; 56 Pac. 584. A proposed amendment to the constitution, relating to the justices of the supreme court, approved March 3, 1897, was duly advertised, voted for by a majority of the qualified voters, and declared adopted; but it had not been entered in full on the respective journals of the two houses of the legislative assembly and was void.

State v. Board, 34 Mont. 428; 87 Pac. 450. The amendment to section 4, article XVI of the constitution, concerning county commissioners, approved February 26, 1901, must be considered as one scheme, and separate amendments distinguished by numbers, so that they may be voted on separately, are not required.

SECTION XX.

SCHEDULE.

That no inconvenience may arise by reason of changing from a territorial to a state form of government, it is declared as follows:

§ 1. All laws enacted by the legislative assembly of the territory of Montana and in force at the time the state shall be admitted into the union and not inconsistent with this constitution or the constitution or laws of the United States of America, shall be and remain in full force as the laws of the state until altered or repealed, or until they expire by their own limitation; Provided, That whenever in said laws the words, "Territory," "Montana Territory" or "Territory of Montana" occur, the words "State" or "State of Montana" shall be appropriately substituted and read therefor; And, provided further, that the duties which now by law devolve upon probate judges as jury commissioners and in relation to issuing marriage licenses and filing and recording marriage certificates, and the duties as ex-officio clerks of their own courts, shall, until otherwise provided by law, devolve upon and be performed by the clerks of district courts, in their respective counties; And, provided further, That the duties of probate judges now imposed by law relative to town sites and to the approval of bonds of other county officers shall, until otherwise provided by law, be performed by the district judges in the several counties in their respective districts.

State v. Ah Jim, 9 Mont. 171; 23 Pac. 77.

State v. Kenney, 9 Mont. 395; 24 Pac. 97. The obligations of the territory were assumed by the state, and the constitution protects the rights of individuals, associations and corporations, existing when Montana was admitted into the Union. All laws of the territory inconsistent with the constitution, were amended or repealed at the same time.

Wallace v. Helena R. Co., 10 Mont. 46; 25 Pac. 284.

State v. McHatton, 10 Mont. 380; 25 Pac. 1047. The office of the probate judge was abolished when Montana was admitted into the Union, but the jury commission was preserved and persons were designated to fill the vacancy caused by the change.

In re McFarland's Estate, 10 Mont. 447; 26 Pac. 187. Sections 324 and 325 of the probate practice act providing for appeals directly to the supreme court, enacted prior to the adoption of the constitution were in conflict with sections 1869 and 1932 of the Revised Statutes of the United States and void, and did not, upon the adoption of the constitution, become laws of the state.

State v. Kingslv, 10 Mont. 544; 26 Pac. 1067.

State v. Myers, 11 Mont. 366; 28 Pac. 651. The part of section 6 of the criminal practice act, enacted by the legislative assembly of the territory, conferring upon the district and justices courts concurrent jurisdiction in all misdemeanors, is invalid and did not become a law of the state upon the adoption of the constitution.

Lloyd v. Silver Bow Co., 11 Mont.

414; 28 Pac. 454. The adoption of the laws of the territory as the laws of the state did not fix the compensation of a sheriff elected before the adoption of the constitution, and deprived the first legislative assembly of the power to pass an act decreasing the emoluments of his office.

State v. Hickman, 11 Mont. 546; 29 Pac. 93.

State v. Kenney, 11 Mont. 555; 29 Pac. 90.

See note to section 12, Article XII.

State v. Court, 14 Mont. 479; 37 Pac. 8. Sections 1495, et seq., of the fifth division of the Compiled Statutes, granting to the owners of mining claims a right of way across the claims of others, and providing for the assessment of damages by commissioners are not abrogated, but modified as to the method of determining the damages, leaving the jurisdiction and procedure in other respects unchanged.

Wastl v. M. U. R. Co., 24 Mont. 170; 61 Pac. 13. The rights of the individual citizen, acquired under the laws of the territory are protected and enforced as effectively as if the constitution had not been adopted.

State v. Court, 24 Mont. 558; 63 Pac. 398. When the constitution was adopted, the same procedure which had been provided by the legislature of the territory under the practice act was continued in force; and this has been re-enacted substantially in the codes of 1895.

State v. Hays, 27 Mont. 176; 70 Pac. 321.

M. O. P. Co. v. B. & M. Co., 27 Mont. 307; 70 Pac. 1119.

See note to section 23, article III.

§ 2. All lawful orders, judgments and decrees in civil causes, all contracts and claims, and all lawful convictions, judgments and sentences in criminal actions, made and entered, or pronounced by the courts within the territory of Montana, and in force at the time the state shall be admitted into the union, shall continue and be and remain in full force in the state unaffected in any respect by the change from a territorial to a state form of government, and may be enforced and executed under the laws of the state.

State v. Kenney, 9 Mont. 395; 24 Pac. 97.

Edgerton v. Edgerton, 12 Mont. 148; 29 Pac. 974. A decree of divorce of the district court of the territory must be regarded as if pronounced by a district court of the state. The transformation from a territorial to a state form of government is for many purposes to be considered as a continuity of government.

§ 3. No crime or criminal offense committed against the laws of the territory of Montana shall abate, or be in any wise affected, by reason of the change from a territorial to a state form of government; but the same shall be deemed and taken to be an offence against the laws of the state, and the appropriate courts of the state shall have jurisdiction over and to hear and determine the same; Provided, That this section shall not in any wise be construed to change the law of the statute of limitations, or the due effect or application of the same.

State v. Kingsly, 10 Mont. 544; 26 Pac. 1067.

Estate of Tuohy, 23 Mont. 308; 58 Pac. 723. Upon the organization of the state government, probate jurisdiction was given to the district courts by the constitution, and thereafter appeals to the supreme court from judgments and orders therein were possible only by classifying them under the head of special proceedings.

Clark v. Silver Bow Co., 17 Mont. 82; 42 Pac. 104. The legislature has the power under this section to reduce the salary of a clerk of the district court, elected at the time of the admission of the state, from that allowed by the law of the territory.

§ 4. Except as herein otherwise provided, the word "district" shall be substituted and read in lieu of the word "probate" in the terms "probate court" or "probate judge" whenever the same occur in the laws of the territory of Montana, and all said laws which by their terms apply to probate courts or probate judges shall, except as in this constitution otherwise provided, upon a change from territorial to state government, be deemed and taken to apply to district courts and district judges; Provided, That all laws allowing fees to probate judges are hereby repealed.

§ 5. Clerks of district courts, until otherwise provided by law, shall each perform the duties and be entitled to the same fees as now provided by law for clerks of the district courts of the territory, and until otherwise provided by law shall also perform the services and be entitled to fees therefor that are now provided for clerks of probate courts.

§ 6. Upon a change from territorial to state government the seals in use by the supreme court and the territorial district courts in and for the several counties respectively, shall pass to and become, until otherwise provided by law, the seals respectively of the supreme court and of the district courts of the state in such counties.

§ 7. Prosecutions for criminal offences against the laws of the territory of Montana, pending at the time the state shall be admitted into the union shall not abate; but the same shall continue and be prosecuted in the name of the state of Montana, and the title of every such action shall be changed to conform to this provision.

State v. Ah Jim, 9 Mont. 172; 23 Pac. 77.

§ 8. Parties who, at the time of the admission of the state into the union, may be confined under lawful commitments, or otherwise lawfully held to answer for alleged violations of any of the criminal laws of the territory of Montana, shall continue to be so confined or held until discharged therefrom by the proper courts of the state.

State v. Ah Jim, 9 Mont. 172; 23 Pac. 77.

State v. Kingsly, 10 Mont. 544; 26 Pac. 1067.

§ 9. All writs, processes, prosecutions, actions, causes of action, defenses, claims and rights of individuals, associations and bodies corporate existing at the time the state shall be admitted into the union, shall continue and be respectively executed, proceeded with, determined, enforced and protected under the laws of the state.

State v. Kenney, 9 Mont. 395; 24 Pac. 97.

State v. Kingsly, 10 Mont. 544; 26 Pac. 1067.

Wastl v. M. U. R. Co., 24 Mont. 169; 61 Pac. 12. The rights which had accrued under section 697, fifth division

Compiled Statutes, giving to an employe injured by the negligence of a superior a right of action against the master, prior to the repeal of the law by the constitution, were preserved by this provision of the constitution to be enforced under the laws of the state.

§ 10. All undertakings, bonds, obligations and recognizances in force at the time the state shall be admitted into the union, which was executed to the territory of Montana, or any officer thereof in his official capacity, or to any official board for the benefit of the territory of Montana, are hereby respectively assigned and transferred to the state of Montana, to the state officer successor to said territorial officer, or to the official board successor to the aforesaid official board, for the use of the state, as the case may be, and shall be as valid and binding as if executed under state law to the state, or state officer in his official capacity, or official board, for the benefit of the state; and all fines, taxes, penalties and forfeitures due or owing to the territory of Montana or to any county, school district, or municipality therein, at the time the state shall be admitted into the union, are hereby respectively assigned and transferred, and the same shall be payable to the state, county, school district or municipality, as the case may be, and payment thereof may be enforced under the laws of the state.

State v. Kenney, 9 Mont. 395; 24 Pac. 97.

§ 11. All property, real and personal, and all moneys, credits, claims, demands and choses in action of every kind, belonging to the territory of Montana at the time the state shall be admitted into the union, are hereby assigned and transferred to, and shall be vested in, and become the property of the state of Montana.

§ 12. All obligations of the territory of Montana, existing, in force and unpaid at the time of the admission of the state into the union are hereby assumed by the state, which shall and will well and truly pay the same.

State v. Kenney, 9 Mont. 395; 24 Pac. 97.

State v. Hickman, 11 Mont. 550; 29 Pac. 94.

§ 13. All matters, cases and proceedings pending in any probate court in the territory of Montana, at the time the state shall be admitted into the union, and all official records, files, moneys, and other property of, or pertaining to such court, are hereby transferred to the district court in and for the same county, and such district court shall have full power and jurisdiction to hear, determine and dispose of all such matters, cases and proceedings.

In re Dewar's Estate, 10 Mont. 438; 25 Pac. 1027. Where an appeal in a probate case was perfected prior to the adoption of the constitution, the appellate jurisdiction of the district court in such case was not ousted by the provisions of the constitution abolishing probate courts and transferring pending probate matters to the district court for the exercise of original jurisdiction.

§ 14. All actions, cases and proceedings, and matters which shall be pending in the supreme and district courts of Montana territory at the time of the admission of the state into the union whereof the United States circuit or district court might have had jurisdiction, had such court existed at the commencement of such actions, cases, proceedings and matters, respectively, shall be transferred to said United States circuit and district courts respectively; and all the files, records, indictments and proceedings relating to such actions, cases, proceedings and matters shall be transferred to said United States courts; Provided. That no civil action, cause or proceeding to which the United States is not a party, shall be transferred to either of said United States courts except upon written request of one of the parties thereto and in the absence of such request, such case shall be proceeded with in the proper state courts.

§ 15. All actions, cases, proceedings and matters pending in the supreme and district courts of the territory of Montana at the time the state shall be admitted into the union, and all files, records and indictments relating thereto, except as otherwise provided herein, shall be appropriately transferred, as may be proper to the supreme and district courts of the state, respectively, and all such actions, cases and matters shall be proceeded with in the proper state courts.

§ 16. Upon a change from a territorial to a state government, and until otherwise provided by law, the great seal of the territory shall be deemed and taken to be the great seal of the state of Montana.

§ 17. All territorial, county and township officers now occupying their respective positions under the laws of the territory of Montana, or of the United States of America, shall continue and remain in their respective official positions and perform the duties thereof as now provided by law after the state is admitted into the union, and shall be considered state officers until their successors in office shall be duly elected and qualified, as provided by ordinance, notwithstanding any inconsistent provisions in this constitution, and shall be entitled to the same compensation for their services as is now established by law; Provided. That the compensation for justices of the supreme court, governor and secretary of the territory shall be paid by the state of Montana.

Done in open convention at the city of Helena, in the territory of Montana, this seventeenth day of August, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and eighty-nine.

ORDINANCE NO. I.

FEDERAL RELATIONS.

BE IT ORDAINED: First. That perfect toleration of religious sentiment shall be secured and that no inhabitant of the state of Montana shall ever be molested in person or property, on account of his or her mode of religious worship.

Second. That the people inhabiting the said proposed state of Montana, do agree and declare that they forever disclaim all right and title to the unappropriated public lands lying within the boundaries thereof, and to all lands lying within said limits owned or held by any Indian or Indian tribes, and that until the title thereto shall have been extinguished by the United States, the same shall be and remain subject to the disposition of the United States, and said Indian lands shall remain under the absolute jurisdiction and control of the congress of the United States, that the lands belonging to citizens of the United States, residing without the said state of Montana, shall never be taxed a higher rate than the lands belonging to residents thereof; that no taxes shall be imposed by the said state of Montana on lands or property therein belonging to, or which may hereafter be purchased by the United States or reserved for its use. But nothing herein contained shall preclude the said state of Montana from taxing as other lands are taxed any lands owned or held by any Indian who has severed his tribal relations and has obtained from the United States or from any person a title thereto by patent or other grant, save and except such lands as have been or may be granted to any Indian or Indians under any act of congress containing a provision exempting the lands thus granted from taxation, but said last named lands shall be exempt from taxation by said state of Montana so long and to such extent as such act of congress may prescribe.

Third. That the debts and liabilities of said territory of Montana shall be assumed and paid by said state of Montana.

Fourth. That provision shall be made for the establishment and maintenance of a uniform system of public schools, which shall be open to all the children of said state of Montana and free from sectarian control.

State v. Yellowstone Co., 12 Mont.
505; 31 Pac. 79.

State v. Long, 21 Mont. 30; 52 Pac.
646.

See note to section 1, article XI.

Fifth. That on behalf of the people of Montana, we in convention assembled, do adopt the constitution of the United States.

Sixth. That the ordinances in this article shall be irrevocable without the consent of the United States and the people of said state of Montana.

Seventh. The state hereby accepts the several grants of land from the United States to the state of Montana, mentioned in an act of congress, entitled "An act to provide for the division of Dakota into two states, and to enable the people of North Dakota, South Dakota, Montana and Washington, to form constitutions and state governments, and to be admitted into the union on an equal footing with the original states, and to make donations of public lands to such states." Approved February 22d, 1889, upon the terms and conditions therein provided.

State v. Cook, 17 Mont. 534; 43 Pac. 929. The state accepted the lands for the purposes specified and by legislation has provided for the erection of a capitol building from a fund to be created from the disposition of these lands. The state is an agent to carry out the objects of the donation, and this fund is not a state fund and its disbursement is not an expenditure of the state.

State v. Barret, 26 Mont. 64; 66 Pac. 505.

See note to section 20, article VII.

ELECTIONS.

Be it Ordained by the Convention assembled to form a Constitution for the State of Montana:

First. That an election shall be held throughout the territory of Montana on the first Tuesday of October, 1889, for the ratification or rejection of the constitution framed and adopted by this convention.

State v. Kenney, 9 Mont. 236; 23 Pac. 737. An ordinance, framed by the constitutional convention and appended to the constitution and with it adopted by the people had the same force as a revision of the constitution; and the effect of an ordinance upon the statute of the territory, providing for the canvass of votes cast for members of the legislative assembly is to modify its provisions so far as it is necessary to give the ordinance full scope.

Floyd v. Silver Bow Co., 11 Mont. 413; 28 Pac. 454.

State v. Mayhew, 21 Mont. 96; 52 Pac. 983.

See note to section 4, article XVI.

Second. At said election the constitution framed and adopted by this convention shall be submitted to the people of the territory for their ratification or rejection, and all persons who are then qualified electors under the laws of this territory, shall be qualified to vote for the ratification or rejection thereof.

Third. Said elections shall be held at the several polling places and precincts throughout the territory appointed for the holding of elections under the laws of the territory, and shall be conducted in the manner prescribed by the laws of the territory regulating elections. The boards of county commissioners of the several counties of the territory shall appoint judges and clerks of such election in each of said polling places and precincts in the same manner as is now required by law for the appointment of judges and clerks of general elections in the territory.

Fourth. Each elector voting at said election shall have written or printed upon the ticket he may deposit in the ballot box, the words "For the Constitution" or "Against the Constitution."

Fifth. The votes cast at said election for the adoption or rejection of said constitution shall be canvassed by the canvassing boards of the respective counties not later than fifteen days after said election, or sooner, if the returns from all of the precincts shall have been received and in the manner prescribed by the laws of the territory of Montana for canvassing the votes at general elections in said territory, and the returns of said election shall be made to the secretary of the territory, who with the governor, and the chief justice of the territory, or any two of them shall constitute a board of canvassers who shall meet at the office of the secretary of the territory on, or before, the thirtieth day after the election, and canvass the votes so cast and declare the result.

State v. Kenney, 9 Mont. 236; 23 Pac. 737.

Sixth. That on the first Tuesday in October, 1889, there shall be elected by the qualified electors of Montana, a governor, a lieutenant-governor, a secretary of state, an attorney general, a state treasurer, a state auditor, a state superintendent of public instruction, one chief justice, and two associate justices of the supreme court, a judge for each of the judicial districts established by this constitution, a clerk of the supreme court, and a clerk of the district court in and for each county of the state, and the members of the legislative assembly provided for in this constitution. The terms of officers so elected shall begin when the state shall be admitted into the union and shall end on the first Monday in January, 1893, except as otherwise provided.

State v. Kenney, 9 Mont. 236; 23 Pac. 737.

Seventh. There shall be elected at the same time one representative in the Fifty-first congress of the United States.

State v. Kenney, 9 Mont. 237; 23 Pac. 737.

Eighth. The votes for the above officers shall be returned and canvassed as is provided by law, and returns shall be made to the secretary of the territory and canvassed in the same manner and by the same board as is the vote upon the constitution, except as to clerk of the district court.

State v. Kenney, 9 Mont. 236; 23 Pac. 737.

Ninth. There shall also be elected at the same time the following county and township officers: Three county commissioners, one clerk of the board of commissioners and ex-officio recorder, one sheriff, one county treasurer, one county superintendent of common schools, one county surveyor, one county assessor, one coroner, one public administrator, one county attorney, two justices of the peace, and two constables for each township. The terms of office for the above named officers shall begin upon the admission of the state and end upon the first Monday of January, A. D. 1893, except as to county treasurer, whose term shall begin on the first Monday in March succeeding his election, and end on the first Monday of March, A. D. 1893, and also as to county commissioners, whose terms are otherwise provided for in this constitution.

State v. Kenney, 9 Mont. 236; 23 Pac. 737. A statute of the territory enacted prior to the enabling act and the adoption of the constitution, provided that the canvass of the votes cast for members of the legislative assembly should be made by boards of county commissioners of the respective counties in the territory, and certificates of election issued by the clerk thereof. This statute was in conflict with the enabling act and constitution, and did not remain in force after the adoption of the constitution. The board of canvassers provided for in this ordinance, consisting of the governor, chief justice and secretary of the territory, was the legal canvassing board to canvass the votes at the election in 1889 for members of the legislative assembly and declare the result, and a certificate of election issued by said board was prima facie evidence of the right of a person to be a member of the house of representatives.

Tenth. The votes for the above county and township officers and for clerk of the district court, shall be returned and canvassed and certificates of election to said officers issued as is now provided by law.

Eleventh. Notice of the election for the adoption or rejection of this constitution, and for state, district, county and township officers shall be given by the clerks of the several boards of county commissioners in the same manner as notice of general elections for delegate to congress and county officers is required to be given by the existing laws of the territory.

Twelfth. That the provisions of this ordinance shall apply only to the election and to the officers elected on the first Tuesday of October, 1899.

I--POLITICAL CODE.

AN ACT TO ESTABLISH A POLITICAL CODE.

Be it enacted by the Legislative Assembly of the State of Montana:

TITLE OF THE ACT.

1. (§ 1.) Division of the Codes.—This act shall be known as the political code of the state of Montana, and is divided into five parts, as follows:

- Part I. The sovereignty of the state, and the political rights and duties of all persons subject to its jurisdiction.
- Part II. The chief political divisions and seat of government.
- Part III. The government of the state.
- Part IV. The government of counties, cities, and towns.
- Part V. The definition and sources of law; the common law; the publication and effect of the codes; and the express repeal of statutes.

PRELIMINARY PROVISIONS.

- Section 2. When code takes effect.
- “ 3. Not retroactive.
- “ 4. Construction of the political code.
- “ 5. Provisions similar to existing laws, how construed.
- “ 6. Tenure of office preserved.
- “ 7. Construction of repeal as to certain officers.
- “ 8. Actions, etc., not affected by this code.
- “ 9. Limitations shall continue to run.
- “ 10. Holidays.
- “ 11. Computation of time.
- “ 12. Certain acts not to be done on holidays.
- “ 13. Seal defined.
- “ 14. Joint authority.
- “ 15. Words and phrases.
- “ 16. Certain terms used in this code defined.

Section 17. Statutes, laws, or rules inconsistent with code repealed.

“ 19. This act, how cited, etc.

2. (§ 2.) When code takes effect.—This code takes effect at twelve o'clock, noon, on the first day of July, A. D. 1895.

Dowty v. Pittwood, 23 Mont. 117; 57 Pac. 728. This section was inoperative upon existing laws before the first day of July, 1895.

3. (§ 3.) Not retroactive.—No part of it is retroactive, unless expressly so declared.

Teralta L. C. v. Shaffer, 116 Cal. 522; 48 Pac. 613.

4. (§ 4.) Construction of the political code.—The rule of the common law, that statutes in derogation thereof are to be strictly construed, has no application to this code. The code establishes the law of this state respecting the subjects to which it relates, and its provisions and all proceedings under it are to be liberally construed, with a view to effect its objects and to promote justice.

Nelson v. G. N. R. Co., 28 Mont. 322; 72 Pac. 650. The doctrine that “a statute in affirmance of the common law is to be construed as was the rule by that law” would, perhaps, be modified by this section.

Lawrence v. Westlake, 28 Mont. 506; 73 Pac. 120. The code establishes the law of this state respecting the subjects to which it relates.

City I. Co. v. Babcock, 139 Cal. 692; 73 Pac. 666.

5. (§ 5.) Provisions similar to existing laws, how construed.—The provisions of this code, so far as they are substantially the same as existing statutes, must be construed as continuations thereof, and not as new enactments.

6. (§ 6.) Tenure of office preserved.—All persons who at the time this code takes effect, hold office under any of the acts repealed, continue to hold the same according to the tenure thereof, except those offices which are not continued by one of the codes adopted at this session of the legislature, and excepting offices filled by appointment.

7. (§ 7.) Construction of repeal as to certain officers.—When any office is abolished by the repeal of any act, and such act is not in substance re-enacted or continued in either of the four codes, such office ceases at the time the codes take effect.

8. (§ 8.) Actions, etc., not affected by this code.—No action or proceeding commenced before this code takes effect, and no right accrued, is affected by its provisions, but the proceedings therein must conform to the requirements of this code as far as applicable.

9. (§ 9.) Limitations shall continue to run.—When a limitation or period of time prescribed in any existing statute for acquiring a right or barring a remedy or for any other purpose, has begun to run before this code goes into effect, and the same or any limitation is prescribed in this code, the time which has already run shall be deemed part of the time prescribed as such limitation by this code.

Guiterman v. Wishon, 21 Mont. 459; 54 Pac. 566.

Wilson v. Pickering, 28 Mont. 439; 72 Pac. 823. The status of a case is not affected by the codes of 1895 when the statute of limitations has fully run, unless tolled, prior to the time when the codes took effect.

In re Tuohy's Estate, 33 Mont. 246; 83 Pac. 490. It was contended by lega-tees that an application, by an executor to sell real estate of a decedent is barred by this and other sections prescribing the time within which actions may be brought to recover real estate, or the possession thereof, and that the application was not made before the limitation had run. The application is not an action of this nature.

10. (§ 10.) Holidays.—Holidays within the meaning of this code, are every Sunday, the first day of January, the twenty-second day of February, the thirtieth day of May, the fourth day of July, the first Monday of September, the twenty-fifth day of December, every day on which an election is held throughout the state; and every day appointed by the president of the United States, or by the governor of this state, for a public fast, thanksgiving or holiday. If the first day of January, the twenty-second day of February, the thirtieth day of May, the fourth day of July, or the twenty-fifth day of December, fall upon a Sunday, the Monday following is a holiday.

Butte v. Paltrovich, 30 Mont., 24; 75 Pac. 522. An ordinance of Butte makes it unlawful for any person to keep open a pawn shop, loan office or second hand store after six o'clock P. M., except on days preceding holidays, when the business may be conducted until ten P. M. This section provides for more than sixty holidays and the ordinance is not unreasonable.

People v. Loyaltton, 147 Cal. 776; 82 Pac. 621.

11. (§ 11.) Computation of time.—The time in which any act provided by law is to be done is computed by excluding the first day and including the last, unless the last day is a holiday, and then it is also excluded.

Scoville v. Anderson, 131 Cal. 594; 63 Pac. 1013.

12. (§ 12.) Certain acts not to be done on holidays.—Whenever any act of a secular nature, other than a work of necessity or mercy, is appointed by law or contract to be performed upon a particular day, which day falls upon a holiday, such act may be performed upon the next business day with the same effect as if it had been performed upon the day appointed.

Baxter v. Vineland District, 136 Cal. 193; 68 Pac. 601.

13. (§ 13.) Seal defined.—When the seal of a court, public officer or person is required by law to be affixed to any paper, the word "seal" includes an impression of such seal upon the paper alone as well as upon wax or a wafer affixed thereto.

14. (§ 14.) Joint authority.—Words giving a joint authority to three or more public officers, or other persons, are construed as giving such authority to a majority of them, unless it is otherwise expressed in the act giving the authority.

People v. Hecht, 105 Cal. 627; 38 Pac. 941.

15. (§ 15.) Words and phrases.—Words and phrases are construed according to the context and the approved usage of the language; but technical words and phrases, and such others as have acquired a peculiar and appropriate meaning in law, or are defined in the succeeding section, are to be construed according to such peculiar and appropriate meaning or definition.

State v. Cave, 20 Mont. 475; 52 Pac. 203. "Facility" is not a technical word, but one in common use, and its meaning is to be found in the sense attached to it by approved usage; and moneys raised by a tax to furnish "additional school facilities" may be used to pay the salaries of teachers.

16. (§ 16.) Certain terms used in this code defined.—Words used in this code in the present tense include the future as well as the present; words used in the masculine gender include the feminine and neuter; the singular number includes the plural and the plural the singular; the word "person" includes a corporation as well as a natural person; writing includes printing; "oath" includes affirmation or declaration; every mode of oral statement under oath or affirmation is embraced by the term "testify," and every written one in the term "depose;" signature or subscription includes mark, when the person cannot write, his name being written near it, and witnessed by a person who writes his own name as a witness. The following words, also, have in this code the signification attached to them in this section, unless otherwise apparent from the context:

1. The word "property" includes both real and personal property.

2. The words "real property" are co-extensive with lands, tenements and hereditaments, and possessory titles to public lands.

3. The words "personal property" include money, goods, chattels, things in action, and evidences of debt.

4. The word "year" as used in this code mean a calendar year, and the word "month" means a calendar month, unless otherwise expressed.

5. The word "will" includes codicils.

6. The word "writ" signifies an order or precept in writing, issued in the name of the state, or of a court or judicial officer; and the word "process," a writ or summons issued in the course of judicial proceedings.

7. The word "vessel," when used in reference to shipping, includes ships of all kinds, steamboats and steamships, canal boats and every structure adapted to be navigated from place to place.

8. The term "peace officer" signifies any of the officers mentioned in § 8924 (1375), of the penal code.

9. The term "magistrate" signifies any one of the officers mentioned in § 8923 (1374), of the penal code.

10. The word "state," when applied to the different parts of the United States, includes the District of Columbia and the territories; and the words "United States" may include the district and territories.

State v. District Court, 24 Mont. 333; 61 Pac. 883. In this section the legislature has classed an unpatented quartz-lode mining claim as real estate, and provided the same remedies for its protection as other real estate.

Hauswirth v. Mueller, 25 Mont. 161; 64 Pac. 326. The singular number when used in this code may include the plural, and the plural may include the singular; and a statute requiring the notice of a school election to contain "the time and place of holding the election" can designate different "places."

Wilson v. Harris, 21 Mont. 387; 54 Pac. 49. "Property," in its appropriate sense, denotes the interest one may have in land or chattels to the exclusion of others, although the word is frequently employed to indicate the subject of the property, rather than the property itself.

Courtney v. Missoula Co., 21 Mont. 593; 55 Pac. 360. For the purposes of taxation, "property" includes "real estate," and within the definition of "real estate" is the possession of land.

Butte H. Co. v. Frank, 25 Mont. 348; 65 Pac. 2. An unpatented mining claim is real property of the owner.

Sweeney v. M. C. L. Co., 25 Mont. 561; 65 Pac. 918. An unpatented mining claim is real estate, property in every sense of the word, against all the world, while the owner of the claim is in possession, complying with the law, and performing the conditions precedent to the obtaining of his patent.

17. (§ 17.) Statutes, laws, or rules inconsistent with code repealed.—No statute, law, or rule, is continued in force because it is consistent with the provisions of this code on the same subject; but in all cases provided for by this code all statutes, laws and rules, heretofore in force in this state, whether consistent or not with the provisions of this code, unless expressly continued in force by it, are repealed and abrogated. This repeal or abrogation does not revive any former law heretofore repealed, nor does it affect any right already existing or accrued, or any action or proceeding already taken, except as in this code provided, nor does it affect any private statute not expressly repealed.

Dowty v. Pittwood, 23 Mont. 116; 57 Pac. 727. This section did not repeal the whole of the Compiled Statutes, or of the statutes which were in force, but only such statutes as were inconsistent, or were not consistent, with the provisions of the new codes on the same subject,

People v. Clunie, 70 Cal. 505; 11 Pac. 775.

18. (§ 18.) Certain statutes preserved.—Nothing in either of the four codes affects any of the provisions of any special, local, or private statutes, but such statutes are recognized as continuing in force, notwithstanding the provisions of the codes, except so far as they have been repealed or affected by subsequent laws.

19. (§ 19.) This act, how cited, etc.—This act, whenever cited, enumerated, referred to, or amended, may be designated simply as the political code, adding, when necessary, the number of the section.

PART I.

THE SOVEREIGNTY OF THE STATE, AND THE POLITICAL RIGHTS AND DUTIES OF ALL PERSONS SUBJECT TO ITS JURISDICTION.

TITLE I. SOVEREIGNTY OF THE STATE.

II. PERSONS COMPOSING THE PEOPLE OF THE STATE.

III. POLITICAL RIGHTS AND DUTIES OF ALL PERSONS SUBJECT TO THE JURISDICTION OF THE STATE.

TITLE I.

SOVEREIGNTY OF THE STATE.

CHAPTER I. RESIDENCE OF SOVEREIGNTY.

II. TERRITORIAL JURISDICTION OF THE STATE.

III. GENERAL RIGHTS OF THE STATE OVER PERSONS.

IV. GENERAL RIGHTS OF THE STATE OVER PROPERTY.

CHAPTER I.

20. (§ 30.) Residence of sovereignty.—The sovereignty of the state resides in the people thereof, but the style of all process must be "The State of Montana," and all prosecutions must be conducted in the name of the state.

CHAPTER II.

TERRITORIAL JURISDICTION OF THE STATE.

Section 21. Territorial jurisdiction; limitations on.

" 22. Military reservations, etc.

" 23. Purchase, etc., of lands by United States for public use.

" 24. Same.

21. (§ 40.) Territorial jurisdiction; limitations on.—The sovereignty and jurisdiction of this state extends to all places within its boundaries as established by the constitution, excepting such places as are under the exclusive jurisdiction of the United States; but the extent of such jurisdiction over places that have been or may be ceded to, purchased or condemned by the United States, is qualified by the terms of such cession, or the laws under which such purchase or condemnation has been or may be made.

State v. Tully, 31 Mont. 376; 78 Pac. 764. Under sections 40, 41, 42 and 43 of this code, the state consents to the purchase, condemnation or acquisition of lands by the United States. Where, however, the United States still retains its original ownership of the land, neither purchase, condemnation nor acquisition is necessary, but that actual occupation for any purpose indicated in these sections, stands in lieu thereof. Mere occupancy of government land by the military for any purpose, not indicated in the law or the constitution, would not of itself be sufficient to divest the state of sovereignty granted to it by Congress, nor does the right reserved to serve state process on these reservations infringe on the exclusive jurisdiction of the United States.

22. (§ 41.) Military reservations, etc.—Authority is granted to and acknowledged in the United States to exercise exclusive legislation as provided by the constitution of the United States, over the military reservations of Fort Assinaboine, Fort Custer, Fort Keogh, Fort Maginnis, Fort Missoula, and Fort Shaw, as now established by law, so long as said places remain military reservations, to the same extent and with the same effect as if said reservations had been purchased by the United States by consent of the legislative assembly of the state of Montana.

All legal process of the state, both civil and criminal, may be served upon persons and property found within any of said reservations or on any Indian reservation in all cases where the United States has not exclusive jurisdiction.

State v. Tully, 31 Mont. 375. 78 Pac. 763. The Constitution of Montana and this section acknowledge absolute sovereingnty in the United States over the places named or referred to.

23. (§ 42.) Purchase, etc., of lands by United States for public use.—The legislative assembly consents to the purchase or condemnation by the United States of any tract of land within this state for the purpose of erecting forts, magazines, arsenals, court houses, postoffices, and other needful buildings, upon the express condition that all civil process issued from the courts of this state, and such criminal process as may issue under the authority of this state against any person charged with crime, may be served and executed thereon in the same mode and manner and by the same officers as if the purchase or condemnation had not been made.

State v. Tully, 31 Mont. 375; 78 Pac. 763. The Legislative Assembly has recognized absolute authority in the general government over all places subsequently acquired and used by the government for any of the purposes named in the Constitution of the United States, and consented to the purchase or condemnation by the United States of any land within the state for erecting forts, magazines, arsenals, court houses, post offices and other needful buildings, and the only condition attached is that process of the state may be served in any of such places.

24. (§ 43.) Same.—That pursuant to article I, § 8, paragraph 17, of the constitution of the United States, consent to purchase is hereby given, and exclusive jurisdiction ceded, to the United States over and with respect to any lands within the limits of this state, which shall be acquired by the United States, for any of the purposes described in said paragraph of the constitution of the United States; said jurisdiction to continue as long as the said lands are held and occupied by the United States for public purposes; reserving, however, to this state, a concurrent jurisdiction for the execution upon said lands of all process, civil, or criminal, lawfully issued by the courts of the state, and not incompatible with the cession hereby made; Provided, that an accurate map or plat and description by metes and bounds of said land shall be filed in the office of the county clerk and recorder of the county in which the same are situated, and if such lands shall be within the corporate limits of any city, such map or plat shall also be filed in the office of the city clerk of said city; and provided further, that the state reserves the right to tax all property of any railroad or other corporation having a right of way or location over or upon the said land. [Act approved March 9, 1893.]

State v. Tully, 31 Mont. 375; 78 Pac. 763. The state gives its consent to the purchase, and exclusive jurisdiction is ceded to the United States over any lands within the limits of the state, which shall be acquired by the United States for purposes therein specified.

CHAPTER III.

GENERAL RIGHTS OF THE STATE OVER PERSONS.

25. (§ 50.) Rights over persons enumerated.—The state has the following rights over persons within its limits, to be exercised in the cases and in the manner provided by law :

1. To punish for crime.
2. To imprison or confine for the protection of the public peace or health, or of individual life or safety.
3. To imprison or confine for the purpose of enforcing civil remedies.
4. To establish custody and restraint for the persons of idiots, lunatics, drunkards, and other persons of unsound mind.
5. To establish custody and restraint of paupers for the purpose of their maintenance.
6. To establish custody and restraint of minors unprovided for by natural guardians, for the purposes of their education, reformation, and maintenance.
7. To require services of persons, with or without compensation, in military duty, in jury duty, as witnesses, as town, village or city officers, in highway labor, in maintaining the public peace, in enforcing the service of process, in protecting life and property from fire, pestilence, wreck and flood, and in such other cases as are provided by statute.

People v. Collins, 105 Cal. 508, subd. 1; 39 Pac. 16.

GENERAL RIGHTS OF THE STATE OVER PROPERTY.

Section 26. Original and ultimate title.

" 27. Property escheats, when.

" 28. Acquisition by taxation and assessment.

" 29. By right of eminent domain.

26. (§ 60.) Original and ultimate title.—The original and ultimate right of all property, real and personal, within the jurisdiction of this state and not belonging to the United States, is in the people of the state.

27. (§ 61.) Property escheats, when.—Whenever the title to any property fails for want of heirs or next of kin, it reverts to the state. All property within the limits of this state which does not belong to any person, belongs to the state.

28. (§ 62.) Acquisition by taxation and assessment.—The state or any county thereof, may acquire property by taxation in the modes authorized by law.

29. (§ 63.) By right of eminent domain.—The state may acquire or authorize others to acquire title to property, real or personal, for public use, in the cases and in the modes provided in title VII, part III, of the code of civil procedure.

TITLE II.

PERSONS COMPOSING THE PEOPLE OF THE STATE.

Section 30. Who are the people.

30. (§ 70.) Who are the people.—The people, as a political body, consist:

1. Of electors.

2. Of citizens not electors.

31. (§ 71.) Who are citizens.—The citizens of the state are.

1. All persons born in this state and residing within it, except the children of transient aliens.

2. All persons born out of this state who are citizens of the United States and residing within this state.

Donovan v. Smith, 21 Mont. 344; 53 Pac. 1133. The architects for the State Capitol building were citizens of the United States, and before the contract for the plans were made, left the place where they then resided without any intention of returning, and with the intention of removing to Montana. When the contract was made, they were residing in the state, and the court held they were citizens of Montana.

32. (§ 72.) Residence, rules for determining.—Every person has, in law, a residence. In determining the place of residence the following rules are to be observed:

1. It is the place where one remains when not called elsewhere for labor or other special or temporary purpose, and to which he returns in seasons of repose.

2. There can only be one residence.

3. A residence cannot be lost until another is gained.

4. The residence of the father during his life, and after his death the residence of the mother, while she remains unmarried, is the residence of the unmarried minor children.

5. The residence of the husband is presumptively the residence of the wife.

6. The residence of an unmarried minor who has a parent living, cannot be changed by either his own act or that of his guardian.

7. The residence can be changed only by the union of act and intent.

Huston v. Anderson, 145 Cal. 328, Subd. 3; 78 Pac. 626.

242. (§ 696.) Appeals.—Any person interested, who is aggrieved by the disapproval of a claim by the board, may appeal from the decision to the legislative assembly of the state, by filing with the board a notice thereof, and upon the receipt of such notice the board must transmit the demand and all the papers accompanying the same, with a statement of the evidence taken before it, to the legislative assembly.

243. (§ 697.) Auditor not to draw warrant for claims not audited.—The state auditor must not draw his warrant for any claim unless it has been approved by the board, except for salaries or compensation of officers fixed by law.

Sawyer v. Colgan, 102 Cal. 285; 36 Pac. 580.

244. (§ 698.) Board may prevent payment of auditor's warrants.—Whenever the board has reason to believe that the state auditor has drawn, or is about to draw his warrant without authority of law, or for a larger amount than the state actually owes, the board must notify the state treasurer not to pay the warrant so drawn or to be drawn; and thereupon the treasurer is prohibited from paying the warrant, whether already drawn or not, until he is otherwise directed by the legislative assembly or the board.

245. (§ 699.) Must examine books of auditor and treasurer.—As often as it may deem proper the board must examine the books of the state auditor and state treasurer, the accounts and vouchers in their offices, and count the money in the treasury, and for that purpose they may demand and the state auditor and state treasurer must furnish without delay, all information touching the books, papers, vouchers, or matters pertaining to their offices.

246. (§ 700.) Must make statement.—The board must, at least, once in each month, make and file in the office of the secretary of state, and publish in some newspaper at the seat of government, a statement showing the amount of money in the treasury.

247. (§ 701.) Auditor and treasurer must permit examination, etc.—The state auditor and state treasurer must permit the board of examiners to examine the books and papers in their respective offices, and the treasurer must permit the money in the treasury, without delay on any pretense whatever, to be counted whenever the board wishes to make an examination or count.

248. (§ 702.) Furnishing board.—That the governor, secretary of state and attorney general of the state of Montana are hereby constituted ex-officio a furnishing board, with the powers and duties hereinafter specified. [Act approved March 3, 1895.]

259. (§ 703.) Board of supplies.—The board of examiners is also a board of supplies and furnishing board.

250. (§ 704.) Duty of such board.—It is the duty of such board:

1. To contract for the furnishing of all stationery, printing, binding, paper, fuel, lights, and other necessary supplies, to be used by the legislative assembly and all other departments of the government, and the printing, binding and distributing of the laws, codes, journals, department reports, reports of the decisions of the supreme court, and all other printing and binding, and repairing of any books used by any state officer or department.

2. To hire all offices for the state officers, and to furnish the same; to keep the furniture in repair, and to hire and furnish halls and rooms for the use of the legislative assembly, and to provide furniture therefor, and keep the same in repair.

3. To cause to be deposited in the office of the secretary of state all stationery, books and other articles and supplies furnished and on hand, and to issue to any officer a requisition on the secretary of state for any books, stationery, or other supplies needed by such officer.

4. At the end of each fiscal year, and at such other times as the board thinks proper, to cause an inventory to be taken of all articles and supplies on hand and contracted for, and to make an examination of all accounts and vouchers for such supplies.

5. To establish rules for the government of the board in relation to all contracts not inconsistent with law.

State v. Smith, 23 Mont. 44; 57 Pac. 449. Sections 704-714 inclusive provide for the letting of a contract by the state board of examiners for state printing.

251. (§ 705.) Contracts must be advertised.—Before any contract is let the board must advertise for twenty days in two daily newspapers printed in the state, one of which must be published at the seat of government, for sealed proposals to furnish any and all the supplies mentioned in the next preceding section.

State v. Toole, 26 Mont. 35; 66 Pac. 501. An advertisement for the furnishing of supplies to the state was published in a daily newspaper printed at the seat of government, but it was not printed in any other newspaper within the state.

This section was not complied with, and therefore the agents of the state could not make a valid contract. This section is not repugnant to Section 30, Article V of the constitution.

252. (§ 706.) Contents of advertisement.—The board must specify in the advertisement the amount and kind of each article required. A sample and minute description of each article must accompany and be deposited with each proposal.

State v. Toole, 26 Mont. 27; 66 Pac. 498.

253. (§ 707.) Awarding the contract.—The proposals received must be directed to the board, opened and compared by it at its office at twelve o'clock, noon, of the day specified in the advertisement, and the board must award the contract for furnishing such supplies, or any of them, to the lowest responsible bidder at such time.

State v. Toole, 26 Mont. 28; 66 Pac. 499. The board of examiners must award the contract to the lowest responsible bidder, unless the bids be rejected, and cannot insert in the written contract any condition not consonant with the contract made by the acceptance of the bid. In the absence of fraud or other legal reason sufficient to render the acceptance void or voidable, the contract resulting therefrom cannot (unless by mutual consent) be changed or annulled, nor may its obligations be impaired, by any act of the board.

254. State printing.—Union Label.—All printing for which the State of Montana is chargeable, including reports of State Officers, State Boards, Pamphlets, Blanks, Letter-heads, Envelopes, and printed matter of every kind and description, save and except certificates of appointment and election to office, shall have the label of the branch of the International Typographical Union of the city in which they are printed. [Act approved March 3rd, 1897, § 1.] (5th Sess. 58.)

255. Penalty.—Any officer of the State who shall accept any printed matter, save and except certificates named in Section 1, for which the State is chargeable, which does not bear a label indicating that it was printed in an office under the jurisdiction of the International Typographical Union, shall be subject to a fine of Fifty Dollars for each and every offense. [Act approved March 3rd, 1897, § 2.] (5th Sess. 58.)

256. (§ 708.) The bond.—Each bid must be accompanied by a bond with two or more sureties in a sum not less than twice the amount of the value of the articles to be supplied, payable to the state, conditioned that if the bidder receives the contract he will deliver the supplies for which he has contracted, under such rules and regulations as the board may prescribe; and for the faithful performance of the contract.

State v. Hogan, 22 Mont. 385; 56 Pac. 818.

State v. Toole, 26 Mont. 27; 66 Pac. 498.

State v. Smith, 23 Mont. 46; 57 Pac. 449.

257. (§ 709.) Supplies may be classified.—The board may in the advertisement classify the supplies and articles to be furnished, and may receive bids, and award contracts for such separate class of supplies, or such separate articles, as it considers the lowest and best bid. The board may require any class of supplies or separate articles thereof to be delivered in installments. Any and all bids may be rejected, and the board may advertise again.

State v. Toole, 26 Mont. 29; 66 Pac. 499.

258. (§ 710.) Must be approved by governor and state treasurer.—All contracts made by the board must be approved by the governor and the state treasurer.

State v. Hogan, 22 Mont. 389; 56 Pac. 820. This section must be complied with and the contract of a party with the board of examiners to do the state printing, without the approval of the governor and state treasurer is void.

State v. Smith, 23 Mont. 47; 57 Pac. 449. The contract referred to in State

v. Hogan, supra, was again before the Supreme Court. The duty of the governor and state Treasurer to approve such contract let by the board of examiners involves judicial discretion, and cannot be controlled by mandamus.

State v. Toole, 26 Mont. 29; 66 Pac. 499.

259. (§ 711.) For supplies for the legislative assembly.—The board must, at least one month before the meeting of the legislative assembly, advertise as provided in the preceding sections, for the repairing and furnishing the halls and rooms, and stationery, fuel, light, and such other supplies as are necessary for the members of the legislative assembly, at the ensuing session, and at the commencement of each session thereof the board must report to the legislative assembly an account of the supplies, expenditures for the same, and the stock on hand.

260. (§ 712.) Rooms for state officers.—The board may hire the necessary rooms for the state officers, and halls and rooms for the legislative assembly and its committees, without advertising as provided in this article, if the board so decide.

261. (§ 713.) No officer to be interested in contracts.—No member or officer of any department of the government must be in any way interested in any contract made under the provisions of this article.

262. (§ 714.) Board may employ clerical help for state officers.—The board of examiners may at any time when necessary, employ clerical help for any state officer or board, and no clerks must be employed by such officers or board without the authority of the board of examiners, and no such clerks must be employed by the board of examiners except when all the duties of the office cannot be performed by the officer himself.

263. Contracts in excess of appropriation prohibited.—No State officer, State Board of trustees, or managers or commissioners shall have any authority to, or shall contract any liability or indebtedness whatever in excess of the amount appropriated to such officer, board of trustees, or managers or commissioners, or for the office, institution, commission or organization under his or their management or control, without previous authorization from the State Board of Examiners, and if any liability or indebtedness be incurred or expenditure be made, in violation of this act, no claim therefor shall be allowed by the State Board of Examiners. No surety company or corporation organized under or that has complied with the laws of this State, and has been duly licensed to do business as such herein, shall be required to justify as a surety, and no such company or corporation shall be accepted, as a surety in any case when its liabilities exceed its assets, as ascertained in the manner provided by law.

No member of the Board of County Commissioners, can be accepted as a surety upon the official bond of any county, township or school district officer in his county; nor must any county officer become a surety upon the official bond of any other county officer. 386. When sureties liable for less than full amount.—When the penal sum of any bond required to be given amounts to more than one thousand dollars, the sureties may become severally liable for portions not less than five hundred dollars thereof, making in the aggregate a liability of double the amount named as the penal sum of the bond. And if any such bond becomes forfeited, an action may be brought thereon against any or all of the obligors and judgment entered against them either jointly or severally, as they may be liable. The judgment must not be entered against a surety severally bound for a greater sum than that for which he is specially liable by the terms of the bond. Each surety is liable to contribute to his co-sureties in proportion to the amount for which he is liable. [Act approved March 7th, 1899, § 4.] (6th Sess. 80.)

387. (§ 1060.) Custody of official bonds.—Every officer with whom official bonds are filed must carefully keep and preserve the same, and give certified copies thereof to any person demanding the same, upon being paid the same fees as are allowable by law for certified copies of papers in other cases.

388. (§ 1061.) Forms of bonds.—All official bonds must be in form joint and several, and made payable to the state of Montana in such penalty and with such conditions as required by this chapter, or the law creating or regulating the duties of the office.

389. (§ 1062.) Construction of bonds.—Every official bond executed by any officer pursuant to law is in force and obligatory upon the principal and sureties therein for any and all breaches of the conditions thereof committed during the time such officer continues to discharge any of the duties of or hold the office, and whether such breaches are committed or suffered by the principal officer, his deputy or clerk.

390. (§ 1063.) Same.—Every such bond is in force and obligatory upon the principal and sureties therein for the faithful discharge of all duties which may be required of such officer by any law enacted subsequently to the execution of such bond, and such condition must be expressed therein.

391. (§ 1064.) Suit on bonds.—Every official bond executed by any officer pursuant to law is in force and obligatory upon the principal and sureties therein to and for the state of Montana, and to and for the use and benefit of all persons who may be injured or aggrieved by the wrongful act or default of such officer in his official capacity; and any person so injured or aggrieved may bring suit on such bond in his own name, without an assignment thereof.

392. (§ 1065.) Same.—No such bond is void on the first recovery of a judgment thereon; but suit may be afterwards brought from time to time, and judgment recovered thereon by the state of Montana, or by any person to whom a right of action has accrued against such officer and his sureties, until the whole penalty of the bond is exhausted.

393. Defects in form, approval, filing, etc., not to vitiate.—Whenever an official bond does not contain the substantial matter or conditions required by law or there are any defects in the approval or filing thereof, it is not void so as to discharge such officer and sureties; but they are equitably bound to the state or party interested; and the state or such party may, by action in any court of competent jurisdiction, suggest the defect in the bond, approval, or filing, and recover the proper and equitable demand or damages from such officer and the persons who intended to become and were included as sureties in such bond.

394. Defective official bonds.—No Official Bond entered into by any officer, nor any Bond, recognizance, or written undertaking taken by any officer in the discharge of the duties of his office, shall be void for want of form or substance or recital or condition, nor the principal or surety be discharged, but the principal and surety shall be bound by such bond, recognizance, or written undertaking to the full extent contemplated by the law requiring the same, and the sureties to the amount specified in the bond or recognizance or written undertaking. In all actions on a defective bond, recognizance, or written undertaking, the plaintiff or relator may suggest the defect in his complaint and recover to the same extent as if such bond, recognizance, or written undertaking were perfect in all respects. [Act approved March 9, 1907.] (10th Sess. Chap. 193.)

395. Insufficiency of sureties.—Whenever it is shown by the affidavit of a credible witness, or otherwise comes to the knowledge of the court, judge, board, person or body whose duty it is to approve the official bond of any officer, that the sureties on any bond given pursuant to the provisions of this article as amended by this Act, or any one of them have since such bond was approved died, removed from the State, become insolvent, or from any other cause have become incompetent or insufficient sureties on such bond, the court, judge, board, officer or other person may issue a citation to such officer, requiring him on a day therein named, not less than five nor more than ten days after date, to appear and show cause why such office should not be vacated, which citation must be served and return thereof made as in other cases. If the officer fails to appear and show good cause why such office should not be vacated, on the day named, or fails to give ample additional security, the court, judge, board, officer, or other person must make an order vacating the office, and the same must be filed as provided by law. [Act approved March 7th, 1899, § 5.] (6th Sess. 81.)

396. (§ 1068.) Form of additional bond.—The additional bond must be in such penalty as directed by the court, judge, board, officer, or other person, and in all other respects similar to the original bond, and approved by and filed with the same officer as required in case of the approval and filing of the original bond. Every such additional bond so filed and approved is of like force and obligation upon the principal and sureties therein, from the time of its execution, and subjects the officer and his sureties to the same liabilities, suits, and actions, as are prescribed respecting the original bonds of officers.

397. (§ 1069.) Force of original bond.—In no case is the original bond discharged or affected when an additional bond has been given, but the same remains of like force and obligation as if such additional bond had not been given.

398. (§ 1070.) Liability of officers and sureties.—The officer and his sureties are liable to any party injured by the breach of any condition of an official bond, after the execution of the additional bond, upon either or both bonds, and such party may bring his action upon either bond, or he may bring separate actions on the bonds respectively, and he may allege the same cause of action, and recover judgment therefor in each suit.

399. (§ 1071.) Separate judgments on bonds.—If separate judgments are recovered on the bonds by such party for the same cause of action, he is entitled to have execution issued on such judgments respectively; but he must only collect by execution, or otherwise, the amount actually adjudged to him on the same causes of action in one of the suits, together with the costs of both suits.

400. (§ 1072.) Contribution between sureties.—Whenever the sureties on either bond have been compelled to pay any sum of money on account of the principal obligor therein, they are entitled to recover in any court of competent jurisdiction, of the sureties on the remaining bond a distributive part of the sum thus paid, in the proportion which the penalties of such bonds bear one to the other and to the sums thus paid respectively.

Hewlett v. Beede, 2 Cal. App. 564; 83 Pac. 1086.

401. Discharge of sureties.—Whenever any sureties on the official bond of any officer wish to be discharged from their liability, they and such officer may procure the same to be done, if such officer will execute a new bond in accordance with the provisions of this Article as amended by this Act, in like form, penalty and conditions and to be approved and filed as the original bond. Upon the filing and approval of the new bond, such first sureties are exonerated from all further liability; but their bond remains in full force as to all liabilities incurred previous to the approval of such new bond. The liability of the principal and surety or sureties in such new bond is in all respects the same, and may be enforced in like manner as the liability of the principal and sureties of the original bond. [Act approved March 7th, 1899, § 6.] (6th Sess. 81.)

402. (§ 1074.) Persons appointed to fill vacancies, bonds of.—Any person appointed to fill a vacancy, before entering upon the duties of the office, must give a bond corresponding in substance and form with the bond required of the officer originally elected or appointed, as hereinbefore provided.

403. (§ 1075.) Release of sureties.—Any surety on the official bond of a city, town, township, county or state officer, may be relieved from liabilities thereon afterwards accruing, by complying with the provisions of the three sections following.

Philipsburg v. Degenhart, 30 Mont. 302; 76 Pac. 695. It is apparent from this section that Article IX, Political Code, includes the official bonds of city treasurers.

404. (§ 1076.) Same.—Such surety must file with the judge, court, board, officer, or other person authorized by law to approve such official bond, a statement in writing setting forth the desire of the surety to be relieved from all liabilities thereon afterwards arising, and the reason therefor; which statement must be subscribed and verified by the affidavit of the party filing the same.

405. (§ 1077.) Same.—A copy of the statement must be served on the officer named in such official bond, and due return or affidavit of service made thereon as in other cases.

406. (§ 1078.) Office declared vacant for want of official bond.—In ten days after the service of such notice, the judge, court, board, officer, or other person with whom the same is filed must make an order declaring such office vacant, and releasing such surety from all liability thereafter to arise on such official bond, and such office thereafter is in law vacant, and must be immediately filled by election or appointment, as provided for by law as in other cases of vacancy of such office, unless such officer has before that time given good and ample surety for the discharge of all his official duties as required originally.

407. (§ 1079.) Supplemental bond.—Whenever, from any cause, a surety on the official bond of any officer elected or appointed under the laws of this state withdraws from his bond or becomes insolvent or from other cause becomes incompetent to remain as surety thereon, such officer may file a supplemental bond, executed and approved in the same manner as the original bond, for the amount for which the surety so withdrawing or incompetent was bound by the original bond.

408. (§ 1080.) Same.—The release, discharge, voluntary withdrawal or incompetency of a surety on any official bond, does not affect the bond as to the remaining sureties thereon, or alter or change their liability in any respect.

People v. Otto, 77 Cal. 49; 18 Pac. 869.

409. (§ 1081.) Same.—Whenever a surety on any official bond gives notice of an intention to withdraw therefrom, or is removed, or becomes otherwise incompetent, the principal on the bond must, within ten days after such notice or disqualification, execute and file, subject to the same conditions as the original, a supplemental bond, wherein must be recited the names of the remaining original sureties and of the new surety or sureties, and the respective amounts for which he, or they, become bound, who are substituted in lieu of the surety, or sureties, released or disqualified.

410. (§ 1082.) Same.—Whenever the original bond is given for an amount in excess of the sum required by law, if the withdrawal or removal of any surety does not reduce the bond below the amount required by law to be secured by sureties, then no supplemental or additional bond is required or necessary; and whenever any supplemental bond is so filed and approved, the officer with whom the bond is filed, or in whose office the same is recorded, must give ten days' notice—by publication in some paper published in the county, or if there is no paper in the county, then in the county nearest thereto in which a newspaper is published, and in case of a bond of a state officer, in some paper at the seat of government, of the fact of the filing of the bond and the name of the party withdrawing from the former and the substitute on the new bond; and until the filing and approval of the supplemental bond the sureties on the former bond are liable for all the acts of their principal.

411. (§ 1083.) Effect of discharge of sureties.—No surety must be released from damages or liabilities for acts, omissions, or causes existing or which arose before the making of the order mentioned in § 406 (1078), but such legal proceedings may be had therefor in all respects as though no such order had been made.

412. To what bonds applicable.—The provisions of this Article, as the same shall be in force after amendment by this Act, shall apply to all official bonds, and to the bonds and undertakings of receivers, executors, administrators and guardians, and to bonds and undertakings given in injunction proceedings, and to all bonds and undertakings required by law to be given and approved by any court, judge, board, person or body, and, except as to requirements of such approval, the provisions shall apply to all bonds given or required by law to be given in attachment proceedings, criminal actions or proceedings, bail bonds, appeal bonds, and all bonds given or required to be given in any legal proceedings or action in any court of this State. [Act approved March 7th, 1899, § 7.] (6th Sess. 81-2.)

413. (§ 1085.) Bonds of receivers, assignees, etc.—All bonds or undertakings given by trustees, receivers, assignees, or officers of a court, in an action or proceeding for the faithful discharge of their duties, where it is not otherwise provided, must be in the name of and payable to the state of Montana, and upon the order of the court where such action or proceeding is pending may be prosecuted for the benefit of any and all interested therein.

414. (§ 1086.) Actions on official bonds, effect of.—When an action is commenced in any court in this state, for the benefit of the state, to enforce the penalty of, or to recover money upon an official bond or obligation, or any bond or obligation executed in favor of the state of Montana or of the people of this state, the attorney or other person prosecuting the action may file with the clerk of the court in which the action is commenced, an affidavit, stating either positively or on information and belief, that such bond or obligation was executed by the defendant, or one or more of the defendants (designating whom), and made payable to the people of the state or to the state of Montana, and that the defendant or defendants have real estate or some interest in lands (designating the county or counties in which the same is situated), and that the action is prosecuted for the benefit of the state, and thereupon the clerk of the court receiving such affidavit must certify to the county clerk in which such real estate is situated the names of the parties to the action, the name of the court in which the action is pending, and the amount claimed in the complaint, with the date of the commencement of the suit.

415. (§ 1087.) Same.—Upon receiving such certificate, the county clerk must indorse upon it the time of its reception, and such certificate must be filed in the same manner as notices of the pendency of action affecting real estate; and any judgment recovered in such action is a lien upon all real estate situated in any county in which such certificate is so filed, belonging to the defendant, or to one or more of such defendants, for the amount the owner thereof is or may be liable upon the judgment, from the filing of this certificate.

416. (§ 1088.) Bonds of deputies, clerks, etc.—Every officer or body appointing a deputy, clerk or subordinate officer, may require an official bond to be given by the person appointed, and may fix the amount thereof.

417. (§ 1089.) Bond of county clerk, where filed.—The official bond of the county clerk must, after being recorded, be filed in the office of the county treasurer, and the safe keeping of the same is hereby made the duty of the county treasurer.

418. (§ 1090.) Actions to compel specific performance, etc.—In any action to compel the specific performance of an agreement to sell real estate affected by the lien created by the filing of the certificate mentioned in § 418 (1087), which agreement was made prior to the filing of such certificate, but the purchase price thereof is not due until after the filing of said certificate, the judge of the district court in which said action for specific performance is tried, must, if the purchaser is otherwise entitled to specific performance of such agreement, order the said purchaser to pay the purchase price, or so much thereof as may be due, to the state treasurer, taking his receipt therefor. Upon such payment the purchaser is entitled to enforce the specific performance of the agreement, and take said real estate free from the liens created from the filing of said certificate. The moneys so paid to the state treasurer must be held by him, pending the litigation mentioned in said certificate, and subject to the lien created by the filing of said certificate. If judgment is recovered against the defendant the state treasurer in his settlement must pay to the county treasurer entitled to the same, the amount due the county.

In re Craigie's Estate, 24 Mont. 42; 60 Pac. 496.

State v. Acton, 31 Mont. 39; 77 Pac.

300. An office becomes vacant on the happening of certain events enumerated in this section, and this enumeration is exclusive. The contingency of a tie vote is not provided for, and when the two candidates for the office of county superintendent of schools received an equal number of votes, there was no vacancy, and the previous incumbent was entitled to hold the office until a successor was regularly elected.

422. (§ 1103.) Vacancies in legislative assembly, how filled.—Whenever a vacancy, or failure to elect by reason of a tie vote occurs in either house of the legislative assembly, the governor must at once issue a writ of election to fill such vacancy.

State v. Page, 20 Mont. 244; 50 Pac. 721. This section applies to all cases of vacancies where no mode is provided by law for filling the same. While the consent of the board of land commissioners to an appointment by the governor is necessary where a person is appointed to succeed one whose term has expired, the governor alone must appoint, where a vacancy is to be filled in the office of state land agent, by granting a commission until the end of the next session of the legislature.

424. (§ 1105.) Vacancies occurring during recess of the legislative assembly.—Vacancies occurring in office during the recess of the legislative assembly, the appointment to which is vested in the governor and senate, or in the legislative assembly, must be filled by appointment made by the governor; but the person so appointed can only hold the office until the adjournment of the next session of the legislative assembly.

State v. Page, 20 Mont. 245; 50 Pac. 721. People v. Tyrell, 87 Cal. 478; 25 Pac. 684.

At such election the office must be filled by election for the unexpired term.

426. (§ 1107.) Powers and duties of officer filling unexpired term.—Any person elected or appointed to fill a vacancy, after filing his official oath and bond, possesses all the rights and powers, and is subject to all the liabilities, duties, and obligations, as if he had been elected to the office for a full term.

- III. MISCELLANEOUS PROVISIONS.

ARTICLE I.

“ 451. Special elections, call.

450. (§ 1150.) General elections, when to be held.—There must be held throughout the state, on the first Tuesday after the first Monday of November, in the year eighteen hundred and ninety-four, and in every second year thereafter, an election to be known as the general election.

“ 455. Election proclamation by county commissioners.

452. (§ 1160.) Election proclamations by the governor.—At least sixty days before a general election, and whenever he orders a special election to fill a vacancy in the office of state senator or member of the house of representatives at least ten days before such special election, the governor must issue an election proclamation, under his hand and the great seal of the state, and transmit copies thereof to the boards of commissioners of the counties in which such elections are to be held.

State v. Toole, 32 Mont. 8; 79 Pac. 404. The governor issued his proclamation giving notice of a general election to be held November 8, 1904, under this and the following section, and omitted therefrom the mention of an election of three judges for the second judicial district, and called for the election of two judges. The relator claimed three judges should have been mentioned in the proclamation, and that he was elected and entitled to receive from the governor a commission as judge. It did not appear that the electors voted for more than two candidates for judgeships, and the petition was dismissed.

County v. White, 91 Cal. 435; 24 Pac. 864.

453. (§ 1161.) Governor's proclamation. What to contain.—Such proclamation must contain:

1. A statement of the time of election, and the offices to be filled.

2. An offer of rewards in the following form: "And I do hereby offer a reward of one hundred dollars for the arrest and conviction of any person violating any of the provisions of title IV., part I., of the penal code. Such rewards to be paid until the total amount hereafter expended for the purpose reaches the sum of five thousand dollars."

454. (§ 1162.) Publication and posting by county commissioners.—The board of county commissioners upon the receipt of such proclamation, may, in the case of general or special elections, cause a copy of the same to be published in some newspaper printed in the county, if any, and to be posted at each place of election at least ten days before the election; and in case of special elections to fill a vacancy in the office of state senator or member of the house of representatives, the board of county commissioners, upon receipt of such proclamation, may, in their discretion, cause a copy of the same to be published or posted as hereinbefore provided, except that such publication or posting need not be made for a longer period than five days before such election.

County v. White, 91 Cal. 435; 24 Pac. 864.

455. (§ 1163.) Election proclamation by county commissioners.—Whenever a special election is ordered by the board of county commissioners, they must issue an election proclamation, containing the statement provided for in subdivision I., of § 453, (1161), and must publish and post it in the same manner as proclamations issued by the governor.

State v. Acton, 31 Mont. 40; 77 Pac. 300. This section does not in terms declare that a vacancy in office shall occur when there has been no election to the office by reason of a tie vote. This section, in so far as it relates to officers named in the constitution and the authority of the county commissioners to fill vacancies therein, is invalid.

458. (§ 1172.) No fees for certificate of registration.—No fees must be charged for registration or certificate thereof.

469. (§ 1188.) Who are tax payers.—The payment of a tax upon property by any person assessed therefor on a county or city assessment roll next preceding the election at which a question is to be submitted to the vote of the tax payers of the state, or to the vote of the tax payers of such county or city, or any subdivision thereof, constitutes such person a tax payer at such election within the meaning of the last preceding section.

CHAPTER III.

- “ 489. Appointment of Board of County Commissioners to be published.
- “ 490. Municipal elections not affected by this chapter.
- “ 491. Special elections.
- “ 492. Clerk to furnish copy of official register.
- “ 493. Persons not registered cannot vote.

470. (§ 1200.) Registration districts, laying out.—The boards of county commissioners of the several counties of Montana must at each regular June meeting to be held every general election year, lay out their respective counties in convenient registration districts, which shall be numbered and known as registration district No. 1, registration district No. 2, and so on. There must not be less than two nor more than twenty registration districts in any county. The county commissioners must, in creating and establishing said registration districts, include in a district as many polling precincts as are necessary and convenient for the voters of the said registration district wherein such precincts may be established. The precincts must be established as provided by law, and no precinct must be established at a greater distance than ten miles from the office of a registry agent.

Steele v. Gilpatrick, 18 Mont. 455; 45 Pac. 1089.

471. Registry agents.—There must be one registration agent for each registration district, created pursuant to this Chapter. All registry agents must be competent persons and must be appointed by the Board of County Commissioners. They must be residents and qualified voters in the several districts for which they are respectively appointed. They are authorized to administer oaths and affirmations and do such other acts as may be necessary to fully carry out the provisions of this Chapter. A registry agent holds his office until his successor is appointed and qualified. No person, a candidate for, or who holds a State, County or other public office, other than that of notary public or Post Master, is eligible to or shall hold the office of registry agent of election. All registry agents must be appointed in each regular general election year, at the regular June meeting of the Board of County Commissioners, and hold their office for the period of two years, except as in this Chapter otherwise provided, but they are subject to removal at any time by the Board of County Commissioners. In any registration district wherein any incorporated City containing five thousand population or more, is situated, it is lawful for the County Commissioners to appoint two or more registry agents, and in any district where two or more registry agents are so appointed, the County Commissioners must allot, by order entered upon their minutes, to each of such agents the particular precincts in which such agents shall make the registration under this Chapter. [Act approved February 16th, 1903.] (8th Sess. Chap. 4.)

State v. Wine, 24 Mont. 376; 62 Pac. 414. The eight years exemption from the necessity of registering persons, provided for in this act, included the registration of 1898; and an elector of an election district included in an incorporated town of less than one thousand registered voters, who was properly registered in 1898, was not required to be registered in 1900, as a prerequisite to his right to vote at the general election in 1900, and could not compel the registry clerk to register him.

472. (§ 1202.) Vacancies, how filled.—It is the duty of the Chairman of the Board of County Commissioners of any County in the State, when he has received notice from any citizen of the death, disqualification, or resignation of any registry agent, after the opening and prior to the closing of the books of registration, to immediately without giving notice, appoint some competent person to fill such vacancy and it is the duty of such person, so appointed to qualify within two days after receiving notice of such appointment.

473. (§ 1203.) Failure to qualify.—If the person so appointed fail to qualify within the time herein provided, voters may upon producing evidence of their right to vote, be registered in any other district in said county, and any person so registered in any other district must upon presentation and surrender of a certificate of registration, signed by the registry agent of said district be considered a legal voter in the precinct of the district in which he resides.

474. 476. Hours of registration.—It is the duty of the registry agent at any time when called on to do so, at his respective offices and not elsewhere, provided, that the Board of County Commissioners may designate places for registration, within any registry district, in addition to the home office, between the hours of nine A. M. and nine P. M., on all legal days, from nine A. M. of the fourth Monday prior to any general election to nine P. that they were, by sickness or other physical disability, or by unavoidable absence during the entire previous two weeks last past from such registration district unable to register at any time during the two weeks last past, provided, that, except in registration districts included in an incorporated town or city, which town or city contained at the last preceding State election over one thousand registered voters, such general registration of all voters shall only be required every eight years, from and after the year 1898, and any person who has been registered in any district, except as above noted, at any time within said eight year periods, and who has been a continuous resident of such district since such registration shall be entitled to vote, if otherwise qualified, without further registration. If at any time it shall be made to appear, by the affidavits of two credible and responsible electors of the district, that any registered person has died or permanently removed from the district, the registry agent shall place such affidavits on file and shall cancel the entry with red ink and shall enter the date and cause, and such cancelled name shall not appear in the printed list, copies of the official registers and check lists herein provided for. [Act approved February 17th, 1899, § 1.] (6th Sess. 54-5.)

State v. Wine, 24 Mont. 377; 62 Pac. 414.

State v. Davidson, 24 Mont. 412, 65 Pac. 1003. Under this act requiring a biennial registration of voters in registration districts included in an incorporated town or city containing at the last preceding state election over one thousand voters, an elector residing in an incorporated town not containing at the preceding state election one thousand voters, for which election he was registered, is not required to register for the general election of 1900, although the registration district, which was not confined to the city may contain over one thousand voters.

477. (§ 1207.) Duties of agent.—Registry agents must enter on the “Official Register,” under the proper heading, the number and date of registration, the name (with the first of given name in full), the age and nativity of the elector, together with the number of the ward or name of the precinct, and a particular description of the house, building, or room, in which he resides, such as will enable a person of common understanding to find the same without difficulty, and when the person so registered is of foreign birth, the fact of the exhibition of, or failure to exhibit, his certificate of naturalization or certificate of intention to become a citizen or a certified copy thereof, must be noted in the column provided for that purpose, which list properly entered, as in this section provided, is to be known as the “Official Register” of the electors of the respective districts. If any person fails or refuses to give his residence with the particularity required in this section, he must not be registered.

478. Notice to be published.—Each registry agent must cause to be published in at least one newspaper published within his district, and if there be no newspaper published in such district then in a newspaper published at the nearest point to his district, and within the county in which such district is situated, for twenty days before the expiration of the time provided for registration, prior to any general election, a notice, signed by the registry agent, to the effect that the time for the registration of the names of the qualified electors in Election District No. . . ., giving the names also of the several precincts embraced within such registration district, prior to the election (specifying the election) to be held on the day of, A. D. 18, for the county of Montana, will expire at nine o'clock P. M. on the day of A. D. 18 The publication of said notice must continue until the expiration of the time provided for said registration.

It is hereby made the duty of the registry agent on or before the first day upon which he is required to commence registration of voters, to publish in some newspaper within his county a public notice stating when he will sit within each and every precinct in his registration district. In such notice he shall designate some place at his home office where he shall be found when not sitting within the other precincts. He shall also designate in such notice not less than one day, on which he will sit within each precinct and name the exact place where he will be found.

If there be no newspaper published in his district then copies of such notices shall be posted in not less than five (5) conspicuous places within said district and shall be kept posted during the period of registration. Any elector qualified to register within an election district may register in any precinct within the district but shall give the number or name of the precinct within which he resides. [Act approved March 9, 1897, § 2.] (5th Sess. 117.)

479. Oath of electors.—Every person applying to be registered must, before he is entitled to have his name registered take and subscribe the following oath or affirmation, which must be administered by the registry agent, "I do solemnly swear (or affirm), that I am a citizen of the United States, of the age of twenty-one years and will have been a resident of Montana one year, and of this county thirty days, on the day next preceding the day of the next ensuing election, and that I am not registered elsewhere in Montana for this electoral year, So help me God" or under the pains and penalties of perjury, Provided, That when any person applies to be registered, who swears that he will be entitled to become a full citizen of the United States before the day of election, and is otherwise qualified to be registered, he shall be registered.

The registry agent shall write opposite the name of a person, registered by virtue of this proviso, the words "To be challenged" and such person shall not be entitled to vote unless he exhibits to the judges of election his final naturalization papers. The registry list shall be opened at all times during the registration period to inspection by any qualified elector. [Act approved March 9th, 1897, § 3.] (5th Sess. 118.)

Steele v. Gilpatrick, 18 Mont. 453; 45 Pac. 1089.

Lane v. Bailey, 29 Mont. 552; 75 Pac. 192. The oath required by this section was not administered because the registry agent did not think it was necessary. The failure of electors for this reason to take the oath did not disqualify them. The purpose of this act was to make the registration of qualified electors in Montana necessary but once in eight years in election districts, except districts in some incorporated towns and cities.

480. Questions to be put to elector.—When any person appears and demands to be registered, whom the registry agent does not know to be entitled to registry under the qualifications required by law, for the election then ensuing, the registry agent must question the applicant generally under oath as to his qualifications as an elector and if satisfied must enter his name in the registry, but if the registry agent is not fully satisfied, or if the applicant be challenged by a qualified elector of the county, stating distinctly the grounds of challenge, the registry agent must require the applicant to answer truly, under oath or affirmation, the following questions together with such other question as such registry agent may consider necessary or proper, testing his qualifications as an elector for the ensuing election, to-wit:

1. Are you a citizen of the United States?
2. Are you now, or will you be twenty-one years of age prior to the day of the next ensuing election?
3. On the day of the next ensuing election, will you have resided in Montana one year, and in this county thirty days next preceding the day of said election?
4. Are you now a resident of the registration district in which you propose to be registered?
5. Are you registered for this electoral year in any other registration district in the name you have now given, or in any other name?

If any of the foregoing questions are answered in the negative except the fifth, or that in the affirmative the applicant must not be registered, but if the applicant answer all the foregoing questions in the affirmative except the fifth and that in the negative and if the answers to other questions propounded do not show him to be disqualified, the applicant must be registered. A resident within the meaning of this Chapter, must be construed to mean a person who has resided or will have resided continuously within Montana for one year and in the county thirty days on the day next preceding the day of the next ensuing election. Whenever a person is registered under the provisions of this Chapter such registration is good for eight years, except as otherwise provided in Section 476 (1206.) A change of residence from a district or county will require a new registration; Provided that if any person who has been registered in any year shall exchange his residence before the period of registration closes he shall notify the registry agent with whom he registered of such change and request him to cancel such registration; and he shall obtain from such registry agent a certificate under the hand of such registry agent and the seal of the district, that such registration has been cancelled, giving the date thereof; any person except in districts containing incorporated towns or cities of more than one thousand electors, and except in the years of general registration provided in § 476 (1206) of this chapter, so changing his residence between the period of registration shall give like notice and obtain a like certificate of cancellation and such certificate must be presented and surrendered to any other registry agent where such person offers to register, before he will be entitled to register again. Notice of change of residence may be given in person or by letter and if given by letter the signature shall be witnessed by two persons free holders and electors of the state. [Act approved March 9, 1897, § 4.] (5th Sess. 118.)

481. Residence of elector. Rules.—For the purpose of registration or voting, the place of residence of any person must be governed by the following rules as far as they are applicable:

1. That place must be considered and held to be the residence of a person in which his habitation is fixed and to which, whenever he is absent, he has the intention of returning.

2. A person must not be held to have gained or lost a residence by reason of his presence or absence while employed in the service of the United States, or of this State, nor while a student at any institution of learning, nor while kept at any almshouse or other asylum at the public expense, nor while confined in any public prison, nor while residing upon any Indian or Military reservation.

3. No soldier, seaman, or marine in the army or navy of the United States shall be deemed a resident of this State in consequence of being stationed at any military or naval place within the same.

4. A person must not be considered to have lost his residence who leaves his home to go into another State, or other district of this State, for temporary purposes merely with the intention of returning, provided he has not exercised the right of the election franchise in said state or district.

5. A person must not be considered to have gained a residence in any county into which he comes for temporary purposes merely without the intention of making such county his home.

6. If a person removes to another state with the intention of making it his residence, he loses his residence in this State.

7. If a person removes to another state with the intention of remaining there for an indefinite time, and as a place of present residence, he loses his residence in this state, notwithstanding he entertains an intention of returning at some future period.

8. The place where a man's family resides is presumed to be his place of residence, but any man who takes up or continues his abode with the intention of remaining, or a place other than where his family resides, must be regarded as a resident of the place where he so abides.

9. A change of residence can only be made by the act or removal joined with the intent to remain in another place. There can only be one residence. A residence cannot be lost until another is gained.

10. The term of residence must be computed, by including the day on which the person's residence commences and by excluding the day of election.

11. Any person living upon an Indian or Military reservation shall not be deemed to be a resident of Montana, within the meaning of this Chapter, unless such person has acquired a residence in some county in Montana prior to taking up his residence upon such Indian or Military reservation; provided that if such person shall not be in the employ of the Government while residing upon such Indian or Military reservation, such person shall not be considered a resident of the State of Montana. [Act approved March 9, 1897, § 4.] (5th Sess. 120.)

482. Naturalized citizens, how registered.—When a naturalized citizen applies for registration his certificate of naturalization or a certified copy thereof must be produced and stamped, or written in ink by the registry agent with such registry agent's name and the year and day and county where presented, but if it satisfactorily appears to the registry agent, by the affidavit of the applicant (and the affidavit of one or more credible electors as to the credibility of such applicant when deemed necessary), that his certificate of naturalization or a certified copy thereof is lost or destroyed or beyond the reach of the applicant for the time being said registry agent must register the name of said applicant, unless he is by law otherwise disqualified; but in case of failure to produce the certificate of naturalization or a certified copy thereof except as provided in section 479 (1209) of this Chapter the registry agent must propound to him the following questions:

1. In what year did you come to the United States?
2. In what state or territory, county, court, and year were you finally admitted to citizenship?
3. Where did you last see your certificate of naturalization, or a certified copy thereof?

The said affidavit must be retained by the registry agent and returned with the register to the County Clerk. No person shall be required to exhibit his naturalization papers or make said affidavit a second time, where he has been a continuous resident of the same district and where his name is upon the official register in the possession of the registry agent. [Act approved March 9, 1897, § 4.] (5th Sess. 121.)

483. List of electors.—On the day next succeeding that on which the registration of electors, prior to any election

mentioned in this Chapter, shall have been closed, the registry agent must with all reasonable expedition, and within four days, prepare and cause to be written or printed, a full and complete and true list of all the names then remaining on the official register for each election precinct, alphabetically arranged, commencing with the surname of each, and then must write or print such reasonable number of copies of each registration district list as they may deem necessary showing on one sheet, but under separate headings in such list the registered voters in each precinct in the district; at least five copies of which said list he must cause to be posted up in as many public and conspicuous places within each and every district to which they apply. Each registry agent must, as soon as such lists are printed or written, subscribe and make oath to one copy thereof, as being a true, correct and complete list of all electors registered in his registration district from the commencement to the close of the registration in said district, and must within two days after the publication or writing of such list, deliver personally or by registered letter such verified copy to the County Clerk of that county, to be by him posted in a conspicuous place in his office until election day, and thereafter filed away, as other records of the county, and the remainder of such lists must be distributed among the electors of the respective precincts. [Act approved March 9, 1897, § 4.] (5th Sess. 122.)

484. Notice of posting of list and hearing objections.—The registry agents must give notice in said lists that they will receive objections to the right to vote of any person so registered until six o'clock P. M. on the Saturday previous to the day of the election; and also requesting all persons whose names may be erroneously entered in said lists or erroneously cancelled upon the "Official Register" to appear at the proper registry office and have such error corrected. Such objections to the right to vote of any person registered must be made only by a qualified elector, in writing duly verified setting forth the grounds of objection or disqualification. The registry agent before whom any such affidavits are made must carefully preserve the same and deliver them, with the "Check List" and other papers required by this Chapter, to be delivered to the judges of election, as is in this Chapter provided and he must write distinctly opposite to the name of any person to whose qualifications as an elector objections may be thus made, the words to be challenged or words to that effect. It is the duty of the judges of election, if on election day such person who has been objected to applies to vote, to test, under oath his qualifications and if he is found to be disqualified, from any cause under the law, or if he refuses to take an oath as to his qualifications he must not be permitted to vote. Any elector whose name has been erroneously cancelled upon such official register shall be re-registered upon making affidavit supported by the affidavit of a freeholder and qualified elector of the district that he has been a continuous resident of the district since his last previous registration and he is fully qualified to be registered.

485. Copy of register and check lists.—During the time intervening between the closing of any registration of electors and the day of the next ensuing election, each registry agent must carefully copy from the official register into suitable books, one for each election precinct within his district, the names of the electors registered for such election precinct, alphabetically arranged (the surname first) entering opposite each name the number it bears on the official register together with words requiring challenges and all other entries therein found opposite the name. The registry agent must also prepare in suitable books to be known as “check lists” one for each election precinct a list of the names of all electors found on the official register for such election precinct alphabetically arranged (the surname first) with the number each name bears in the official register placed at the left of the name and with a blank column at the right for the use of the judges at election headed with the words—“Voted at the general election 18—.” [Act approved March 9, 1897, § 4.] (5th Sess. 123.)

486. Delivery to judges.—The copy of the official register together with the “check list” for each election precinct must be carefully prepared and duly certified to by the registry agent and delivered together with the affidavits mentioned in the preceding sections of this chapter to one of the judges of election, in each election precinct not later than the day next preceding that on which such election is to be held, and such copy of the official register, “check list,” affidavits and any surrendered certificate of registration must be preserved and transmitted by the judges of election to the county clerk of the county, as part of the election returns of said precinct. If any registry agent refuses or fails to furnish to the judges of election of any precinct, the lists of electors, provided for in section 485 (1215) the judges of election are authorized to take a copy of the printed or written lists of electors, provided for in this chapter, and conduct the election in said precinct, in accordance with the provisions of this title and their returns must show the reason for using such lists instead of the regular lists, herein provided at such election. [Act approved March 9, 1897, § 4.] (5th Sess. 123.)

487. (1218.) Oath of registry agents.—Before entering upon the duties prescribed in this chapter, the registry agents must severally take and subscribe before an officer duly authorized to administer oaths, the constitutional oath of office, which must be filed in the office of the county clerk of their respective counties.

Steele v. Gilpatrick, 18 Mont. 454; 45 Pac. 1089.

488. (§ 1219.) Compensation of registry agent.—The several registry agents are entitled to receive as full compensation for all services rendered by them under the provisions of this chapter, such sums as may be allowed by the county commissioners, and such compensation may be a per capita of twenty-five cents for each and every qualified elector registered in each year, or it may be a per diem not to exceed five dollars. In no event must registry agents receive more than at the rate of five dollars per day, whether the basis of their compensation be a per capita or otherwise, and their right of compensation is a county charge, and their accounts must be made out so as to clearly show the number of names by them severally registered during the year, and sworn to and filed with the board of county commissioners of their respective counties, and said claims, together with all other just and reasonable demands for books, advertising and printing, necessarily incurred in carrying out the requirements of this chapter, must be audited and paid out of the general fund of the several counties as other county charges.

Steele v. Gilpatrick, 18 Mont. 454; 45 Pac. 1089.

489. (§ 1220.) Appointment of board of county commissioners to be published.—The clerk of the board of county commissioners must make full and minute entries of all proceedings had under this chapter, and published in a newspaper printed in the county the names of the registry agents appointed, and notify in writing the registry agents of their appointment.

Steele v. Gilpatrick, 18 Mont. 456; 45 Pac. 1089.

490. (§ 1221.) Municipal elections not affected by this chapter.—Nothing in this chapter must be construed to affect the laws regulating the registration of voters in municipal elections.

Steele v. Gilpatrick, 18 Mont. 456; 45 Pac. 1089.

491. (§ 1222.) Special elections.—At any special election held for any purpose in any county, copies of the official register and check list, which were printed or written before and used at the next preceding general election, must be used, and no new registration need be made.

492. (§ 1223.) Clerk to furnish copy of official register.—Before the day on which such special election is appointed to be held, the county clerk must furnish one of the judges in each election precinct, at a time not later than one day next preceding the day the election is to be held, a copy of the official register and a check list, for his precinct, but no copies need be posted.

493. Persons not registered cannot vote.—No person shall be entitled to vote at any election mentioned in this Act unless his name shall, on the day of election, appear in the copy of the official register or check list, furnished by the registry agents to the judges of election, at the precinct at which he offers to vote, except as otherwise provided in this Chapter; and the fact that his name so appears in the check lists and in the copy of the official register, in the possession of the judges of election, shall be prima facie evidence of his right to vote; Provided, that when the judges shall have good reason to believe, or when they shall be informed by a qualified elector that the person offering to vote is not the person who was so registered in that name, the vote of such person shall not be received until he shall have proved his identity as the person who was registered in that name. [Act approved March 9th, 1897, § 5.] (5th Sess. 123.)

Signed A. B., Clerk of the Board of County Commissioners."

507. (§ 1267.) Notices to be posted by the judges.—The judges to whom such notice is directed, as provided in the next preceding section, must cause to be put up in three of the most public places in each precinct, the notices of election in such precinct, at least ten days previous to the time of holding any general election, which notices must be posted as follows: One at the house where the election is authorized to be held, and the others at the two most public and suitable places in the precinct.

508. (§ 1268.) Oath of judges and clerk.—Previous to votes being taken, the judges and clerks of election must take and subscribe the official oath prescribed by the constitution. It is lawful for the judges of election, and they are hereby empowered, to administer the oath to each other, and to the clerks of the election.

509. (§ 1269.) Judges and clerks may administer oaths.—Any member of the board, or either clerk thereof, may administer and certify oaths required to be administered during the progress of an election.

510. Ballot boxes.—There shall be provided at the expense of the county, for each polling precinct, a substantial ballot box or canvas pouch with a secure lock and key for the ballots and detached stubs as hereinafter provided for. There shall be one opening, and no more in such box or canvas pouch, of sufficient size to admit a single folded ballot. The adoption of the canvas pouch to be used instead of the ballot box, in any precinct, shall be optional with the commissioners of each county, but in such precincts where pouches are so adopted, the pouches shall be returned to the county clerk together with the other election returns, as by law provided. [Act March 5, 1907, § 1.] (10th Sess. Chap. 88.)

511. (§ 1271.) Size of the opening of the ballot box.—There must be an opening in the lid of such box of no larger size than shall be sufficient to admit a single folded ballot.

512. (§ 1272.) Ballot box to be exhibited.—Before receiving any ballots, the judges must, in the presence of any persons assembled at the polling place, open and exhibit the ballot box and remove any contents therefrom, and then close and lock the same, delivering the key to one of their members, and thereafter the ballot box must not be removed from the polling place or presence of the bystanders until all the ballots are counted, nor must it be opened until after the polls are finally closed.

513. (§ 1273.) County clerk to have printed instructions to the electors.—The county clerk of each county must cause to be printed in large type on cards, in the English language, instructions for the guidance of electors in preparing their ballots. He must furnish six cards to the judges of election in each election precinct, and one additional card for each fifty registered electors, or fractional part thereof, in the precinct, at the same time and in the same manner as the printed ballots. The judges of election must post not less than one of such cards in each place or compartment provided for the preparation of ballots, and not less than three of such cards elsewhere in and about polling places upon the day of election. Said cards must be printed in large, clear type, and must contain full instructions to the voters as to what should be done, viz.:

1. To obtain ballots for voting.
2. To prepare the ballots for deposit in the ballot boxes.
3. To obtain a new ballot in the place of one spoiled by accident or mistake. Said card must also contain a copy of §§ 8130 (66), 8134 (70), 8135 (71), 8136 (72), 8137 (73), and 8138 (74), of the Penal Code. There must also be posted in each of the compartments, or booths, one of the official tickets, as provided in chapter IX., of this title, without the official stamp, and not less than three such tickets posted elsewhere in and about the polling places, upon the day of election.

CHAPTER VI.

Section 514. Time of opening and closing of polls.

514. (§ 1290.) Time of opening and closing of polls.—The polls must be opened at eight o'clock on the morning of election day and must be kept open continuously until six o'clock in the afternoon of said day, when the same must be closed.

515. (§ 1291.) Proclamation at opening and thirty minutes before closing polls.—Before the judges receive any ballots they must cause it to be proclaimed aloud at the place of election that the polls are open, and thirty minutes before the closing of the polls proclamation must be made that the polls will close in one half hour.

516. (§ 1292.) Proclamation at closing polls.—When the polls are closed that fact must be proclaimed aloud at the place of election; and after such proclamation no ballots must be received.

CHAPTER VII.

Section 518. Clerk to forward poll books to judges.

“ 520. Want of form not to vitiate.

517. (§ 1300.) County commissioner to furnish poll books.—The board of county commissioners of each county must furnish for the several election precincts in each county, poll books, after the forms hereinafter prescribed.

518. (§ 1301.) Clerk to forward poll books to judges.—The clerk of the board must forward by mail, as a registered package, to one of the judges of election so appointed, in each precinct, at least ten days prior to any general election and five days prior to any special election, two of such blank poll books for the use of the judges of such precinct.

519. (§ 1302.) Form of poll book.—The following is the form of poll books to be kept in duplicate by the judges and clerks of election:

520. (§ 1303.) Want of form not to vitiate.—No poll book or certificate returned from any election precinct must be set aside

CHAPTER VIII.

CANDIDATES AND PRIMARY ELECTIONS.

ARTICLE I. CANDIDATES AND QUESTIONS FOR THE ELECTION.

II. PRIMARY ELECTIONS.

ARTICLE I.

CANDIDATES AND QUESTIONS FOR THE ELECTION.

- Section 521. Convention or primary meeting defined.*
 “ 522. Certificate of nomination, what to contain.
 “ 523. Certificate, where filed.
 “ 524. Certificates of nomination otherwise made.
 “ 525. Certificate not to contain certain things. One person not to be nominated for more than one office.
 “ 526. Certificates to be preserved one year.
 “ 527. When certificate to be filed.
 “ 528. Secretary of state to certify to county clerk names of persons nominated.
 “ 529. Candidate may decline ten days before election. In municipal election two days.
 “ 530. Vacancies may be filled by further certificates.
 “ 531. How questions submitted to electors may be certified.
 “ 532. Errors, how corrected.

521. (§ 1310.) Convention or primary meeting defined.—Any convention or primary meeting held for the purpose of making nominations to public office, or the number of electors required in this chapter, may nominate candidates for public office to be filled by election in the state. A convention or primary meeting within the meaning of this chapter is an organized assemblage of electors or delegates representing a political party or principle.

State v. Hays, 31 Mont. 236; 78 Pac. 487. A committee of parties claiming to be opposed to corporate rule filed in the office of the secretary of state certificates of nomination for officers. This committee was appointed by a mass convention of electors representing the counties of the state, but the call did not state that the purpose was to nominate any candidate for office. This convention was not composed of delegates or electors of a political party, but electors advocating a principle and assembled to organize a party. The convention had no authority to make such nominations and therefore the committee could not act in the matter.

State v. Rotwitt, 18 Mont. 506; 46 Pac. 372. Sections 1310, 1311 and 1312 of the Political Code recognize systems of conventions and primary meetings held to nominate candidates for public office. Such conventions are meant to be organized assemblages of electors or delegates, fairly representating the entire body of electors of the political party which may lawfully vote for the candidates of any such convention. When a judicial district comprises two counties, both counties must have an opportunity to participate in the nomination of a candidate for district judge by a political party, and a nomination by a convention composed of delegates from one county, when the other county did not have the privilege of representation therein, is a nullity.

522. (§ 1311.) Certificates of nomination, what to contain.

—All nominations made by such convention or primary meeting must be certified as follows: The certificate of nomination, which must be in writing, must contain the name of each person nominated, his residence, his business, his business address, and the office for which he is named, and must designate in not more than five words, the party or principle which such convention or primary meeting represents, and it must be signed by the presiding officer and secretary of such convention or primary meeting, who must add to their signatures, their respective places of residence, their business and business addresses. Such certificates must be delivered by the secretary or the president of such convention or primary meeting, to the secretary of the state or to the county clerk, as in this chapter required.

State v. Martin, 24 Mont. 506; 62 Pac. 589. The requirement that the certificate shall contain a designation of the party or principle which the ticket represents is evidently designed to guide the proper officer in printing the ballot, so that he may group the candidates and distinguish them by this designation.

State v. Hays, 31 Mont. 230; 78 Pac. 302. This section contemplates one certificate of nomination, and one only, as coming from the state convention, and it is not the duty of the officers to make a separate certificate for each nominee.

State v. Tooker, 18 Mont. 543; 46 Pac. 531. A political club in Helena, County of Lewis and Clark, called the Republican Silver Club, composed of four hundred members, made nominations of candidates for county offices. No convention or primary meeting was held within the meaning of this section.

State v. Johnson, 18 Mont. 548; 46 Pac. 533.

State v. Hogan, 24 Mont. 383; 62 Pac. 583. A nomination by delegates named in a mass meeting in one of the counties of a judicial district, called to formulate a protest to the action of a regular county convention, is invalid. The meeting had no authority to name delegates to represent the county in place of those named by the regular convention and the electors of both counties are not represented.

523. (§ 1312.) Certificate, where filed.—Certificates of nomination of candidates for offices to be filled by the electors of the entire state, or of any division or district greater than a county, must be filed with the secretary of state. Certificates of nomination for county, township and precinct officers, must be filed with the clerks of the respective counties wherein the officers are to be elected. Certificates of nomination for municipal officers must be filed with the clerks of the respective municipal corporations wherein the officers are to be elected. The certificate of nomination of joint member of the house of representatives must be filed in the offices of the county clerks of the counties to be represented by such joint member.

State v. Rotwitt, 18 Mont. 506; 46 Pac. 372.

State v. Hays, 27 Mont. 176; 70 Pac. 321. A district judge is a state officer, and there is no provision in this section requiring the certificate of nomination of such an officer from a district containing only one county to be filed with the secretary of state. The certificate of nomination of a candidate for district judge of the second judicial district comprising Silver Bow County must be filed with the clerk of that county.

State v. Hogan, 24 Mont. 380; 62 Pac. 494.

State v. Hogan, 24 Mont. 401; 62 Pac. 684.

524. (§ 1313.) Certificates of nomination otherwise made.—Candidates for public office may be nominated otherwise than by convention or primary meeting in the manner following:

A certificate of nomination, containing the name of a candidate for the office to be filled, with such information as is required to be given in certificates provided for in § 522 (1311) of this chapter, must be signed by electors residing within the state and district, or political division in and for which the officer or officers are to be elected, in the following required numbers:

The number of signatures must not be less in number than five per cent of the number of votes cast for the successful candidate for the same office at the next preceding election whether the said candidate be state, county, township, municipal or any other political division or subdivision of state or county; but the signatures need not all be appended to one paper. Each elector signing a certificate shall add to his signature, his place of residence, his business and his business address. Any such certificate may be filed as provided for in the next preceding section of this chapter, in the manner and with the same effect as a certificate of nomination made by a party convention or primary meeting. [Act approved March 14, 1895.]

State v. Rotwitt, 18 Mont. 509; 46 Pac. 372. The court does not decide that a certificate of nomination by electors under this section must contain the designation of a party or principle. The section contemplates simply the candidacy of one not a nominee of a party, an independent or electors' candidate. When all the statutes are read the court is not prepared to say that the information referred to in this section necessarily extends to more than the name, residence, business address and the office for which the candidate is nominated. A candidate for district judge cannot by petitions have his name placed on the ticket of a regular party in existence.

525. (§ 1314.) Certificate not to contain certain things. One person not to be nominated for more than one office.—No certificate of nomination must contain the name of more than one candidate for each office to be filled. No person must join in nominating more than one person for each office to be filled, and no person must accept a nomination to more than one office.

State v. Hays, 31 Mont. 237; 78 Pac. 487. The executive committee of the Anti-Trust Democratic and Anti-Trust Republican party nominated two tickets, composed of different persons, as candidates for the same office. This proceeding is illegal and within the inhibition of this section. The convention could not nominate different persons for the same office, nor can it be done by the committee, and the names of such nominees are not entitled to places on the official ballot.

526. (§ 1315.) Certificates to be preserved one year.—The secretary of state and the clerks of the several counties and of the several municipal corporations must cause to be preserved in their respective offices for one year all certificates of nomination filed under the provisions of this chapter. All such certificates must be open to public inspection under proper regulations to be made by the officers with whom the same are filed.

527. (§ 1316.) When certificate to be filed.—Certificates of nomination to be filed with the secretary of state, must be filed not more than sixty days and not less than thirty days before the day fixed by law for the election. Certificates of nomination herein directed to be filed with the county clerk must be filed not more than sixty days and not less than twenty days before the election; certificates of the nomination of candidates for municipal offices must be filed with the clerks of the respective municipal corporations not more than thirty days and not less than three days previous to the day of election; but the provisions of this section shall not be held to apply to nominations for special elections to fill vacancies.

State v. Hays, 31 Mont. 229; 78 Pac. 302. Albert J. Galen was nominated in 1904 by the Republican State Convention for the office of attorney general. Through inadvertence the name of Galen and the office of attorney general was omitted from the certificate of nominations by the officers of the convention. The State Republican Committee at a regular meeting declared that a vacancy existed and nominated Galen to fill the vacancy. This section requiring certificates of nomination to be filed with the secretary of state not less than thirty days before the day fixed by law for the election is mandatory, and the committee had the power to fill the vacancy.

State v. Hogan, 24 Mont. 380; 62 Pac. 494.

State v. Hogan, 24 Mont. 401; 62 Pac. 684. Sections 1310, 1312 and 1316 of this code when read together, prescribe that certificates of nominations made by conventions, primaries or electors of candidates for offices to be filled by the voters of any division or district of the state greater than a county, must be filed with the secretary of state not more than 60 days, and not less than 30 days, before the day fixed by law for the election. Section 1316 refers only to certificates of original nominations made by conventions, primaries, or the requisite number of electors, and has nothing to do with committee nominations.

528. (§ 1317.) Secretary of state to certify to county clerk names of persons nominated.—Not less than twenty nor more than thirty days before an election to fill any public office, the secretary of state must certify to the county clerk of each county within which any of the electors may by law vote for candidates for such office, the name and description of each person nominated, as specified in the certificates of nomination filed with the secretary of state.

State v. Hogan, 24 Mont. 380; 62 Pac. 494.

529. (§ 1319.) Candidate may decline ten days before election. In municipal election two days.—Whenever any person nominated for public office, as in this chapter provided, shall at least ten days before election, except in the case of municipal elections, in writing, signed by him, notify the officer with whom the certificate nominating him is by this chapter to be filed, that he declines such nomination, such nomination shall be void. In municipal elections, such declination must be made at least two days before the election.

State v. Martin, 24 Mont. 408; 62 Pac. 590.

Stackpole v. Hallahan, 16 Mont. 45; 40 Pac. 81. This was originally section 11 of the act of March 13, 1889. The court held that this and the following section, prescribing certain facts to be stated in a certificate of nomination are not mandatory in a case where the nomination has been made, a certificate filed, the name placed on the ballot, and the candidate voted for and elected by a plurality of all the legal votes cast. An election will not be declared void by reason of non-prejudicial defects in the nominating certificate.

The county committee nominated a person for county clerk to fill a vacancy but did not comply with the provisions of said sections 11 and 12. The defects were technical and, no objection having been made to them until after an honest election these provisions should be construed to be directory and the election should stand.

530. (§ 1320.) Vacancies may be filled by further certificates.—If any person so nominated dies before the printing of the tickets, or decline the nomination as in this chapter provided, or if any certificate of nomination is or becomes insufficient or inoperative from any cause, the vacancy or vacancies thus occasioned may be filled in the manner required for original nomination. If the original nomination was made by a party convention which had delegated to a committee the power to fill vacancies, such committee may, upon the occurring of such vacancies, proceed to fill the same. The chairman and secretary of such committee must thereupon make and file with the proper officer a certificate setting forth the cause of the vacancy, the name of the person nominated, the office for which he was nominated, the name of the person for whom the new nominee is to be substituted, the fact that the committee was authorized to fill vacancies, and such further information as is required to be given in an original certificate of nomination. The certificate so made must be executed in the manner prescribed for the original certificate of nomination, and has the same force and effect as an original certificate of nomination. When such certificate is filed with the secretary of state, he must, in certifying the nominations to the various county clerks, insert the name of the person who has thus been nominated to fill a vacancy in place of the name of the original nominee. And in the event he has already transmitted his certificate, he must forthwith certify to the clerks of the proper counties, the name and description of the person so nominated to fill a vacancy, the office he is nominated for, the party or political principle he represents and the name of the person for whom such nominee is substituted.

Stackpole v. Hallahan, 16 Mont. 45; 40 Pac. 81.

State v. Martin, 24 Mont. 408; 62 Pac. 590. This was originally section 12 of the act of March 13, 1889. A certificate that a person has been nominated by a convention of the "Populist party" for district judge, when he had been nominated by the "People's party" is insufficient and occasions a vacancy, which the executive committee of the convention is authorized to fill.

531. (§ 1321.) How questions submitted to electors may be certified.—Whenever a proposed constitution or constitutional amendment, or other question is to be submitted to the people of the state for popular vote, the secretary of state must duly, and not less than thirty days before election, certify the same to the clerk of each county in the state, and the clerk of each county must include the same in the publication provided for in * § 1318 of this chapter. Questions to be submitted to the people of a county or municipality must be advertised as provided for nominees for office by said * § 1318.

* This section was repealed by Acts 1905, Chap. 91. It provided for a daily publication of notice for ten days of state and county elections, and three days for municipal elections.

State v. Hays, 31 Mont. 230; 78 Pac. 302. The failure through inadvertence of the officers of a state convention to include in their certificate of nominations the name of its candidate for attorney general renders the certificate insufficient and occasions a vacancy which can be filled by the proper committee.

Tinkel v. Griffin, 26 Mont. 430; 68 Pac. 860.

532. (§ 1322.) Errors how corrected.—Whenever it appears by affidavit that an error or omission has occurred in the publication of the name or description of a candidate nominated for office, or in the printing of the ballots, the district court of the county may, upon application of any elector, by order require the county or municipal clerk to correct such error, or to show cause why such error should not be corrected.

State v. Fransham, 19 Mont. 288; 48 Pac. 6. This section authorizes the institution of proceedings to cure not alone clerical omissions and errors, but extends to defects by way of omission of names of candidates from the ballot, and erroneous insertions of names of persons as candidates, who are not entitled to be so regarded, and whose names, unless stricken from the official ballot, will be erroneously printed thereon.

If the challenged party takes the oath above prescribed he is entitled to vote; provided, in case a person taking the oath as aforesaid, shall intentionally make false answers to any questions put to him by any one of the judges concerning his right to vote at such caucus or primary meeting or election, he shall, upon conviction be deemed guilty of perjury and shall be punished by imprisonment in the penitentiary for a term of not less than one year nor more than three years. [Act approved March 6th, 1901, § 2.] (7th Sess. 115-116.)

538. (§ 1335.) Fraudulent voting or counting.—It shall be unlawful for any judge of any caucus or primary meeting or primary election to knowingly receive the vote of any person who he knows is not entitled to vote, or to fraudulently or wrongfully deposit any ballot or ballots in the ballot box or take any ballot or ballots from the ballot box of said caucus or primary election, or fraudulently or wrongfully mix any ballots with those cast at such caucus or primary election, or knowingly make any false count, canvass, statement or return of the ballots cast or vote taken at such caucus or primary election. 541. (§ 1350.) Ballots, how printed and distributed.—All ballots cast in elections for public officers within the state (except school district officers), must be printed and distributed at public expense as provided in this chapter. The printing of ballots and cards of instruction for the elections in each county, and the delivery of the same to the election officers is a county charge, and the expense thereof must be paid in the same manner as the payment of other county expenses, but the expense of printing and delivering the ballots must, in the case of municipal elections, be a charge upon the city or town in which such election is held.

542. (§ 1351.) County Clerk to print ballots. Elector may vote for any person.—Except as in this chapter otherwise provided, it is the duty of the county clerk of each county to provide printed ballots for every election for public officers in which electors or any of the electors within the county participate, and to cause to be printed in the ballot the name of every candidate whose name has been certified to or filed with the county clerk in the manner provided for in this chapter. Ballots other than those printed by the respective county clerks according to the provisions of this chapter must not be cast or counted in any election. Any elector may write or paste on his ballot the name of any person for whom he desires to vote for any office, and must mark the same as provided in § 552 (1361), and such vote must be counted the same as if printed upon the ballot and marked by the voter, and any voter may take with him into the polling place any printed or written memorandum or paper to assist him in marking or preparing his ballot, except as otherwise provided in this title.

State v. Fransham, 19 Mont. 273; 48 Pac. 1.

543. (§ 1352.) Municipal clerk to act in municipal elections.—In all municipal elections the city clerk must perform all the duties prescribed for county clerks in this title.

544. (§ 1353.) Pasters to be printed and distributed where vacancy has been filled.—When any vacancy occurs before election day and after the printing of the ballots, and any person is nominated according to the provisions of this title to fill such vacancy, the officer whose duty it is to have the ballots printed and distributed, must thereupon have printed a requisite number of pasters containing the name of the new nominee and must mail them by registered letter to the judges of election in the various precincts interested in such election, and the judges of election whose duty it is made by the provisions of this title to distribute the ballots, must affix such pasters over the name for which substitution is made, in the proper place on each ballot before it is given out to the elector.

State v. Hogan, 24 Mont. 403; 62 Pac. 685. No period is prescribed within which nominations made by a committee to fill a vacancy in nominations by a convention must be filed.

545. Form of ballots.—Ballots prepared under the provisions of this Chapter must be white in color and of a good quality of paper, and the names must be printed, thereon, in black ink. The ballots used in any one county must be uniform in size, and every ballot must contain the names of every candidate whose nomination for any special office specified in the ballot has been certified or filed according to the provisions of this Title, and no other names. The list of candidates of the several parties shall be placed in separate columns of the ballot, in such order as the authorities charged with the printing of the ballots shall decide. As near as possible the ballot shall be in the following form: (stub hereinafter provided for in this section.)

..... (Perforated line)

DEMOCRATIC.	REPUBLICAN.	LABOR PARTY.
For Governor <input type="checkbox"/> Joseph K. Toole <input type="checkbox"/>	For Governor <input type="checkbox"/> John E. Richards <input type="checkbox"/>	For Governor <input type="checkbox"/> Fred Whiteside <input type="checkbox"/>
For Lieut. Governor <input type="checkbox"/> Frank C. Higgins <input type="checkbox"/>	For Lieut. Governor <input type="checkbox"/> Alex. C. Botkin <input type="checkbox"/>	For Lieut. Governor <input type="checkbox"/> <input type="checkbox"/> and continuing in like manner as to all candidates to be voted for at such election.

Every ballot must also contain the name of the party, or principal, which the candidate in the respective columns represent, as contained in the certificates of nomination: provided, however, that, where any person is nominated for the same office by more than one party or convention, his name shall be placed upon the ticket under the designation of the party which first nominated him, unless he declines, in writing, one or more of such nominations, or by written election indicates the party designation under which he desires his name to be printed, or if he was nominated by more than one party or convention at the same time shall, within the time fixed by law for filing certificates of nomination, file with the officer with whom his certificate of nomination is required to be filed a written election indicating the party designation under which he desires his name to be printed on the ballot, and it shall be so printed. If he shall fail or neglect to so file such an election, the officer with whom the certificate of nomination is required to be filed shall place his name under the designation of either of the parties by which he was nominated, but under no other designation whatever, and no person, who has been nominated by petition or otherwise, shall have his name printed upon the ticket if the same already appears under a party designation. Below the names of candidates for each office, there must be left a blank space large enough to contain as many written names of candidates as there are persons to be elected. There must be a margin on each side of at least half an inch in width, and a reasonable space between the names printed thereon, so that the voter may clearly indicate, in the way hereinafter provided, the candidate, or candidates, for whom he wishes to cast his ballot. The ballot shall be printed on the same leaf with a stub, and separated therefrom by a perforated line. The part above the perforated line, designated as the stub, shall extend the entire width of the ballot, and shall be of sufficient depth to allow the following instructions to voters to be printed thereon, such depth to be not less than two inches from the perforated line to the top thereof, upon the face of which stub shall be printed; in type known as brevier capitals, the following: "This ballot should be marked with an "X" in the square before the name of each person or candidate for whom the elector intends to vote. In cases of a ballot containing a constitutional amendment, or other question to be submitted to a vote of the people by marking an "X" in the square before the answer of the question or amendment submitted. The elector may write in the blank spaces, or paste over another name, the name of any person for whom he wishes to vote, and vote for such person by marking an "X" in the square before such name." On the back of the stub shall be printed or stamped by the county clerk, or other officer whose duty it is to provide the ballots, the consecutive number of the ballot, beginning with number "1", and increasing in regular numerical order to the total number of ballots required for the precinct. All of the official ballots of the same sort, prepared by any officer or board for the same balloting place, shall be of precisely the same size, arrangement, quality and tint of paper, and kind of type, and shall be printed in black ink of the same tint, so that when the stubs, numbered as aforesaid, shall be detached therefrom it shall be impossible to distinguish any one of the ballots from the other ballots of the same sort, and the names of all candidates printed upon the ballots shall be in type of the same size and character. Whenever the Secretary of State has duly certified to the county clerk any question to be submitted to the vote of the people, the county clerk must print the ballot in such form as will enable the electors to vote upon the question so presented in the manner in this Title provided. The county clerk must also prepare the necessary ballots whenever any question is required by law to be submitted to the electors of any locality, and any of the electors of the state generally, except that as to all questions submitted to the electors of a municipal corporation alone, the city clerk must prepare the necessary ballots. [Act March 5, 1907, § 2.] (10th Sess. Chap. 88.)

546. Number of ballots to be provided for each precinct.—The county clerk must provide for each election precinct in the county one and one-half times as many ballots as there are electors registered in the precinct. If there is no registry in the precinct, the county clerk must provide ballots to the number of one and one-half times the number of electors who voted at the last preceding election in the precinct. He must keep a record in his office, showing the exact number of ballots, with numbered stubs attached, that are delivered to the judges of each precinct. In municipal elections it is the duty of the city clerk to provide ballots as specified in this Section. [Act March 5, 1907, § 3.] (10th Sess. Chap. 88.)

547. (§ 1356.) Clerk to deliver ballots and stamps to judges of election. Stamp, what to contain.—Before the opening of the polls, the county clerk, or the city clerk in the case of municipal elections, must deliver to the judges of election of each election precinct which is within the county (or within the municipality in case of municipal election) and in which the election is to be held, at the polling place of the precinct, the proper number of ballots as provided for in § 546 (1355) of this chapter. He must also deliver to said judges a rubber or other stamp with ink pad for the purpose of stamping or designating the official ballots, as hereinafter provided. Said stamp must contain the words, "Official Ballot," the name or number of the election precinct, the name of the county, the date of the election, and name and official designation of the clerk who furnishes the ballots.

The judge of election to whom the stamps and ballots are given pursuant to this section must be the same person who may be designated by the commissioners to post the notices required by § 506 (1266) of this code. But in case it be impracticable to deliver such stamps and ballots to such judge, then they may be delivered to some other one of the judges of election.

548. Sufficient booths or compartments must be furnished.—All officers upon whom is imposed by law the duty of designating the polling places, must provide in each polling place designated by them, a sufficient number of places, booths or compartments, each booth or compartment to be furnished with a door or curtain sufficient in character to screen the voter from observation, and must be furnished with such supplies and conveniences as shall enable the elector to prepare his ballot for voting, and in which electors must mark their ballots, screened from observation, and a guard rail so constructed that only persons within such rail can approach within ten feet of the ballot boxes, or the places, booths or compartments herein provided for. The number of such places, booths or compartments must not be less than one for every fifty electors, or fraction thereof, registered in the precinct. In precincts containing less than twenty-five registered voters, the election may be conducted under the provisions of this chapter without the preparation of such booths or compartments, as required by this section. [Act approved March 7th, 1901.] (7th Sess. 118.)

549. Elector to cast his ballot without interference.—No person other than electors engaged in receiving, preparing or depositing their ballots, or a person present for the purpose of challenging the vote of an elector about to cast his ballot, is permitted to be within said rail; and in cases of small precincts where places, booths or compartments are not required, no person engaged in preparing his ballot shall, in any way, be interfered with by any person, unless it be some one authorized by the provisions of this chapter, to assist him in preparing his ballot; nor shall any officer of election do any electioneering on election day. No person whatsoever, shall do any electioneering on election day, within any polling place, or any building in which an election is being held, or within twenty-five feet thereof; said space of twenty-five feet to be protected by ropes and kept free of trespassers; nor shall any person obstruct the doors or entries thereto, or prevent free ingress to and egress from said building. Any election officer, sheriff, constable or other peace officer is hereby authorized and empowered, and it is hereby made his duty, to clear the passage way, and prevent such obstruction, and to arrest any person so doing. No person shall remove any ballot from the polling place before the closing of the polls. No person shall show his ballot after it is marked, to any person, in such a way as to reveal the contents thereof, or the name of the candidate or candidates for whom he has marked his vote; nor shall any person solicit the elector to show the same; nor shall any person, except the judge of election, receive from any elector a ballot prepared for voting. No elector shall receive a ballot from any other person than one of the judges of election having charge of the ballots; nor shall any person other than such judge of election, deliver a ballot to such elector. No elector shall vote, or offer to vote, any ballot except such as he has received from the judges of election having charge of the ballots. No elector shall place any mark upon his ballot by which it may afterwards be identified as the one voted by him. Every elector who does not vote a ballot delivered to him by the judges of election having charge of the ballots, shall, before leaving the polling place, return such ballot to such judges. [Act approved March 7th, 1901.] (7th Sess. 118-119.)

550. Expenses of providing places for election.—The expense of providing such places or compartments, ropes and guard rails is a public charge, and must be provided for in the same manner as the other election expenses. [Act approved March 7th, 1901.] (7th Sess. 119.)

551. Delivery of official ballots to elector.—At any election the judges of election must designate two of their number whose duty it is to deliver ballots to the qualified electors. Before delivering any ballot to an elector, the said judges must print on the back, and near the top of the ballot, with the rubber or other stamp provided for the purpose, the designation “official ballot” and the other words on same, as provided for in Section 547 (1356) of this Chapter; and the clerks must enter on the poll lists the name of such elector and the number of the stub attached to the ballot given him. Each qualified elector must be entitled to receive from the judges one ballot. [Act March 5, 1907, § 4.] (10th Sess. Chap. 88.)

552. Method of voting.—On receipt of his ballot the elector must forthwith, without leaving the polling place and within the guard rail provided, and alone, retire to one of the places, booths or compartments, if such are provided, and prepare his ballot. He shall prepare his ballot by marking an “X” in the square before the name of the person or persons for whom he intends to vote. In case of a ballot containing a constitutional amendment, or other question to be submitted to the vote of the people, by marking an “X” in the square before the answer of the question, or amendment submitted. The elector may write in the blank spaces, or paste over any other name, the name of any person for whom he wishes to vote, and vote for such person by marking an “X” before such name. No elector is at liberty to use or bring into the polling place any unofficial sample ballot. After preparing his ballot, the elector must fold it so the face of the ballot will be concealed and so that the endorsements stamped thereon may be seen, and hand the same to the judges in charge of the ballot box, who shall announce the name of the elector and the printed or stamped number on the stub of the official ballot so delivered to him, in a loud and distinct tone of voice. If such elector be entitled then and there to vote, and if such printed or stamped number is the same as that entered on the poll list as the number on the stub of the official ballot last delivered to him by the ballot judge, such judge shall receive such ballot, and, after removing the stub therefrom in plain sight of the elector and without removing any other part of the ballot, or in any way exposing any part of the face thereof below the stub, shall deposit each ballot in the proper ballot box for the reception of voted ballots, and the stubs in a box for detached ballot stubs. Upon voting, the elector shall forthwith pass outside the guard rail, unless he be one of the persons authorized to remain within the guard rail for other purposes than voting. [Act March 5, 1907, § 5.] (10th Sess. Chap. 88.)

Dickerman v. Gelsthorpe, 19 Mont. 249; 47 Pac. 999. Where a ballot is marked with a cross at the head of a party list, containing no candidate for a certain office, and is marked with a cross opposite the name of a candidate for that office under another list, the ballot should be counted for all candidates under the party list and the candidate so marked. Where a ballot is marked with a cross at the head of a party list, and a cross is marked opposite the names of some, but not all the candidates under that list, and no other marks are made, the ballot should be counted for all candidates under the list. Where a ballot is marked with a cross at the head of a party list containing the name of D. for county treasurer, and a cross is marked opposite the name of G., a candidate for the same office in another party list, the ballot should not be counted for D. or G.

State v. Fransham, 19 Mont. 292; 48 Pac. 7.

State v. Martin, 24 Mont. 406; 62 Pac. 589.

553. (§ 1362.) Only one person to occupy booth, and no longer than five minutes.—No more than one person must be allowed to occupy any one booth at one time, and no person must remain in or occupy a booth longer than may be necessary to prepare his ballot, and in no event longer than five minutes, if the other booths or compartments are occupied.

554. (§ 1363.) Spoiled ballot.—Any elector who by accident or mistake spoils his ballot, may, on returning said spoiled ballot, receive another in place thereof.

555. Judges may aid disabled elector.—Any elector who declares to the judges of election, or when it appears to the judges of election that he cannot read or write or that because of blindness or other physical disability he is unable to mark his ballot, but for no other cause, must upon request receive the assistance of two of the judges, who shall represent different parties, in the marking thereof, and such judges must certify on the outside thereof, that it was so marked with their assistance, and must thereafter give no information regarding the same.

The judges must require such declaration of disability to be made by the elector under oath before them, and they are hereby authorized to administer the same. No elector other than the one who may, because of his inability to read or write or of his blindness or physical disability, be unable to mark his ballot, must divulge to any one within the polling place the name of any candidate for whom he intends to vote, or ask, or receive the assistance of any person within the polling place in the preparation of his ballot. [Act approved March 7th, 1901.] (7th Sess. 120.)

Lane v. Bailey, 25 Mont. 549; 75 Pac. 191.

556. (§ 1365.) Voting, when to commence and continue.—Voting may commence as soon as the polls are open, and may be continued during all the time the polls remain open.

557. (§ 1366.) Manner of Voting.—The person offering to vote must hand his ballot to the judges, and announce his name, and in incorporated cities and towns any such person must also give the name of the street, avenue or location of his residence, and the number thereof, if it be numbered, or such clear and definite description of the place of such residence as shall definitely fix the same.

558. (§ 1367.) Announcement of voter's name.—The judges must receive the ballot, and before depositing it in the ballot box must, in an audible tone of voice, announce the name, and in incorporated towns and cities the judges must also announce the residence of the person voting and the same must be recorded on each poll book.

559. (§ 1368.) Putting ballot in box.—If the name be found on the official register in use at the precinct where the vote is offered, or that the person offering to vote produce and surrender a proper registry certificate, and the vote is not rejected upon a challenge taken, the judges must immediately and publicly, in the presence of all the judges, place the ballot, without opening or examining the same, in the ballot box.

560. (§ 1369.) Record that person has voted, how kept.—When the ballot has been placed in the box, one of the judges must write the word "Voted" opposite the number of the person on the check list for the precinct.

561. (§ 1370.) List of voters.—Each clerk must keep a list of persons voting, and the name of each person who votes must be entered thereon and numbered in the order voting. Such list is known as the poll list and forms a part of the poll book of the precinct.

562. (§ 1371.) Grounds of challenge.—Any person offering to vote may be orally challenged by any elector of the county upon either or all of the following grounds:

1. That he is not the person whose name appears on the register or check list.

2. That he is an idiot or insane person.

3. That he has voted before that day.

4. That he has been convicted of a felony and not pardoned.

563. (§ 1372.) Proceedings on challenges for want of identity.—If the challenge is on the ground that he is not the person whose name appears on the official register, the judges must tender him the following oath:

“You do swear (or affirm) that you are the person whose name is entered on the official register and check list.”

564. (§ 1373.) Same on challenges for having voted before.—If the challenge is on the ground that the person challenged has voted before that day, the judges must tender to the person challenged this oath:

“You do swear (or affirm) that you have not before voted this day.”

565. (§ 1374.) Same on ground for conviction of crime.—If the challenge is on the ground that the person challenged has been convicted of a felony, the judges must tender him the following oath:

“You do swear (or affirm) that you have not been convicted of a felony.”

566. (§ 1375.) Challenges, how determined.—Challenges upon the grounds either:

1. That the person challenged is not the person whose name appears on the official register; or

That the person has before voted that day, are determined in favor of the person challenged by his taking the oath tendered.

2. A challenge upon the ground that the person challenged has been convicted of a felony and not pardoned must be determined in favor of the person challenged on his taking the oath tendered, unless the fact of conviction be proved by the production of an authenticated copy of the record; or by the oral testimony of two witnesses. If the person challenged asserts that he has been convicted of a felony and pardoned therefor, he must exhibit his pardon or a proper certified copy thereof to the judges, and if the pardon be found sufficient, the judges must tender to him the following oath: “You do swear that you have not been convicted of any felony other than that for which a pardon is now exhibited.” Upon taking this oath the person challenged must be permitted to vote if otherwise qualified, unless a conviction of some other felony be proved, as in this section provided for the proof of a conviction.

567. (§ 1376.) Trial of challenges.—Challenges for causes other than those specified in the preceding section must be tried and determined by the judges of election at the time of the challenge.

568. (§ 4377.) If a person refuses to be sworn, vote to be rejected.—If any person challenged refuses to take the oaths tendered, or refuses to be sworn and to answer the questions touching the matter of residence, he must not be allowed to vote.

569. (§ 1378.) Proceedings upon determination of challenges.—If the challenge is determined against the person offering to vote, the ballot must, without examination, be destroyed by the judges in the presence of the person offering the same; if determined in his favor, the ballot must be deposited in the ballot box.

570. (§ 1379.) List of challenges to be kept.—The judges must cause each of the clerks to keep a list showing:

1. The names of all persons challenged.
2. The grounds of such challenges.
3. The determination of the judges upon the challenge.

571. (§ 1380.) Persons not entitled to vote.—No person is entitled to vote at any election mentioned in this title, except as otherwise provided in this title, unless his name on the day of the election appear in the “check lists,” on the copy of the official register furnished by the registry agents to the judges of election at the election precinct at which he offers to vote, or unless he produces and surrenders a county registry certificate or a state registry certificate, as provided in §§ 474 (1204) and 486 (1217) of this code, and the fact that his name so appears in the “check lists” and in the copy of the official register in the possession of the judges of election is prima facie evidence of his right to vote.

CHAPTER X.

CANVASSING AND RETURNING THE VOTE.

- Section 572. Canvass to be public and without adjournment.*
 “ 573. Mode of canvassing.
 “ 575. What ballots must be counted.
 “ 576. Ascertaining the number of votes cast and persons voted for.
 “ 577. Tickets to be strung and enclosed in sealed envelopes.
 “ 579. Return list.
 “ 580. Election returns by judges; how made.
 “ 581. One of the judges to keep certain papers and the ballot box.

Section 582. Custody of election returns.

“ 583. Delivery to county clerk.

“ 584. Filing of ballots and stubs by county clerk.

“ 585. Keeping returns pending contest.

572. (§ 1400.) Canvass to be public and without adjournment.—As soon as the polls are closed the judges must immediately proceed to canvass the votes given at such election. The canvass must be public in the presence of bystanders, and must be continued without adjournment until completed and the result thereof is publicly declared.

573. (§ 1401.) Mode of canvassing.—The canvass must commence by a comparison of the poll lists from the commencement, and the correction of any mistakes that may be found therein, until they are found to agree. The judges must then take out of the box the ballots unopened except to ascertain whether each ballot is single, and count the same to determine whether the number of ballots correspond with the number of names on the poll lists. If two or more ballots are found so folded together as to present the appearance of a single ballot, they must be laid aside until the count of the ballots is completed, and if on comparing the count with the poll lists and further considering the appearance of such ballots, a majority of the judges are of the opinion that the ballots thus folded together were voted by one elector, they must be rejected otherwise they must be counted.

574. (§ 1402.) Where ballots are in excess of names on check list.—If the ballots then are found to exceed in number the whole number of names on the poll list, they must be placed in the box (after being purged in the manner above stated), and one of the judges must, publicly, and without looking in the box, draw therefrom singly and destroy unopened so many ballots as are equal to such excess. And the judges must make a record on the poll list of the number of ballots so destroyed.

575. (§ 1403.) What ballots must be counted.—In the canvass of the votes any ballot which is not indorsed, as provided in this title, by the official stamp, is void and must not be counted, and any ballot or parts of a ballot from which it is impossible to determine the elector's choice, is void and must not be counted; if part of a ballot is sufficiently plain to gather therefrom the elector's intention, it is the duty of the judges of election to count such part.

Dickerman v. Gelsthorpe, 19 Mont. 259; 47 Pac. 1003. This section was intended to modify certain sections, which have been amended or repealed

State v. Fransham, 19 Mont. 292; 48 Pac. 7.

576. (§ 1404.) Ascertaining the number of votes cast and persons voted for.—The ballots and poll lists agreeing or being made to agree, the judges must then proceed to count and ascertain the number of votes cast for each person voted for. In making such count the ballots must be opened singly by one of the judges, and the contents thereof, while exposed to the view of the other judges, must be distinctly read aloud by the judge who opens the ballot. As the ballots are read each clerk must write at full length on a sheet to be known as a tally sheet, the name of every person voted for and of the office for which he received votes, and keep by tallies on such sheet the number of votes for each person. The tally sheets must then be compared and their correctness ascertained, and the clerks must, under the supervision of the judges, immediately thereafter set down, at length and in their proper places in the poll books, the names of all persons voted for, the offices for which they respectively received votes, and the total number of votes received by each person, as shown by the tally sheets. No ballot or vote rejected by the judges must be included in the count provided for in this section.

577. (§ 1405.) Tickets to be strung and enclosed in sealed envelopes.—The ballots, as soon as read, or rejected for illegality, must be strung upon a string by one of the judges, and must not thereafter be examined by any person, but must, as soon as all legal ballots are counted, be carefully sealed in a strong envelope, each member of the judges writing his name across the seal.

Chatham v. Mansfield, 1 C. App. 303; 82 Pac. 343.

578. (§ 1406.) Rejected ballots.—Any ballot rejected for illegality, must be marked by the judges, by writing across the face thereof, "Rejected on the ground of ———," filling the blank with a brief statement of the reasons for the rejection, which statement must be dated and signed by a majority of the judges.

579. (§ 1407.) Return list.—As soon as all the votes are counted and the ballots sealed up, the poll books must be signed and certified to by the judges and clerks of election substantially as in the form in § 519 (1302) of this code.

580. Election returns by judges; how made.—The judges must, before they adjourn, enclose in a strong envelope, securely sealed up and directed to the county clerk, the check lists, all certificates of registration received by them, one of the lists of the persons challenged, one of the poll books, one of the tally sheets and the official oaths taken by the judges and clerks of election; and must enclose in a separate package or envelope, securely sealed up and directed to the county clerk, all detached stubs from ballots voted, and all unused ballots with the numbered stubs attached; and must also enclose in a separate package or envelope, securely sealed up and directed to the county clerk, all ballots voted, including all voted ballots which, for any reason, were not counted or allowed, and endorse on the outside thereof "Ballots Voted."

Each of the judges must write his name across the seal of each of said envelopes or packages. [Act March 5, 1907, § 6.] (10th Sess. Chap. 88.)

581. (§ 1409.) One of the judges to keep certain papers and the ballot box.—The judges must select one of their number to retain, open to the inspection of all electors, for at least six months, the other list of persons challenged, the other tally sheet and poll book. The judge so selected must also retain the ballot box.

582. Custody of election returns.—The sealed envelope containing the check lists, certificates of registration, poll book, tally sheets, oaths of election officers; also the package or envelope containing the detached stubs and unused ballots, must, before the judges adjourn, be delivered to one of their number, to be determined by lot, unless otherwise agreed upon. [Act March 5, 1907, § 7.] (10th Sess. 88.)

583. (§ 1411.) Delivery to county clerk.—The judges to whom such packages are delivered must, within twenty-four hours, deliver them without their having been opened, to the county clerk, or convey the same, unopened, to the postoffice nearest the house in which the election for such precinct was held, and register and mail the same, duly directed to the said clerk.

Chatham v. Mansfield, 1 C. App. 303; 82 Pac. 343.

584. Filing of ballots and stubs by county clerk.—Upon the receipt of the packages by the county clerk, he must file the one containing the ballots voted and the one containing the detached stubs and unused ballots, and must keep them unopened and unaltered for twelve months, after which time, if there is no contest commenced in some tribunal having jurisdiction about such election, he must burn such packages, or envelopes, without opening or examining their contents. [Act March 5, 1907, § 8.] (10th Sess. Chap. 88.)

585. Keeping returns pending contest.—If, within twelve months, there is such a contest commenced, he must keep the packages or envelopes unopened and unaltered until it is finally determined, when he must, as provided in the preceding section, destroy them, unless the same are, by virtue of an order of the tribunal in which the contest is pending, brought and opened before it, to the end that evidence may be had of their contents, in which event the packages or envelopes and their contents are in the custody of such tribunal. [Act March 5, 1907, § 9.] (10th Sess. Chap. 88.)

588. (§ 1430.) Meeting of county commissioners to canvass returns.—The board of county commissioners of each county is ex-officio a board of county canvassers for the county, and must meet as a board of county canvassers at the usual place of meeting of the county commissioners within ten days after each election at twelve o'clock noon, to canvass the returns.

589. (§ 1431.) In case of absence certain county officers to act.—If at the time and place appointed for such meeting one or more of the county commissioners should not attend, the place of the absentees must be supplied by one or more of the following county officers, whose duty it is to act in the order named, to-wit: The treasurer, the assessor, the sheriff, so that the board of county canvassers shall always consist of three acting members. The clerk of the board of county commissioners is the clerk of the board of county canvassers.

590. (§ 1432.) Canvass to be postponed, when.—If at the time of meeting, the returns from each precinct in the county in which polls were opened have been received, the board of county canvassers must then and there proceed to canvass the returns; but if all the returns have not been received the canvass must be postponed from day to day until all of the returns are received, or until seven postponements have been had. If the returns from any election precinct have not been received by the county clerk within seven days after any election, it is his duty forthwith to send a messenger to the judges for the missing returns, who must procure such returns from the judges, or any of them, and return the same to the county clerk. Such messenger must be paid out of the county treasury, fifteen cents per mile in going and coming. If it appears to the board, by evidence, that the polls were not opened in any precinct, and no returns have been received therefrom, the board must certify to the same, and file such certificate with the county clerk, with the evidence, if any, who must enter the same in the minutes and in the statement mentioned in § 592 (1434.)

591. (§ 1433.) Canvass to be public.—The canvass must be made in public by opening the returns and determining therefrom the vote of such county or precinct for each person voted for, and for and against each proposition voted upon at such election, and declaring the result thereof. In canvassing, no returns must be rejected if it can be ascertained therefrom the number of votes cast for each person. The fact that the returns do not show who administered the oath to the judges or clerks of election, or a failure to fill out all the certificates in the poll books, or to do or perform any other act in making up the returns, that is not essential to determine for whom the votes were cast, is not such an irregularity as to entitle the board to reject the same, but they must be canvassed as other returns are.

592. (§ 1434.) Statement of the result to be entered of record.—The clerk of the board must, as soon as the result is declared, enter on the records of such board a statement of such result, which statement must show:

1. The whole number of votes cast in the county.
2. The names of the persons voted for, and the propositions voted upon.
3. The office to fill which each person was voted for.
4. The number of votes given at each precinct to each of such persons, and for and against each of such propositions.

5. The number of votes given in the county to each of such persons, and for and against each of such propositions.

593. (§ 1435.) Declaration of result.—The board must declare elected the person having the highest number of votes given for each office to be filled by the votes of a single county or subdivision thereof.

594. (§ 1436.) Certificates issued by the clerk.—The clerk of the board of county commissioners must immediately make out and deliver to such person (except to the person elected district judge) a certificate of election signed by him and authenticated with the seal of the board of county commissioners.

People v. Shaver, 127 Cal. 350; 59 Pac. 784.

595. (§ 1437.) Returns for joint members of house of representatives.—When there are members of the house of representatives voted for, by the electors of a district composed of two or more counties, each of the clerks of the counties composing such district, immediately after making out the statement specified in § 592 (1434), must make a certified abstract of so much thereof, as relates to the election of such officers.

596. (§ 1438.) How transmitted.—The clerk must seal up such abstract, indorse it "election returns," and without delay transmit the same by mail to the clerk of the board of commissioners of the county which stands first in alphabetical arrangement in the list of counties composing such district.

597. (§ 1439.) Duty of clerk receiving such returns.—The clerk to whom the returns of a district are made, must on the twentieth day after such election, or sooner, if the returns from all the counties in the district have been received, open in public such returns, and from them and the statement of the vote for such officers in his own county:

1. Make a statement of the vote of the district for such officers, and file the same, together with the returns, in his office.

2. Transmit a certified copy of such statement to the secretary of state.

3. Make out and deliver or transmit by mail to the persons elected a certificate of election (unless it is by law otherwise provided.)

598. (§ 1440.) State returns, how made.—When there has been a general or special election for officers voted for by the electors of the state at large or for judicial officers (except justices of the peace), each clerk of the board of county canvassers, so soon as the statement of the vote of his county is made out and entered upon the records of the board of county commissioners, must make a certified abstract of so much thereof as relates to the votes given for persons for said offices to be filled at such election.

599. (§ 1441.) How transmitted.—The clerk must seal up such abstract, indorse it "Election Returns," and without delay transmit it by mail, registered, to the secretary of state.

600. (§ 1442.) State canvassers, who comprise, when to meet.—On the first Monday of December after the day of election, at twelve o'clock noon, the state auditor, state treasurer, and attorney general, who constitute a board of state canvassers, must meet in the office of the secretary of state and compute and determine the vote, and the secretary of state, who is secretary of said board, must make out and file in his office a statement thereof and transmit a copy of such statement to the governor.

601. (§ 1443.) Messenger may be sent for returns. His duty and compensation.—If the returns from all the counties have not been received on the fifth day before the day designated for the meeting of the board of state canvassers, the secretary of state must forthwith send a messenger to the clerk of the board of county canvassers of the delinquent county, and such clerk must furnish the messenger with a certified copy of the statement mentioned in § 592 (1434.) The person appointed is entitled to receive as compensation five dollars per day for the time necessarily consumed in such service and the traveling expenses necessarily incurred. His account therefor, certified by the secretary of state, after being allowed by the board of examiners, must be paid out of the general fund of the state treasury.

602. (§ 1444.) Governor to issue commission.—Upon receipt of such copy mentioned in § 600 (1442), the governor must issue commissions to the persons who from it appear to have received the highest number of votes for offices to be filled at such election. In case a governor has been elected to succeed himself, the secretary of state must issue the commission.

Bledsoe v. Colgan, 138 Cal. 36; 70 Pac. 924.

603. (§ 1445.) Tie vote on state officers.—In case of a tie vote for state officers, as specified in § 457 (1171) of this code, it is the duty of the secretary of state to transmit to the legislative assembly, at its next regular session, a certified copy of the statement showing the vote cast for the two or more persons having an equal and the highest number of votes for any state office.

604. (§ 1446.) Tie vote on judicial officers.—In case any two or more persons have an equal and highest number of votes for justice of the supreme court, or judge of a district court, the secretary of state must transmit to the governor a certified statement showing the vote cast for such person and thereupon the governor must appoint an eligible person to hold office, as in case of other vacancies in such offices.

605. (§ 1447.) Tie vote on representatives in congress.—In case of a failure by reason of a tie vote or otherwise, to elect a representative in congress, the secretary of state must transmit to the governor a certified statement showing the vote cast for such persons voted for, and in case of a failure to elect, by reason of a tie vote or otherwise, the governor must order a special election.

606. (§ 1448.) Defect in form of returns to be disregarded.—No declaration of the result, commission or certificate must be withheld on account of any defect or informality in the return of any election, if it can, with reasonable certainty, be ascertained from such return what office is intended and who is elected thereto.

607. (§ 1449.) Duty of secretary of state to print election laws.—It is the duty of the secretary of state to cause to be published, in pamphlet form, a sufficient number of copies of this title, and such other provisions of law as bear upon the subject of elections, and to transmit the proper number to each county clerk, whose duty it is to furnish each election officer in his county with one of such copies.

608. (§ 1450.) Penalties.—The penalties for the violation of this title are prescribed in title IV., part I., of the penal code.

609. State Board of Voting Machine Commissioners.—The governor, secretary of state and state auditor and their successors in office, are hereby created and constituted the State Board of

Voting Machine Commissioners. It shall be the duty of said board to examine all voting or ballot machines in order to determine whether such machines comply with the requirements of this act, and can safely be used by voters at elections under the provisions of this act, and no machine or machines shall be provided or used at any election in this state unless the said machine or machines shall have received the approval of a majority of said board as herein provided. Said board may employ two qualified mechanics who shall be qualified electors of the State of Montana to examine said machines and assist said board in the discharge of its duties under this act, the compensation to be paid such qualified mechanics not to exceed the sum of ten dollars each for each day actually employed. Any machine or machines which shall have the approval of the majority of said board may be provided for in this act. The report of said board on each and every kind of voting machine shall be filed with the secretary of state within thirty days after examining the machine, and the secretary of state shall within five days after the filing of any report approving any machine or machines, transmit to the board of county commissioners, city council or other board of officers having charge and control of election in each of the counties and cities of this state, a list of the machines so approved. No machine or machines shall be used unless they shall have received the approval of the state board at least sixty days prior to any election at which such machine or machines are to be used. The compensation of the mechanics and all other expenses connected with the examination of any machine shall be paid, or caused to be paid, by the person or company submitting a machine for examination before the filing of the report thereon. The amount of such expenses shall be certified by the state auditor and paid to the state treasurer. [Act approved March 8th, 1907, § 1.] (10th Sess. Chap. 168.)

610. Specifications of machines required.—No machine or machine system shall be approved by the commission unless it be so constructed as to afford every elector a reasonable opportunity to vote for any person for any office or for or against any proposition for whom, or for or against which he is by law entitled to vote and enable him to do this in secrecy; and it must be so constructed as to preclude an elector from voting for any candidate for the same office or upon any question more than once, and from voting for any person for any office for whom he is not by law entitled to vote. The machine or machine system must admit of his voting a split ticket as he may desire. It must also be so constructed as to register or record each and every vote cast. For presidential electors one device may be provided for voting for all the candidates of one party at one time by the use of such device, opposite or adjacent to which shall be a ballot on the machine containing the names of all of the candidates for all presidential electors of that party and a vote registered or recorded by the use of such device shall be counted for each of such candidates on said ballot. The machine must be constructed so that it cannot be tampered with or manipulated for any fraudulent purpose; and the machine must be so locked, arranged, or constructed that during the progress of the voting, no person can see or know the number of votes registered or recorded for any candidate. [Act approved March 8, 1907, § 2.] (10th Sess. Chap. 168.)

611. Counties and cities to use machines.—The boards of county commissioners of counties of the first class, and the city councils of cities of the first class shall and the board of county commissioners and the city and town councils of other counties, cities and towns, may adopt and purchase for use in the various precincts, any voting machine approved in the manner above set forth in this act, by the voting machine commission and none other. If it shall be impracticable to supply each and every election district with a voting machine or voting machines at any election following the adoption of such machines in a city, village or town, as many may be supplied as it is practicable to procure, and the same shall be used in such precinct of the municipality, as the proper officers may order. The proper officers of any city, village or town may, not later than the tenth day of September, in any year in which a general election is held, unite two or more precincts into one for the purpose of using therein at such election a voting machine, and the notice of such uniting shall be given in the manner prescribed by law for the change of election districts. [Act approved March 8, 1907, § 3.] (10th Sess. Chap. 168.)

612. Payment for machines; how provided for.—Payment for voting machines purchased may be provided by the issuance of interest bearing bonds, certificates of indebtedness, or other obligation, which will be a charge upon such county, city or town, such bonds, certificates, or other obligation may be made payable at such time or times, not exceeding ten years from the date of issue, as may be determined, but shall not be issued or sold at less than par. [Act approved March 8, 1907, § 4.] (10th Sess. Chap. 168.)

613. Method of conducting elections.—The room in which the election is held shall have a railing separating that part of the room to be occupied by the election officers from that part of the room occupied by the voting machine. The exterior of the voting machine and every part of the polling place shall be in plain view of the judges. The machine shall be so placed that no person on the opposite side of the railing can see or determine how the voter casts his vote, and that no person can so see or determine from the outside of the room. After the opening of the polls the judges shall not allow any person to pass within the railing to that part of the room where the machine is situated except for the purpose of voting and except as provided in the next succeeding section of this act; and they shall not permit more than one voter at a time to be in such part of the room. They shall not themselves remain or permit any person to remain in any position that would permit him or them to see or ascertain how the voter votes or how he has voted. No voter shall remain within the voting machine booth or compartment longer than one minute and if he should refuse to leave it after that lapse of time he shall at once be removed by the judges. [Act approved March 8, 1907, § 5.] (10th Sess. Chap. 168.)

614. Assistance to elector unable to record vote.—If any voter shall, in the presence of the judges of election, declare that he is unable to read or write the English language or that by reason of physical disability or total blindness he is unable to register or record his vote upon the machine, he shall be assisted as provided by section of the statutes of Any person who shall deceive any elector in registering or recording his vote under this section, or who shall register or record his vote in any other way than as requested by such person, or who shall give information to any person as to what ticket or for what person or persons such person voted, shall be punished as provided in § 8130 (66) of the Penal Code. [Act approved March 8, 1907, § 6.] (10th Sess. Chap. 168.)

615. Ballots and instructions to voters.—Ballots shall be provided by the respective city and county clerks for all the candidates to be voted for at an election and of suitable size to fit the space provided for that purpose on or in the machine and each shall be placed on or in the machine adjacent to or on the registering or recording device therefor. The ballots shall be placed on or in the machine in the order of arrangement provided by section 545 of the Political Code, except that they may be vertical columns or horizontal rows. Ballots for all questions must be provided in the same manner and must be arranged on or in the machine in the places provided for such purpose. The officers charged with the duty of providing ballots for any polling place, shall provide therefor five sample ballots which shall be exact copies of the official ballots which are caused to be printed by them, but on different colored paper from the official ballots; said sample ballots shall be arranged in the form of a diagram showing the entire form of voting machine as it will appear after the ballots are arranged thereon for voting on election day. In addition to said sample ballots, the proper officers may furnish in connection therewith, instruction cards, diagrams of the front of the machine with ballots posted thereon, at least two of which shall also be posted up near the voting place, if furnished. All ballots shall be published as now provided by law. The ballots for the machines, and also sample ballots, shall be furnished the judges at least one day before the election. [Act approved March 8, 1907, § 7.] (10th Sess. Chap. 168.)

616. City and county clerks to set up machines for use.—The city or county clerk of each city or county in which a voting machine is to be used shall cause the proper ballots to be put upon each machine corresponding with the sample ballots herein provided for, and the machines in every way put in order, set and adjusted, ready for use in voting when delivered at the precinct, and for the purpose of so labeling the machines, putting in order, setting and adjusting the same, they may employ one or more competent persons, and they shall cause the machine so labeled, in order and set and adjusted, to be delivered at the voting precinct, together with all necessary furniture and appliances that go with the same, in the room where the election is to be held in the precinct, in time for the opening of the polls on election day. The judges shall compare the ballots on the machine with the sample ballot, see that they are correct, examine and see that all the counters, if any, in the machine are set at zero, and that the machine is otherwise in perfect order, and they shall not thereafter permit the machine to be operated or moved except by electors in voting, and they shall also see that all necessary arrangements and adjustments are made for voting irregular ballots on the machine, if such machine be so designed. [Act approved March 8, 1907, § 8.] (10th Sess. Chap. 168.)

617. Irregular ballots.—In case a voting machine be adopted which provides for the registry or recording of votes for candidates whose names are not on the official ballot, such ballots shall be denominated irregular ballots. A person whose name appears on a ballot or on or in a machine or machine system, shall not be voted for, for the same office or on or in any irregular device for casting an irregular ticket, and any such vote shall not be counted, except for the office of presidential electors, and an elector may vote in or on such irregular device for one or more persons nominated by one party with one or more persons nominated by any or all other parties, or for one or more persons nominated by one or more parties with one or more persons not in nomination, or he may vote in such irregular device a presidential electoral ticket composed entirely of names of persons not in nomination. [Act approved March 8, 1907, § 9.] (10th Sess. Chap. 168.)

move the recording device so as to provide against voting, and open the registering or recording compartments in the presence of any person desiring to attend the same, and shall proceed to ascertain the number of votes cast for each person voted for at the election, and to canvass, record, announce and return the same as provided by law. [Act approved March 8, 1907, § 10.] (10th Sess. Chap. 168.)

619. Election returns.—The judges as soon as the count is completed and fully ascertained, shall seal, close, lock the machine, or remove the record so as to provide against voting or being tampered with, and in case of a machine so sealed or locked, it shall so remain for a period of at least thirty days, unless opened by order of a court of competent jurisdiction. When irregular ballots have been voted, the judges shall return them in a properly sealed package endorsed “irregular ballots,” and indicating the precinct and county and file such package with the city or county clerk. It shall be preserved for six months after such election and may be opened and its contents examined only upon an order of a court of competent jurisdiction; at the end of such six months, unless ordered otherwise by the court, such package and its contents shall be destroyed by the city or county clerk. All tally sheets taken from such machine, if any, shall be returned in the same manner. The officers heretofore charged with the duty of furnishing tally sheets and return blanks shall furnish suitable return blanks and certificates to the officers of election. Such return sheets shall have each candidate’s name designated by the same reference character that said candidate’s name bears on the ballot labels and counters, and shall make provision for writing in of the vote for such candidate in figures, and shall also provide for the writing in of the vote in words. Such return sheet shall also provide for the return of the vote on questions. It shall also have a blank thereon, on which can be marked the precinct, ward, etc., of which said return sheet bears the returns and the number and make of the machine used. Said return sheet shall also have a certificate thereon, to be executed before the polls open by the judges of election, stating that all counters except the protective counter, if any, and except as otherwise noted thereon stood at “000” at the beginning of the election, and that all of said counters had been carefully examined before the beginning of the election; that the ballot labels were correctly placed on the machine and correspond to the sample ballot, and such other statements as the particular machine may require; and shall provide for the signature of the election officers. Said return sheet shall also have thereon a second certificate stating the manner of closing the polls, the manner of verifying the returns, that the foregoing returns are correct, giving the indication of the public counter, and poll list, and protective counter, if any, at the close of the election. Such certificate shall properly specify the procedure of canvassing the vote and locking the machine, etc., for the particular type of machine used, and such certificate shall be such that the election officers can properly subscribe to it as having been followed and shall have provision for the signature of the election officers. The election officers shall conform their procedure to that specified in the certificate, to which they must certify. The certificate and attest of the election officers shall appear on each return sheet. (Act approved March 8, 1907.) (10th Sess. Chap. 168.)

620. Election laws applicable.—All laws of this state applicable to elections where voting is done in another manner than by machine, and all penalties prescribed for violation of such laws shall apply to elections and precincts where voting machines are used in so far as they are not in conflict with the provisions of this Act. [Act approved March 8, 1907, § 12.] (10th Sess. Chap 168.)

621. Penalty for neglect of duty by election officer.—Any public officer or any election officer upon whom any duty is imposed by this Act or who shall willfully neglect or omit to perform any such duties, or do any act prohibited herein for which punishment is not otherwise provided herein, shall upon conviction, be imprisoned in the State Prison for not less than one year or more than three years or be fined in any sum not exceeding one thousand dollars, or may be punished by both such imprisonment and fine. [Act approved March 8, 1907, § 14.] (10th Sess. Chap. 168.)

623. Penalty for violation of duty by judge of election.—Whoever, being a judge of election with intent to permit or cause any voting machine to fail to correctly register or record any vote cast thereon, tampers with or disarranges such machine in any way, or any part or appliance thereof, or who causes or consents to said machine being used for voting at any election with knowledge of the fact that the same is not in order, or not perfectly set and adjusted, so that it will correctly register or record all votes cast thereon or who, for the purpose of defrauding or deceiving any voter or of causing it to be doubtful for what ticket or candidate or candidates or proposition any vote is cast, or of causing it to appear upon said machine that votes cast for one ticket, candidate or proposition were cast for another ticket, candidate or proposition, removes, changes or mutilates any ballot on said machine, or any part thereof, or does any other like thing shall be imprisoned in the state prison not more than ten years or fined not exceeding one thousand dollars, or punished by both such fine and imprisonment. 625. Experimental use of machines. Defective machines.—The proper officers authorized by this Act to adopt voting machines, may provide for the experimental use of an election in one or more precincts, of a machine approved by the Montana Voting Machine Commission without a formal adoption or purchase thereof and its use at such election shall be as valid for all purposes as if formally adopted. If from any cause a machine becomes unworkable, or unfit for use, voting shall proceed as in cases where machines are not used, and the County Clerk must furnish each voting place with the supply of ballots and other supplies required by the election laws to be used in the case of emergency herein provided for, and in such case only. [Act approved March 8, 1907, § 17.] (10th Sess. Chap. 168.)

In case of division, each district shall own and hold all permanent property such as sites, school houses and furniture situated within its boundaries. All division of funds under this provision shall be made by the county superintendent, and when there are unpaid special taxes on the county tax book belonging to a district at the date of its division, the county treasurer, upon being notified of such division by the county superintendent, shall retain all money received in payment of such special tax until the same shall be apportioned by the county superintendent, whose duty it shall be to apportion said money quarterly between the fractions of the divided district, according to the location of the property on which said tax was levied. At the first apportionment after the organization of a new district, the county superintendent shall apportion to such district its per capita proportion of the general fund, but no money, either from the general or special fund, shall be paid out of the county treasury on account of such district, until a school shall have been taught therein one month. [Act approved March 11, 1895.]

844. (§ 1755.) District in two counties.—Whenever a district lies partly in one county and partly in another, the county superintendent must apportion to such district such proportion of the school money to which such district is entitled as the number of school census children residing in that portion of the district situate in his county bears to the whole number of school census children in the whole district. The trustees and teachers of joint districts must make to the superintendent of each county in which the district is located the reports which other trustees and teachers are required to make and also the number of pupils attending the school from each county; and all other acts which from their nature should be separately kept and done, as if each portion of said joint district belonging to each county were an entire district in the respective counties. The teachers of such joint districts shall have certificates from the superintendent of the county in which the school house is located. [Act approved March 11, 1895.]

845. Employment of teacher not qualified.—The Board of Trustees of any school district who shall employ any teacher who is not legally qualified to teach in public schools of their district shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor; provided, that this Section shall not apply to those Trustees who do not consent to such employment. [Act approved March 14th, 1901, § 3.] (7th Sess. 122.)

Jay v. School District, 24 Mont. 223; 61 Pac. 251. A contract for the employment of a teacher holding a certificate for a school year of nine months, is of no effect. Teachers must make annual reports to the county superintendent, or if the employment be only three months, at the end of such time.

846. Must maintain school for three months. Division of District.—No School District shall be entitled to receive any apportionment of any school monies, which shall not have maintained a free school for at least three months during the next preceding school year; provided, That any new district formed by the division of an old one shall be entitled to its apportionment, where the time that school was maintained in the old district before division, and in the new one after division, shall be equal to at least three months, and, provided further, that in isolated sections of a district consisting of not less than four children, and distant not less than five miles from the established school house in such district, where a school is maintained for three or four months by a regular qualified teacher for the benefit of the children of the families of such section, such district may draw the apportionment of school money for the children so attending said school. [Act approved March 5th, 1903. § 1.] (8th Sess. Chap. 81.)

847. Unauthorized text books; penalty.—The trustees of any school districts using text-books other than those prescribed by law, (except for supplementary purposes) shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor. Provided, That the foregoing shall only apply to those trustees consenting to the use of such other books. [Act approved March 8th, 1897, § 4.] (5th Sess. 130.)

848. (§ 1759.) Powers as body corporate.—Every school district constituted and formed as provided in this title shall be and is hereby declared to be a body corporate, and under its own proper name or number as such corporate body may sue and be sued, contract and be contracted with, and may acquire, purchase and hold and use personal or real property for school purposes for the purposes mentioned in this title, and sell and dispose of the same. [Act approved March 11, 1895.]

Jay v. School District, 24 Mont. 232; limited. They can exercise none except 61 Pac. 254. School districts are public such as are conferred by the law creating corporations but their powers are very them.

849. (§ 1760.) When district may be created.—No school district shall be created between the first day of March and the first day of September following of each year. [Act approved March 11, 1895.]

The nomination and election of any person shall be void, unless he or she was nominated at a meeting as above provided at which at least twenty qualified electors were present, and his or her nomination certified and filed as aforesaid, and the county commissioners shall not count any votes cast for any person, unless he or she has been so nominated and a certificate thereof filed as herein required. The county commissioners shall cause to be printed ballots of the form aforesaid, on which shall appear the names of all persons who were regularly nominated and whose certificate of nomination was properly filed as aforesaid. In districts of the first class the person desiring to vote shall, at the time he or she presents his or her ballot, announce his or her name, and the judges of election if they find such name on the official check list, or if not and he or she takes the oath herein prescribed, one of the judges shall take the ballot and deposit it in the ballot box, and the clerk shall immediately write the name of such person on the poll list and one of the judges shall write opposite the said name on the official check lists the word "voted." Any person voting at such election who is not entitled to vote, and any person voting more than once thereat, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished accordingly; and any person taking a false oath, shall be guilty of perjury. No person shall be entitled to vote at any election for school trustees in any district of the first class, unless his or her name shall, on the day of election, appear on the official check list furnished by the county clerk to the judges of election: Provided, however, that if any person, otherwise qualified to vote, makes oath before one of the judges that he or she registered at any registry precinct in such district, naming it, before a registry agent giving his name, to vote at said election, and that his or her name does not appear correctly on said check list, or has been omitted therefrom, or that by reason of absence or sickness during the period of registration he or she was unable to register, the judges of election shall make an entry opposite his or her name on the poll list to the effect that he or she was sworn and voted, and shall permit him or her to vote. The county commissioners shall provide for each election of trustees double as many ballots as there are voters registered within such district. No other ballot than that provided by the county commissioners shall be received by the judges, and in districts of the first class, where a daily paper is issued, the commissioners shall cause to be published in at least one paper for three days preceding the election, such official ballot, and in such districts where there is no daily paper, but a weekly, the official ballot shall be printed at least once in a weekly paper. Trustees must provide in each polling place designated by them a sufficient number of booths, places, or compartments, which must be furnished with such supplies as shall enable the elector to conveniently prepare his or her ballot, and in which electors screened from observation must mark their ballots. Guard railing must be so constructed that only persons within such railing and officers of election can approach within ten feet of the ballot boxes or the booths herein provided. Before delivering any ballot to an elector the judges must print on the back and near the top of the ballot, with a rubber stamp, the designation "official ballot." Each qualified elector shall receive from the judge one ballot. The elector on receiving his or her ballot must forthwith without leaving the polling place, and within the guard-rail provided, and alone, retire to one of the booths or compartments, and prepare his or her ballot, by marking a cross before the name of each candidate for whom he or she desires to vote. After preparing his or her ballot the elector must fold it so that the face of the ballot will be concealed, and so that the endorsement stamped thereon may be seen. He or she must then vote forthwith, and before leaving the polling place. Any elector who, because of physical disability or inability to read the English language is unable to mark his ballot, may request one of the judges to help him or her. Any elector who, by accident or mistake spoils his or her ballot, may on returning the spoiled ballot receive another. [Act approved March 6th, 1897, § 9.] (5th Sess. 139-141.)

So help you God." If he or she is a resident of a district of the second or third class, and he or she takes this oath, his or her vote must be received; otherwise rejected. If he or she is a resident of a district of the first class and takes this oath, and has complied with the provisions of this Act, with reference to elections therein or complies herewith, his or her vote must be received; otherwise it shall be rejected. 860. Tally list and certificates of votes cast.—At every election held under this Act, in districts of the first class, a poll and tally list shall be kept by the judges and clerk at each polling place, and immediately after the close of the polls the judges shall count the ballots, and if there be more ballots than votes cast the judges must draw by lot from the ballots without seeing them, a sufficient number of ballots to make the ballots remaining correspond with the number of votes cast. The clerk shall write down in alphabetical order in a poll book provided for that purpose the name of every person voting, at the time he or she deposits his or her ballots. There shall also be provided a tally list for each polling place; after the ballots have been counted and made to agree with the poll list, the judges shall proceed to count them. The clerk shall enter in the tally list the name of every person voted for trustee, and the term, and tally opposite his or her name, the number of votes cast for him or her and at the end thereof set down in a column provided for that purpose the whole number of votes he or she has received. The judges and clerk shall sign a certificate to said tally list setting forth the whole number of votes cast for each person or trustee, designating the term, and they shall verify the same as being correct to the best of their knowledge before an officer authorized to administer oaths. No informality in such certificate shall vitiate the election, if the number of votes received for each person can reasonably be ascertained from said tally list. In districts of the second and third class said books and tally lists shall be returned to the board of trustees of the district, who shall canvass the vote and cause the clerk of the district, to issue certificates of election to the person or persons elected, designating their term, a copy of which must be forwarded to the county superintendent of schools. In districts of the first class said poll books and the tally lists shall be delivered to the county clerk, and the board of county commissioners shall canvass the votes. 861. Canvass of votes.—The Board of County Commissioners shall canvass the votes of all districts of the first class in the same manner that they are required to canvass the votes at other elections and declare the results. 918. Any county may establish free high school.—Any county in the state may establish a county free high school on the condition and in the manner hereinafter prescribed, for the purpose of affording better educational facilities for pupils more advanced than those attending district schools. [Act February 25, 1907, § 1.] (10th Sess. Chap. 29.)

919. Petition for establishment and location.—Whenever one hundred freeholders in any county shall petition the Board of County Commissioners, requesting that a high school be established in their county, the county clerk shall give twenty days notice, by publication in the official paper of the county, that such petition has been filed, and that any village, town or city may become a candidate for the location of said high school upon petition of not less than fifty freeholders of said village, town or city, requesting that said place be named as a candidate for the location of said school. All nominations of places for the location of said school shall be filed with the Board of County Commissioners within thirty days from the date of the first publication of said notice. Any number of places may be candidates for the location of said school, but no freeholder shall append his name to more than one petition. [Act February 25, 1907, § 2.] (10th Sess. Chap. 29.)

920. Election. Voting.—At the expiration of thirty days from the date of the first publication of said notice, the County Commissioners shall call an election and appoint precinct judges and clerks. Said election shall be conducted in accordance with the general election laws of the state. The county clerk shall give twenty days notice of such election, by publication in the official paper of the county, that the question of establishing a county free high school in said county, and the location thereof, will be submitted to the qualified electors of said county at a designated time. The notice shall distinctly specify the places which are candidates in the forthcoming election. The qualified electors shall vote, by ballot, for or against the establishment of a county free high school, and any elector who shall vote for the establishment of the county free high school, may vote for not more than one of the places named upon said ballot as a candidate for the location of said school. The ballot shall be, substantially in the following form:

For a County High School at

Marysville,

Against a County High School.

An elector desiring to vote for the establishment of a high school, shall do so by placing an X before the name of the town at which he desires the high school to be located, which shall be a vote in favor of such town. An elector desiring to vote against the establishment of a high school shall do so by placing an X before the clause "Against a County High School," and shall not vote for any town. [Act February 25, 1907, § 3.] (10th Sess. Chap. 29.)

921. Canvass of returns.—After the election, the ballots on said question shall be canvassed in the manner provided for general county elections, and, if the vote in favor of establishing a county free high school shall be a majority of all votes cast upon said proposition, the Board of County Commissioners shall proceed to canvass the vote for the different candidates for the location of said school, and the village, town or city having the largest number of votes for the location of said school, provided said number of votes be a majority of all votes cast in favor of the measure, shall be declared to be the place for the location thereof. If the election results in favor of establishing such high school, and any candidate for its location has a majority, the Board of County Commissioners, by an order duly entered on their minutes, shall so declare this fact, and the Board shall immediately thereafter appoint six persons, residents and taxpayers of the county, at least three of whom shall be residents of the village, town or city where the school is located, who shall, with the County Superintendent of Schools, constitute a Board of Trustees for said school.

In case of a tie vote between two or more of the candidates having the highest number of votes for the location of said school, the county commissioners shall immediately call another election in the manner provided by law for general county elections, at which the only question to be submitted shall be the location of said school, and only the names of those candidates so tied shall appear upon the ballot. [Act February 25, 1907, § 4.] (10th Sess Chap 29.)

922. Special meetings of county commissioners.—If such petition is filed at any time when the Board of County Commissioners is not in session, the county clerk shall notify the commissioners thereof, and a special meeting shall be held to call the necessary election herein provided for. 923. Trustee's oath, bond and term of office; vacancies.—The trustees of county free high schools, except the County Superintendent of Schools, shall, within thirty days after appointment, qualify by taking the oath of office, and by giving such bond as may be required by the Board of County Commissioners for the faithful discharge of their duties. Said trustees, first appointed, except the County Superintendent of Schools, shall be divided into two classes of three each; the term of office of each class to be one and two years respectively, the respective terms to be decided by lot. The term of office of those in the first class shall expire one year from the third Saturday in April following their appointment, and the term of those in the second class shall expire two years from the third Saturday in April following their appointment.

The county commissioners shall appoint three trustees at their regular quarterly meeting in March of each year, and shall fill all vacancies as soon as practicable after the same occur.

The term of office of trustees, other than the County Superintendent of Schools, except of those first appointed, as hereinbefore provided, shall be for two years and until their successors are appointed and qualified. Appointments to fill vacancies shall be for the remainder of the unexpired term, provided that, in all appointments of trustees under this Act, there shall be at least three trustees who are residents of the village, town or city in which said high school is located. Whenever any vacancy occurs in said Board of Trustees, from any cause, the secretary of the board shall immediately certify such vacancy to the Board of County Commissioners, who shall fill such vacancies within sixty days thereafter. Said Board of High School Trustees shall be governed, as to the time and place of meeting, as far as practicable, by the provisions of the general school law of the state. [Act February 25, 1907, § 6.] (10th Sess. Chap. 29.)

924. Quorum. Officers of board.—A majority of said board shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of all business. At their first meeting in each year the trustees shall choose, from their number, a president, vice president and a secretary, who shall hold office for one year or until their successors have been appointed and qualified, and said trustees shall have authority to make all necessary rules for their government, not inconsistent with the law. The county treasurer of the county shall be the treasurer of the board and the custodian of all funds available for school purposes under the provisions of this Act. Payments shall be made by said treasurer upon warrants drawn against said funds duly signed by the president, or vice president and secretary. [Act February 25, 1907, § 7.] (10th Sess. Chap. 29.)

925. Tax levy. Bonds for buildings.—At said first meeting, or at some succeeding meeting called for such purpose, said trustees shall make an estimate of the amount of funds needed for building purposes, for payment of teachers' wages and for payment of contingent expenses, and they shall present to the Board of County Commissioners a certified estimate of the rate of tax required to raise the amount desired for such purposes, and the Board of County Commissioners must levy such tax as other county taxes are levied. But in no case shall the tax for such purpose exceed in one year the amount of ten mills on the dollar on the taxable property of the county, and when the tax is levied for the payment of teachers' wages and for contingent expenses only, it shall not exceed three mills on the dollar. Provided, that said trustees may, if in their judgment they think best, bond the county for the purpose of raising the money necessary to build or purchase and equip the high school herein provided for, and to purchase a suitable site therefor. But no bonds shall ever be issued to pay for teachers' wages, or for the general expenses in maintaining said school. [Act February 25, 1907, § 8.] (10th Sess. Chap. 29.)

926. Submission to electors of question of bond issue.—The Secretary of the Board of County Free High School Trustees, whenever a majority of the board shall so decide, shall certify to the Board of County Commissioners that they have decided to submit to the electors of the county the question whether county bonds shall issue for the purpose of the erection or purchase of a building for high school purposes and the equipment thereof, and for a suitable site therefor, and shall include in such certificate the amount of such bonds, which amount shall not exceed the sum of one hundred thousand ($100,000.00) dollars in any one county. Such bonds may run for a term of twenty years, or less, but no longer, provided, that any such issue of bonds shall not increase the indebtedness of any county beyond the maximum limit fixed by the State Constitution. That, as soon as practicable after receiving such certificate, the Board of County Commissioners shall proceed to submit the question of issuing said bonds to the qualified electors of the county in the manner provided by law for the issuance of other county bonds. If such bonds are issued the county commissioners, at the time of making the levy of taxes for county purposes each year, must levy a tax for that year upon the taxable property in the county for the interest and redemption of said bonds, and such taxes must not be less than sufficient to pay the interest on said bonds for that year and such proportion of the principal as is to become due during such year, and, in any event, must be high enough to raise annually, for the first half of the term, a sufficient sum to pay the interest thereon, and during the balance of the term, high enough to pay said annual interest and to pay annually a portion of the principal of said bond, equal to the sum produced by taking the whole amount of said bonds outstanding and dividing it by the number of years said bonds have to run, and all money so levied, when collected, must be paid into the county treasury to the credit of the county free high school, kept in a separate fund, and be used for the payment of principal and interest on said bonds, and for no other purpose; provided, however, that the accumulated money may be invested as is provided for the investment of money collected for the payment of school district bonds. Said tax shall be levied and collected in the same manner as other county taxes. [Act February 25, 1907, § 9.] (10th Sess. Chap. 29.)

929. Record of board; warrants.—The said Board of High School Trustees shall keep a record of all the official acts done by said board, and shall keep a full record of all warrants issued against moneys belonging to said county free high school. Payments of money can only be made upon warrants drawn against said funds belonging to said high school; and the warrants so drawn must specify, upon their face, the purpose for which the warrant is drawn. [Act February 25th, 1907, § 12.] (10th Sess. Chap. 29.)

930. Sites. Leasing buildings.—The said Board of Trustees shall proceed, as soon as practicable after their appointment and qualification, to select, at the place designated as the location for the county free high school, the best site that can be obtained, and the title thereto, upon securing said site by purchase or otherwise, shall vest in the county; the trustees shall then proceed to make purchase of material, and to let such contracts for necessary school buildings as they may deem proper. They shall not, however, make any purchase, or enter into any contract, whereby obligations are assumed in excess of the amount of funds on hand or available through the levy of taxes for the current year, or the issuance of bonds. The trustees may, at their discretion, lease suitable buildings for the use of the high school while new buildings are in process of erection, or may contract with the trustees of the local school district, or any other parties, for the use of suitable buildings for high school purposes for such time as may be deemed best for the interests of the county. [Act February 25th, 1907, § 13.] (10th Sess. Chap. 29.)

931. Employment of teachers.—After suitable buildings are secured, as herein before provided, for the carrying on of the county free high school, the trustees shall employ some suitable person to take charge of said school, who shall possess such qualifications as are now required to be possessed by a city superintendent of schools, except that said principal shall not be required to possess more than three years experience in teaching; and the trustees shall furnish such assistant teachers as they may deem necessary, and shall designate the salaries which shall be paid to said principal and assistant teachers. [Act February 25th, 1907, § 14.] (10th Sess. Chap. 29.)

932. Principal may make rules.—The principal of any such high school, with the approval of the Board of Trustees, shall make such rules and regulations as he may deem proper in regard to the studies, conduct and government of the pupils under his charge; and if any such pupils will not conform to, nor obey, the rules of the school, they may be suspended or expelled therefrom by the Board of Trustees. [Act February 25th, 1907, § 15.] (10th Sess. Chap. 29.)

933. Course of study.—There shall be provided such courses of study as will properly fit the student attending said high school for admission to the collegiate class of any of the state educational institutions, and such courses of study shall contain the work now provided for accredited high schools by the State Board of Education. [Act February 25th, 1907, § 16.] (10th Sess. Chap. 29.)

934. Admission of pupils.—Tuition shall be free to all pupils residing in the county where the school is located. The Board of Trustees shall make such rules and regulations as they deem proper in regard to age and grade of attainments essential to entitle pupils to admission to such school; provided, that no person shall be admitted to such high school who shall not have passed a satisfactory examination or who does not hold an eighth grade common school certificate. If there should be more applicants than can be accommodated at any one time, each district shall be entitled to send its equal number of pupils, according to the number of pupils it may have as shown by the last report to the County Superintendent of schools; and the boards of the respective school districts shall designate such pupils as may attend, subject to the proviso above. [Act February 25, 1907, § 17.] (10th Sess. Chap. 29.)

935. Pupils from adjoining counties.—If, at any time, the school can accommodate more pupils than apply for admission from the county in which the school is situated, the vacancies may be filled by applications from other counties, upon the payment of such tuition as the Board of Trustees may prescribe; but at no time shall such pupils continue in such school to the exclusion of pupils residing in the county in which such school is located. [Act February 25, 1907, § 18.] (10th Sess. Chap. 29.)

936. Compensation of trustees.—The trustees who do not reside at the place where said high school is established are entitled to mileage in attending the meetings of the board. The trustees of said high school shall serve without compensation, but may pay their secretary such reasonable compensation as may be determined, and the board shall make such reports, from time to time, as the County Superintendent of Schools, or the State Superintendent of Public Instruction, may require. [Act approved February 25, 1907, § 19.] (10th Sess. Chap. 29.)

937. Diploma to admit to state collegiate institutions.—Upon the presentation of a certificate of graduation from any such county high school, within eighteen months from the date of the same, to any state institution of learning, the person, presenting the same, may be admitted without further examination to said institution of learning. Should the trustees of any school district in which bonds have heretofore been issued to any amount, desire to submit to the electors of the district the question as to whether additional bonds shall be issued they may do so, but no such bonds shall be issued unless a majority of all the votes cast at any such election shall be cast in favor of such issue of additional bonds; and in no case shall the whole issue of bonds exceed the amount of three per cent. of the taxable property within said school district. [Act approved March 11, 1895.]

1004. Bonds for building and equipping school buildings.—The Board of School Trustees of any school district within Montana, shall, whenever a majority of the School Trustees so decide, submit to the electors of the district the question whether the Board shall be authorized to issue coupon bonds to a certain amount, not to exceed three per cent. of the taxable property in said district; provided, that nothing herein contained shall authorize the issuance of bonds to an amount exceeding Five Hundred Thousand Dollars in any one school district, and bearing a certain rate of interest not exceeding six per centum per annum and payable and redeemable at a certain time, for the purpose of building and furnishing one or more school houses in said district, and purchasing land necessary for the same. Should the trustees of any school district in which bonds have been heretofore issued to any amount, desire to submit to the electors of the district the question as to whether additional bonds shall be issued they may do so, but no such bonds shall be issued unless a majority of all the votes cast at any such election shall be cast in favor of such issue of additional bonds; and in no case shall the whole issue of bonds exceed in amount three per centum of the taxable property within such school district. This Act shall not apply to an Act entitled “An Act to authorize the School Trustees of the School District Number One, of Deer Lodge County, to issue additional bonds for certain purposes,” approved February 13th, 1885. [Act approved February 21, 1905, § 1.] (9th Sess. Chap. 28)

If a majority of the votes cast at such election are Bonds “Yes,” the Board of School Trustees shall issue such bonds in such form as the board may direct, and they shall bear the signature of the Chairman of the Board of Trustees, and shall be signed by the Clerk of the said School Districts; and the coupons attached to the bonds shall be signed by the said Chairman and Clerk, provided, a lithographic or engraved facsimile of the signatures of the Chairman and Clerk may be affixed to coupons only, when so recited in the bonds, and the corporate seal of the School District shall be attached to each of the bonds; and each bond so issued shall be registered by the County Treasurer in a book provided for that purpose, which shall show the number and amount of each bond, and the person to whom the same is issued or sold; and the said bonds shall be sold by the Trustees as hereinafter provided. [Act approved March 14, 1901, § 2.] (7th Sess. 125-6.)

Hauswirth v. Mueller, 25 Mont. 159; 64 Pac. 325.

1006. (§ 1963.) Notice of sale of bonds.—The school trustees shall give notice by advertisement in some newspaper published in this state, for a period of not less than four weeks to the effect that the said school trustees will sell said bonds (briefly describing the same) and stating the time when, and place where, such sale will take place: Provided, That the said bonds shall not be sold for less than their par value, and that the said trustees are authorized to reject any bids, and to sell said bonds at private sale, if they deem it for the best interest of the district; and all moneys arising from the sale of said bonds shall be paid forthwith into the treasury of the county in which such district may be located to the credit of said district, and the same shall be immediately available for the purpose of building or providing the school houses authorized by this title; Provided, That no such bonds shall be delivered by the board of trustees unless the moneys therefor have been paid into the county treasury. [Act approved March 11, 1895.]

1007. (§ 1964.) School district liable on bonds.—The faith of each school district is solemnly pledged for the payment of the interest and the redemption of the principal of the bonds which shall be issued under the provisions of this title. And for the purpose of enforcing the provisions of this title, each school district shall be a body corporate, which may sue and be sued by or in the name of the board of school trustees of such district. [Act approved March 11, 1895.]

1008. (§ 1965.) Tax. Interest. Sinking fund.—The school trustees of each district shall ascertain and levy annually, the tax necessary to pay the interest when it becomes due and a sinking fund to redeem the bonds at their maturity; and said tax shall become a lien upon the property in said school district, and be collected in the same manner as other taxes for school purposes. [Act approved March 11, 1895.]

purposes, must levy a tax for that year upon the taxable property in such district, for the interest and redemption of said bonds, and such tax must not be less than sufficient to pay the interest of said bonds for that year, and such portion of the principal as is to become due during such year, and in any event must be high enough to raise, annually, for the first half of the term said bonds have to run, a sufficient sum to pay the interest thereon; and during the balance of the term, high enough to pay such annual interest, and to pay, annually, a portion of the principal of said bonds equal to a sum produced by taking the whole amount of said bonds outstanding and divide it by the number of years said bonds have to run; and all money so levied, when collected, must be paid into the county treasury to the credit of such district, kept in a separate fund and be used for the payment of principal and interest on said bonds, and for no other purpose.

1. Provided, That the board may with the surplus of such sinking fund, when the same shall be one thousand dollars or more, purchase any of the outstanding bonds issued by the board. Such purchase shall be made at the lowest price such bonds can be purchased at, but at no more than par value of such bonds; and whenever there shall be such a surplus of sinking fund amounting to the sum of one thousand dollars, the board shall purchase therewith like bonds, on the same terms and conditions as hereinbefore specified.

2. If for any reason such bonds cannot be purchased as hereinbefore specified, such sinking fund shall be invested by the treasurer under the direction of the board of trustees, at such times as the board shall direct, in the interest-bearing bonds of the United States or of the state of Montana, which shall be purchased at the lowest market price. Interest accruing upon such bonds shall be invested in the same manner and for the same purpose as sinking fund. Such bonds shall be held by the treasurer until the principal of any bonds issued by the board of trustees shall become due, and shall be sold at the highest market price, and the proceeds applied to the payment of bonds; Provided further, That if at any time the board shall deem it best, it shall be lawful to sell such bonds for the purpose of purchasing the bonds issued by such board; but all such sales shall be at the highest market price, and the bonds of the board purchased with the proceeds of such sale shall be purchased at the lowest price they can be obtained for, and not above the par value of such bonds; Provided further, That the bonds first maturing shall be purchased, if they can be purchased, on terms as favorable to the board as others offered for sale to the said board. All bonds of the said board purchased under the authority hereby given, or paid by the board, shall be forthwith canceled as provided in the next succeeding section. [Act approved March 18, 1895.]

1010. (§ 1967.) Redemption. Notice to bond holder.—When the sum in said sinking fund shall equal or exceed the amount of any bond then due, the county treasurer shall give notice to each bond holder, if known to him and shall post in his office a notice that he will, within thirty days from the date of such notice, redeem the bonds then payable, giving the numbers thereof, and preference shall be given to the oldest issue; and if at the expiration of the said thirty days the holder or holders of said bonds shall fail or neglect to present the same for payment, interest thereon shall cease; but the treasurer shall at all times thereafter be ready to redeem the same on presentation, and when any bonds shall be so purchased or redeemed, the county treasurer shall cancel all bonds so purchased and redeemed by writing across the face of such bond or bonds, in red ink, the word “Redeemed” and the date of such redemption; Provided, That, whenever in the judgment of the board of school trustees and prior to the redemption of said bonds said board shall deem it advisable and for the best interests of the school district to invest said sinking fund or any part thereof, the board may by an order entered upon their minutes direct and require the county treasurer to invest said sinking fund or any part thereof in state or county bonds or warrants until such redeemable period. [Act approved March 11, 1895.]

1011. (§ 1968.) Duty of county treasurer.—The county treasurer shall pay out of any moneys belonging to a school district the interest upon any bonds issued under this title by such district when the same shall become due, upon the presentation at his office of the proper coupon which shall show the amount due, and the number of the bond to which it belonged; and all coupons so paid shall be reported to the school trustees at their first meeting thereafter. [Act approved March 11, 1895.]

1012. (1969.) Printing of bonds.—The school trustees of any district shall cause to be printed or lithographed, at the lowest rates, suitable bonds, with the coupons attached, when the same shall become necessary, and pay therefor out of any moneys in the county treasury to the credit of said school district. [Act approved March 11, 1895.]

1013. (§ 1970.) Penalty.—If any of the school trustees of any district shall fail or refuse to pay into the proper county treasury the money arising from the sale of any bonds provided for by this title, they shall be deemed guilty of a felony, and upon conviction thereof, shall be punished by imprisonment in the state penitentiary for a term of not less than one year nor more than ten years. [Act approved March 11, 1895.]

1014. Repayment of moneys borrowed for maintenance of schools.—That whenever, before the passage of this act, the taxes levied and collected in any school district upon the taxable property of said district, for the necessary maintenance of the schools therein, have been insufficient for the necessary maintenance of said schools, and for that reason the trustees of said school district have been compelled to borrow money for the necessary maintenance of said schools, in order to prevent the closing of the same for a portion of the regular school year of said district, and have borrowed money for the necessary maintenance of said schools, and such moneys so borrowed cannot be repaid out of the total amount of taxes that may be raised by maximum levy for school purposes, in such district, without using the funds of the district needed to pay the necessary current expenses for the maintenance of the schools therein, and thereby necessitating the closing of such schools for the whole or a portion of the regular current school year of such district for one or more years, then the said trustees shall be, and are hereby, empowered to raise money to repay, and to repay such loans, with interest thereon from the date thereof until paid at the rate of six per cent per annum, by levying a tax therefor upon all the taxable property in said district in the manner provided in the following sections. [Act approved January 27, 1905, § 1.] (9th Sess. Chap. 2.)

1015. Special levy to repay moneys borrowed.—That if the trustee of any school district, under the circumstances mentioned in Section I, of this Act shall determine to repay the moneys borrowed and used for the purpose mentioned in said Section I, they shall ascertain the amount to be levied by finding the amount of the principal of such loans and interest at six per cent per annum from the date thereof to December 15th of the year in which such levy shall be made, that being the time when the tax will properly be collected, and shall, on or before the day when the county commissioners are required by law to make the annual tax levy, make and file with the County Clerk of the county in which such school district shall be situated, their certificate, which shall be signed by a majority of such trustees, setting forth therein the amount to be raised as aforesaid, and requesting the County Commissioners to levy the amount named in said certificate as a special tax upon all the taxable property in said school district. The valuation of the property in said district as the same appears upon the assessment roll of said county for the year for which the levy shall be made, shall be the basis for the assessment of such tax. It shall be the duty of the County Commissioners at the time the annual tax levy is made, to levy the sum named in said certificate as a special tax upon all of the taxable property in said district, and the duty of the County Clerk to spread said tax upon the said assessment roll against all of said property in the same manner as other taxes are spread upon said roll, and said tax being so assessed shall become a lien upon said property and be collected in the same manner as other taxes for school

1016. Disposition of funds collected.—That when the tax mentioned in the preceding sections, has been collected, or any part thereof, the County Treasurer shall place the same to the credit of said school district in a fund separate from all other funds of said district, and the moneys in such fund shall be forthwith paid out by the trustees to the persons and corporations to whom the same are payable, and until the debt for the payment of which such moneys were raised have been paid, no part of such funds shall be used for any other purpose. If from failure to collect the entire amount of such tax, or from any other cause, there shall not be moneys sufficient in said fund to pay the amount of principal and interest of the sum borrowed, the trustees shall pay the amount of such deficiency from the general fund to the credit of said district, and if, after paying all of the debts payable out of such special fund, a balance shall remain therein, such balance shall be transferred to the general fund of said district. [Act approved February 19th, 1901, § 3.] (7th Sess. 4.)

1017. Trustees may issue bonds.—If the trustees of any school district mentioned in this Act shall determine that it would not be for the best interest of said district to raise in any one year the moneys mentioned in Section I of this Act by levying and collecting a tax therefor as in the preceding sections provided, they shall nevertheless be authorized and empowered to raise such moneys by issuing and selling the bonds of said district in an amount sufficient to repay, and to repay, such moneys with interest thereon at six per cent. per annum. If the said trustees shall determine to issue the bonds of said district for the purpose aforesaid, they shall ascertain the amount of said bonds by finding the amount of principal and interest of the loans to be repaid at six per cent. per annum from the date thereof until the time when said bonds will probably be sold as hereinafter provided. They shall then issue the bonds of such district to the amount so ascertained which bonds shall draw interest at a rate not to exceed six per cent. per annum, payable either annually or semi-annually as the trustees shall determine, and each of said bonds shall be for the sum of One Hundred Dollars or multiples thereof and shall run for such length of time as the said trustees shall determine, not exceeding a period of ten years from the date thereof; said bonds shall be in such form as the board of trustees may direct, and shall bear the signature of the chairman of the board of trustees, and shall be signed by the clerk as clerk of said school district, and the coupons attached to said bonds shall be signed by said chairman and said clerk; provided that lithographic or engraved fac-similes of the signatures of the chairman and clerk may be affixed to coupons only when so recited in the bond, and each bond so issued shall be registered by the county treasurer in a book provided for that purpose which shall show the number and amount of each bond and the person to whom the same is issued or sold, and said bonds shall be sold and the proceeds thereof deposited with the county treasurer in the manner provided by the provisions of Section 1016 (1963) of the Political Code of this State, and paid out by the trustees to the persons and corporations to whom the loans for the payment of which such bonds were issued are payable. [Act approved February 19th, 1901, § 4.] (7th Sess. 4-5.)

1018. General laws applicable.—All of the powers conferred and duties enjoined upon school trustees and county commissioners by Sections 1008 (1965), 1009 (1966), 1010 (1967), 1011 (1968) and 1012 (1969) of the Political Code of this State and any amendments thereof for raising money to pay the interest on, and to provide, and for the care and management of, a sinking fund for the redemption and payment of bonds issued by school districts under the provisions of existing laws are hereby conferred and enjoined upon school trustees and county commissioners respectively with respect to all bonds issued under the provisions of this act as fully and completely to all intents and purposes as though the above named sections were incorporated in and made a part of this Act. “ 1146. Proceedings before commissioner. Review by district judge.

“ 1147. Maintenance of insane person.

1134. Examination, before whom.—Whenever it appears to the satisfaction of the magistrate of the county that any person within the county is so far disordered in his mind as to endanger health, person or property, he must issue and deliver to some peace officer for service a warrant directing that such person be arrested and taken before any district judge in the county, for examination, provided, that if the district judge is absent from the county wherein such person is arrested, then the said insane person shall be taken before the Chairman of the Board of County Commissioners. [Act approved March 8th, 1897, § 1.] (5th Sess. 163.)

1135. Evidence, number of witnesses.—When the person is taken before the judge or the chairman of the board of county commissioners, the judge or chairman of said Board must issue

subpoenas to two or more witnesses best acquainted with said insane person, to appear before him and testify at such examination. [Act approved March 8th, 1897, § 2.] (5th Sess. 163.)

1136. Examining physicians.—The judge, or in case of his absence, the chairman of the Board of County Commissioners, must also issue subpoenas for at least two graduates of medicine to appear and attend such examination. [Act approved March 8th, 1897, § 3.] (5th Sess. 163.)

1137. (§ 2303.) Witnesses, duty of.—At the examination the persons subpoenaed must appear and answer all questions pertinent to the matter under investigation.

1138. (§ 2304.) Physicians, duty of.—The physicians must hear such testimony and must make a personal examination of the alleged insane person.

1139. (§ 2305.) Certificate of physicians.—The physicians after hearing the testimony and making the examination, must, if they believe such person to be dangerously insane, make a certificate, under their hand showing as near as possible:

1. That such person is so far disordered in his mind as to endanger health, person, or property.

2. The premonitory symptoms, apparent cause or class of insanity, the duration and condition of the disease.

3. The nativity, age, residence, occupation, and previous habits of the person.

4. The place from whence the person came, and the length of time he has resided in this state.

1140. (§ 2306.) Forms of certificates.—The certificate must be made in the form prescribed by, and, if they can be had, upon blanks furnished by the board of the commissioners for the insane.

1141. Commitment.—The judge, or the Chairman of the Board of County Commissioners, if the hearing be had before him, after such examination and certificate made, if he believes the person so far disordered in his mind, as to endanger health, person or property, must make an order that the party be confined in the insane asylum, and a copy of such order must be filed with and recorded by the Clerk of the District Court of the County. The Clerk must also keep in convenient form an index book showing the name, age, and sex of each person, so ordered to be confined in the insane asylum, with the date of the order and the name of the insane asylum in which the person is ordered to be confined. No fees must be charged by the Clerk for performing any of the duties provided for by this section or in this article. [Act approved March 8th, 1897, § 4.] (5th Sess. 163.)

Walter v. Mitchell, 25 Mont. 388, 65 Pac. 6. A complaint alleging that an insane person was "so declared by a court of competent jurisdiction" and "was duly committed to the insane asylum" does not show the duty of the keeper of the asylum to receive and keep him. The allegation does not show the name of the court, or that any order was made or delivered to such keeper.

1142. Delivery of insane person at asylum.—The insane person, together with the order of the judge or the Chairman of the Board of County Commissioners, and the certificate of the physicians must be delivered to the sheriff of the County, and by him must be delivered to the officer in charge of the insane asylum. [Act approved March 8th, 1897, § 5:] (5th Sess. 164.)

1143. Moneys of insane person.—Any moneys found on the person of an insane person at the time of arrest must be certified to by the judge, or the Chairman of the Board of County Commissioners, and sent with such person to the asylum, there to be delivered to the person in charge of the asylum, whose receipt therefor shall be taken by the sheriff, or other officer delivering said insane person to said asylum. If the sum exceed one hundred dollars, the excess must be applied to the payment of the expenses of said person while in the asylum. If the sum is one hundred dollars, or less, it must be kept and delivered to the person when discharged or applied to the payment of funeral expenses if the person dies at the asylum. Any balance of said one hundred dollars or less remaining in the hands of the officers of the asylum, after the death of the insane person, shall be returned to the County Treasurer of the County from which said insane person was sent, and if any sum remains after paying costs of trying and transporting said insane person to the asylum, this balance shall be paid into the State Treasury to the credit of the General Fund. [Act approved March 8th, 1897, § 6.] (5th Sess. 164.)

1144. (§ 2310.) Fees of physicians.—The physicians attending each examination of an insane person are allowed five dollars each, to be paid by the county treasurer of the county where the examination was had, on the order of the board of county commissioners.

1145. (§ 2311.) Cost of examination and commitment.—The costs of the examination, committal and taking an insane person to the asylum must be paid by the county in which he resides at the time he is adjudged insane. The sheriff must be allowed the actual expenses incurred in taking an insane person to the asylum, and no more.

Note—See Sec. 4604, Political Code.

1146. Proceedings before commissioners. Review by district judge.—Whenever any insane person is examined and committed by hearing had before the Chairman of the Board of County Commissioners it shall be the duty of said Chairman to have all the evidence reduced to writing, and the same, together with all orders, subpoenas, complaints, warrants and papers used on said hearing, or made by said Chairman of the Board of County Commissioners, shall be filed in the office of the Clerk of the District Court, of the proper county, and said Clerk shall enter upon the journal of the minutes of Probate proceedings, a transcript of all proceedings had by the Chairman of the Board of County Commissioners at any examinations and committal of an insane person, in the same manner as proceedings in probate in vacation are entered by the Clerk of the Court, and it shall be the duty of the District Judge at the first term of Court, after such examination to examine and approve such proceedings or said insane inquest and committal, in the same manner as probate proceedings transacted by the clerk in vacation are approved; and in no case shall the finding of the Chairman of the Board of County Commissioners be final. In all cases where hearings are had by the Chairman of the Board of County Commissioners, the proceedings must be examined and certified and approved or rejected by the Judge of the District Court. [Act approved March 8th, 1897, § 7.] (5th Sess. 164-5.)

1147. Maintenance of insane person.—Whenever a hearing for examination or committal is had before the judge or Chairman of the Board of County Commissioners, and the person is adjudged to be insane and ordered confined in the insane asylum, it shall be the duty of the judge or person before whom the hearing is had to take evidence as to the financial worth of said insane person, which evidence shall be reduced to writing and filed as provided in the preceding section, and if it appear from said evidence that said insane person has any means, money or property out of which the expenses of his maintenance in the insane asylum, or any part thereof could be paid, it shall be the duty of the judge or person before whom hearing is had, to issue a citation to the parties in possession of his property, and to the relatives of said insane person, if any there be in the county where said insane person resided, citing them to appear and show cause why a guardian should not be appointed for said insane person, and why said guardian should not be ordered to pay the costs of the maintenance of said insane person, or so much thereof as his means will permit, which citation shall be served and all proceedings thereunder conducted as provided in Chapter 12 of Title XII of the Code of Civil Procedure; and if it appear to the court that said insane person has property that can be applied towards his maintenance, it shall be the duty of the court to make an order to that effect, stating how much of the said insane person's property shall be applied the amount to be fixed with due regard to the proper preservation of the estate of said insane person. 1155. Name of school.—That the educational institution of the State of Montana located at Boulder, Montana, now named and known as the “Montana Deaf and Dumb Asylum,” shall no longer be known as the Montana Deaf and Dumb asylum but shall hereafter be known as the “Montana School for the Deaf and Blind," and shall be named, designated and known as the "Montana School for the Deaf and Blind." [Act February 18th, 1903, § 1.] (8th Sess. Chap. 10.)

1156. Change of name not to work forfeiture of grants.—The change of name herein provided for shall not be construed to impair or work a forfeiture or alteration of any rights, grants or purposes of said institution and all laws of a special or general nature now affecting or applying to the Montana Deaf and Dumb asylum shall hereafter apply with equal force and effect to said Montana School for the Deaf and Blind. [Act approved February 18th, 1903, § 2.] (8th Sess. Chap. 10.)

1157. (§ 2331.) Objects of school.—The object of said school shall be to teach the English language to all the deaf and dumb children of the state, and to furnish all children who are debarred from the public schools by reason of deafness, dumbness, blindness or feeble-mindedness, with at least an ordinary public school education in all customary branches, and to train them into mastery of such trades as shall enable them to become independent and self-sustaining citizens.. Increased facilities shall be furnished from time to time for the more thorough and successful training of those who may show a special aptness for acquiring said trades. This provision shall apply to the female as well as the male department of said school. For the sake of economy and to the end that aforesaid trades shall be practically taught to the pupils, it shall be the duty of the board of trustees to see that all the work necessary to be done for the school, such as carpentering, printing, painting, baking, sewing and the like, shall, as soon as possible, be done by the pupils themselves, under the supervision of competent foremen or teachers, permanently or temporarily employed for that purpose. [Act approved March 16, 1895.]

1158. (§ 2332.) Control. Appointment of trustees.—The immediate control and management of said school shall be vested in a board of three trustees, to be appointed by the state board of education and to be divided into three classes, as follows: Upon the taking effect of this act three trustees shall be appointed, one of whom shall serve for the term of one year, one of whom shall serve for two years and the remaining one shall serve for three years from the date of their respective appointments; their successors respectively, shall serve a term of three years each; and in every case a trustee shall hold his office until his successor is duly appointed and qualified; Provided, That one member of said board shall be a resident in the town of Boulder, and the remaining members shall represent the state at large; and provided further, That the superintendent or any other employee of said school shall not be a trustee thereof. [Act approved March 16, 1895.]

1159. (§ 2333.) Meeting of Trustees. Officers.—The said trustees shall meet in the town of Boulder within one month from the date of their appointment for the purpose of organization. They shall elect from their members a president and secretary, whose term of office shall be biennial. Two of the trustees shall at any time constitute a quorum for the transaction of business. [Act approved March 16, 1895.]

1160. (§ 2334.) Duty of board.—The said board of trustees shall hold a regular stated meeting on the second Tuesday of June, and every third month thereafter, and also called meetings at the request of the superintendent or any two of their own number. At each regular meeting they shall carefully inspect the school under their charge, consult with the superintendent on all matters concerning the welfare of the school and transact all business arising by reason of the existence of said school. They shall also appoint from their own number a committee of at least two members, who shall serve in that capacity for such period as the board may designate, and whose duty it shall be to receive and examine all accounts appearing against said school for the preceding calendar month, and immediately to transmit all such as are approved to the state board of examiners for their re-examination and allowance; whereupon warrants on the state treasury shall be issued for the full payment of said accounts. To the end that said accounts may receive the necessary monthly attention, the aforesaid committee shall hold meetings on the second Tuesday of every month without necessary reference to the regular full meetings of the board of trustees. All accounts shall specify clearly the nature of the claim or service and shall be countersigned by the superintendent and the chairman of said committee. [Act approved March 16, 1895.]

1161. (§ 2335.) Oath of trustees.—Each trustee, before entering upon the duties of his office, shall take and subscribe an oath to support the constitution of the United States and the constitution of the state of Montana, and to faithfully discharge all the duties required of him by this act, which oath shall be filed in the office of the secretary of state. [Act approved March 16, 1895.]

1163. (§ 2337.) Compensation of trustees and secretary.—The members of said board of trustees shall receive as compensation for their services the sum of five dollars for each day employed, and ten cents per mile actually and necessarily traveled in attending meetings; Provided, Said compensation shall not exceed the total sum of one hundred and twenty-five dollars per annum for the individual trustee. The secretary of the board shall receive as compensation for extra services required of him the sum of one hundred dollars per annum, which sums shall be paid out of the state treasury. [Act approved March 16, 1895.]

Qualifications.*—The said board of trustees shall have charge of the general interests of the school, and shall appoint for a term of two years at the time as superintendent a man of recognized Christian character, who shall have acquired an easy and ready use of the “sign language,” such as is commonly used by the educated deaf mutes, who shall have had at least three years’ actual experience in teaching the deaf; who shall be familiar with the method used in general instruction of defective youths, and who shall possess other qualifications necessary in their judgment to fit him for such office; Provided, That nothing herein shall be so construed as to prevent the trustees from removing said superintendent by two-thirds vote of the full board for incompetency, mismanagement or immorality. They shall fix the salary of said superintendent, and he shall be eligible to re-election so long as they shall deem him worthy and fitted for said office. [Act approved March 16, 1895.]

1165. (§ 2339.) Superintendent. Powers and duties.—The superintendent shall be the chief executive officer of the school and shall reside in the school or on the premises. He shall be purchasing agent for the trustees, and shall have charge under such regulations as they may prescribe, of the premises, property and pupils. He shall, with the approval and consent of the trustees, appoint and fix the compensation of the teachers and all subordinate officers and employes. He may at any time, if it seems best for the school and in the interest of harmony and good discipline, discharge any of them from service; Provided, That no teacher shall be discharged without the consent and approval of the trustees. All such teachers, officers and other employes of said school shall be subordinate to the superintendent, and all orders to them or complaints from them shall pass through their hands. He shall see that all teachers, officers and other employes faithfully perform their respective duties and he shall be held directly responsible to the trustees for economy, efficiency and success in all the internal work of the school. He shall, before entering upon the duties of his office, take an oath to support the constitution of the United States and the constitution of the state of Montana, and that he will discharge all the duties of his office with fidelity to the best interests of the school under his care. [Act approved March 16, 1895.]

1167. (§ 2341.) Officers not to be interested in contracts.—No trustee, superintendent or other officer or agent, appointed by virtue and under the provisions of this act shall have any direct or indirect interests, of personal benefit, in any contract or agreement for building, repairing, furnishing or supplying said school, and no drawbacks or secret discounts shall be given to or received by any such person on account of articles or materials furnished to or labor done for said school. All pupils of said school shall be entitled to ten years of attendance at said school, and upon special petition to the board by any pupil who has completed the course of ten years, which petition is approved by the superintendent, said pupil shall be allowed two additional years in the school; Provided, That said grant of two additional years shall be conditioned upon the previous record of the petitioner as a pupil and as a moral character in the school, which record shall be considered by the board, who shall then judge as to the justice and utility of granting any extension of time to said petitioner; and provided further, That nothing in this section shall be so constructed as to prevent suspension or expulsion of any pupil for insubordination or other good and sufficient cause. [Act approved March 16, 1895.]

1169. (§ 2343.) Admission of non-residents.—Deaf and blind persons, not resident in the state of Montana, may be admitted into the privileges and advantages of the school, subject to all the personal qualifications prescribed in § 1168 (2342) of this act, and not until the payment in advance of a sum of money, the amount of which shall be determined by careful estimate of the whole per capita cost of maintaining said school during the year immediately preceding the date of application by said non-resident persons; Provided, That no non-resident deaf or blind person shall be admitted to the exclusion or detri-

To the end that the board of trustees may arrive at some definite method of judging such cases, they are hereby empowered to ascertain and establish certain tests, which tests shall be thoroughly and impartially applied to each case before final admission into the school, and it shall be the object of said tests to ascertain in each case if there be any capacity for mental, moral or physical training; and provided further, That as soon as possible in the judgment of the board of trustees, by and with the consent of the state board of education, a separate building and premises, adjoining yet distinct from those of the deaf and blind, shall be provided for such feeble-minded persons, which building and premises shall be more especially adapted to the peculiar needs of said feeble-minded class of persons. The said feeble-minded department shall be under the general control and supervision of said board of trustees and superintendent; but the trustees, after consultation with the superintendent and at his request, may appoint an assistant superintendent, together with specially trained teachers and attendants, whenever in their judgment said feeble-minded department herein provided for shall seem to need such additional attention and supervision. [Act approved March 13, 1895.]

State v. Court, 19 Mont. 506; 48 Pac. 1104.

1587. Examination of applicants.—Every person hereafter wishing to practice medicine or surgery in any of the departments of this State shall apply to said Board for a certificate so to do. Every person applying shall present his or her diploma to the said Board of Examiners for verification as to its genuineness; if the diploma is found to be genuine, and is issued by a medical school legally organized and in good standing whose teachers are graduates of a legally organized school, which fact said Board of Examiners shall determine, and if the person presenting and claiming said diploma be the person to whom the same was originally granted, at a time and place designated by said Board or at a regular meeting of said Board said applicant shall submit to an examination in the following branches, to-wit: anatomy, physiology, materia medica, therapeutics, practice of medicine, surgery, obstetrics, diseases of women and children, diseases of the nervous system, diseases of the eye and ear; and present evidence of having attended four courses of lectures of at least six months each, but such evidence of having attended four courses of lectures shall not be required of the applicants graduating prior to July 1, 1898. Said Board shall cause such examination to be both scientific and practical, and of sufficient thoroughness and severity to test the candidate's fitness to practice medicine and surgery; when desired, such examination may be conducted in the presence of the dean of any medical school, or the president of any medical society in this State. After examination, such Board, if the candidate has been found qualified, shall grant a certificate to such candidate to practice medicine and surgery in the State of Montana; which said certificate can be granted only by the consent of not less than four members of said Board, and which said certificate shall be signed by the president and secretary of said Board and attested by the seal thereof; provided however, that in all cases where an applicant for a certificate under this section shall produce and exhibit to said Board of Examiners a certificate from a Board of Medical Examiners, duly appointed and existing under the laws of any state of the United States and recognizing certificates or licenses from this state certifying to the fact that the person presenting such certificate is duly and well qualified to practice medicine and surgery in the state issuing said certificate, and that said Board issuing said certificate has subjected the applicant to a thorough examination to ascertain this fact, or certifying to the fact that the person presenting such certificate is duly and well qualified to practice medicine and surgery in the state issuing said certificate; and to the further fact, if such is the case, that said applicant was exempt from examination under the provisions of the law of said state, by reason of his residence in said state in the active practice of medicine and surgery at the time of the passage in said state of said law requiring the examination of applicants to practice medicine and surgery; he or she may, at the discretion of said Board of Examiners upon paying the fee required of applicants for examination under the provisions of Section 1592 (607) of this article, and otherwise complying with all the requirements of this article, receive from said Board of Examiners a certificate to practice medicine and surgery within this state, and upon filing said certificate with the County Clerk of the County in which he resides, as is provided in Section 1589 (604) of this article, he shall be a legally qualified practitioner of medicine and surgery in this state; provided, also, that during any period intervening between the sessions of said

Board of Examiners, any person desiring to practice medicine in this state may present his or her diploma to the president or secretary of said Board, who may issue a certificate good until the next regular meeting of said Board; and provided further, that all physicians and surgeons who hold certificates granted by the now existing Board of Medical Examiners, or who are now legally entitled to practice medicine and surgery in this state shall be exempt from the provisions of this section. [Act approved February 23rd, 1903.] (8th Sess. Chap. 13.)

1588. Examination of applicants for certificates; revocation of certificates. Appeals from decision of board.—No person not heretofore licensed to do so shall be permitted to practice medicine in the State of Montana unless he shall have first been subjected to a thorough examination as to his qualifications, learning and professional skill by the State Board of Medical examiners, nor until he has been issued a certificate by such Board after such examination admitting him to practice as a physician and surgeon in the State of Montana. The Board may refuse to grant a certificate for unprofessional, dishonorable or immoral conduct. Before a certificate can be refused for such cause, the Board must serve in writing upon the applicant a copy of any charge or charges against him, and appoint a day for hearing, at which the applicant or any witness in his behalf may appear and give testimony in refutation of such charges. In case the Board, after such hearing refuse a certificate to the applicant, the decision specially stating the ground upon which such refusal was made must be reduced to writing and a copy thereof delivered to the applicant upon demand. Upon a like hearing the Board may refuse a certificate to any one who may publicly profess to cure or treat disease, injury or deformity in such a manner as to deceive the public. The hearing provided for herein must take place within twenty days after the service of the copy of the charges upon the applicant, unless further time is granted to the applicant, and the decision of the Board must not be later than ten days after the day of hearing. If the decision is not rendered within said period of ten days, the applicant is not subject to any penalties for practicing without a certificate during the time that elapses before the decision is made. The Board, with the concurrence of four members thereof, may revoke a certificate for unprofessional, dishonorable or immoral conduct. Before such revocation can take place, a written complaint specifically stating the charges against the person whose certificate is sought to be revoked must be delivered to the Board and a copy thereof be served upon such person twenty days before the time fixed by the Board for the hearing of such charges. The Board must fix the time and place for the hearing, at which the person charged may appear and produce testimony in refutation of such charges.

If after such hearing, the Board revoke the certificate of such person, the ground upon which such revocation is made must be specifically stated by the Board in writing and a copy thereof delivered, on demand, to the person whose certificate is revoked. In all cases of the refusal or revocation of a certificate to practice medicine by said Board, the person aggrieved thereby may appeal from the decision of the Board as hereinafter provided. An appeal may be taken from the action of the State Board of Medical Examiners in refusing to issue a certificate to practice medicine and surgery to any applicant after examination or from the action of said Board in revoking the certificate of any physician or surgeon, to the district court of the county in which such revocation or refusal was made. The appeal is taken by serving notice of appeal upon the Secretary of the Board of Medical Examiners and the Attorney General of the State within thirty days after notice from the Board of Medical Examiners of its decision, and by filing within the same time with the clerk of the proper district court, a verified copy of the decision from which appeal is taken, together with a verified copy of any charge or charges preferred against the applicant and filed with the Board of Medical Examiners. The appellant is required, at the time of filing such appeal, to furnish and file with the clerk of the court a good and sufficient bond to be approved by the clerk of the court, with two good and sufficient sureties, in the sum of three hundred dollars, guaranteeing the payment of all costs of the appeal should the case be decided against the appellant, and the costs shall consist of the sheriffs fees for serving jurors, jurors fees, and the fees of the clerk of the court. Such appeal shall thereafter be tried by the district court before a jury of six physicians—not less than two of whom shall be of the same school of medicine as the appellant—and in case such jury can not be obtained in the county where the case is tried, the judge of such court shall order subpoenas for physicians from any adjoining county or counties, which subpoenas shall be served by the sheriff of such adjoining county upon receipt, after the clerk of the court where the subpoena is issued shall have sent by registered mail, such subpoena to such sheriff. Bias or prejudice or fixed opinion shall constitute a ground of challenge to a juror for cause, and the appellant and the Medical Board shall each have the right to peremptorily challenge not more than two of such jurors. When the jury shall have been selected and sworn to try the cause, they constitute a higher examining board for the purpose of enquiring into whether or not the judgment of the Board of Medical Examiners should be affirmed or overruled upon the issues presented to such Board, and such jury may make such examination of the appellant as they may deem necessary or desirable. It shall take four of the jury to render a verdict, and no member of the Medical Board is qualified to act as a juror. The Attorney General is hereby made the attorney for said Board. Jurymen subpoenaed under this Act shall be entitled to mileage at the rate of ten cents per mile for each and every mile by them actually travelled in attending upon the court, and of three dollars per day for their services. [Act approved March 5, 1907.] (10th Sess. Chap. 100.)

1589. (§ 604.) Certificate must be recorded.—Every person obtaining a certificate from the board, must, within sixty days from the date thereof, have the same recorded in the office of the county clerk in the county wherein he resides; if he removes from one county to another to practice medicine or surgery, his certificate must immediately be recorded in the county to which he removes. The county clerk must indorse upon the certificate the date of record, and he is entitled to charge and receive his usual fees for such services, the fee to be paid by the applicant. Until the certificate be recorded, as provided by this section, the physician practicing under it is subject to the penalties prescribed in the penal code for practicing without a certificate. [Act approved March 13, 1895.]

1591. Practicing medicine without certificate; penalties.—Any person practicing medicine or surgery within this State without first having obtained a certificate to practice, as provided by law, and after his certificate to practice has been revoked, or contrary to the provisions of this Act, shall for each violation of the provisions of this Code, or any act relating to the practice of medicine or surgery in this State, be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction shall be punished by a fine of not more than one thousand dollars nor less than two hundred and fifty dollars, or by imprisonment in the County Jail not exceeding one year, nor less than ninety days, or by both said fine and imprisonment, as the court may determine. Any person shall be regarded as practicing within the meaning of this Act who shall append or affix the letters M. B. or M. D., or the title of Dr. or Doctor, or any other sign or appellation in a medical sense to his or her name, who shall publicly profess to be a physician or a surgeon, who shall publicly profess either on his own behalf, in his own name, in his trade name, or on behalf of any other person, corporation, association, partnership, either as manager, book-keeper, solicitor or other agent, to cure, treat, relieve, or palliate any ailment, disease or infirmity of the mind or body of another by using or prescribing any drug, medicine or surgical treatment, or who shall recommend, prescribe or direct for the use of any person any drug, medicine, appliance, apparatus, or other agency, whether material or not material, for the cure, relief or palliation of any ailment or disease of the mind or body, or for the cure or relief of any wound, fracture or bodily injury or other deformity after having received, or with the intent of receiving therefor, either directly or indirectly, any bonus, gift, or compensation; provided, however, that nothing in this Section shall be construed to restrain or restrict any legally licensed osteopathic practitioner practicing under the laws of this State. Nothing in this Act shall prohibit any legally licensed pharmacist or mercantile dealer from selling any drugs or medicines which are now allowed to be sold under the laws of the State of Montana or the United States. [Act approved March 5, 1907.] (10th Sess. Chap. 101.)

1592. Fees for examination before state board.—Candidates for examination shall pay in advance to the Secretary of the Board of Medical Examiners a fee of Twenty-five Dollars, which fee shall defray the entire expense of said candidates for examination before the aforesaid Board of Examiners. Any one failing to pass the required examination shall be entitled to a second examination within six months, without fee. And the moneys so received shall be turned over to the State Treasurer, to be by him deposited in the Medical Board Fund, as hereinafter provided. [Act approved March 6, 1907.] (10th Sess. Chap. 114.)

1593. (§ 608.) Compensation. Medical board fund.—Each member of the board is hereby allowed the sum of five dollars per day and mileage while in the active and necessary discharge of his duties. And there is hereby established a fund to be known as the medical board fund. And a sum of fifteen hundred dollars is hereby annually appropriated out of any moneys in the state treasury not otherwise appropriated to meet the expenses incurred in carrying out the provisions of this act. The state treasurer is hereby directed and required to set such sum apart to the credit of such fund, subject to the orders and disbursements as herein provided for. The money in such fund shall only be paid out by warrant on said fund on an order drawn by the secretary of said board, countersigned by the president. The rate of mileage and attendance before said board shall be the same as is now allowed in justice of the peace courts. And the board must report annually on the first Monday in November to the governor, which report must show all the transactions of the board, giving the number of applications received, and from whom received, the number of certificates granted and rejected, and the names of those receiving certificates and those rejected, giving the reasons therefor, the amount of money received, the expenses, the fees and mileage paid, and by whom received, and the amount of money remaining in said fund. [Act approved March 13, 1895.]

1643. (§ 554.) Inspection of boilers.—The inspector of boilers must inspect all steam boilers and steam generators before the same are used, except in the case of new boilers, which must be inspected within ninety days after they are put in use, unless accompanied by a certificate that such boiler has been inspected by a regular state inspector, and all boilers must be inspected at least once in every year. And the inspector of boilers must subject all boilers to hydrostatic pressure, and satisfy himself by a thorough internal and external examination, that the boilers are well made and of good and suitable materials; that the openings for the passage of water and steam, respectively, and all pipes and tubes exposed to heat are of the proper dimensions and free from obstructions; that the flues are circular in form; that the fire line of the furnace is at least two inches below prescribed minimum water line of the boilers; that the arrangement for delivering the feed water is such that the boilers cannot be injured thereby, and that such boilers and their steam connections may be safely employed without danger to life.

1644. (§ 555.) Same.—He must also satisfy himself that the safety valves are of suitable dimensions, sufficient in number and area, and properly arranged, and that the safety valve weights are properly adjusted, so as to allow no greater pressure in the boilers than the amount prescribed by the inspection certificate; that there are a sufficient number of gauge cocks properly inserted to indicate the amount of water, and suitable gauges that will correctly record the pressure of steam; and adequate and certain provisions for an ample supply to feed the boilers at all times, and that suitable means for blowing out are provided, so as to thoroughly remove the mud and sediment from all parts of the boilers when they are under pressure of steam. In subjecting boilers to the hydrostatic test, the inspector must assume one hundred and twenty-five pounds to the square inch as the maximum pressure allowable as a working pressure for new boilers of forty-two inches in diameter, made in the best manner, of plates one-fourth of an inch thick, and of good material; but the inspector must rate the working power of all high-pressure boilers according to their strength as compared with this standard, and in all cases the test applied must exceed the working pressure allowed, in the ratio of one hundred to seventy-five. Should the inspector be of the opinion that any boiler, by reason of its construction, or material, will not safely allow so high a working pressure, or will allow a greater working pressure than is herein provided, he may, for reasons to be stated specifically in his certificate, fix the pressure of such boiler at more or less than three-fourths of the test pressure, as the case may be.

1645. (§ 556.) Same. Assistant may act.—No boiler or steam pipe, nor any of the connections thereto must be approved which is made in whole or in part of bad material, or is unsafe from any cause. Nothing herein shall be construed to prevent the use of any boiler or steam generator which may not be constructed of riveted iron or steel plates, when the inspector has satisfactory evidence that such boiler or steam generator is equal in strength to and as safe from explosion as boilers of the best quality, constructed of iron or steel plates. In any case where for good cause the inspector is unable to make any such inspection or examination of any steam boiler, it is the duty of the assistant inspector to proceed and act in accordance with the requirements of this article as fully as the inspector is empowered to do.

1646. (§ 557.) Examination may be made at any time.—In addition to the annual inspection, it is the duty of the inspector, or of the assistant inspector, to examine at proper times, when in their opinion such examination is necessary, all such boilers as shall have become unsafe from any cause, and to notify the owner or the person using such boilers of any defect and what repairs are necessary to render them safe.

1647. (§ 558.) Duty to permit inspection.—It is the duty of the owners or managers of steam boilers to allow the inspectors free access to the same, and the engineer operating the same must assist the inspectors in their examinations and point out any defects they may know in the boilers or machinery in their charge. Any engineer not complying with this section shall have his license revoked or be suspended.

1648. (§ 559.) Classification of licenses.—No person must be granted a license to operate steam boilers or steam machinery under the provisions of this article who has not been examined by an inspector and found competent to perform the duties of an engineer and receive from such inspector a written or printed license so to act. Any person who operates any steam boiler or steam engines without first obtaining a license from an inspector or assistant inspector is guilty of a misdemeanor.

1649. Classification of engineers.—Engineers entrusted with the care and management of steam machinery as specified in Section 1648 (559), must be divided into three classes, namely: First class engineers, Second class engineers and Third class engineers. No license must be granted to any person to perform the duties of first class engineer who has not taken and subscribed an oath that he has had at least three years' experience in the operation of steam boilers and steam machinery, or whose knowledge and experience is not such as to justify the belief that he is competent to take charge of all classes of steam boilers and steam machinery. No license must be granted to any person to act as second class engineer who has not taken and subscribed an oath that he has had at least two years' experience in the operation of steam boilers and steam machinery, and is, on examination, found competent to take charge of all classes of steam boilers and steam machinery, not exceeding one hundred horse power. No license must be granted to any person to act as third class engineer, who has not served at least one year as fireman under a competent engineer and found upon examination to be sufficiently acquainted with the duties of an engineer to be entrusted with steam boilers and steam machinery, not exceeding twenty horse power. All firemen who have charge of steam boilers as to the regulation of feed, water and fuel, where the boilers are so situated as not at all times to be under the eye of the engineer in charge, are required to pass a third class engineer's examination and procure the same kind of license. Engineers not holding licenses of any of the above classes and who are entrusted with the care and management of traction engines or engines or boilers on wheels, other than locomotives, are required to pass an examination as to their competency to operate such class of machinery and to procure a license to be known as a Traction License. Such Traction License shall not entitle the holder thereof to operate any other class of steam machinery specified in Section 1648 (559). No license shall be granted to any person to act as traction engineer who is not found, upon examination, to be sufficiently acquainted with the duties of a Traction Engineer to be entrusted with the care of traction engines. [Act approved February 21, 1905, § 3.] (9th Sess. Chap. 32.)

1650. (§ 561.) License revoked. Publication of notice of time of application.—Whenever complaint is made against an engineer holding a license from the inspector, that he, through negligence, want of skill, or inattention to duty, permitted his boiler to burn, or otherwise to become in a bad condition, or that he has been found intoxicated while on duty, it is the duty of the inspector or assistant inspector to make a thorough investigation of the charge, and upon satisfactory proof of such charge to revoke the license of such engineer. The inspector and assistant inspector must, as often as convenient, publish a notice in some suitable newspaper, stating upon what days they will be in certain specified localities, and that they will then and at the time and place specified in such notice, receive applications and make examinations for the purpose of granting engineers' certificates, and that they will examine all boilers subject to inspection in the vicinity of the place appointed.

1651. (§ 562.) Certificate of inspection.—In making the inspection of boilers and machinery herein provided for, the inspectors may act jointly or separately; but the inspector or assistant inspector, making such inspection, must in all cases subscribe and make oath to the certificate of inspection, and report such action. Any inspector or assistant inspector who wilfully and falsely certifies regarding any steam boilers or their attachments, or grants a license to any person to act as engineer, contrary to the provisions of this article, is punishable under the provisions of Section 8446 (635), of the Penal Code.

1652. Fees of inspectors.—The Inspector or Assistant Inspectors are authorized to charge a fee of ten dollars for the inspection of each single boiler and its steam connections, and five dollars for each additional boiler when connected. The fee for the inspection of each traction engine or boiler on wheels shall be ten dollars. The fee for the inspection of boilers in incorporated cities shall be five dollars. Such fees shall be payable at the time of the delivery of the inspector's certificate of inspection. The fee for the examination of applicants for engineer's licenses is $7.50 for first class engineers, $5.00 for second class engineers, $3.00 for third class engineers and $3.00 for traction engineers; to be paid at the time of the application for license. In case of the failure of any applicant to pass a successful examination ninety days must elapse before he can again be examined as an applicant for license in the class for which he was examined. But the Inspector may grant to the applicant a lower grade of license than that applied for upon such examination. All certificates of inspection and engineer's licenses must be displayed in a conspicuous place in the engine room. [Act approved February 21, 1905, § 4.] (9th Sess. Chap. 32.)

1653. (§ 564.) Re-examination for license.—If any person who has applied for a license as a first or second or third-class engineer, under the provisions of this article, and has been rejected, feels aggrieved, he may at any time after the lapse of ten days, and within ninety after the date of his rejection, by petition in writing, set forth the causes of his grievance and demand another examination. Such petition must be addressed to and served upon the inspector, and shall be duly verified by the rejected applicant, and accompanied by the required fee for a second examination. Within two days after receiving such petition and fee, it is the duty of the inspector to notify the applicant in writing that on a day certain, which shall not be less than five nor more than forty days after the date of the service of the petition upon such inspector, he will be ready to grant him another examination. At least two days before the day set for examination the applicant must designate in writing to such inspector the name of an engineer holding a certificate of equal grade with the one applied for and such engineer may present himself upon the day and at the hour fixed for the re-examination.

1654. (§ 565.) A board to re-examine applicants.—Upon the same day, or any day prior to the date set for such examination, the inspector and selected engineer must in writing agree upon and designate and notify a third disinterested engineer holding a license equal in grade to the license applied for by the rejected applicant, to sit with them. On the day and hour set for such examination all three of such board, that is, the inspector and the engineer selected by the applicant and the engineer agreed upon by them, must proceed to carefully re-examine such applicant and fully and fairly test his qualifications and capabilities to receive a license such as he has applied for. After such examination is completed, if a majority of such board decide that such applicant is entitled to the license he has applied for, or any license of any inferior grade, the inspector must without delay issue a certificate accordingly, but if a majority of such board reject the applicant, it is a final rejection, and he must not be granted another examination for the space of ninety days after such last rejection, when he may again apply to the inspector or assistant inspector as provided by Section 1652 (563) of this article, and no person must be granted more than one re-examination before a board under the provisions of this article. One-half of the fee which may have accompanied any rejected applicant's petition for re-examination must be awarded by the inspector to each of the engineers who sit on any such examining board, and in case the applicant is granted a license the fee paid when he was first rejected is the fee for the issuing of such license granted by any board. In any case any engineer selected or agreed upon as by this section is provided, fails or neglects to appear or serve, another may be selected in his place in the manner herein provided.

1655. Locomotives and low pressure boilers exempted.—This Article does not apply to locomotives in Montana, nor to boilers used for heating purposes in private residences, nor to any boiler having a capacity of only five horse power or less; nor are locomotive engineers or persons operating any of the engines or boilers herein exempted from the operation of this Article, required to procure licenses from the Inspector or Assistant Inspectors. It shall be the duty of the owner or user of any traction engine or boiler on wheels, other than locomotives, to notify the Inspector of the location of such boiler on or before the first day of June in each year. Any owner or user of such engine or boiler failing to so notify the Inspector shall be punished by a fine of not less than twenty-five dollars nor more than one hundred dollars. [Act approved February 21, 1905, § 5.] (9th Sess. Chap. 32.)

1656. Certificates must be renewed yearly. Annual report.—All certificates of license to engineers of all classes shall be renewed yearly. The fee for renewal is $1.00 in all cases. Any engineer failing to renew his license as herein provided, or within at least thirty days thereafter, must forward this fee for an original license of the same grade before license can be re-issued. All moneys collected by virtue of this Article must be paid in to the State Treasury at least as often as once in each month. The Inspector of Boilers must make an annual report to the Governor on the tenth day of December of each year, setting forth the moneys collected by himself and the Assistant Inspectors from any and all sources, and the disbursements, and the number of boilers inspected by them, and the number and grades of licenses issued by them and to whom, and the general results and experiences of his office, and such recommendations as to him may seem fit and proper. Said report must also refer to and account for the causes of any boiler explosions which may have occurred in the State during the year, and the loss of life or property resulting therefrom. [Act approved February 21, 1905, § 6.] (9th Sess. Chap. 32.

1657. (§ 568.) Liability for unlawful use.—It is unlawful for any person in the state to operate a stationary boiler or steam-engine other than railroad locomotives or other engines and boilers exempted in § 1655 (566) of this article, without a license granted under the provisions of this article. The owner, renter, or user of the steam engine or boiler is equally liable for violations of this section. But in case of accident, sickness, refusal to work, or any unforeseen prevention of the licensed engineer employed by any owner, renter or user of a steam engine or boiler, operated in remote districts, which would retard the work to be performed, the owner, renter or user may, for the space of four weeks, employ any person not having a license, whom he may consider competent, to run the engine or boiler. The person so employing the unlicensed engineer must immediately notify the inspector or assistant inspector.

1658. (§ 569.) Penalties.—All violations of the provisions of this article are provided for in the Penal Code, § 8444 (633) to 8446 (635) and 8468 (657.)

1659. Sale of defective boiler prohibited.—Any person who offers for sale within this State a boiler subject to the provisions of this Article, which has been in use and is out of service, or who brings into the state and places in service any such boiler which has heretofore been in use in any other state, without first notifying the Boiler Inspector, and having such boiler inspected, and securing from the Inspector a certificate of such inspection, shall be punished by a fine of not less than one hundred dollars nor more than five hundred dollars for each offense. [Act approved February 21, 1905, § 7.] (9th Sess. Chap. 32.)

1670. (§ 3330.) State board of arbitration.—There is a state board of arbitration and conciliation consisting of three members, whose term of office is two years and until their successors are appointed and qualified. The board must be appointed by the governor, with the advice and consent of the senate. If a vacancy occurs at any time the governor shall appoint some one to serve out the unexpired term, and he may in like manner remove any member of said board. [Act approved March 15, 1895.]

1671. (§ 3331.) Who may be appointed.—One of the board must be an employer, or selected from some association representing employers of labor; and one of them must be a laborer, or selected from some labor organization, and not an employer of labor, and the other must be a disinterested citizen.

1672. (§ 3332.) Oath, and how organized.—The members of the board must, before entering upon the duties of their office, take the oath required by the constitution. They shall at once organize by the choice of one of their number as chairman. Said board may appoint and remove a clerk of the board, who shall receive such compensation as may be allowed by the board, but not exceeding five dollars per day for the time employed. The board shall, as soon as possible after its organization, establish such rules or modes of procedure as are necessary, subject to the approval of the governor. [Act approved March 15, 1895.]

1673. (§ 3333.) Settlement of controversies.—Whenever any controversy or dispute, not involving questions which may be the subject of a civil action, exists between an employer (if he employs twenty or more in the same general line of business in the state) and his employees, the board must, on application as is hereinafter provided, visit the locality of the dispute and make inquiry into the cause thereof, hear all persons interested therein, who may come before them, advise the respective parties what, if anything, ought to be done, by either or both, to adjust said dispute, and the board must make a written decision thereon. The decision must at once be made public, and must be recorded in a book kept by the clerk of the board, and a statement thereof published in the annual report, and the board must cause a copy thereof to be filed with the clerk of the county where the dispute arose.

1674. (§ 3334.) Application, how made.—The application to the board of arbitration and conciliation must be signed by the employer, or by a majority of his employees in the department of the business in which the controversy or difference exists, or their duly authorized agent or by both parties, and shall contain a concise statement of the grievances complained of, and a promise to continue on in business or at work without any lockout or strike until the decision of said board if it shall be made within four weeks of the date of filing said application. When an application is signed by an agent claiming to represent a majority of such employees, the board shall satisfy itself that such agent is duly authorized in writing to represent such employes, but the names of the employes giving such authority shall be kept secret by said board; as soon as may be after the receipt of said application the secretary of said board shall cause public notice to be given for the time and place for the hearing thereon; but public notice need not be given when both parties to the controversy join in the application and present therewith a written request that no public notice be given; when such request is made notice shall be given to the parties interested in such manner as the board may order; and the board may, at any stage of the proceedings, cause public notice to be given, notwithstanding such request. When notice has been given as aforesaid; each of the parties to the controversy, the employer on one side, and the employes interested on the other side, may in writing nominate, and the board may appoint, one person to act in the case as expert assistant to the board. The two persons so appointed shall be skilled in and conversant with the business or trade concerning which the dispute has arisen. It shall be their duty, under the direction of the board, to obtain and report to the board, information concerning the wages paid, the hours of labor and the methods and grades of work prevailing in manufacturing establishments, or other industries or occupations, within the state of a character similar to that in which the matters in dispute have arisen. Said expert assistants shall be sworn to the faithful discharge of their duty; such oath to be administered by any member of the board, and a record thereof shall be preserved with the record of the proceedings in the case. They shall be entitled to receive from the treasury of the state such compensation as shall be allowed and certified by the board not exceeding——dollars per day, together with all necessary traveling expenses. Nothing in this act shall be construed to prevent the board from appointing such other additional expert assistant or assistants as it may deem necessary, who shall be paid in like manner. Should the petitioner or petitioners fail to perform the promise made in said application, the board shall proceed no further thereupon without the consent of the adverse party. The board shall have power to summon as witness any operative or employe in the department of business affected and any person who keeps the records of wages earned in those departments, and to examine them under oath, and to require the production of books containing the record of wages paid. Summons may be signed and oaths administered by any member of the board. [Act approved March 15, 1895.]

1675. (§ 3335.) Report.—Upon the receipt of said application and after such notice, the board shall proceed as before provided, and render a written decision, which shall be open to the public inspection, shall be recorded upon the records of the board, and published at the discretion of the same in an annual report to be made to the governor on or before the first day of December in each year. [Act approved March 15, 1895.]

1676. (§ 3336.) The decision; when binding.—Any decision made by the board is binding upon the parties who join in the application for six months, or until either party has given the other notice in writing of his intention not to be bound by the same at the expiration of sixty days therefrom. The notice must be given to employes by posting the same in three conspicuous places in the shop, office, factory, store, mill or mine where the employes work.

1677. (§ 3337.) Parties may agree to special board of arbitration.—The parties to any controversy or difference as described in § 1673 (3333) of this code may submit the matters in dispute, in writing, to a local board of arbitration and conciliation; such board may be either mutually agreed upon, or the employer may designate one of the arbitrators, the employes, or their duly authorized agent, another, and the two arbitrators so designated may choose a third, who shall be chairman of the board. Such board shall, in respect to the matters referred to it, have and exercise all the powers which the state board might have and exercise, and its decision shall have whatever binding effect may be agreed upon by the parties to the controversy in the written submission. The jurisdiction of such board shall be exclusive in respect to the matters submitted to it, but it may ask and receive the advice and assistance of the state board. The decision of such board shall be rendered within ten days of the close of any hearing held by it; such decision shall at once be filed with the clerk of the county in which the controversy or difference arose, and a copy thereof shall be forwarded to the state board and entered on its records. Each of such arbitrators shall be entitled to receive from the treasury of the county in which the controversy or difference that is the subject of the arbitration exists, if such payment shall be approved by the commissioners of said county, the sum of three dollars for each day of actual service, not exceeding ten days for any one arbitration. Whenever it is made to appear to the mayor of any city or two commissioners of any county, that a strike or lockout such as described hereafter in this section is seriously threatened or actually occurs, the mayor of such city, or said commissioners of such county, shall at once notify the state board of the fact. Whenever it shall come to the knowledge of the state board, either by notice from the mayor of a city, or two or more commissioners of a county, as provided in this section, or otherwise, that a strike or lockout is seriously threatened or has actually occurred in any city or county of this state, involving an employer and his present or past employes, if at the time he is employing or up to the occurrence of the strike or lockout was employing not less than twenty persons in the same general line of business in any city, town or county in this state, it shall be the duty of the state board to put itself in communication as soon as may be with such employer and employes, and endeavor by mediation to effect an amicable settlement between them, or to endeavor to persuade them, providing that a strike or lockout has not actually occurred or is not then continuing, to submit the matters in dispute to a local board of arbitration and conciliation as above provided, or to the state board; and said state board may, if it deems it advisable, investigate the cause or causes of such controversy, and ascertain which party thereto is mainly responsible or blameworthy for the existence or continuance of the same, and may make and publish a report finding such cause or causes, and assigning such responsibility or blame. The board shall have the same powers for the foregoing purposes as are given it by § 1673 (3333) of this code. Witnesses summoned by the state board shall be allowed the sum of fifty cents for each attendance, and the further sum of twenty-five cents for each hour of attendance in excess of two hours, and shall be allowed five cents a mile for travel each way from their respective places of employment or business to the place where the board is in session. Each witness shall certify in writing the amount of his travel and attendance, and the amount due him shall be certified to the state board of examiners for auditing, and the same shall be paid as other expenses of the state from any moneys in the state treasury. [Act approved March 15, 1895.]

1678. (§ 3338.) Compensation.—The arbitrators hereby created must be paid five dollars for each day of actual service and their necessary traveling expenses and necessary books or records, to be paid out of the treasury of the state, as by law provided.

1679. Appointment of coal mine inspector; term of office.—The Governor, by and with the advice and consent of the Senate, shall appoint one coal mine inspector who shall hold office for a term of four years from the date of his appointment, unless otherwise removed by the Governor. [Act approved March 7, 1907, § 1.] (10th Sess. Chap. 133.)

1680. Qualifications of inspector.—No person shall be eligible to the office of coal mine inspector until he shall have attained the age of thirty years, must be a citizen of the United States, a qualified resident of the state of Montana and been actually employed at coal mining ten years prior to his appointment and shall possess a competent knowledge of all the different systems of coal mining and working and properly ventilating coal mines, and the nature and constituent parts of noxious and explosive gases of coal mines, and of the various ways of expelling the same from the said mines. Said inspector shall be a graduate of some recognized school of mines. [Act approved March 7, 1907, § 2.] (10th Sess. Chap. 133.)

1681. Salary of inspector.—The salary of the state coal mine inspector shall be Twenty-five Hundred Dollars per annum and all necessary and traveling expenses; the state coal mine in-inspector shall file with the state treasurer a bond, approved by the Governor of the state, in the sum of Five Thousand Dollars, for the faithful performance of his duties. [Act approved March 7, 1907, § 3.] (10 Sess. Chap. 133.)

1682. Powers and duties of inspector.—The state coal mine inspector shall have the right and it is hereby made his duty, to enter, inspect, and examine any coal mine in this state, and the workings and the machinery belonging thereto, at all reasonable times, either by day or night, but not so as to impede or obstruct the workings of the mine. He shall also have the right and it is his duty to make inquiry into the condition of such mine, workings, machinery, scales, ventilation, drainage, method of lighting or using lights, and into all methods and things connected with or relating to, as well as to make suggestions providing for the health and safety of persons employed in or about the same, and especially to make inquiry whether or not the provisions of the acts providing for the regulation of coal mines, or other acts which may hereafter be enacted governing coal mines, have been complied with. The owner, operator or superintendent of such mine is hereby required to furnish the means necessary for such entry, inspection, examination inquiry and exit. It shall also be the duty of the said coal mine inspector to carefully examine all the coal mines in operation in this state at least every three months and oftener if necessary; to see that every precaution is taken to insure the safety of all workmen that may be engaged in said coal mine. The said inspector shall make a record of the visit, noting the time and the material circumstances of the inspection. [Act approved March 7, 1907, § 4.] (10th Sess. Chap. 133.)

1683. Inspector must not be employed by companies.—The said coal mine inspector while in office shall not act as agent for any corporation, superintendent or manager of any mines, and shall in no manner whatever be under the employ of mining companies, and it shall be the duty of the said coal mine inspector on or before the first day of January of every year, to make a report to the Governor of his proceedings as such coal mine inspector and the conditions of each and every coal mine in the state, stating therein all accidents that have happened in or about said mine or mines, and to set forth in said report all such suggestions as he may deem important as to any further legislation on the subject of coal mining. [Act approved March 7, 1907, § 5.] (10th Sess. Chap. 133.)

1684. Instruments to be furnished inspector.—For the more efficient discharge of the duties herein imposed upon him, the said coal mine inspector shall be furnished at the expense of the state, with an anemometer, a safety lamp and whatever other instruments or other appliances which may be required in order to carry into effect the provisions of the acts regulating coal mines. [Act approved March 7, 1907, § 6.] (10th Sess. Chap. 133.)

1685. Inspector must post statement of condition of mine at entrance.—The coal mine inspector shall post up in some conspicuous place at the top of each mine visited and inspected by him, a plain statement of the conditions of such mine, showing what in his judgment is necessary for the better protection of the lives and health of persons employed in said mine; such statement shall give the date of inspection and be signed by the said inspector. He shall also post a notice at the landing used by the men stating what number of men may be permitted to ride on the cage, car or cars at one time, and at what rate of speed men may be hoisted and lowered on the cage, car or cars. He must observe especially that the code of signals provided in the act regulating coal mines, between engineer and top men and bottom men, is conspicuously posted for the information of all employes. In case of the death, resignation or removal from office of the state coal mine inspector before the expiration of the term of office, the Governor shall appoint a duly qualified person as provided in this act, to fill the vacancy for the unexpired term. [Act approved March 7, 1907, § 7.] (10th Sess. Chap. 133.)

1686. Temporary vacancies.—In case the state coal mine inspector becomes incapacitated and cannot perform the duties of his office for a period longer than two weeks, it shall be the duty of the Governor to deputize some competent person having the qualifications provided in this act, to fulfill the duties of the said inspector until the said inspector shall return to the performance of his official duties and the person deputized by the Governor shall be paid by the state out of any moneys in the general fund of the state not otherwise appropriated, for the services rendered, at the same rate received by the state coal mine inspector. [Act approved March 7, 1907, § 8.] (10th Sess. Chap. 133.)

1687. Coal mine inspector ex-officio sealer of weights and measures.—The state coal mine inspector is hereby made, equally with the county clerk, ex-officio sealer of weights and measures, in so far as the same relates to coal mines and coal mining, and as such is empowered to test and compare all weights and measures used in weighing and measuring coal at any coal mine, or used in measuring air passages or other openings in coal mines, with the standards of weights and measures kept by the county clerk of any county. Upon the written request of any coal mine owner or operator or ten coal miners employed at any one mine, it shall be his duty to test and prove any scale or scales at such mine against which complaint is directed, and if he shall find that they or any of them do not weigh correctly, he shall call the attention of the mine owner or operator to the fact and direct that said scale or scales be at once overhauled and readjusted so as to indicate only true and correct weights, and he shall forbid the further operation of such scale until such scales are adjusted. In the event that such tests shall conflict with any test made by any county sealer of weights and measures, or under and by virtue of any municipal ordinance or regulation, then the test by such mine inspector shall prevail. [Act approved March 7, 1907, § 9.] (10th Sess. Chap. 133.)

1688. Standard test weights to be furnished.—For the purpose of carrying out the provisions of this act, the state coal mine inspector shall be furnished by the state with a complete set of standard weights suitable for testing the accuracy of track scales, and of all smaller scales at mines; said test weights shall remain in the custody of the state coal mine inspector for use at any point within the state, and for any amounts expended by him for the storage, transportation or the handling of the same, he shall be fully reimbursed upon making entry of the proper items in his expense voucher. [Act approved March 7, 1907, § 10.] (10th Sess. Chap. 133.)

1689. Refusal of mine operator to furnish facilities for examination.—If any operator shall refuse to permit such inspection or to furnish the necessary facilities for making such examination and inspection, the inspector shall file his affidavit, setting forth his refusal, with the judge of the district court in said county in which said mine is situated, either in term-time or vacation, and obtain an order on such owner, operator or agent so refusing as aforesaid, commanding him to permit and furnish such necessary facilities for the inspection of such coal mine, or to be adjudged to stand in contempt of court and punished accordingly. [Act approved March 7, 1907, § 11.] (10th Sess. Chap. 133.)

1690. Investigation of charges for neglect of duty.—Whenever a petition signed by fifty or more reputable citizens, legal residents of the state, verified by oath by two or more of the said petitioners, and accompanied by a bond in the sum of Five Hundred Dollars, running to the state, executed by two or more Freeholders, approved and accepted by the clerk of the district court of the county or counties of their residence, conditioned for the payment of all costs and expenses arising from the investigation of the charges, setting forth that the inspector of mines neglects his duties or is incompetent, or is guilty of malfeasance in office, it shall be the duty of the judge of the district court of the county, to issue a citation in the name of the state to the said inspector, to appear at not less than five days' notice, on a day fixed, before said court, and the court shall then proceed to inquire into and investigate the allegations of the petitioners; such action shall be prosecuted by the county attorney. [Act approved March 7, 1907, § 12.] (10th Sess. Chap. 133.)

1691. Penalties for violation of duty.—If the court finds that the said coal mine inspector is neglectful of his duties or incompetent to perform the duties of his office, or that he is guilty of malfeasance in office, the court shall certify the same to the Governor, who shall declare the office of said mine inspector vacant, and proceed in compliance with the provisions of this act to supply the vacancy; and the costs of such investigation shall, if the charges are sustained, be imposed upon the state coal mine inspector. [Act approved March 7, 1907, § 13.] (10th Sess. Chap. 133.)

1692. (§ 3350.) Maps of coal mines to be furnished inspector.—The owner or operator of any coal mine in the state must make, or cause to be made, an accurate map or plan of the mine, which must exhibit the openings or excavations, the shafts, slopes, or tunnels, the entries, rooms, or other workings, must show the direction of the air currents therein, accurately delineate the surface section lines of the coal lands controlled by the owner of said mines and show the exact relation to and the proximity of the workings of said mine to said surface lines, said map, or plan, must also show the exact date of such survey made, and indicate the boundary line of the most advanced face of the workings at such date; and in case more than one seam of coal is opened or worked, a separate map or plan as aforesaid, must, if desired by the inspector, be made of the working in each seam. The map, or plan, or a true copy thereof, with the record of all surveys of said boundary lines and underground workings, must be delivered to the state inspector of mines, and the original or a true copy of the same must be retained for reference and inspection at the office of the coal mine. The maps and plans so delivered to the inspector of mines are the property of the state, and must be transferred to his successor in office. Maps of mines filed with the inspector must be open to the examination of the public in the presence of the inspector, but in no case must any copy of the same be made without the consent of the owner, operator, or his agent.

1693. (§ 3351.) Additions to the map to be made, when.—After the maps and plans herein provided are completed, thereafter in July of each year, the owner or operator of every coal mine must cause surveys to be made of all alterations and extensions of the workings made during the year preceding, and must have the records and results of the survey duly entered upon the maps of the inspector, and upon that kept at the mine. The said extensions must be placed upon the inspector's map, and the map returned to the inspector within thirty days from the completion of the survey. When any coal mine is worked out, and is about to be abandoned, the owner or operator must have the maps or plans thereof to include all excavations made, showing the most advanced workings of every part of the mine and the relation of such boundaries to marked boundaries on the surface.

1694. (§ 3352.) Failure to provide maps.—Whenever the owner or operator of any coal mine neglects or refuses to furnish the inspector the map or plan of such coal mine, or the extensions thereto, as provided for in this chapter, the inspector is authorized to make, or cause to be made, an accurate map or plan of such coal mine, at the expense of the owner, and the cost may be recovered from the owner or operator, in the same manner as other debts, in the name of the state.

1695. (§ 3353.) Coal mine escapes.—For all coal mines in this state, when more than six men are employed, other than the owners or operators of such mine, whether worked by shaft, slope or drift, there must be provided and maintained in addition to the hoisting shaft or opening, a separate escapement shaft or opening to the surface, or an underground opening or communication between every such mine and some other contiguous mine, as may be approved by the mine inspector, as coming within the requirements of this chapter, which openings constitute two separate and available means of ingress and egress to all persons employed in the mine, and all passage-ways communicating with the escapement shaft, or places of exit from main hauling-ways to escapement shafts, must be at least five feet wide and five feet high.

1696. (§ 3354.) Escapes how constructed.—Every escapement shaft must be separated from the main shaft by such extent of natural strata as shall secure safety to the men employed in such mines, and provided with either stairways, or cages and hoisting apparatus, as in the judgment of the inspector of mines may be sufficient to insure the safe and speedy removal of all persons within the mine in case of danger. No obstructions of any kind must be permitted in any escapement shaft that would in any way impede travel through the same. The time allowed for completing such escapement shaft or making such communication with an adjacent mine, as is required by the terms of this chapter, is for all mines already opened or in process of development on the sixth day of March, 1891, one year for sinking any shaft two hundred feet or less in depth, and one additional year or pro rata portion thereof for every additional two hundred feet or fraction thereof; but for mines which are opened thereafter, the time allowed shall be two years for all shafts more than two hundred feet in depth, and one year for all shafts two hundred feet or less in depth, and the time must be reckoned in all cases from the date on which coal is first hoisted from the original shaft for sale or use, and it is the duty of the inspector of mines to see that all escapement shafts are begun in time to secure the completion within the time herein specified.

1697. (§ 3355.) Ventilation of coal mines.—The owner or operator of every coal mine, whether operated by shaft, slope or drift, must provide and maintain for every such mine a good and sufficient amount of ventilation for men and animals employed therein; the amount of air in circulation to be in no case less than one hundred cubic feet for each man, and six hundred cubic feet for each animal per minute, measured at the foot of the down-cast, and the same to be increased at the discretion of the inspector according to the character and extent of the workings, or to the amount of powder used in blasting, and the volume of air must be forced and circulated to the face of every working place throughout the mine, so that the mine is free from standing powder smoke and gases of every kind. All doors set on main entries for the purpose of conducting ventilations must be so constructed and hung as to close of themselves when opened, and must be made sufficiently tight to effectually obstruct the air currents.

1698. (§ 3356.) Ventilation enforced by the inspector.—In all the larger mines, a suitable person as doorkeeper must be kept in attendance upon such doors, to see that they are kept securely closed and the air currents properly controlled. Whenever the inspector finds men working without sufficient air under any unsafe conditions, he must first give the owner or operator a reasonable notice to rectify the same; upon the neglect or refusal of the owner or operator of the mine to put the same in a safe condition, as required by the inspector, the inspector must proceed by an action to enjoin the further workings of the mine until the law is complied with. All actions for an injunction must be brought by the county attorney, or by the attorney general in the name of the state.

1699. (§ 3357.) Examination for explosive gases.—All mines in which explosive gases are known to exist must be examined every morning by a duly authorized agent of the owner or operator, to determine whether there are any dangerous accumulations of gases or lack of ventilation or obstructions to roadways or any other dangerous conditions, and no person must be allowed to enter the mine until the agent has reported all the conditions safe for beginning work; the agent must make a daily record of the condition of the mine in a book kept for that purpose, which shall be open at all times to the examination of the inspector. The current of air in mines must be split, so as to give a separate current to at least every one hundred men at work, and the inspector has the discretion to order a separate current for a smaller number of men if special conditions render it necessary. In case the entries or roadways of any mine are so dry as to become filled with dust, the owner or operator of the mine is required to have such roadways regularly and thoroughly sprinkled, and it is the duty of the inspector to see that in all mines every practicable precaution is taken against accidents from the careless handling of powder within the mine.

1700. (§ 3358.) Unlawful working of coal mines.—In no case must more powder be stored in the mine at any one time than in the discretion of the inspector is necessary for each day's use. It is unlawful for coal miners in any mine to charge a blasting hole with the loose powder or otherwise than with the properly constructed cartridge; and in dry and dusty mines it is unlawful to load cartridges in the mines except with powder cans constructed for the purpose. It is unlawful for the owner or operator of any mine to permit miners to work in said mines with tools prohibited by law. It is unlawful for any owner or operator of any mine where dangerous or explosive gases are known to exist to employ any person as foreman or boss of said mine, who does not possess a thorough, practical knowledge of the nature and danger of inflammable or explosive gases and understand the means and appliances for controlling them. It is unlawful for any person to act as foreman or mine boss of any mine in which inflammable gases are known to exist, who does not possess a thorough, practical knowledge of the nature and danger of inflammable or explosive gases, and understand the means and appliances for controlling them.

1701. (§ 3359.) Foremen must have certificate from inspector and incompetent persons not to be employed.—It is unlawful for any person to act as foreman or mine boss of any mine in which inflammable gases are known to exist, who does not possess a certificate from the state mine inspector certifying to his competency for managing the underground workings of mines, together with a thorough knowledge of all gases met with in coal mines and of the most approved means of appliances for controlling them, and the inspector of mines is authorized to examine all foremen or mine bosses upon their competency under the provisions of this chapter and issue his certificate to those whom he considers qualified to act as such foreman or boss within the meaning of this law. It is unlawful for any owner or operator of a coal mine to employ persons underground whose duties may involve contact with inflammable gases or the handling of explosives, who have not had experience in such duties, unless all such employes are placed under the immediate charge and instruction of such number of competent men as to secure the safety of other persons employed in the same mine.

1702. (§ 3360.) Ventilation furnaces, how built.—The ventilation required by this chapter may be produced by any suitable appliances, but in case a furnace is used for ventilating purposes, it must be built in such a manner as to prevent the communication of fire to any part of the works by lining the upcast with incombustible material for a sufficient distance up from the furnace. It is unlawful to use a furnace for ventilating purposes or for any other purpose that emits smoke into any compartment constructed in or adjoining any hoisting shaft or slope where the hoisting shaft or slope is the only means provided for the ingress or egress of persons employed in said coal mines. It is unlawful, where there is but one means of ingress and egress provided at a coal shaft or slope, to construct and use a ventilating furnace that emits smoke into a shaft as an upcast where the shaft or slope used as a means of ingress and egress by persons employed in said coal mines is the only means provided for furnishing air for persons employed therein.

1703. (§ 3361.) Hoisting and lowering into the mine.—The owner or operator of a coal mine operated by shaft must provide safe means of hoisting and lowering persons in a cage covered with boiler iron, so as to keep safe as far as possible persons descending into and ascending out of said shaft, and said cage must be furnished with guides to conduct iron slides through such shaft, with a sufficient brake on every drum to prevent accident in case of the giving out or breaking of the machinery; and such cages must be furnished with safety catches intended and provided, as far as possible to prevent accident in case of cable breaking or the loosening or disconnecting of machinery. The owner or operator of every coal mine operated by shaft and steam power must place competent persons at the top and bottom of such shaft for the purpose of attending to signals while the men are being lowered or hoisted out of the mine; they must be at their post of duty at least thirty minutes before the hoisting of coal is commenced in the morning and remain at least thirty minutes after the hoisting of coal has ceased at night. It is also their duty to see that the men do not carry any tools, timber, or material with them on the cage, and that only the proper number of men are allowed upon the cage at one time. A sufficient light must be furnished at the top and bottom of the shaft to insure as far as possible the safety of persons getting on or off the cage.

1704. (§ 3362.) Signals, cage, how loaded, and protection.—A suitable code of signals between the bottom man and the top man and engineer must be established to provide and insure the safety of persons being lowered into and hoisted out of any shaft; said code of signals so established must be conspicuously posted at the top and bottom of the shaft and in the engine room. No person must ride upon a loaded cage or car used for hoisting purposes in any shaft or slope, and in no case must more than twelve persons ride in any cage or car at any one time, nor must any coal be hoisted out of any coal mine, except in cases where coal is being hoisted out of a slope which is not less than ten feet wide and only one track operated therein, while persons are descending into such mine. The number of persons permitted to ascend out of or descend into any coal mine at one time must be determined by the inspector, and they must not be lowered or hoisted more rapidly than five hundred feet per minute. The top of each and every shaft and the entrance to each and every intermediate working vein must be securely fenced by gates, properly protecting such shaft and the entrance thereto, and the entrance to every abandoned stope, air or other shaft must be securely fenced off.

1705. (§ 3363.) Same.—All underground, self-acting or engine planes, with single track, on which coal cars are drawn and persons travel, must be provided with proper means of signaling between the stopping places and ends of said planes, and sufficient places of refuge at the sides of such planes must be provided at intervals of not more than ten yards and on all other single planes or gangways, twenty yards, and they must not be less than six feet wide and whitewashed or otherwise distinguished from the surrounding walk. The bottom of every shaft must be supplied with a traveling way, to enable men to pass from one side of the shaft to the other without passing under or over the cage. All sumps must be securely planked over, so as to prevent accident.

1706. (§ 3364.) Penalties.—Any person neglecting or refusing to perform the duties required by any of the provisions of this chapter is punishable as provided in § 8559 (718) of the Penal Code.

1707. (§ 3365.) State to furnish appliances.—The inspector of mines is authorized to provide, at the expense of the state, all necessary air meters, barometers or other instruments for the use of himself and deputy in making all investigations and inspections, as required by this chapter.

1708. Duty of mine operator to furnish wash houses for employees.—It shall be the duty of the owner, operator or superintendent of any coal mine in the State of Montana, to provide a suitable building, not an engine or boiler house, which shall not be over eight hundred feet from and convenient to the principal entrance of such mine, for the use of the persons employed therein for the purpose of washing themselves and changing their clothes when entering the mine and returning therefrom. The said building shall be maintained in good order, be properly lighted and heated and supplied with pure cold and warm water, and be provided with facilities for persons to wash, and a suitable locker for each person to be used by him as a repository for his clothes. If any owner or operator of a coal mine shall fail to construct and maintain a wash house as herein provided, he shall be subject to a fine of not less than twenty-five dollars per day for each day of such violation. If any person shall maliciously injure or destroy, or cause to be injured or destroyed, the said building, or any part thereof, or any of the appliances or fittings used for supplying light, heat or water therein, or doing any act tending to the injury or destruction thereof, he shall be deemed guilty of an offense against this Act, and shall be subject to a fine of not less than Five Dollars nor more than One Hundred Dollars or imprisonment of not less than five days nor more than sixty days, or both such fine and imprisonment. [Act approved March 7, 1907.] (10th Sess. Chap. 134.)

1709. Check weighman.—The weighman employed at any mine shall subscribe to an oath or affirmation before a justice of the peace, or other officer authorized to administer oaths, to do justice between employer and employee, and to truly and correctly weigh the output of coal from the mines as herein provided. The miners employed by or engaged in working for any mine owner, operator or lessee of any mine in this state shall have the privilege, if they desire of employing at their own expense a check weighman, who shall have like equal rights, powers and privileges in the weighing of coal as the regular weighman, and be subject to the same oath and penalties as the regular weighman. Said oath or affirmation shall be kept conspicuously posted in the weigh office, and any weigher of coal or person so employed, who shall knowingly violate any of the provisions of this article, or any owner, operator or agent of any coal mine in this state who shall forbid or hinder miners employing or using a check weighman as herein provided, or who shall prevent or wilfully obstruct any such check weighman in the discharge of his duty, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction shall be punished by a fine of not less than One Hundred Dollars nor more than Five Hundred Dollars for each offense, or by imprisonment in the county jail for a period of not less than thirty days nor more than ninety days, or by both such fine and imprisonment, proceedings to be instituted in any court having competent jurisdiction. Whenever the Inspector of mines, or Deputy Inspector of Mines shall be satisfied that the provisions of this section have been wilfully violated, it shall be his duty to forthwith inform the prosecuting attorney of any such violation, together with all the facts within his knowledge and the prosecuting attorney shall thereupon investigate the charges so preferred, and if he be satisfied that the provisions of this section have been violated, it shall be his duty to prosecute the person or persons guilty thereof. [Act approved February 19th, 1901.] (7th Sess. 65-6.)

1710. False weights. Penalty.—Any person or persons having or using any scale or scales for the purpose of weighing the output of coal at mines, so arranged or constructed that fraudulent weighing may be done thereby, or who shall knowingly resort to or employ any means whatsoever, by reason of which such coal is not correctly weighed and reported in accordance with the provisions of this Article, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and shall, upon conviction, for each such offense, be punished by a fine of not less than Two Hundred Dollars nor more than Five Hundred Dollars, or by imprisonment in the county jail for a period not to exceed sixty days, or by both such fine and imprisonment, proceedings to be instituted in any court of competent jurisdiction. [Act approved February 19th, 1901, § 2.] (7th Sess. 66.)

Appointment.*—The Governor, by and with the advice and consent of the Senate must appoint an Inspector of Mines, who shall be at least thirty years of age, a resident of Montana at least one year, who shall be theoretically and practically acquainted with mines and mining in all its branches, and he shall hold his office for four years unless sooner removed by the Governor. No person shall hold the position of Inspector of Mines while an employee or officer of any mining company or corporation. The Inspector of Mines must devote his entire time to the duties of his office, and his salary is two thousand, four hundred dollars. [Act approved March 4th, 1897, § 1.] (5th Sess. 109.)

1712. Deputy Inspector, qualifications and duties.—The Governor by and with the consent of the Senate must appoint a Deputy Inspector of Mines who shall possess like qualifications to those required of the Inspector of Mines, who shall hold his office for four years unless sooner removed by the Governor. No person shall hold the office of Deputy Inspector of Mines while an employee or officer of any mining company or corporation.

The Deputy Inspector of Mines must devote his entire time to the duties of his office under the supervision and direction of the Inspector of Mines, and his annual salary is one thousand six hundred and fifty dollars. [Act approved March 4th, 1897, § 2.] (5th Sess. 109.)

1713. Duties of mine inspector. Annual inspection.—It is the duty of the Inspector of Mines by himself or deputy to visit every mine in the State, once every year and inspect its workings, timbering, ventilation, means of ingress and egress, and the means adopted and in use for the preservation of the lives and safety of the miners employed therein. For this purpose the Inspector and his deputy at all times shall have access to any mine and all parts thereof. All mine owners, lessees, operators or superintendents, must render such assistance as may be necessary to enable the Inspector or his deputy to make the examination. When upon such inspection any mine or portion thereof is found to be in an unsafe condition, the Inspector shall at once serve a notice in writing upon the owner, lessor, lessee, agent, manager or superintendent thereof, setting forth the nature of the defects which render such mine unsafe and the point or place in such mine where such defects exist, and requiring the repairs necessary to remedy such defects to be made within a specified time, and, if in his judgment the circumstances so require, he shall forbid the operation of such mine or portion thereof as has been declared unsafe, save and except for the purpose of making the repairs necessary for the purpose of remedying such defects and making such mine safe for the laborers employed therein. [Act approved March 6, 1903, § 1.] (8th Sess. Chap. 98.)

1714. Duty to inspect mine upon complaint.—Whenever the Inspector of Mines receives a complaint in writing signed by one or more parties setting forth that the mine in which he or they are working is dangerous in any respect, he or the deputy inspector must in person visit and examine such mine. Every complaint must set forth the nature of the danger existing at the mine and the time the cause of such danger was first observed. [Act approved March 6, 1903, § 2.] (8th Sess. Chap. 98.)

1715. Notice to owner of defects.—After such complaint has been received by the Inspector of Mines, he must, as soon as possible, visit such mine; and if from such examination he ascertains that the mine is from any cause in a dangerous condition, he must at once notify the owner, lessor or agent thereof, such notice to be in writing, and to be served by copy on such owner, lessor, lessee, or agent, in the same manner as provided by law for the serving of legal process, and the notice must state fully and in detail in what particular manner such mine is dangerous or insecure, and require all necessary changes to be made without delay, for the purpose of making such mine safe for the laborers employed therein; and in any criminal or civil procedure at law against the party or parties so notified, on account of loss of life or bodily injury sustained by an employee subsequent to such notice and in consequence of a neglect to obey the inspectors' requirements, a certified copy of the notice served by the Inspector is prima facie evidence of the gross negligence of the party or parties so complained of. If the owner, lessor, lessee, or agent of any such mine shall neglect or refuse to obey or comply with the instructions of the Inspector as contained in such notice, or shall neglect or refuse to cause the repairs necessary to remedy such defect to be made within a reasonable time, or shall refuse to cause work to be stopped when so ordered, such party or parties so refusing may be prosecuted criminally by the Inspector. [Act approved March 6, 1903, § 3.] (8th Sess. Chap. 98.)

Report.*—It is the duty of the Inspector of Mines, at least once in each year, either in person or by deputy inspector, to visit each mining county in the State and examine as many of the mines in the different counties as practicable, and make such recommendations as in his judgment are necessary to insure the safety of the workmen employed therein; and whenever from his examination, he finds any mine to be in an unsafe condition, he shall at once serve a notice upon the owner, lessor, lessee, or agent fails to comply with such notice, he may prosecute them or any of them as provided in the next preceding section. [Act approved March 6, 1903, § 4.] (8th Sess. Chap. 98.)

1717. Investigation after accidents.—Whenever a serious or fatal accident occurs in any mine it is the duty of the person in charge thereof to immediately notify the Inspector of Mines or the Deputy Inspector, and upon receiving such notice the Inspector in person or the Deputy Inspector must at once repair to the place of the accident, and investigate fully the cause of such accident, and whenever possible to do so, the Inspector or Deputy Inspector shall be present at the Coroner's inquest held over the remains of the person or persons killed by such accident, and testify as to the cause thereof, and state whether, in his opinion, the accident was due to the negligence or mismanagement of the owner or person in charge. If the Inspector or Deputy Inspector can not be immediately present in case of a fatal or serious accident occurring, it is the duty of the owner or person in charge of the mine to have written statements made by those witnessing the same, and duly sworn to. In case no person was present at the time of the accident, then the verified statement of those first present after the accident must be taken, and such statement must be given to the Inspector or the Deputy Inspector. If after making such investigation the Inspector deems the facts warrant it, he may prosecute criminally the owner, lessor, lessee, or agent of the mine in which such accident occurred. [Act approved March 6, 1903, § 5.] (8th Sess. Chap. 98.)

The person so appointed must be a graduate in good standing of some recognized, regular and reputable Veterinary College, or Veterinary Department of a regular and reputable university; must be legally qualified to practice in the State of Montana, and must have had at least five years’ continuous practical experience in his profession, and his selection must be based upon competency and efficiency alone. [Act approved March 7, 1907, § 1.] (10th Sess. Chap. 160.)

1837. Duties of state veterinary surgeon.—The duties of the State Veterinary Surgeon are:

1. To investigate all cases of infectious or contagious diseases among cattle, horses, mules, asses, sheep, goats, swine and all other domestic animals in this State, of which he may have a knowledge, or which may be brought to his notice, and in the absence of specific information, to make visits of inspection to any locality, where he may have reason to suspect that there is any infectious or contagious disease.

2. To inspect, under the regulations of this Article, all such animals which may be brought into this State, in any manner whatever, from or through such state or territory or foreign country, as the Governor may declare by proclamation, must be held in quarantine, for the purpose of inspection.

3. To inspect, under the regulations of this Article, all such animals in this State, or that may be brought into this State, in any manner whatever, from any other State, territory or foreign country.

4. To quarantine any premises, in which animals affected with any infectious or contagious disease are, or have been kept, and to quarantine such animals, which are affected with, or have been exposed to any infectious or contagious disease, and to define the limits within which they must be kept, the time they shall be detained, and the conditions on which they shall be released therefrom.

5. For the purpose of making such inspection, or performing any of his duties, he has authority to enter any enclosure, corral, car, shed, barn, stable or other building, in which animals are, or have been kept. [Act approved February 27, 1905.] (9th Sess Chap. 38.)

1838. (§ 3002.) Owners must notify veterinary surgeon.—After the making of such proclamation the owner, or person in charge, of any animals, arriving in this state from or through any state, territory, or foreign country, against which quarantine has been declared, must notify the state veterinary surgeon without delay, and must not allow such animals to leave the place of arrival until they have been examined by the veterinary surgeon, and his certificate obtained that all such animals are free from disease; and no animals pronounced unsound from disease by the veterinary surgeon, must be turned loose, or allowed to run at large, or removed or permitted to escape, but must be held subject to the order of the veterinary surgeon. Any person failing to comply with the provisions of this section is punishable as provided in Section 8447 (1174) of the Penal Code, and is liable for any damage and loss that may be sustained by any person by reason of the failure of such owner to comply with the provisions of this section.

1839. (§ 3003.) Exceptions.—The owner of such animals, ridden under the saddle or driven in harness into this state, or under yoke, and any person coming into this state with his own team or teams, is not required to notify the veterinary surgeon, or await the inspection of the animals, but he is liable for all loss or damage to any person by reason of any contagious or infectious disease brought into the state by his animals; and no such animals must be held in quarantine for a longer period than ninety days, unless contagious or infectious disease is found to exist among them.

1840. (§ 3004.) Quarantine, when ordered.—In all cases of contagious or infectious disease among domestic animals or Texas cattle in this state, the veterinary surgeon has authority to order the quarantine of the infected premises, and in case such disease becomes epidemic in any locality in this state, the veterinary surgeon must immediately notify the governor, who must thereupon issue his proclamation forbidding any animal of the kind among which said epidemic exists to be transferred from said locality without a certificate from the veterinary surgeon showing such animal to be healthy. The expenses of holding, feeding and taking care of all animals quarantined under the provisions of this article, must be paid by the owner, agent or person in charge of such animals.

1841. (§ 3005.) To order diseased animals slaughtered.—In case of any epidemic disease where premises have been previously quarantined by the veterinary surgeon, as before provided, he is further authorized and empowered, when in his judgment necessary, to order the slaughter of any and all such diseased animals upon said premises, and all such animals as have been exposed to contagion or infection, under the following restrictions: The order must be a written one, and must be made in duplicate, and there must be a separate order and duplicate for each owner of the animals condemned, the original of each order to be filed by the veterinary surgeon with the secretary of state, and the duplicate given to the owner. Before slaughtering any animal that has been exposed only, and does not show disease, the veterinary surgeon must call in consultation with him two practicing veterinary surgeons or physicians, residents of the state, or if this is impossible, then two stock owners, residents of the state, and he must have written indorsements upon his order of at least one of the consulting persons, stating that such action is necessary, before the animal is slaughtered.

1842. (§ 3006.) Appraisers as to value.—Whenever, as in this article provided, the veterinary surgeon orders the slaughter of one or more animals, he must at the time of making such order notify in writing the nearest available justice of the peace, who must thereupon summon three disinterested citizens, who are stock owners in the neighborhood, to act as appraisers of the value of the animal. The appraisers before entering upon the discharge of their duties, must be sworn to make a true and faithful appraisal without prejudice or favor. They must, after making their appraisal, return certified copies of their valuation, a separate one being made for each owner, together with an accurate description of each animal slaughtered (giving all brands, ear-marks, wattles, age, sex, and class, as to whether American, half-breed or Texan), to the justice of the peace by whom they were summoned, who must, after entering the same upon his record and making an indorsement upon each, showing it to have been properly recorded, return it together with a duplicate order of the veterinary surgeon, to the person owning the animal slaughtered; and it is the duty of the veterinary surgeon to superintend the slaughter of such animals as may be condemned, and also the destruction of the carcass, which latter must be by burning to ashes, or burying in the earth to a depth of not less than six feet, and which must include every part of the animal and hide, and also excrement as far as possible. If the owner of any animal found diseased by the veterinary surgeon is killed, or consents to its being killed by the veterinary surgeon without appraisement, then the veterinary surgeon must burn or bury it as herein provided.

1843. (§ 3007.) Report of veterinary surgeon.—The veterinary surgeon must make an annual report on or before the first day of October to the state board of stock commissioners of all matters connected with his work, and the board must make the same a part of their annual report to the governor, and they must also transmit to the several boards of county commissioners such parts of the report as they consider necessary and of general interest to the breeders of live stock. The board must also give information in writing as soon as it is obtained to the governor and to the various boards of county commissioners, of each case or supposed case of disease in each locality, the cause, if known, and the measures adopted to check it.

1844. (§ 3008.) Importation, when prohibited.—Whenever the governor has good reason to believe that any disease mentioned in this article has become epidemic in certain localities in another state or territory, or that conditions exist that render domestic animals and Texas cattle likely to convey disease, he must by proclamation, designate such localities, and prohibit the importation therefrom of any live stock of the kind diseased into this state, except under such restrictions as he, after consultation with the veterinary surgeon, may deem proper. Any person who, after the publication of such proclamation, knowingly receives in charge any animal from any of the prohibited districts, and transports or conveys the same within the limits of this state, is punishable as provided in § 8448 (1175) of the Penal Code, and is further liable for any and all damages and loss that may be sustained by any person by reason of the importation or transportation of such prohibited animals.

1845. (§ 3009.) Persons to report contagious diseases to veterinary surgeon.—It is the duty of any person who has upon his premises, or upon the public domain, any case of contagious or infectious disease among such animals, to immediately report the same to the veterinary surgeon, and a failure so to do, or any attempt to conceal the existence of such disease, or to wilfully or maliciously obstruct or resist the veterinary surgeon in the discharge of his duty, is punishable as prescribed in § 8449 (1176) of the Penal Code, and forfeits all claims to indemnity for loss from the state.

1846. (§ 3010.) Diseased animals not to be sold or slaughtered for food.—The following regulations must be observed in all cases of disease mentioned in this article:

1. It is unlawful to sell, give away, or in any manner part with, any animal affected with, or suspected of being affected with, contagious or infectious disease; and in case of any animal that may be known to have been affected with or exposed to any such disease, within one year prior to such disposal, due notice of the fact must be given in writing to the party receiving the animal.

2. It is unlawful to kill for the purpose of selling the meat, any such animal, or to sell, give away or use any part of it, or its milk, or to remove any part of the skin. A failure to observe these provisions is punishable as provided in § 8449 (1176) of the Penal Code. It is the duty of the owner or the person having in charge any such animal affected with, or suspected of being affected with, any contagious or infectious disease, to immediately confine the same in a safe place, isolated from other animals, and with all necessary restrictions to prevent dissemination of the disease, until the arrival of the veterinary surgeon. These regulations apply as well to animals in transit through the state as to those resident therein; and the veterinary surgeon or his duly authorized agent, has authority to examine, in car, yard, pastures or stables, or upon the public domain, all such animals, and on detection of disease, to take possession of, and treat and dispose of the animals in the same manner as provided by this article.

1847. (§ 3011.) Payment for diseased animals killed.—All claims arising from the slaughter of animals, under the provisions of this article, together with the order of the veterinary surgeon, and the valuation of the appraisers in each case, must be submitted to the state auditor, and for each claim that he finds to be equitable and entitled to indemnity under this article, must issue to the person entitled thereto, his warrant on the stock indemnity fund in the state treasury for the sum named in the appraisers' report. In auditing any claim under this article, the auditor must satisfy himself that it does not come under any class for which indemnity is prohibited by this article, and he must require the affidavit of the claimant to this fact, or if the claimant be not cognizant thereof, then of some reputable person who is cognizant thereof; and also the certificate of the veterinary surgeon, whose duty it is to inform himself fully of the fact, that in his opinion the claim is legal and just, and the auditor may, in his discretion, require further proof.

1848. (§ 3012.) Payment of indemnity.—The indemnity granted is the value of the animal as determined by the appraisers with reference to its diminished value because of being diseased or having been exposed to disease. The indemnity must be paid to the owner upon his application and the presentation of the proofs prescribed herein, and such application must be made within six months after the slaughter of the animal, or the claim is barred. The right to indemnity under this article is limited to animals destroyed by reason of the existence of some epizootic disease generally fatal and incurable, such as rinderpest, hoof and mouth disease, pleuro-pneumonia, anthrax or Texas fever, among bovines, and glanders among horses, mules and asses. For the ordinary contagious diseases, not in their nature fatal, such as epizootic and influenza in horses, no indemnity must be paid. The right to indemnity does not exist, and the payment of such must not be made in the following cases:

1. For animals belonging to the United States.
2. For animals that are brought into the state contrary to the provisions of this article.
3. For animals that are found to be diseased, or that are destroyed because they have been exposed to disease before or at the time of their arrival in the state.
4. When an animal was previously affected by any other disease, which, from its nature and development, was incurable and necessarily fatal.
5. When an owner or person in charge has knowingly or negligently omitted to comply with the provisions of § § 1845 (3009) and 1846 (3010) of this article.
6. When an owner or claimant, at the time of coming into possession of the animal, knew it to be diseased or received the notice specified in the first clause of § 1846 (3010), of this article.
7. When the animal has been brought into the state within ninety days immediately preceding the outbreak of disease, on account of which such animal was killed. [Act approved March 7, 1895.]

1849. Salary and expenses of state veterinary surgeon.—The State Veterinary Surgeon shall receive an annual salary of three thousand dollars, together with his actual and necessary traveling and office expenses, and must devote his entire service to the duties of his office, and he must be authorized to appoint a stenographer at a salary not exceeding twelve hundred dollars per annum. [Act approved March 7, 1907, § 2.] (10th Sess. Chap. 160.)

1850. (§ 3014.) Fees of appraisers and others.—The appraisers mentioned in this article receive three dollars for each day or part of a day they are actually employed, which must be paid from the state treasury out of the stock indemnity fund in this article provided, upon vouchers which bear the certificate of the justice who summoned them. The justice receives his ordinary fee for issuing a summons, to be paid out of the stock indemnity fund. The persons called in consultation by the veterinary surgeon each receive three dollars for each day or part of a day they are actually employed and ten cents per mile, for distances actually traveled, which sums must be paid from the state treasury out of the stock indemnity fund upon vouchers certified to by the veterinary surgeon. The incidental expenses in causing animals to be slaughtered and their carcasses to be burned and disinfecting infected premises, must be paid from the state treasury out of the stock indemnity fund, upon vouchers.

1851. (§ 3015.) Liability for animals destroyed.—The liability for indemnity for animals destroyed and for fees, costs and expenses incurred under the provisions of this article in any year is limited by, and must in no case exceed, the amount especially designated for the purpose and for that period, by the terms of this article; nor must the veterinary surgeon or any one else incur any liability under the provisions of this article in excess of the surplus in the stock indemnity fund hereinafter provided; nor must any act be performed or property taken under the provisions of this article become a charge against the state.

1852. (§ 3017.) Place of quarantine.—The veterinary surgeon must select the place where stock must be quarantined.

1853. Deputy veterinary surgeon.—The Veterinary Surgeon has power to appoint from time to time one deputy at any time he cannot personally attend to all the duties required by his office at a salary not to exceed five dollars per day for each day actually employed, together with his actual and necessary traveling expenses, to be paid out of the stock indemnity fund. [Act approved March 16th, 1901.] (7th Sess. 129.)

The Sheep Commissioners of each County

may recommend a suitable person for Inspector. The Board of Sheep Commissioners, or when the Board is not in session, the President thereof, or the State Veterinary Surgeon, may when deemed necessary, appoint one or more special Inspectors, who shall make and file the same oath, perform the same duties, and have the same power and authority as Inspectors. He has the right with the advice and consent of the State Veterinary Surgeon, to determine and superintend the preparation and mixture of material used in dipping the sheep, and must cause all sheep so quarantined to be distinctly marked with a red letter "S" on the right side. In the discharge of his duties, the Inspector shall, so far as practicable, comply with the instruction, rules and regulations prescribed by the State Veterinary Surgeon, and the Board of Sheep Commissioners. When sheep infected with, or which have been exposed to, any infectious or contagious disease, have been kept in any building or corral, the Inspector must inspect and quarantine such premises, and prohibit any sheep being placed therein until such premises have been cleaned and thoroughly disinfected, which must be attended to within ten days from date of quarantine. persons from driving any other sheep into or across such locality, or keeping or herding them therein. Any sheep going, or being driven into or across such prohibited locality or quarantine premises, shall be deemed exposed to such infectious or contagious disease, and may be declared and detained in quarantine, and if deemed necessary by the state veterinary surgeon or inspector may be dipped. [Act approved March 8, 1907, § 3.] (10th Sess. Chap. 173.)

1866. Governor may prohibit importation of sheep from infected districts.—Whenever the Governor has reason to believe that any of the diseases mentioned in this Article or any infectious or contagious diseases has become enzootic or epizootic in certain localities in any other state or territory, or that conditions exist that render sheep likely to convey disease, he must thereupon by proclamation designate such localities, and prohibit the importation from them of any sheep into this State, except under such restrictions as he, after consultation with the President of the Board of Sheep Commissioners or State Veterinary Surgeon, may deem proper. Any person, who, after publication of such proclamation, knowingly receives in charge any such sheep from any of the prohibited districts, or transports or conveys the same to and within the limits of any of the counties of this State, is punishable, as hereinafter provided, and is liable for all damages which may be sustained by any person, by reason of the importation, transportation, or reception of such prohibited sheep.
